A Little of Everything.

Thursday of next week is St. Patrick's Day. "A Royal Slave" at DuBois Tuesday, March 15. Argument court was held in Brookville this week. Oxenham's moving picture entertainment at the Reynolds opera house March 14. Dr. A. J. Meek will preach in the church at Prescottville at 3.00 p. m. next Sunday. Prof. Hines will hold a dance in Frank's Pavilion on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, March 17. The jury commissioners drew the jurors last week for the April term of court in Jefferson county. The Reynoldsville Brick & Tile Co. plant that has been idle several months, will resume work this week. The high water Monday afternoon washed away part of the bridge over Pitchpine Run on Gordon alley. George Embrick took a tumble Friday evening when jumping off the R. & F. C. R'y work train and skinned his face badly. Policeman John Spear put two Polanders in the East Main street lock-up Saturday night for being drunk and disorderly. The regular meeting of Pomona Grange No. 20, will be held in the Paradise Grange hall this afternoon and evening. The streets were just muddy enough on Monday and Tuesday of this week for good marble playing, and the small boys were at it. Robbers attempted to get into Bell's clothing store Monday night by trying to spring the lock on the back door. They must have been frightened away. M. C. Coleman started this morning overland to Williamsport driving two pacing mares that he has sold to a Williamsport party at a high price. Mr. Coleman will return by rail. Wesley Motter was called to Stanton yesterday by the death of his oldest sister, Mrs. Mary Holt, who died Monday morning. Mrs. Holt was 75 years old. Rev. A. J. McFarland, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who was the guest of A. T. McClure over Sunday, preached an able sermon in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

The glass plant at this place began work last Thursday night with a full crew of men. There are quite a number of strangers working at the plant now. The plot of Assembly Hall for the Empire Entertainment Company March 18, will be put up at the drug store of Mr. Stoke Monday morning, March 14. Tickets for reserved seats may there be secured. The monthly meeting of the members of the M. E. Foreign Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Bates in West Reynoldsville last Friday afternoon. Lunch was served at five o'clock. Rev. J. C. McEntire closed the revival meeting in the M. E. church at Rathmel Sunday evening. Eight persons were received into the church on probation and the membership of the church was revived. Over one hundred new members will be initiated in the Improved Order of Red Men Council at Punxsutawney on the evening of the 28th inst. The tribe is so large now that there is some talk of organizing a new tribe at Punx'sy. Conductor M. McMahan, wife and two sons, Edward and James, of Reynoldsville, were guests of home folk Tuesday while enroute home from Raiston, where they attended the funeral of an aunt.—Driftwood Gazette. Daniel L. Frantz, who went to Mahan, Pa., two weeks ago for treatment for cancer on his lip, but did not receive any benefit, went to Rome, N. Y., on Monday of this week to see a doctor who claims to be able to cure cancer. A party was to have been held at the Ross House last Thursday evening, but with 18 inches of water on first floor of hotel and the house surrounded by water so that it could only be reached by boat, it was decided to postpone the party. The entertainment given in Centennial hall Friday evening of last week by the Ithaca Concert Co., under the auspices of Hope Fire Co., was not as well attended as the firemen expected it would be. The entertainment was very good. J. C. Norris, proprietor of the Reynoldsville meat market, and C. M. Lench, butcher of Rathmel, were in Pittsburg the first of this week buying cattle for their meat markets. A car of fine cattle arrived here last evening for these butchers. J. W. Chatham, who had charge of the boarding house at Hopkins several years, has bought the restaurant in Centennial building and intends furnishing first-class meals at all hours. Mrs. Chatham is an experienced and excellent cook. Three car load of poles for the extension of the trolley line from Reynoldsville to Sykesville arrived here Monday and will be distributed along the line of the new road this week. There are enough poles in the three car loads to build the line to Soldier. On account of slides and