Elks Lodge No. 519, for the ensuing year, will take place on the evening of March 9th. Thirty-nine ladies enjoyed the Presbyterian Work Society trolley excursion to Punsutawney last Thursday. They took dinner at Hotel Pastall. Evangelist Joseph Kirkwood, who was assisting in special meetings in Venango and Mercer counties, has returned to his home in this place. The lady teachers in the public schools of this borough took a sleigh-ride to DuBois last Thursday evening and took supper at the DuBois House. The monthly meeting of the Winslow township school directors was held at Frank's Tavern last Saturday. About the only business transacted was paying the teachers.

Town council will meet next Monday evening to re-organize. On account of the meeting on the 7th instant the regular monthly meeting of council was not held last night.

John Teach, of Rathmel, a graduate of the Reynoldsville Business College, has gone to Driftwood to accept a position as bookkeeper and stenographer.

Rev. Frank M. Wells, who preached two weeks in the Baptist church, left on Sunday afternoon for New Bethlehem, where he will spend a week in revival work.

Rev. I. S. Hankins, of DuBois, preached in the Reynoldsville Baptist church last evening. Meetings will continue at the Baptist church each evening this week.

Harry K. Pifer, bookkeeper for J. V. Young, slipped and fell on an icy pavement Sunday and sprained his left knee. He has been walking stiff-legged since he took the tumble.

Flour has been scotching up in price and as a consequence the bakers of Reynoldsville, DuBois and Punsutawney have raised the price of bread from five to six cents per loaf.

The Sandy Lick creek overflowed its banks yesterday. This is the third big flood in the Sandy Lick this year. The first flood was January 27, the second flood February 2nd and third one yesterday.

Hotel Imperial dining room has been beautified with a late style and fine pattern of handmade decorated wall paper. The ceiling is ingrained and the walls raw silk. A prettier dining room will not be found outside the large cities.

Charles H. Aimen, a fine cornet player of Reynoldsville, is instructor for the Ridgway cornet band. Mr. Aimen went to Ridgway Saturday and will likely locate at that place. The Ridgway boys will find that Mr. Aimen is a good instructor.

Special meetings will begin in the M. E. church next Monday evening, March 7, and continue several weeks. Rev. Barr and Rev. Todd, two bright young men, will assist Rev. Perry A. Reno the first ten days of the meeting, and perhaps longer.

While picking a dynamite cartridge with a fork one day last week, Clyde Buhite, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Buhite, of Henderson township, had three fingers of his left hand shot off parallel with the top of the little finger.—Punsutawney Spirit.

D. W. Atwater, of this place, district deputy for Protected Home Circle, attended a meeting held in Johnstown Tuesday night of last week to arrange for entertainment of the delegates to attend the Grand Circle convention to be held at Johnstown early in May.

The prayer meeting in the M. E. church this evening will be especially in the interest of the Sunday school. S. S. Robinson, superintendent of the school, will lead the meeting. Everybody cordially invited to attend, and Sunday school workers are especially requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brideson, of Main street, entertained a number of ladies and gentlemen on Monday evening of last week at whist. All present had a very pleasant time. The first prizes were received by Mrs. Harriet Morrow and F. M. Welsh and the consolation prizes were received by Mrs. W. H. Moore and Mrs. James Vashinder.

Jonathan Deemer and wife, of McCalmont township, spent several days of last week with relatives in Brookville. Mr. Deemer slipped and fell several weeks ago, and sprained his right wrist and has not been able to work since. He thinks this an opportunity to visit his relatives, and he is doing it. Week before last he visited relatives in Reynoldsville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Broad, sr., were called to DuBois Thursday by the death of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Frederick Lamphee, who died Wednesday evening, February 24, 1904. Funeral was held Saturday; interment in DuBois cemetery. Mrs. Lamphee, formerly a resident of Reynoldsville, was known by a number of our townspeople. She was forty-two years old.

