The special meetings held in the Church of God at Rathmel three weeks by Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the Reynoldsville Baptist church, closed last Friday evening. The meetings were well attended and were very interesting. There were forty conversions.

Thursday evening of last week a citizens' meeting was held in Stoke's hall to take some action on getting an industry to locate in Reynoldsville that is looking for a new location. In due time the facts in the case will be presented to the readers of THE STAR.

Saturday a freight train on the Low Grade Division was wrecked near Winterburn by a broken axle. Fourteen cars were piled up. The track was not cleared until 4.00 a. m. Sunday. Passengers had to be transferred at Winterburn, delaying passenger trains at this place three and four hours.

A. G. Milliren has sold his grocery store to The Star Grocery Company. The store changed hands Monday. R. Z. Parrish is now manager of the store. The change was to have taken place two weeks ago, but on account of high water and several other obstacles Mr. Parrish, who comes from Crafton, Ohio, was delayed in getting here.

The River Division of the P. R. R. between Red Bank and Oil City was blockaded with a couple of freight wrecks last Thursday evening and the Buffalo Night Express that leaves Pittsburg at 11.00 p. m., was run over the Low Grade division via Driftwood and Emporium to Buffalo, passing through this place at 6.30 a. m. Friday.

Forty Hours Devotion was observed in the St. Mary's Catholic church at this place, beginning Sunday morning and ending Tuesday morning. Fathers McGivney and O'Hern, of DuBois, Father Welker, of Punxsutawney, Father Lynch, of Brookwayville, Father Driecoll, of New Bethlehem, and Father Sebrisk, of Adrian, assisted Fathers Brady and Carpenter.

All supervisory and high school principals and teachers are requested to attend this meeting.

Baptists Will Get Pipe Organ.

At the congregational meeting held in the Baptist church last Sunday morning Mr. Carnegie's proposition was accepted and we are glad to state that a new pipe organ will be put in the Baptist church in the near future.

Cigar Factory.

David Mansell and James C. Scott have bought Charles S. Kirchartz's cigar store and daily paper route. They took possession on Monday of this week. Mansell & Scott will start a wholesale cigar factory and expect to employ a number of cigar makers. Mr. Kirchartz moved his billiard tables into a room in basement of Imperial Hotel.

Second Operation.

Walter Stauffer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Stauffer, of West Reynoldsville, had to undergo a second operation in the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburg last Friday for appendicitis. Seven weeks ago last Friday he was operated on the first time for appendicitis and it was known then that he would have to be operated on the second time. The young man is getting along nicely since second operation, which was very successful.

Leo Martin Dead.

Leo Martin, aged about nineteen years, son of Mrs. Michael Martin, died at home of his mother in Allegheny City Sunday evening, January 31, 1904, from heart trouble. He had been ill twelve weeks. Body was brought to home of Michael Martin, jr., brother of deceased, on Jackson street last evening. Funeral services in the Catholic church this forenoon and interment in Catholic cemetery. Leo was born in Reynoldsville and was well known by a number of our townspeople.

Good Literature.

In the Young Men's Free Reading Rooms are to be found some of the best magazines published. In addition to these the book-case contains many good and wholesome books. These as well as the magazines are for the use of the young men while in the rooms. There is no lack of good, healthful literature and we hope that more of the young men of town will take advantage of this opportunity. During the month of January, there was an average attendance of twenty-five young men and boys per evening.

Initiation and Banquet.

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler J. T. McDevitt, of St. Marys, made an official visit to the B. P. O. Elk lodge in Reynoldsville last Wednesday evening. Five new members were initiated into the lodge that evening and after the initiation a banquet was held in the Elk rooms. Fifty Punxsutawney Elks chartered a trolley car from the Jefferson Traction Co. and came to Reynoldsville to be present at the initiation and to attend the banquet. There were also visitors from Brookville, New Bethlehem and Clarion.

Enthusiastic Audience.

Katharine Ridgeway Concert Company, the third number on the public school lecture course, appeared at Assembly hall last Friday evening before an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. This was Miss Ridgeway's second appearance before a Reynoldsville audience and the people do not tire of her. Her style of elocution is perfectly natural, giving charm to her recitations, and the versatility of her talent covers a wide range of interpretation, from the gravest to the gayest. Miss Brewster, the soprano, has a good voice and a pleasing stage appearance; Mr. Kerr, the basso, has a good voice and would have pleased the audience much better had his selections not all been foreign; Mr. Lamberson, pianist is a master of that instrument. It was a high class entertainment.

An Expensive Ride.

