Cider for Gout. According to United States Consul Boyle, at Liverpool, cider has become most popular drink in England, due to a considerable extent to its recommendation by many physicians for rheumatic and gouty disorders. He says the cider of England is usually very good, and is put up in an attrac-tive manner. During the past two or three years there has been a great re-vival of the cider trade. He says there is no reason why the United States should not get a good share of this growing trade, especially as much of he cider for this year's consumption is made from Canadian apples.

cramps would follow, and words could not explain the agony which I would endure. While in these cramps I could not speak or move, but by making a great effort after the cramp had left me I could begin to speak and move a little, but my whole back was so sore and lame that I could not even have the back bathed for some time. My nerves were in a terrible state. I would rather sit up at night than go to bed, dreading the cramps and the terrible backaches. I consulted physicians, but got only a little relief for the time being. Seeing your advertisement, my mother urged me to try Donn's Kidney Pills. After using one box I was better, and have ever since been on the gain. I have no backache and no cramps now, and I feel like a new person. My nerves are better and I know my blood is purer. A MILLIONAIRE'S SYMPATHY

Refused Old Priend Loan of 85, But Started Him Anew in Life,

"A man whom I knew well, one who tion from the North Carolina line ness man in St. Louis, but who had through Pickens county. The supply met reverses, walked into the office of is practically inexhaustible, and a one of our Western millionaires and depth of the deposit in many places is asked the loan of $5," said ex-Congressman Charles F. Joy, of Missouri, at the Shoreham.

"The rann seeking the favor had been close friend of the millionaire before he had become immensely rich. The unfortunate one went to the other in fear and trembling, dreading to be turned down, for he knew that the news of his taking to drink had reached he ears of his old-time friend.

"He was greeted with cordiality, lowever, and plucked up heart to ask for the money. Immediately the mil-lionaire's demeanor changed, 'No,' said he, 'I can't let you have $5."

"'I hardly expected you would,' replied the supplicant, 'but thought that maybe for our former friendship you might do me that little favor. However, it does not matter. When a man's luck deserts him he can get no assistance from any quarter,' and with an air of absolute dejection he turned to leave the office.

"'No, I won't give you what you wanted, but wait here a few minutes,' and the milhonaire went into his private room and held a brief conversaion with one of his employes. In a quarter of an hour the clerk returned and held out a big, fat envelope to the miserable being. The latter, hardly ealizing that any one should send him communication, broke the cover, and inside found five brand new one-hundred-dollar bills and a railway ticket o St. Louis, with berth or parlor car. On seeing these, and realizing that the man whom he supposed would not let him have $5 had been his benefactor, the recipient of this unexpected generosity broke down and cried like a child.

"There is not much more to the story except that with the money the man vent to his old home and started up in small business, out of which he derives a comfortable living. The moral, if there be one, is that millionaires are often as sympathetic as ordirary mortals. This particular one I know to be the possessor of a big heart, and yet he has the best reasons for never talking about his acts of charity."-Washington Post.

FOR THIRTY YEARS

Congressman Meekison Suffered With Catarrh--Read His Endorsement of Pe-ru-na.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh, with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peruna came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."-- David Meckison, ex-Member of Congress.

THE season of catching cold is upon us.

The cough and the sneeze and nasal twang are to be heard on every hand. The origin of chronic catarrh, the most common and dreadful of diseases, is a cold.

This is the way the chronic catarrh generally begins. A person catches cold, which hangs on longer than usual. The cold generally starts in the head and throat. Then follows sensitiveness of the air passages which incline one to catch cold very easily. At last the person has a cold all the while seemingly, more or less discharge from the nose, hawking, spitting, frequent clearing of the throat, nostrils stopped up, fu'l feeling in the head and sore, inflamed the whole body—

The best time to treat catarrh is at the very beginning. A bottle of Peruna projectly used never fails to cure a common cold, thus preventing chronic catarrh.

While many people have been cured of chronic catarrh by a single bottle of Peruna, yet, as a rule, when the catarrh becomes thoroughly fixed, more than one bottle is necessary to complete a cure. Peruna has cured cases innumerable of catarrh of twenty years' standing. It is the best, if not the only internal remedy for chronic catarrh in existence.

But prevention is far better than one.

But prevention is far better than cure.

Every person subject to catching cold should take Peruna at once at the slightest symptom of cold or sore throat at this season of the year and thus prevent what is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