washouts on the River Division of P. R. R., between Red Bank and Oil City, the River Division restituted express trains to and from Pittsburg to Buffalo were run over the Low Grade Division Thursday night and Friday morning. The Jefferson County Bar Association held special memorial meeting in the court house at Brookville on Monday evening of this week in honor of the memory of the late George W. Means, Esq. Addresses were made by members of the Bar Association. Monday afternoon the Utopia Society elected the following officers for ensuing year: President, Mrs. Fremont M. Brown; vice-president, Mrs. Lucius M. Simmons; secretary, Mrs. Ward C. Elliott; treasurer, Mrs. Andrew T. Bing; referee, Mrs. Vine R. Pratt. Francis O. Sutter has bought the Palace Restaurant from P. B. Rhodes. The deal was made last Thursday. Wilbur Dillman, an experienced cook, is doing the cooking for the restaurant. Mr. Sutter expects to make some changes in the restaurant and fix up a neat dining room. There is a fifteen-year-old lad in town who has a revolver that he puts under his pillow every night to use if robbers entered the house. There is not a cartridge in the revolver nor is there one in the house to put into the revolver, but it answers the purpose just the same as far as the boy is concerned. Miss Etha Marion Jones, who has been conducting a physical culture class in Centennial hall for eight weeks, closed the class last evening, that being the fifteenth lesson. The exercises of the class were very pleasant and the members of the class greatly benefited. More work along this line should be done in our town. S. K. Furman, of Harrisburg, mail agent on P. & E. R. R., was in town a few hours Thursday on his way to home of his parents at Strattonville to attend the funeral of his youngest sister, Miss Elizabeth Furman, who died Wednesday morning, March 2. Miss Furman taught one of the Henderson township schools up to the Christmas vacation of the present term.

Treasurer's Sale. A notice of the county treasurer's sale of unseated and seated lands for taxes will be found in this issue of THE STAR. Sale to take place at the court house in Brookville on the second Monday in June, 1904. Meetings in Baptist Church. The special meetings are still in progress in the Baptist church at this place. They are well attended and very interesting. Rev. I. S. Hankins, pastor of the DuBois Baptist church, preached last evening and will preach several evenings this week. Will Move to Falls Creek. Joseph M. King, policeman in this borough one year, whose resignation took effect yesterday morning, is to be proprietor of Hotel Evergreen at Falls Creek. J. M. and A. P. King have bought that hotel. Mr. King expects to move to Falls Creek about the fifteenth of this month. Five Floods. The present year will certainly be a record breaker for big floods. The year is only 69 days old and there have been five big floods in the Sandy Lick creek since the year was ushered in. The first flood was January 27, second February 7, third March 1, fourth March 3 and 4, fifth March 8. Dead Bone in Ankle. Conrad Heemer, who resides near Prescottville, has necrosis, or dead bone, in right ankle and most likely will have to have his right leg amputated below the knee. The bone was scraped Sunday and an effort is being made to save the leg, but the doctors have little hopes of saving it. Fell Down Stairs. Mrs. Eliza Brooks, of Grant street, who was eighty years old two weeks ago, fell down stairs last Friday evening, dislocating her right shoulder and bruising her body considerably. Mrs. Brooks was up stairs alone and became a little confused and thought she was stepping into another room when she stepped off the stair landing. Methodist Revival. A series of special meetings began in the Methodist Episcopal church on Monday evening of this week. Rev. Todd, of Salem, Pa., and Rev. Barr, of Brockport, are assisting Rev. Reno in the work. These two young men are good talkers and are full of zeal for the Lord's work. Rev. Todd, who is an excellent singer, sings two or three solos each evening. The meetings start out with fairly good attendance and considerable interest. There were two young men and three young ladies at the altar last evening. Two Policemen. At the meeting of the new town council Monday evening Frank P. Adelsperger was elected chief of police at a salary of $65.00 per month and William P. Dickey assistant at a salary of $55.00 per month. Mr. Adelsperger goes on duty at noon each