About 1.00 p. m. Monday the delivery horse of D. B. & W. B. Stauffer was standing in front of their grocery store in West Reynoldsville and the driver was in the store for some goods when a man named Flannery, who had been imbibing from the cup that intoxicates, came along, jumped into the sled and drove off towards Sandy Valley as fast as the spirited gray mare could go. A telephone message was sent to Sandy Valley and two or three men of that place headed the fellow off and brought the rig and man back to Reynoldsville. The sweat was dripping off the horse when they got back. Flannery was taken before Squire J. D. Woodring and had to pay $15.00 for his fast, but short ride. He may thank his stars that he got off even that easy, as he had committed a penitentiary offense. Flannery wanted to go to Pardus mines and had borrowed the horse and sled, without the owners consent, to make the trip.

The attendance at the Young Men's Reading Association Rooms during the month of January was over 500.

A report of the condition of the First National Bank of Reynoldsville will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

A number of the Daughters of St. George drove to DuBois last Wednesday for a sleigh ride.

DEATH FROM AFTERDAMP.

Daniel Lyle Lost His Life in Harwick Mine Searching for Victims of the Explosions.

Daniel A. Lyle, of Castle Shannon, son of Wm. Lyle, of Rathmel, who was overcome by afterdamp on Tuesday of last week, Jan. 26, 1904, in the Harwick mine while searching for victims of the awful mine disaster, was buried at Greenwood cemetery, near DuBois, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Lyle lived some twenty miles from Cheswick and when he learned of the explosion he went to Cheswick to assist in rescuing the men in the mine, if any were alive, and to search for the bodies of the dead. Mr. Lyle had been in several mine explosions himself and he knew the danger there was in the afterdamp. He had made one trip in the Harwick mine Tuesday and came out all right, and went down the second time and lost his life by getting into a section of the mine that was filled with the foul and poisonous afterdamp. His body was found Tuesday night but was not taken out of the mine until Wednesday morning.

The body was brought to home of the aged parents at Rathmel Friday, where funeral services were held at noon on Saturday, conducted by Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, and interment was made at Greenwood cemetery.

Daniel A. Lyle was born at Joggins Mines, Nova Scotia, July 4th, 1888, and was 45 years, 6 months and 22 days old. He emigrated to Pennsylvania in August, 1871, his father having come to the United States one year previous. He was married to Edna Viola Siple August 28, 1888, who with five children survive him. He is also survived by his parents, five brothers and three sisters.

MINE DISASTER VICTIM.

The Body of Harry Flenner Was Buried at This Place Monday.

Harry Flenner, aged fifteen years, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin DeHart, of this place, who was killed in the mine disaster at Cheswick at 8.00 a. m. Monday, January 25, 1904, was buried in the Reynoldsville cemetery Monday afternoon of this week. The body was not found until Saturday and was brought to home of grandparents on Jackson street on the noon train Monday. Funeral service was held at the residence at 4.00 p. m. Monday, conducted by Rev. Perry A. Reno, pastor of the Reynoldsville M. E. church. The body of Alexander Flenner, father of Harry Flenner, who was also one of the victims of the awful calamity, has not been found yet. When the body is found it will be brought to this place for interment.

Mrs. Flenner, who is heart broken over loss of her husband and son, accompanied the body of her son to this place for burial and returned to Cheswick yesterday to watch and wait until the body of her husband is found.

Mrs. Flenner is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeHart. She is left with two children.

Bone-Robertson Nuptials.

William Bone, of Force, Elk county, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bone, sr., of Reynoldsville, and Miss Margaret Robertson, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Robertson, of Reynoldsville, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, on Main street, at 6.00 p. m. Thursday, January 28, 1904, in the presence of a few relatives of the contracting parties. Rev. Perry A. Reno, pastor of the M. E. church, tied the nuptial knot. It was a ring ceremony. Robert and Miss Agnes Robertson, brother and sister of the bride, were the attendants. The bride was dressed in a blue traveling suit. An excellent wedding supper was served. This young couple are both well and favorably known in town and have a host of friends who wish them success and happiness in life's journey. Mr. and Mrs. Bone will go to housekeeping at Force in the near future.

Horse Run Up Sidewalk.

Monday afternoon as Thomas Gulliford was driving home from work at the Sherwood mine his sleigh was upset near the Goodwill place and the horse, which is a spirited animal, got away from Mr. Gulliford and ran down Fourth street to Main street and onto the sidewalk in front of Bell's store and ran up the sidewalk at a frightful speed dragging the sleigh upside down after it. In front of H. W. Eason & Co.'s store the horse slipped on the smooth cement walk and fell down. The sleigh was somewhat disfigured when the horse was caught. Had the runaway occurred fifteen or twenty minutes later, when little school children would have been crowding the sidewalk on their way home from school, something serious would certainly have happened.

Fur Cape From China.

Mrs. Robert Waite has a valuable and highly prized fur cape that was sent to her from Chingchow, China, from her twin sons, Revs. Alex and James Waite, missionaries in China. The cape was made by Chinese, and is well made, but the lining is not extra good. Mrs. Waite will have the cape relined with silk.

