A Little of Everything.

Parochial school opened yesterday. The Pittsburg Exposition opened Monday. Martin Plyler is moving to Summerville this week. The public schools of this borough open next Monday. The Winslow township schools begin next Monday, September 14. The Sons and Daughters of St. George will hold a picnic at Wishaw Park tomorrow. A brick sidewalk has been laid in front of the parochial school building on Sixth street. The Masonic moonlight picnic in Frank's Park Thursday evening was a highly enjoyable affair. Adam Kime fell off a building, on which he was working at Panomet, and sprained his right ankle. Ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Helping Hand Society held a picnic at Wishaw last Friday afternoon. District Deputy D. W. Atwater is at Sligo installing officers in the new Protected Home Circle at that place. The Keystone band and a large number of our citizens will attend the harvest home picnic at Allens Mills to-day. A good horse owned by Homer Schuergers dropped dead on one of our streets one day last week. The horse was getting old. The ladies of the Baptist church will hold a chicken and waffle supper the latter part of this month. Date announced later. An infant of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shimmer, of Soldier, died Monday evening and will be buried in the Sykesville cemetery to-day. The town had some what of a Sunday appearance on Monday with the stores and banks closed all day and the post-office closed part of the day. A young man lost two twenty dollar bills one morning last week. The money was found by an honest man who returned the money to the owner. On account of the absence of the pastor, Rev. Reno, who is at conference, there will not be any preaching in the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday.

Twelve propositions for membership were voted on at the meeting of the Protected Home Circle Monday evening and all accepted. L. W. Robinson, general manager of the J. & C. C. & I. Co., was in Reynoldsville Monday in his private car, which has the motor power under the car. C. A. Campbell and wife, of Big Run, visited the former's brother, J. W. Campbell, in this place last week. Mr. Campbell is agent for B. & P. at Big Run. The address of Judge John W. Reed, before imposing the death sentence on John Batista Alelio, will be found in this issue of THE STAR. It is a fine address. Read it. The Woman's Relief Corps of this place will go to Punxsutawney tomorrow to visit the Corps at that place and will be entertained and feasted by the Punxsutawney ladies. The editor of THE STAR will go to Warren tomorrow to attend the Erie Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church as a lay delegate from the Reynoldsville church. The Donora American fired some hot shot at one or two members of the Donora town council last week. The Pennypacker press muzzler don't seem to keep the American under subjection. A ball club from this place played two games Monday at Fairmount with the Fairmount club and were defeated in both games. The score in forenoon game was 2-3 and in the afternoon game the score was 10-1. The Main street division of the Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church will hold a market in the opera house block next Saturday afternoon. Good supply of home made bread, pies, rusks and garden produce. Florence Green, daughter of Thomas Green of Hotel Imperial, was eleven years old last Saturday and she entertained eight of her young friends at Hotel Imperial Saturday evening. Florence received a present from each one of the girls. Dr. O. A. Jenner, who came here from Chicago, Ill., about six months ago and made the City Hotel his headquarters, has decided to return to the "Windy City." He will shake the dust of Reynoldsville off his feet some day this week a migrate westward. Some boys tore down the bill boards on Fifth street, between Jackson street and R. & F. C. Ry. and there is some talk of having the lads arrested. The names of two of the boys are already known. Boys must learn that they cannot destroy property when they feel so inclined. Allan Villair, pretty magnetic Pearl Lewis, and a perfect company, in scenic productions of "The Great Counterfeiting Case," "Slaves of Passion," "Ragged Jack and The Lady," or "Two Orphans," at the Reynolds opera house three nights, beginning Thursday evening, Sept. 17. An infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry, of Weedville, Pa., died Thursday. The little body was brought to Reynoldsville on the 8.18 train Friday and taken to Rathmel where funeral service was held in the M. E. church, conducted by Rev. J. E. Dean. Interment was made in Prospect cemetery. Persons riding on the trolley line between Reynoldsville and Punxsutawney should be careful not to stick their head or arms out of the windows, as the cars run very close to trees and telephone poles in some places and there is danger of getting seriously injured. If not killed. There have been several narrow escapes. The fall term at the Reynoldsville Business College is now well under way. Besides a large number of old students who re-entered, the following new students came in the past week: Rebecca Bowers, Rathmel; Matia Raber, Punxsutawney; Agnes Wyse, Rathmel; Teresa Stewart, Rathmel; W. S. Christy, William Trudgen and Miss Sara Friedman, Reynoldsville. The Pure Food Inspector got after two of our grocerymen several days ago for selling adulterated vinegar and extract of lemon. The grocerymen bought the goods from reliable houses and bought them guaranteed to be pure, therefore, they are not responsible for having the adulterated goods in their stores, as they were deceived by the parties from whom they bought. Sister Luella and Sister Dollorosa, of Cleveland, Ohio, visited the former's sisters, Mrs. John O'Hare and Miss Kate Lydon, at this place, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lydon at Rathmel last week. Sister Luella is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lydon and this is the first time she has visited her home since she entered the convent twenty-two years ago. Her parents lived at Hubbard, Ohio, at that time. Any one wishing to join the Protected Home Circle and take advantage of the present rating, can do so by presenting their names to some member of the Circle between now and next meeting night, September 21st, to be voted on at that time and can be initiated the following meeting night, October 5th, if accepted by the Supreme Circle. New members after the above date will have to pay more to join.