The public schools last Wednesday morning were favored by the presence of Dr. Meek and Evangelist Frank M. Wells, both of whom assisted in conducting the morning exercises in the auditorium. The latter briefly addressed the teachers and pupils there assembled, dwelling principally on some of the conditions of a truly successful life. The address was much appreciated.

John R. Sowers, who has charge of the steam derrick on the P. R. R. work train, moved last week from Blairsville, Pa., to West Reynoldsville. The derrick, which is 30 tons, is a little light for the heavy wreck work that has to be done on the Low Grade Division. We were informed, not officially however, that the Verona wreck crew were getting a new 90-ton derrick and the 60-ton derrick now used by the Verona crew would be sent to Low Grade to take the place of the 30-ton derrick now being used.

Fourth of July Celebration.

Hope Fire Co. is already making arrangements for a Fourth of July celebration in Reynoldsville. The fire lads propose to give an up-to-date celebration.

Pleasant Social Event. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Weed entertained thirty-five friends at their cozy home in West Reynoldsville last Thursday evening. "Flitch," "snip" and "pit" were the amusement of the evening. A fine luncheon was served at eleven o'clock. It was a delightful social event and all present seemed to have a very pleasant time.

Revival at Rathmel. Rev. J. C. McEntire, pastor of the Rathmel M. E. church, is holding an interesting and successful revival at that place. He is being assisted by Rev. James Kelley, of Altoona, and Rev. Adams, an Italian, who was appointed by the last session of the Erie Annual Conference of the M. E. church to do missionary work in this section.

Taken to Hospital. Yesterday morning Joseph Johnston and George Tapper took Oscar Tapper to the West Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh. His friends hope that another operation will give him the use of his legs.

Glass Plant to Resume Work. To-morrow night the long blasts of the glass plant whistle at this place will be heard again and it will be a welcome sound, even though it is a little annoying to some nervous people in town. The plant resumes operation at midnight Thursday. Glassworkers who reside here and have been working elsewhere, and new men, have been gathering into town this week to begin work.

Fell Sixteen Feet. William P. Dickey, a carpenter in the employ of J. V. Young, had his left shoulder dislocated and was otherwise badly bruised by falling a distance of sixteen feet last Thursday forenoon. He was working on the barracks at No. 2 tippie, Wishaw, and was standing on a cross grained 2x6 joist when it broke. Mr. Dickey was unconscious when picked up and it was at first thought that he was seriously injured and could not live.

Died Sunday. Mrs. A. D. McKay received a telegram Sunday afternoon calling her to Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, on account of the serious illness of her mother. Rev. McKay and wife started for Mt. Pleasant Sunday evening, consequently there was no preaching service in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Mrs. McKay's mother died at 10.30 a. m. Sunday, before the message announcing her serious illness was received here. Funeral to-day.

Hopkins Postoffice Closed. The postoffice at Hopkins was discontinued the first of this week, as stated in THE STAR last week that it would be. When Hopkins mill was running with a full force of men the receipts at the Hopkins postoffice amounted to between five and six hundred dollars a year. A large number of the men employed at Hopkins lived at Lock Haven and they would send money to their families every pay day, which gave the postoffice a large money order business for the size of the town.

Visited DuBois Lodge. Friday evening of last week Charles G. Ernest Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of DuBois, conferred the third degree on a number of candidates. This lodge is a new one in DuBois and the degree team was now, with new paraphernalia, but they did fine and very creditable work. Eight members of Valiant Lodge No. 461, of Reynoldsville, and five members of the Rathmel lodge, making a party of thirteen, the unlucky number, drove to DuBois to witness the work of the degree team. Notwithstanding the fact that there were thirteen in the party, they did not upset nor have any bad luck and were royally entertained by the DuBois K. of P. Luncheon was served at a late hour. Valiant Lodge hopes to have the pleasure of entertaining the members of Charles G. Ernest Lodge some time in the not far distant future. The Reynoldsville party consisted of following persons: William Copping, L. D. Kilenhans, Clinton S. Hartman, C. P. Dickey, Joseph Shaffer, Josh F. Hinderliter, James Binney and J. A. London.

