SISTERS OF CHARITY

Use Pe-ru-na for Coughs, Colds, Grip and Catarrh --- A Congressman's Letter.

In every country of the civilized world Bisters of Charity are known. Not only do they minister to the spiritual and intellectual needs of the charges committed to their care, but they also minister to their bodily needs.

With so many children to take care of and to protect from climate and disease, these wise and prudent Sisters have found Peruna a never failing safeguard.

Dr. Hartman receives many letters from Catholic Sisters from all over the United btates. A recommend recently received from a Catholic institution in Detroit, Mich., reads as follows:

AGRICULTURAL.

To Clean Harness. It seems like quite an undertaking to clean a harness, and it cannot be done in a few minutes, but if one knows just how to go about it, it is not an unpleasant piece of work. It must first be taken to pieces, every strap unbuckled, and if an amateur is doing the work he should pay partieular attention to the peculiar way in which backstrap and checkrein are buckled. If the harness is dry and stiff, give it a good soaking in warm water, using white castile soap and a brush to clean off the dirt. Hang it up to drain, and before quite dry apply neatsfoot oil with a paint brush. Let it dry till the next day. Then, if the barness still seems hard, apply another coat of oil. When the oil has soaked in, soap it all over with white eastile soap, having sponge or rag moistened and very soapy. After this treatment, an occasional scaping will keep the harness in order for a long time. Before the harness is put together, any broken places should be mended. Use a needle and put shoemaker's wax on the thread. An awl is necessary in some places.—Indiana Farmer.

Frofitable Poultry.

These who raise poultry for eggs have probably selected the young stock for winter laying, and they should be located where they are getting all the green food they need, yet not running over too much area. After spending all the summer on a range of considerable size, it is a good plan to bring the pullets in nearer the house and give them a smaller range; room enough to get plenty of exercise, but not enough so that they will run off the muscle and weight gained during the summer. They must not go into She may hover around and over the winter quarters fat, but they should be plump and with enough vitality to stand the confinement. If any are alling, separate from the rest of the flock, and if they are not readily killed by simple remedies, kill them and burn the carcasses, bearing in mind that one cannot afford to take an ailing bird into winter quarters. Provide a place for the surplus cockerels, so that they will not trouble the pullets or hens, and as soon as they can be put in proper shape sell them for what they will bring. Be certain, however, the best specimens have been selected for keeping up the strain. Use these selected cockerels for mating with the older hens at breeding season, and the pullets of last spring mate to a two-year-old cock.

Harness For the Hen. When a hen gets a notion into her di-minutive brain that it is her mission to lead a bunch of downy-covered chicks over the garden it is a very difficult thing to convince her otherwise. There may be many excellent reasons advanced by the farmer why it is not desired that she should take upon herself this unselfish duty; but no matter how fact that the man who allows his cown many or excellent are his reasons they carry no weight with the hen. Being time gets poorer butter by several chased from one nest, she will take points than if he treated his cows her place on another, and in the absence of eggs she will set on anything from a load of cobblestones to a watermelon. Foiled at one effort, she wil make another, and cling to the object of her ambition with a persistence worthy of a greater cause, until the aggravated farmer is almost ready to wring her neck.

The means of preventing a ben from etting seems like a very humble problem to occupy the throbbing brain of an nventor, but the matter has been reently attacked by a genius of British Honduras, who is so sure that he has found the solution of this mighty matter, that he has gone to the trouble of taking out patent papers in this and other countries. The device certainly has the recommendation of simplicity, and is built on the well-grounded assumption that a hen cannot afford to 'set" while in a standing position, and, therefore, by keeping her on her feet she can be effectually frustrated in her purpose of preventing race suicide, The apparatus consists merely of a wire adapted to fasten to her manner that the fowl's freedom of foot is not interfered with in her ordinary ramble about the barnyard in search of food; but the moment she tries to locate herself on a nest she finds a yawning chasm between them. nest, but it refuses to receive her rotund form. This is because the wire loop which has been fastened her prevents her from bending her leg, as is necessary to assume the setting posture. It is said that after repeated efforts to find a hospitable nest she gives up her task and forgets her dream of maternity.

Dairy Notes.

Ounces of feed do not bring pounds of butter. Feed well if you would get full milk pails.

Some men spend a great deal of time and strength educating their cows when all the time it is the men themselves who need educating the worst way.

One of the surest ways in the world to make butter smooth and greasy is to overheat the cream while ripening it, And that is the kind of butter that will not keep very long.

No man ever learned how to scrimp cow and not have the cow catch him at it. She may be a fool, but she is too smark for any man who thinks be can cheat her that way. The man who says dirt will strain out does not know what he is talking about. The strainer that will take filth out of milk has never been in vented. It can not be invented. It is the man who understands each butter itself. Take it out with a ladie, work it with a ladle and put it into the package with a ladle.

The cow's bag is not made of India rubber. Some of us act as if we thought it was and that the cow has no feeling in it. But she has. She is the most sensitive of creatures and no doubt suffers much at the hands of

About the poorest way to make the butter come that I know of is to pour hot water into the cream or set the churn by the stove for an hour or two Cream that has been properly ripened will come all right without any such doctoring, and doctored cream makes poor butter every time.

The cow which is a famous milker for one man may be nothing but an old scrub for another. It depends of the feed and treatment from start to finish. Of course, the cow that is well born will always show her bringing up; but the man has more to do with her success than most of us admit.

The cow is not like the threshing ma chine, which can take in bundles of grain, mixed with weeds and thistles and turn out at the spout only the clean wheat. She must make her milk and butter from what she eats, and only clean, sweet grasses and grains will make pure butter that will "stand up" always and everywhere.

Nobody ever has exactly figured out just what is the relation between getting the cow all "rolled up" at milking time and a decided falling off in the quality of her milk, but it is a fixed to be excited and wrought up at that

KING'S FINGER.

Found in Belgrade Palace Garden Tells Story of Mutilation.

A grewsome discovery was made the other day in the garden of the old palace at Belgrade in digging up one of the flower beds. It was a ring set with a large diamond, and in that ring were the decomposed remains of a finger. The ring was recognized at once as having been always worn by one of his cows that gets most out of them. That calls for patient study, no doubt that the finger was his, and that it had either been cut off and concealed in the garden until means had been found later on to dispose of the ring, or that when the remains of the ill-fated monarch and his consort were thrown from the window into the garoak tub. Nothing better in the way of den the finger, aiready nearly severed by sword cuts, had become detached n any case, the finding of this ring and the finger furnishes conclusive evidence of the truth of the story so persistently denied by the Servian officers concerned in Alexander's and Draga's death, that the bodies were backed to pieces and frightfully mutilated by the sabers of the assassins after the latter had emptied their revolvers upon their royal victims. The ring and the other belongings of King Alexander have been placed at the dis-posal of Queen Natalie, who intends to devote all the money obtained therefrom to the construction and endow ment of a charitable institution in memory of her son at Belgrade.—New

Of all the diseases known with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless prompt and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave careful study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made sure that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was certain to control that dreaded disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so called remedies for kidney troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women.

The doctor told me that I had kidney troubles and prescribed forms. The doctor told me that I had kidney troubles and prescribed for me. For three months I took his medicines, but grew steadily worse. My husband then advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought home a bottle. It is 'he greatest blessing ever brought to our home. Within three months I was a changed woman. My pain had disappeared, my complexion became clear, my eyes bright, and my entire system in good shape."—Mrs. Paula Weisslitz, 176 Seneca St., Buffalo, N. Y.