Taken to Hospital. Miss Jessie Smeltzer, of this place, one of the teachers elected by Winslow township school board for Wishaw schools, has typhoid fever. She was taken to the Adrian Hospital last Friday. Two Appendicitis Cases. Last Friday Miss Zola Griffin, daughter of John Griffin, and Miss Ida Plyler, daughter of Martin Plyler, who live near neighbors on Fifth street, were taken to the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburg to be operated on for appendicitis. It is expected that both girls will be operated on this forenoon. Family Party. Last Saturday was David Wheeler's fifty-eighth birthday and Saturday evening he was given a surprise party by his married daughters. It was confined almost exclusively to a family affair, but when Mr. Wheeler's married daughters, their husbands and children assembled it was a fair sized party. Surprise Party. Master Clyde Hughes, son of Undertaker J. H. Hughes, was twelve years old last Friday and the birthday anniversary was celebrated with a surprise party Friday evening. A large number of boys attended the party and you can bet they had a good time. Supper was served. Clyde received a number of birthday presents. Wierd and Horrible. Those who delight in the wierd and horrible had a rare treat last night at the Reynolds opera house. Louis J. Russell, in a dramatization of Stevenson's famous novel, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," played the star part and did it with such tact that he rendered even the fiendish character of "Hyde" fascinating. Scenic effects and colored lights added power to the vivid realism of the play. A good audience attended. Robbery in Town. Last Friday night robbers gained an entrance into J. C. Froehlich's tailor shop, by prying open back door, and carried away all the clothing that was made up, amounting to about $200.00. There is no clue yet of the robbers. The tools used to pry open the door were taken out of Cumins' blacksmith shop on alley back of the tailor shop. Major Epler's dog made a big fuss about two o'clock Friday night and it is supposed the robbers were doing their work at that time. Merchants Picnic. Notwithstanding the unfavorable condition of the weather about six hundred people attended the merchants' picnic at Wishaw Park on Labor Day. Through the town papers the merchants gave a general invitation to everybody, no special invitations, and had the day been pleasant it is probable there would have been a thousand people at the picnic. The Keystone band enlivened the picnic with some fine music. It might not be out of place to say here that Reynoldsville has reason to be proud of the Keystone band. The Strauss orchestra furnished music for the dancers in the pavilion. Train Annulled. On account of a wreck on the P. R. R. near Oak Ridge Friday evening the regular No. 107 train, due here at 9:50 p. m., could not get through and the Brookville accommodation had to run to Oak Ridge, transfer passengers and run back to DuBois, and from DuBois to Brookville to start out on regular run Saturday morning, but there was no train at DuBois Saturday morning to start out on the Pittsburg accommodation's time, consequently the train was annulled between DuBois and Oak Ridge, and people expecting to go west on the 6.30 a. m. Saturday train were disappointed. Completed His Fourth Year. Rev. Perry A. Reno completed his fourth year last Sunday as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Reynoldsville and left here yesterday morning to attend the Erie Annual Conference at Warren, Pa. It is never known just what changes the cabinet of an annual conference will make, but it is not likely that there will be a change in pastor for the Reynoldsville church. Rev. Reno has been a faithful and earnest worker during his four year pastorate at Reynoldsville. He has a number of warm friends in and out of the church who would be glad to have him returned to Reynoldsville for the fifth year. Death of Mrs. Mary Uplinger. Mrs. Mary Uplinger, widow of Peter Uplinger, died at home of her son, Henderson Uplinger, near Panic, Pa., Tuesday evening, September 1st, 1903. Funeral service was held in the Centre Hill church Thursday forenoon, conducted by Rev. H. G. Teagarden, Ph. D., of Punxsutawney. Mrs. Uplinger was 73 years old. Her husband died eight or nine years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Uplinger moved to the neighborhood of Panic a half century ago. Mrs. Uplinger had been a faithful and consistent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church forty years. She was a highly respected old lady. Three sons and one daughter survive the deceased: Charles, Henderson and John Uplinger and Mrs. Lavina Gould.