day and remains on until midnight, when Mr. Dickey goes on and remains on duty until noon. This will give the town a policeman on duty all the time. Mr. Adelsperger, who has served as constable and policeman in this borough, is one of the best policemen the borough has ever had. Mr. Dickey has not been tried yet as policeman, but there is no doubt but what he will make a good one. Died at Sykesville. Mrs. Phoebe Weaver died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. O. Sykes, at Hotel Sykes, Sykesville, at 3.45 a. m. Friday, March 4, 1904, from stomach trouble. She had been ill two months. She was the widow of Alex Weaver, who died in January, 1903. Deceased was about 54 years old. She was born in Indiana county, Pa. She is survived by six children: Harry Weaver, of Illinois, Mrs. T. O. Sykes, of Sykesville, Mrs. E. B. Lendon, of Punxsutawney, Viola and Jennie Weaver, of Sykesville. Funeral service was held at Hotel Sykes at 2.30 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Rev. J. W. Crawford, pastor Sykesville Baptist church. Hughes & Pomroy, undertakers of this place, had charge of the funeral. West Reynoldsville Council. Monday evening of this week the town council of West Reynoldsville reorganized. Following is the personnel of the new council: Henry Hoppel, J. N. Small, M. E. Weed, John Benson, W. P. Woodring, G. M. Davis, Samuel Sutter. Small and Woodring succeeded themselves and Davis and Sutter succeeded Richard W. Miller and Oscar Anderson. After the new members took the oath of office Henry Hoppel was elected president of the new council and Philip Koehler secretary. Council elected P. J. Ward chief-of-police, W. L. Johnston, Esq., borough treasurer, M. M. Davis solicitor, and Robert S. Williams street commissioner. The committees were not appointed at the first meeting. Council meets the first Monday of each month. Moving pictures at the opera house next Monday evening. Uncatchem In price, styles or quality, Harman's shoes.

MINERS SOLVE PROBLEM. All Will Have a Chance to Vote and Leaders Counsel Settlement. Indianapolis, March 7.—By one of the shrewdest moves in the history of organized labor, the leaders of the bituminous mine workers have practically succeeded in preventing a great strike in the fields, resulting in the suspending of operations of every soft coal mine in the country and the forcing into idleness of 200,000 men. The almost unanimous decision of the delegates in session at Indianapolis today to refer to the local unions the question of declaring a strike has virtually sealed the fate of a tie-up. The plan adopted today is to refer the proposition to the membership, possibly with recommendation that the reduction be accepted. The plan was evolved by the special committee appointed by the miners, after the disruption of the interstate joint relations with the operators Saturday to draft a policy for the future. Even the element that stands most determined against a reduction voted in favor of the resolution for the referendum vote.—Courier. Hard Day on Railroaders. Last Friday was a hard day for railroaders on the Low Grade Division of the P. R. R. The train due here at 8.18 a. m. did not arrive until 12.50 p. m., the afternoon trains were a couple of hours late and a small freight wreck occurred at Meredith, four miles west of Reynoldsville, at about 3.00 p. m. and that delayed traffic until after 9.00 p. m. The work train was working on a big slide near Red Bank when the wreck occurred and the train, with crew and wreck car, was started immediately for Meredith and got as far as Brookville when the engine broke down and there the work train stopped and waited for another engine. The eastbound train due here at 12.52 p. m. arrived at 11.30 p. m. The westbound train due here at 5.27 arrived here on time and was held here until after 8.00 p. m. The engine on the Driftwood accommodation, due here at 7.58 p. m., broke down near Bennezzette and the train did not arrive here until about 11.30 p. m. The trains due here at 6.15 p. m. and 9.50 p. m., arrived here at about 4.00 a. m. and 4.30 a. m. Saturday. The crews on the freight trains had troubles of their own and some of the crews that should have reached the end of their runs Friday evening were out all night. Cat Withered Drowned at Brookville. The iron bridge that spans the Red Bank creek at Brookville, known as the Pickering street bridge, was swept away Thursday afternoon by the high water. There were two young men crossing the