Special shoe sale at Nolan's shoe store for next ten days. This is your opportunity.

ANOTHER MOTHER GONE.

Mrs. Josiah Deter Died Wednesday—Buried at Eddyville Friday.

Mrs. Josiah Deter died at her home on Grant street, Reynoldsville, at 11.30 a. m., January 27, 1904, after long and patient suffering with cancer. August 7th, 1902, an operation for cancer in left breast was performed on her in the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburg, and for three months she got along nicely and her loved ones began to feel encouraged, but the cancer finally made its appearance again and Mrs. Deter was taken to the hospital for a second operation but the doctors would not operate the second time, claiming that it was useless as they could not save her life. For sixteen weeks before she died Mrs. Deter could not lie down in bed, but had to sit on a chair all the time and her suffering was intense at times, but she waited patiently for the summons to the Eternal Home.

Funeral services were held at the family residence at 7.30 p. m. Thursday, conducted by Rev. J. H. Myers, pastor of the Lutheran church, assisted by Rev. Perry A. Reno, pastor of the M. E. church. The body was taken to Eddyville, Armstrong Co., Friday morning and after a short service in the Eddyville church, conducted by Rev. V. Myers, interment was made in the Eddyville cemetery.

Mrs. Deter, whose maiden name was Christine Yost, was born at Hawthorne, Clarion Co., Pa., March 15, 1848, and would have been 56 years old the 15th of next month. She was a daughter of Aaron and Susannah Yost, of Putneyville. April 22, 1869, she was married to Josiah Deter at Putneyville, Pa. Unto them five children were born, four of whom, with the husband, survive the mother, Carrie, Charley, Harvey and Maude.

Mrs. Deter had been a faithful and constant member of the Lutheran church for 38 years. She had a noble christian character, was a kind mother and good neighbor. Mr. and Mrs. Deter moved to Reynoldsville 17 years ago. She was highly esteemed by her numerous friends.

Beautiful floral tributes were presented by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church, Daughters of Rebekah and family of deceased.

"Python Eggs and the American Boy"

Prof. John B. DeMotte will be in Reynoldsville Monday evening, Feb. 15, and deliver his famous illustrated lecture on "Python Eggs and the American Boy." This is the second of the series of the three great lectures which Prof. DeMotte gives, and it is a sequel to "The Harp of the Senses" which was delivered here several years ago. Prof. DeMotte is a profound scientific lecturer and to illustrate his points he makes use of many beautiful illustrations. The people of Reynoldsville consider it a rare treat to be able to hear Prof. DeMotte a second time. His lecture will be the fourth attraction of the public school lecture course.

Prof. John DeMotte delivered the most instructive lecture of the year from Gray Chapel Platform last evening. His subject was "Python Eggs and the American Boy," his theme, "Habit," the biggest word in the English language.

Prof. DeMotte is one of the greatest lecturers in the country to-day. He has had more engagements during the last two years than any other prominent lecturer. He has been booked in all the great Y. M. C. A. and Star courses in this country; there is scarcely a prominent course in Pennsylvania, that he has not been in from one to five times. Many towns have taken him on his second round, that is, have used all his lectures once and are now taking them the second time. He is not only a most gifted and entertaining speaker but a scientist and investigator of mental and moral characteristics of highly recognized ability. As a lecturer, scientist and teacher, he is unique.—Philadelphia Lecture Bulletin.

Lodge Visitors.

A large number of Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah from Falls Creek and Lindsay visited the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at Reynoldsville last evening. Supper was served on the third floor of the Reynoldsville Hardware Co.'s new building, across the hall from the I. O. O. F. lodge rooms. An entertainment, consisting of songs, recitations and speeches was given in the I. O. O. F. rooms. It was a pleasant social event and the visitors expressed themselves with being delighted with the hospitality of the Reynoldsville Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

The DuBois Express says the Home Building and Loan Association of Punxsutawney has decided to close up its affairs and assignees have been elected. The assets exceed the liabilities and all stockholders will be fully paid.

Parents' and Patrons' Day.

The public schools of this place observed Parents' and Patrons' Day last Thursday. In the afternoon there was a good attendance of parents and friends of education. The guests visited the different rooms and received a brief insight into the working of the schools. The regular order of recitations for the day was confirmed to with little deviation. The observance of such days tends to bring the parents and the schools into closer touch, thus subserving a good purpose.

More Winter Weather.

The sun was shining brightly for a few minutes yesterday morning, giving the woodchuck a chance to see his shadow, and if he came out at that time we will have six weeks more of winter weather. Yesterday was the seventy-seventh day of continuous winter weather. During that time it has not been warm enough for ice to melt in the shade and now if the groundhog prognostication proves correct we will have forty-two days more of winter weather.