Formaldehyde in Milk. The Pure Food Inspector had a milk dealer at DuBois and one at Punxsutawney arrested recently for using formaldehyde in milk to keep it from souring. Formaldehyde is poisonous and the man who is mean enough to put it in milk and then sell the milk to his customers, should not only be compelled to pay a heavy fine, but should be sent to the penitentiary for a short at least. The Punxsutawney and DuBois milk dealers had to pay something like $115 apiece, and perhaps they would not have gotten off so easily had it not been that they blamed other parties for putting the formaldehyde in the milk. It is contemptible work, no matter who does it, and the guilty persons deserves severe punishment for it. Rev. McEntire as Pastor. Rev. J. C. McEntire, of West Reynolds, who has been a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal church for a number of years and who has done excellent work in the Master's vineyard, was the regular pastor of the Paradise charge during the past conference year. His appointments were Sandy Valley, Rathmel, Sykesville and Paradise. This was his first regular appointment and he was successful in the work, but he has decided not to accept the regular work the coming year, consequently a new man will be appointed to Paradise charge. Reunion of the 105th. John M. Hays, proprietor of the Star milk dairy in this place, was at Kennewood Park last Thursday attending the reunion of the 105th Regiment, and on Friday he attended the reunion of his old company, Co. E, 105th Regiment, at West Elizabeth, Pa. West Elizabeth did herself proud in the elaborate decorations for this reunion and the royal reception given the old veterans. Patriotic Sermon. The Patriotic Order Sons of America will present to the West Liberty Baptist church a bible at 3.30 p. m. next Sunday. A patriotic sermon will be preached by Rev. A. J. Meek, Ph. D., of Reynoldsville. Rev. J. E. Dean, of Rathmel, will assist in the services. Three or four P. O. S. of A. Camps are expected to be present. Stormy Voyage. Mrs. N. Hannu returned last week from a four month's visit with relatives in Germany, the land of her nativity. The voyage over to Germany was a delightful trip, but the voyage home was not pleasant on account of storms and fog. Mrs. Hannu had doubts, sometimes, of the ship reaching the New York harbor. Died at Hastings. Mrs. Edward Bolger, sister of Mrs. G. W. Stoke, sr., of this place, died at her home at Hastings, Pa., at 3.00 a. m. Saturday, September 5, 1903. Mrs. Stoke was at her sister's bedside when she died. George W. Stoke, jr., Misses Margaret and Julia Stoke drove to Hastings Sunday to attend the funeral. Borough Schools Open. The public schools of this place will open next Monday, Sept. 14. The opening exercises will be held in the auditorium at which time Hon. S. B. Elliott will deliver an address before the schools. There will be special music also. Patrons and friends of education will be cordially welcome. Operation for Fistula. Oscar Tapper, who was in the West Penn Hospital at Pittsburg six weeks, where he had to be operated on for a fistula, returned to his home in this place last week. He may have to undergo another operation. Dancing school for children from 8 to 15 years has been changed to Saturday afternoon, from 3.00 to 5.00. Price 25 cts per lesson. Dancing school for adults will be held every Monday evening hereafter. CLARENCE HINES, Teacher. Fine selection of ready to wear hats at Mrs. Smith's. School shoes for the boys and girls in box and kangaroo calf, viol kid and soudan calf. Filled pencil box with each pair school shoes. Bing-Stoke Co. Visit the picture sale at Millirens Saturday. Mrs. Smith has a large selection of ready to wear hats. New suits and skirts at Millirens. Read Dr. Gibson's ad and if your or your children's eyes need attention, have them examined. Go to John H. Doubles' ice cream parlor, east Main street, near No. 2 Hose house, for fine I X L ice cream. 25 cent pictures at Millirens 10 cents on Saturday. Mitchell, the merchant tailor, in Stoke building. See the beautiful pictures at Millirens.