bridge when it went down, Calvin Witherow and Frank Hendale, and Witherow was drowned in the raging stream. An effort was made to rescue Witherow by letting a ladder down from a bridge a short distance below the one destroyed. Witherow caught the ladder and succeeded in climbing almost to within reach of the rescuers when, through exhaustion and numbness from cold, he lost his hold and fell back into the seething flood. The Pickering street bridge was built in 1889. It was considered a substantial bridge. About ten o'clock Thursday forenoon a pier gave away. Danger notices were posted and people were cautioned against crossing or going out on the bridge, but these two young men thought they could get over the bridge, but one lost his life and the other one had a very narrow escape. Daring Robbers. Friday night of last week eight robbers visited Rossiter, a mining town near Punxsutawney, tied and gagged three watchmen, broke into the company store, in which the postoffice was located, blew open the safe and got about $200.00 worth of stamps and some other plunder. Saturday was pay day at Rossiter and the supposition is that the gang of robbers expected to find the money for Saturday's pay in the safe, but it was not there. The following night—Saturday night—five men blew open the safe in the P. R. R. station at Brockwayville, but got a very small amount of money. It is most likely that the same gang visited Rossiter and Brockwayville. Home Again. Albert Evans, who left Reynoldsville about seven years ago with Norris Bros. circus band and has not been home since that time, returned Friday of last week. Mr. Evans, who is a tailor by trade, worked the last two years at his trade at Dallas, Texas. He will remain here permanently if he can get employment at his trade. Examinations for Diplomas. Saturday, April 2, 1904, at 9.00 a. m., County Supt. R. B. Teltrick will hold an examination in the public school building in Reynoldsville for common school diplomas. Applicants should be supplied with pen, ink and foolscap paper. Examinations will be held in Brookville March 12, Punxsutawney March 19 and Brockwayville March 26. Our bread will be five cents a loaf at the Model bakery, and four cents at hotels and stores. F. E. Darv, proprietor.

TOWN COUNCIL RE-ORGANIZED. The Borough "Dads" Transacted Business and then Enjoyed an Oyster Supper. Monday evening of this week the town council of Reynoldsville borough was re-organized with Dr. J. C. Sayers as president and L. J. McEntire clerk of that body for the ensuing year. George Hughes and Dr. J. B. Neale succeeded Henry C. Delbis and Dr. Harry B. King as councilmen. The members of the council now are: Dr. J. C. Sayers, A. M. Applegate, Charles Ritzke, A. P. King, Walter D. Williams, George Hughes and Dr. J. B. Neale. Walter D. Williams and wife left here last fall, but did not move their household goods, yet there seemed to be a general impression that Mr. Williams would not return to Reynoldsville and would tender his resignation as councilman before the new board was organized, and to provide for the anticipated vacancy the Republicans and Democrats each nominated three candidates for council, Hughes, Neale and G. W. Sykes being elected. Last week the president of council received a letter from Mr. Williams in which he stated that he did not expect to resign as a member of council. Council elected following officers: Chief-of-police, F. P. Adelsperger, assistant, W. P. Dickey; clerk, L. J. McEntire; treasurer, John H. Kaucher; solicitor, M. M. Davis. There were four candidates for street commissioner, but no one elected. It was held over until next regular meeting, the present commissioner, Thos. Clawbaugh, to serve until new one is elected. The regular meeting of council will be held the first Tuesday of each month. Council adjourned at midnight and the councilmen all went to the Palace Restaurant and had an oyster supper at the expense of the new president of council. Butchering Under Difficulties. M. Singlebach and Frank Bracken, his neighbor, who both reside on Jackson street, came very nearly being drowned last Friday while trying to kill a large hog as it was swimming around in the water. Mike lives in the section that is inundated two or three times a year and he has had a number of fine porkers drowned by not getting them out of the pen before the water got so high he could not get them out. Thursday, when the water began playing in Mike's back yard, he drove a large fat hog out of