Buried Monday.
 David Hatten, of Iowa Mills, died Saturday, October 10, 1903. Funeral service was held in the Emrickville M. E. church Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Barnett.

Married in New York State.
 John F. Doubles, familiarly known as "Dub" Sharps, of this place, and Miss Emma Peterson, of Kane, were married at Limestone, N. Y., Wednesday, October 7, 1903. They will reside in Reynoldsville. Mr. Doubles has rented rooms from Mrs. Belnap on Fourth street.

Relief Corps Inspected.
 Last Wednesday afternoon Department President Robinson, of North East, Pa., inspected the Woman's Relief Corps at this place. Fifteen members from the W. R. C. of Punxsutawney were present. After inspection a banquet was served. The ladies had a very pleasant time. Mrs. Robinson was the guest of Mrs. J. D. Woodring while in town.

Report of the Public Schools.
 The following is the report for the public schools of Reynoldsville for the month ending Oct. 9, 1903: Number of boys enrolled, 292; number of girls enrolled, 308; total number of pupils enrolled, 600; Boys' average per cent. of attendance, .95; Girls' average per cent. of attendance .94; total average per cent. of attendance, .94; number of boys who were neither absent nor tardy, 111; number of girls who were neither absent nor tardy, 156; total number of pupils present every day and not tardy, 267.

Old Folks' Day.
 Last Sunday was old folks' day in the Methodist Episcopal church, an annual occasion which the Epworth League has charge of. As has been the custom for several years the Epworth League sent carriages after some of the old folks who could not walk to and from the church. Two young ladies were in the vestibule of the church who pinned a carnation on each old person, and four young ladies acted as ushers. A number of rocking-chairs had been provided for the old folks. There were about fifty of the silvery-haired veterans present. Rev. Perry A. Reno, pastor of the church, preached a special sermon.

Shooting Affair at Soldier.
 There was a dance at Soldier Monday night and a young fellow named Brown, from Helvetia, and another young fellow named Henry, of Soldier, got into a squabble and Brown drew a revolver and shot at Henry six times, one of the bullets striking Henry in the right hip. Had it not been for the fact that Brown proved to be a poor marksman there would have been another murder case for Jefferson county court to pass judgment on. We understand Brown will not be arrested, and we presume he will continue to carry a revolver and shoot at people until he murders some person. The law is not stringent enough on carrying revolvers.

Bought New Machinery.
 Mention was made in THE STAR a few weeks ago that a large addition was being built to the Sykes Woolen Mill Co. new plant on Mable street, the present mill not being large enough to fill the orders that are coming in. The new addition will be finished by the first of the coming year. G. W. Sykes returned the latter part of last week from a trip to Providence, R. I., Boston, Mass., and New York City. While away he bought enough new machinery to double the present capacity of the mill. A commodious, convenient and well lighted business office is included in the new addition. When completed the Sykes Woolen Mill Co. will have a large and modern plant.

Did Some Grading.
 The Jefferson Traction Co. has done a little grading just above McCraigh's mill on the trolley line between Reynoldsville and Sykesville. We understand that the trolley company is trying to negotiate with the R. & F. C. Ry to run the trolley line on the railroad's right-of-way from Prescottville to Soldier to get an easy grade and to avoid crossing the railroad track five or six times, which will be necessary to follow the public road to Soldier. If the trolley company and railroad company can reach a satisfactory agreement for building trolley near railroad it would not take long to get the trolley in operation between Reynoldsville and Sykesville.

T. G. Johnston Dead.
 T. G. Johnston, who resided near St. Petersburg, Clarion Co., son of Squire and Mrs. W. L. Johnston, of West Reynoldsville, died at his home Monday morning, Oct. 12, 1903, from blood poison. Mrs. Johnston was called to her son's home on Wednesday of last week. On Saturday E. L. Johnston went to St. Petersburg. Monday morning Squire Johnston received word that his son could not live, and he and Mrs. O. H. Johnston left here on the 8:15 a. m. train, hoping to reach the bedside of T. G. before he closed his eyes in death, but he was dead before they left Reynoldsville, although they did not know it. O. H. Johnston drove to St. Petersburg Monday night to attend his brother's funeral.

An Editor to be Wedded.
 At 10.30 a. m. to-day, G. Ralph Adam, editor of the Brookwayville Record, brother of T. F. and Walker Adam, of Reynoldsville, and Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of T. H. Wilson, of Brookville, will be united in marriage at the residence of bride's parents in the presence of about fifty invited guests. Dr. W. P. Graham, pastor of Brookville Methodist Episcopal church, will perform the wedding ceremony, assisted by Rev. C. L. Bradshaw, pastor of the Brookwayville Presbyterian church. It will be a ring service. Miss Winnie Wilson, of Clearfield, cousin of the bride, will be bridesmaid, and Alex Adam, brother of groom, will be groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Adam will pass through Reynoldsville on the 12:52 p. m. train to-day on a wedding trip to Philadelphia, Pa., and Washington, D. C.
 Miss Wilson is highly esteemed in her home town, where she is well known. Mr. Adam, who is well known to many of our townspeople, having been an erstwhile Reynoldsville boy, is a bright young man. He has been very successful in the newspaper work. THE STAR extends congratulations and best wishes. May success and prosperity continue with Mr. and Mrs. Adam all along life's journey.