Brookville Fair. The Brookville fair last week was the largest attended of any fair ever held at the county seat. The weather was exceptionally fine during the entire four days, could not have been finer had the Jefferson County Agricultural Society and Driving Park Association had the weather made to order. Thursday was the big day at the fair. The crowd was estimated at 16,000 that day. Reynoldsville helped swell the crowd. Thursday five hundred and fifty excursion tickets were sold at the P. R. R. office in this place, besides a large number of people drove to Brookville. The Keystone band accompanied the Reynoldsville crowd. There were six coaches on the 8.18 a. m. train Thursday and when the train pulled out of here for Brookville every car was packed, the platforms and the steps were crowded and a number of passengers were in the baggage car. The races were good, the stock exhibits were good and the general display was up to the standard. There was no lack of vendors of eatables and thirst extinguishers. The gamblers did a big business. Just why a fair association should have the privilege of open-handed gambling schemes as was allowed at the Punxsutawney and Brookville fairs is something we do not understand. Surely it was a violation of the laws? Then why tolerate it even if the gamblers do pay a big price for the privilege? Knights of Malta Officers. Mystic Commandery, stationed at Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, Pa., had the following officers installed for the ensuing term on Wednesday evening, Sept. 2nd, 1903, by Deputy Grand Commander Sir Chas. B. Clark, assisted by several Past Commanders: Sir Knight Commander, George Hartman; Generalissimo, James G. Musser; Captain General, Otto C. Organ; Prelate, William P. Organ; Recorder, Fred J. Butler; Assistant Recorder, Charles B. Clark; Treasurer, John R. Hillis; Senior Warden, Nelson Smith; Junior Warden, Walter C. Henry; Standard Bearer, Daniel Strauss; Sword Bearer, James A. Tyson; Warder, Harvey E. Gray; Sentinel, H. Reed Cathcart; First Guard, Henry Chapman; Second Guard, Addison Gray; Trustee, H. Reed Cathcart. After the installation ceremonies the Knights of Malta had a very pleasant time. They were entertained by William P. Organ, who gave three recitations, and Henry Chapman, who sang several songs. Refreshments were greatly enjoyed. Pifer-Weber. September 2nd, 1903, at Troutville, a memorable event took place, which was the marriage of Miss Marie M., daughter of Godfrey Weber. The groom, Otto G. Pifer, is a coal dealer from Soldier. Both parties are well known and come from good families. About 75 guests witnessed the marriage ceremony, which was performed by their pastor, Rev. S. C. Stover. A sumptuous dinner was served, which was enjoyed by all. The presents were numerous, valuable and pretty. Night School. For the benefit of those who cannot attend the day sessions of the Reynoldsville Business College, night school will be started August 31st, for a six months term. All courses will be taught. School will be open on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. School Shoes. Get your boys a pair of "Waltons," Messenger, Cuban Calf or Sock shoes. They are world beaters for the price. Filled pencil box with each pair school shoes. Bing-Stoke Co. An effort should be made to secure better express arrangements between Pittsburg and points along the Low Grade division of the Pennsylvania railroad. Under existing regulations all packages received by the Adams Express company, at any of its offices in Pittsburg, after 12.00 o'clock noon, are held over until the next day before getting started from that city. This is too slow a pace for these advanced times. Express goods should come up this way on the 5.05 p. m. train.—Brookville Republican. People who buy spectacles of peddlers, and a good many do, or the business wouldn't be so profitable, will be interested in knowing that a peddler arrested over in Ohio last week charged with using the name of a Cleveland optician, confessed that spectacles he sold were made of ordinary glass, and cost him ten cents a pair, while he sold them at from $3 to $7.—Ex. School suits at Millirens. Largest selection of street hats ever brought to Reynoldsville will be found at Mrs. Smith's milliner store. Hart, Schaffner & Marx suits and overcoats in at Millirens. See Gibson's optical ad. Krippendorf-Dittman shoes for ladies at Nolan's shoe store. Picture sale at Millirens Saturday. Mothers! Call and see our line of boys' suits. Bing-Stoke Co. Douglas shoes at Millirens. See the picture display at Millirens.