Attorney General's Decision.

A dispatch from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh papers, dated February 28, gives the following important decision: "Attorney General Carson yesterday filed on record an opinion giving his reasons for refusing the petition of Patrick Cashman and Lee P. Snyder, of St. Marys, for a writ of quo warranto against the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern Railroad Company for the annulment of its stock and bonds, amounting to $45,000,000. The petition was filed last July and the case was recently argued.

The case was one of the most important ever brought to the attention of any attorney general of this State, because of its effect, not only upon the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern Railroad Company, but upon all the railroads of Pennsylvania. The attorney general's opinion enables the company to immediately begin the construction of the uncompleted portions of its lines, on which work was stopped at the time the case was instituted."

A Pleasant Surprise. Mrs. D. Wheeler, who has not had a birthday for eight years, was completely surprised Monday evening, Feb. 29th, on her return home from a visit a short distance from town. Arrangements were made for her to spend the day in the country so as to assure a surprise and the plan worked nicely, for no one was ever more surprised than she. On her return home at 5.00 p. m. she found much had been done unknown to her. The table was well filled with everything that would satisfy any one's appetite and in the parlor set a beautiful black rocker, the gift of her children, and a still more beautiful present, a solid gold watch and chain, the gift of her husband, she received later in the evening. There was no one present but immediate relatives.

Made Many Friends. Robert H. Longwell, of Brookville, who was defeated for the Republican nomination for assembly at the primary election last week, made many friends throughout the county by his manly acceptance of the verdict of the people at the polls, his speech before the county convention here on Wednesday proving him to be made of first-class legislative timber. Mr. Longwell entered the contest at a late hour, and conducted a clean and honorable campaign, without malice to any one, and left behind him no tracks which will foul his ambitions for the future. He has proven himself a young man of character and ability, such as this county can well afford to place in such positions as that to which he aspired.—Brookville Republican.

Lake Chautauqua Ice. The ice supply for the Low Grade Division of the P. R. R. is shipped from Mayville, N. Y., and is cut off Lake Chautauqua. Several car loads were shipped to Reynoldsville on Monday. It was fine looking ice and was about two feet thick. A few years ago a dam was built at Sabula to furnish ice for Low Grade and River Divisions, but a case of typhoid fever near the Sabula dam year before last caused the P. R. R. Company to get the ice supply last year and this year at some other place.

Injured by Cow's Horn. Mrs. Gattau, of West Reynoldsville, was feeding her cow one evening last week when the cow threw her head around and the point of one horn caught Mrs. Gattau just above the left eye and slipped up over her forehead, cutting a long gash. Had the horn struck Mrs. Gattau a quarter of an inch lower down it would have penetrated the eye and would have been serious, if not fatal.

"Without a Rival." The entertainment given by the Ithaca Conservatory of Music Concert Company was received with universal favor by the audience. Death From Stomach Trouble.

Mrs. William Ohls died at her home in Emerickville February 23, 1904. Her death was caused by stomach trouble. Her maiden name was Margaret Mary McClelland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin McClelland. She was born at Brookville April 19, 1866, and was 37 years, 11 months and 4 days old at time of death. Was married to William Ohls March 8, 1883, by Rev. L. Wick. Was converted and joined the Emerickville M. E. church during the winter of 1893 when Rev. J. H. Jelbart was holding a revival meeting. Shortly before she departed this life she called her children to her bedside and exhorted them to meet her in heaven. She feebly sang a few verses of "Come Angel Band" and "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me" and lapsed into unconsciousness and fell asleep never to awaken again in this life.

