About forty persons were present. They all had a real pleasant time. The pastor's larder was well filled. This was one of those occasions which bind pastor and people closer together.

Concert Company.

The entertainment given in Assembly hall Monday evening by the Ithaca Conservatory of Music Concert Company, under the auspices of the Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church, was well attended and greatly appreciated. The selections were all rendered in a manner that was pleasing to the audience. It is a good company. The heavy rain all day and evening no doubt kept a number of people away from the entertainment.

The Evangelistic Meetings.

The evangelistic meetings began in the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning with a very large attendance. Dr. MacLeod came Monday night and will stay till next week. He will preach each evening he is here at 7.45 and on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week at 2.30 p. m. Sunday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock he will address a meeting for men only. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these meetings. Come and bring your friends.

Give It Immediate Attention.

Considering the fact that there have been several cases of diphtheria in town recently and that a case of small-pox might develop most any day, it behooves parents to be exceedingly careful about sending their children to school when they have a sore throat or broken out with pimples. Would it not be wise and proper thing to consult a doctor about the child's condition and know what the trouble is before sending the child to school and exposing a room full of children. If this precaution was observed there would be little danger of any contagious disease spreading in our schools or town.

New Schedule.

A new schedule will go into effect on the Low Grade Division of the P. R. R. on Sunday, Nov. 29th. There will not be any change in the time of trains at Reynoldsville. The train due here at 6.15 p. m. will stop at DuBois instead of running through to Driftwood, and the train due here at 9.50 p. m. on present schedule and stops at DuBois, will run through to Driftwood and make close connection with the P. & E. train for the east. Sunday nights the 9.50 will not run farther than DuBois. The Sunday train between Driftwood and DuBois will leave Driftwood at 8.00 a. m., and returning will leave DuBois for Driftwood at 2.00 p. m.

Animals Carry Disease Germs.

A cat or dog will carry diphtheria or other disease germs, and for this reason people should be very careful when there is any kind of contagious disease about their home either to keep their dogs and cats out of the house entirely, or shut them up so that they cannot carry the disease to a neighbors house. It is not generally known that domestic animals will carry disease, but it is claimed on good authority they will. Cats have been known to die from diphtheria. Bessie Roan, who died on 6th inst. with diphtheria, had a pet dog and on the 9th inst. Joan Nichols, wife of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nichols' twin daughters, played with the dog and in two or three days after Joan had diphtheria. The physician in attendance says Joan contracted the disease from the dog.

Barn Burned—Cow Cremated.

About ten o'clock last Monday night P. A. Hardman's barn in West Reynoldsville was burned. The fire was not discovered in time to get a valuable cow out of the barn and she was burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown, but the supposition is that the barn was struck by lightning, as there was a hard rain and electrical storm at the time. The barn was the property of the tannery company. Mr. Hardman did not have any insurance on the cow or contents of the barn.

The Volunteer Fire Company of West Reynoldsville responded promptly to the fire alarm and were soon at the scene of fire, but the barn burned so quickly that they could not save it. The members of the fire company had just adjourned from a meeting at the town hall were they were arranging for the oyster supper next Monday evening, and some of them had on their Sunday clothes, but thunder, lightning and a hard down pour of rain did not make them hesitate to respond to the first fire alarm since the Volunteer Fire Company was organized.

Hope Fire Co. from this borough started to the fire, but their services were not needed.

When the Bell Tolls.

Is the uncommon title of the beautiful romantic play which will be produced at the Reynolds opera house on Thursday, Nov. 19. The title has been taken from the venerable Roberts, the monk of St. Bernard, who in the final act of this successful play, in answer to a query, as the Bell of St. Bernard is tolling, "What means the tolling of that bell?" He replies, "Scarcely a day passes but some poor traveler is lost amid the snowstorms that rage around this old monastery. The dogs of St. Bernard, imbued with human intelligence by the great Creator, go forth on their errand of mercy when the bell tolls." In the great Plateau Scene, the full-blooded St. Bernard dogs led by Champion Seger are used.

There Are Others.

The contest for the Republican nomination for Assembly, to succeed Hon. Curtis R. Vashinder, promises to be quite warm. Mr. Vashinder will be a candidate for re-election and S. Taylor North, of Punxsutawney, who was one of Mr. Vashinder's competitors for the nomination a year since, will again be in the field. Whether the field will be left to these two or whether others may yet decide to enter the list is not known.—Falls Creek Herald.

Kinetograph Moving Pictures.

Last Wednesday evening The American Kinetograph Company gave an entertainment in Assembly hall under the auspices of Hope Fire Co. The entertainment was well advertised, but not well patronized. The fire company had about four dollars left after all expenses were paid, and they are not feeling very jubilant over the matter. The firemen want a new hose cart and instead of asking the people to contribute directly for that purpose they engaged the moving picture company to come here, hoping in that way to raise some money, and naturally expected a crowded house, but were disappointed.

We don't believe there is a town in this section of the country that has a better and more willing unpaid fire company than we have in Reynoldsville and it is very seldom the boys ask for anything, and when they do they should get what they want. The town could not afford to get along without the fire companies.

The teacher and pupils have arranged an interesting program to be given by way of entertainment. Everybody is invited to attend and take a toy which will be of interest to the little boys and girls. These toys will be used by the children in the playroom during the recess period. Children need to be taught how to play as well as how to work. Their play will be under the direction of the teacher. As the reception will be held in the interest of the pupils of the schools a good attendance is desired.

Game of Football.

The lovers of football can expect to see a hotly contested game at this place to-morrow afternoon, Nov. 19th, when Company H football team of Ridgway, and the Reynoldsville "Indians" met on the gridiron. Company H has defeated all the football teams they have played with this season, but will run up against a hard proposition to-morrow.

Wednesday morning—the flood in Sandy Lick creek has inundated the football grounds and the game for to-morrow will either have to be postponed or played on the hill near reservoir. The "Indians" will not know until noon to-day. It is likely the game will be played near reservoir.

Head Almost Blown Off.

Heenan Stahlman and his son aged about seventeen or eighteen years, of near Kabetown, in Eldred township, went out to the woods to look at some timber, and incidentally to hunt for pheasants and squirrels. About four o'clock they came across a pheasant. Mr. Stahlman cocked his gun to shoot at it, but it flew away before he could get a shot at it. Without putting the hammer down he placed the gun on his shoulder and walked on. His son was walking directly after him. When going forward, in some way a twig or vine or limb caught the trigger of the gun and caused its discharge. The lead struck the boy square in the head, almost blowing it from his shoulders, and causing instant death. It was the saddest accident that ever occurred in that community.—Brookville Democrat.