Too Fast Over Crossing.
 The B. & P. passenger train that backs into Reynoldsville at 1.25 p. m. runs entirely too fast over the Main street crossing, and several terrible accidents have been narrowly averted at that crossing. The engineer whistles for the crossing too far above town and on a windy day people driving from this side over to West Reynoldsville cannot hear the train coming. Last Thursday the Hotel Imperial bus, full of men and women, would have been caught on the crossing by the passenger train had it not been that Adams Express Agent Joseph Shaffer saw the train coming and warned the bus driver in time for him to back his horses away from the track. Coal trains are compelled to run fast towards Falls Creek to get over the heavy grade above town, but it is not necessary for a passenger train to back down over the Main street crossing at the rate of twenty to thirty miles an hour. There is too much danger about it. The proper authorities should see that the speed is reduced.

Editorial Game Laws.
 The Editorial Game Laws are stated in an eastern publication to be as follows: Book agents may be killed from October 1st to June 1st; scandal-mongers from April 1st to February 1st; umbrella borrowers from August 1st to November 1st and from February 1st to May 1st. Every man who accepts a newspaper for two years and on being presented with the bill, says, "I never ordered it," may be killed on the spot without reserve or relief.—Medical Review.

Married in Pittsburg.
 Shelley I. Applegate, son of A. M. Applegate, of this place, and Miss Esther G. Myers, of Pittsburg, were married in Pittsburg on Tuesday of last week, October 6, 1903. They came to Reynoldsville the latter part of the week and will reside here. Shelley's numerous friends in this place have been offering congratulations.

Game of Football.
 A great game of football will be played on the Reynoldsville gridiron to-morrow afternoon between a team from Punxsutawney and the "Indians" of this place. The "Indians" should see to it that the visitors are treated courteously.

New Firm.
 We ask a good share of patronage for M. & C. Adelson to whom we have rented our mill where they will keep a full line of chop, corn, oats, bran, middlings, hay and straw, and do a general milling business.
 REYNOLDSVILLE MILLING CO.

A CALL FOR MORE EMPLOYEES.
 During the past few weeks in the columns of the Reynoldsville papers it has been stated that the silk mill is short of help, and that the Company are seriously considering the removal of part or whole of this plant to some place where sufficient help can be had to operate a mill of its size.
 The Business Men's Association of this city believes it to be for the best interest of this community to bring before the public the opportunity that the silk industry of this city offers to the young people, principally girls, of learning, a trade at which they can earn good wages, and we desire to urge parents to send their unemployed girls to learn the art of silk manufacture, and with the income so earned, enable them to enjoy life and wear the cloth they weave, as the spirit of the times in which we live is to see our girls dressed in the best fabrics that the looms can produce.
 Silk manufacture is the finest of all textile trades and requires good light, clean, airy rooms and therefore is one of the healthiest and best for female workers. It is an art which must be learned by experience and attention to the work is the hardest labor, and when this is considered with other laborious trades it can easily be seen that the work is light and, therefore, an advantage to any community to have such an industry in its midst for the benefit of those who desire a clean, healthy occupation.
 The mill in this city if fully equipped would employ 350 people. At the present time the machinery is only sufficient to employ 250, but we regret to learn that only 170 are employed and about one-third of the machinery is standing idle. The company operating this mill are making efforts to get this idle machinery going and have been for some time advertising very extensively for help and offering good inducements. Extracts from the pay roll show that the experienced help can earn from eight to ten dollars per week, and this is remarkable when compared with the earnings in other trades, and this mill finds steady work all the year around.
 Therefore, we deem it for the best interests of this town to uphold and encourage one principle textile industry and we are putting forth every effort to aid the Company to secure more help.
 In conversation with Mr. Dawson we learn that they are getting some girls from other towns and they are in need of homes to board them where they will be properly taken care of. Others desire to rent furnished rooms with the privilege of doing their own cooking. Anyone who can thus accommodate these girls can obtain any information needed from Mr. Dawson.
 There are also a number of unemployed in this city and the manager of the silk mill claims there are enough to fill the mill, but some how they are too indifferent to the advantages the occupation of silk weaving offers, therefore we desire to bring this to the notice of the unemployed and urge the parents of such to take an interest in advising them to take this opportunity of learning a trade that will place them in a position to withstand the adversity of life.
 We also desire the co-operation of any citizen who has the welfare of the city at heart to assist and consult with us on the possibility of keeping within our midst an industry that gives us such opportunities and also to aid us in securing such other industries that will employ the fathers of families and be a credit to our town.