Funeral services were held in the Emerickville Lutheran church Thursday forenoon, conducted by Rev. I. S. Davis, local M. E. preacher of Mend Chapel, and interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her husband, four sons, John, Benjamin, James and Harry, three brothers and two sisters, Mrs. R. J. Haines, of Emerickville, Reed and Enoch McClelland, of Kellettsville, Frank McClelland, of Brookville, and Mrs. J. A. Calhoun, of Westville.

William Ohls, husband of deceased, had a stroke of paralysis Thursday morning, effecting his entire right side, and he was not able to attend his wife's funeral.

Don't Be Pessimistic.

Notwithstanding the fact that business was not brisk in Reynoldsville during January and February, usually a dull season, there are brighter days coming and no one need be pessimistic about the future of the town, in fact we have good reasons to be optimistic about it. The glass plant resumes work tomorrow night, the two large brick plants will soon be in operation again, trolley cars will be running to Soldier and Sykesville before the Fourth of July, and the prospects are now flattering for the location of a large industry at this place during the summer. Besides this, there is no doubt but that there will be considerable building done here during the present year. The why should any person think the town is "dead," or that it has seen its best days? It has not. We have as fine stores as can be found in any country town in this section, have good schools, excellent water supply, cheap fuel, natural gas, electric lights, trolley line, fine manufacturing sites, two railroads and other advantages for large industries. Reynoldsville is a good town and is bound to be a better town. We will say just here that when the town gets to that point where it will support a daily paper, there will be a daily paper started.

The following resolutions were adopted by Mystic Commandery No. 313, Knights of Malta: WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to visit our Commandery and call from our midst our worthy and esteemed Companion Daniel W. Strouse, therefore, in view of the loss sustained by our Commandery and the still greater loss sustained by those nearest and dearest to him, Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the Supreme will we nevertheless, fully appreciate and very deeply deplore our loss, but hope and trust it has been his eternal gain.

If there is any one affliction more than another which produces a desire to end one's life it is indigestion, especially when caused by catarrh or inflammation of the stomach or torpidity of the liver. These cases Dr. MacFarggart, the New York specialist, absolutely cures to a finish, and of which fact he has a number of patients in Punsutawney to verify. His office is 213 West Mahoning Street, Punsutawney, Pa. Consultation free.

Died in Hospital.

Elmer E. Miles, a carpenter of this place, died in the Homeopathic Hospital in Pittsburgh at 3.00 a. m. February 27, 1904. Typhoid fever was cause of his death. Mr. Miles, who was a carpenter, went to Wilkensburg in May, 1903, to work at his trade, but did not move his family to that place. He came to his home just before Christmas and remained here three weeks. He was stricken with fever February 9, two weeks after he returned to his work. Three days during his illness he raved so terribly that he had to be put into a straight jacket. Mrs. Miles and daughter, Belle, were called to Pittsburgh on Monday of last week and remained until Thursday. Mr. Miles was unconscious for several days before he died. Body was brought to Reynoldsville on the noon train Monday. Funeral service was held at the family residence on Grant street at 2.00 p. m. yesterday, conducted by Rev. Perry A. Reno. The Wilkensburg Union pays the funeral expenses.

Deceased is survived by his widow and seven children, the oldest 18 years and youngest 3 years.

The Empire Entertainment Company.

Following are some press notices highly commending this musical company to be in Reynoldsville March 18. The entertainment Tuesday evening of the firemen's course, enjoyed a full house, notwithstanding the inclement weather. The personnel of the company embraced Mrs. Addie Jewell Newton, Miss Jewell, S. Platt Jones and F. J. Newton. The Newtons and Miss Jewell are not strangers in this community, and those who attended in anticipation of a fine performance were not disappointed. Mr. Jones, in his impersonation, was a whole company of himself, and kept the audience in the best of humor.—The Phoenix Register, Phoenix, N. Y.

Resolved, That our charter be draped for thirty days, a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, also be placed on the records of the Camp and be published in THE STAR.