the pen on to dry ground, but Friday morning the hog concluded to go back to the pen, even though it did have to swim to get there. When Mike saw that the hog was determined to get into the pen again, he thought it would be better to kill the hog than have it drown. He and Mr. Bracken got in a skiff and rowed out to where the porker was swimming around and they managed to get a rope around one of its legs and then Mike cut the hog's throat, after which the hog plunged around so desperately that it upset the skiff and dumped the two men into the deep, cold water. They both had a very narrow escape from drowning. They succeeded, however, in getting out and finally got the hog out and dressed it. The hog weighed over three hundred. "A Royal Slave." Clarence Bennett, who is starring in the title role of "A Royal Slave," is a rare combination of dramatic quality. He combines melodramatic power with a high order of poetic and romantic flesh. Mr. Bennett's early schooling in Edwin Booth's company stands him in good stead now and largely accounts for those graceful master touches and that height of art which is so congenial art. This is the badge of a great actor. At DuBois Tuesday night, March 15. Located at Chicago. Henry A. Reed, who has been in the employ of the National Cash Register Co. nine years, will go to Chicago, Ill., where he will be office salesman for the same company. Mr. Reed expected to go either to Seattle, Wash., or Dallas, Texas, but on account of the poor health of his mother he accepted the Chicago position for a time. For $5.00 per year you can get an accident or health insurance policy from The Fraternal Identification Company of America that will pay $2,000 in case of death by accident or $15.00 weekly indemnity in case of accident or sickness. A leather pocket book for gentlemen or card case for ladies, with a photo of the policy holder and an identification card, will be given without extra charge to every person having a policy written. For full particulars inquire of John A. Walsh, agent, at Nolan's shoe store. Wanted.—By old reliable Chicago firm two young men over 21, of good habits, to travel and solicit; good pay and rapid advancement to right party. Must furnish good references. F. B. Miller, Pittsburg, Pa. (Gen. Delivery). A fine grade of chocolate and other candies at low price at Bremer's candy parlor near the iron bridge. Empire Entertainment Company at Assembly hall March 18th. Queen Quality shoes $2.10 per pair at Nolan's. Boys' high cut shoes at Nolan's shoe store.

FLOODS BREAK RECORD. Not Since the Johnstown Flood has Sandy Lick Creek been so High, while the Small Runs Surpass Records. Not since the big flood of 1889, known as the Johnstown flood, has the Sandy Lick creek been on the rampage as it was last Thursday night and Friday morning, but some of the smaller streams, Pitchpine Run, Soldier Run and Trout Run, were higher than ever known before. Although the water was not as high in the Sandy Lick as it was in 1889, it was a more disagreeable flood than the 1889 flood because it occurred in cold weather and ice froze on the floors of dwelling houses that were flooded. About 12.30 on the morning of the 3rd instant rain began falling, accompanied with terrific thunder and lightning, and from that time until about noon Thursday there was a continuous heavy downpour of rain. For three or four hours the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled. Not for many years, if ever, has there been as hard and long continued electrical storm in this section in the winter. On account of the ground being frozen and covered with ice in many places, the rain did not soak into the ground but rushed down the hills and streets to the runs and creek, and on Thursday evening the Sandy Lick had overflowed its banks and the low lands were inundated. There was 18 inches of water on first floor of Ross House and Rev. J. C. McEntire's residence. Mr. Ross says the water was from 15 to 20 inches higher in his hotel during the Johnstown flood than it was Thursday night. Opening of the gates on the Sabula dam Thursday afternoon made the water higher here than it would otherwise have been. Thursday forenoon and afternoon men were engaged in blasting ice gorges above and below the fifth street bridge to save the bridge, and their efforts were successful, although the water was up and around the bridge. The water was up over the sidewalk from Jackson street to P. R. R. round house and the silk mill workers and glass workers had to go around by West Reynoldsville Thursday evening and Friday morning to get from and to their work. In West Reynoldsville the water was a foot or two deep over Pike street and people had to be hauled from P. R. R. crossing to iron bridge on wagons or hacks. Pitchpine Run was so high that the first floors of Sykes' woolen mill, Delbis Bros' wagon shop and Tapper's livery stable were flooded. The water was so high on Railroad street that the trolley cars could not get down Jackson street from Thursday evening until Friday evening and the R. & F. C. R'y trains could not run Thursday night and Friday. The hard rains Sunday night and Monday forenoon made another big flood in the Sandy Lick creek and the low lands in this section were inundated again yesterday, but the water was not as high as it was last Thursday night. The Empire Entertainment Company. This musical company will be in Reynoldsville March 18, as the last number of the public school lecture course for this year. Press notices follow: The concert given by the Empire Entertainment Company in the M. M. church this evening was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The rich and varied program elicited repeated encores to which the company graciously responded with artistic selections, vocal and instrumental. Probably the most popular numbers were the vocal and violin solos by Mrs. Newton, the mandolin selections by Miss Theo. Marie Jewell, the trombone work by Mr. Newton and the impersonation of Eben Holden by S. Platt Jones.—Crawford Journal, Meadville, Pa. Mr. Jones is a talented humorist and impersonator. His selections from "Eben Holden" were absolutely perfect and could not have been improved.—Cattaraugus Star, Machias, N. Y. Died at New Castle. Rev. J. E. Dean was called to New Castle, Pa., Saturday by the death of his sister, Mrs. Sarah Dean, who died Saturday morning. Mrs. Dean had been ill for some time. She married a man named Dean and did not change her name. Her husband died several years ago. J. N. Kelley, superintendent of the county home, was in town this morning on his way to Paradise to attend the meeting of Pomona Grange to-day. "A Royal Slave" will be played at DuBois Tuesday evening, March 15. This is the best romantic play that is being presented to-day. Anchor Brand clover and timothy seed for sale at the Keystone Hardware. The only Anchor Brand seed sold in town. If in need of an odd piece of underwear to finish season with, at Millirens 25 per cent. off. Special shoe sale at Nolan's shoe store for next ten days. This is your opportunity. Call at Thompson's bargain store for 5 and 10 cent goods.

J. McKee, who had a stroke of paralysis. Solomon Burkhouse, of Emerickville, expects to move to Reynoldsville in the spring. He was in town last week looking at several properties with a view of buying one. Mrs. George S. Mulford, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mrs. Harry B. Field, of Butler, Pa., have been visiting their sister, Mrs. A. T. Bing, on Grant street, since Monday evening. Mrs. Walter W. Hoyer, of East Brady, and Misses Minnie and Annie Hoyer, of Kittanning, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Pomroy, returned home yesterday. Alfred and Misses Mildred and Maud Sheesley, who have been employed in DuBois for some time, returned to home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sheesley, in Paradise yesterday. Mrs. Lydia Breckbill, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., who has been visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Ira S. Smith, in this place over four months, will go to her home to-day. Mr. George Melling-er will accompany her. Mrs. J. B. Watson left here Monday morning for Matzahuala, Mexico, where her husband is employed in a large brick plant. Mr. Watson, who is an experienced and first-class brickmaker, was in the employ of the Reynoldsville Brick & Tile Co. last year. Rev. D. L. Dickey, of Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, who is almost 80 years old, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. A. D. McKay, at the Presbyterian manse on Grant street. Rev. Dickey's wife died February 28th. He will remain with his daughter four or five weeks. Mrs. Walter D. Williams, who has been staying with her parents at West Sunbury a couple of months, was the guest of Mrs. Alex Riston last night. Mrs. Williams stopped off here on her way to Buffalo to spend a few days with her husband, who is employed in that city.
