Overland Trip

M. C. Coleman, who sold two pacing borson to a Williamsport party and drove the horses to that place last week, left here Wednesday morning, arriving In Williamsport at 10.00 a. m. Saturday, His first stop was at Curwensville for dinner, then on to Blue Bal, where he spent the night. Thursday he crossed the range and for a distance of twenty miles the road was apparently one sheet of ice. There was not a dwelling house to be seen in that twenty mile drive He passed through Unionville, Bald Eagle Valley, Howard and Lock Haven. On account of washouts and ice gorges along the valley, Mr. Coleman had to take to the hill road. He drove through one place where a road had been cut through the lee a mile long and the lee was higher than the horses' heads. Mr. Coleman spont Sunday in Williamsport, borrowed a preacher's hat and attended church.

Methodist Revival.

The series of special meetings in the Methodist Episcopal church continue with unabated interest. Large crowds attend the service every night and many are forsaking their sinful ways to be come christians. Fifteen persons joined the church Sunday morning on probation. The church was packed Sunday night, the largest congregation that has assembled in that church for sev eral years. Rev. Todd and Rev. Barr, who have been assisting Rev. Reno since the meetings began, will remain during the entire week. They are both attractive and successful in revival work, and the people listen to them with pleasure and profit. Rev. Told is not only an able preacher, but he is a good singer, which gives hin additional power in revival work.

Viewed Road.

County Surveyor James B. Caldwell, of Brookville, and Burgess L. M. Simmons and Ex-Councilman Henry C Deible, of this place, who were appoint ed by court to view the old public road from Hopkins to the Gourley place for the purpose of abandoning that road and to view a new road from the Gourley place to connect with the public road at the Reynoldsville Brick & Tile Co. plant, did that work Monday of this week. They did not make their decision public, but will hand in a report to the court at the April term.

Going to Hospital.

The last day of last November Hood Knox, who was employed at the Reynoldsville Woolen Co. mill, stepped into a pool of hot water and scalded his left foot and ankle badly. The sore does not heal and skin grow over it. Twice the doctors removed skin from Mr Knox's arms and grafted it on the sore but still it refuses to heal, and causes Mr. Knox con-iderable suffering. He expects to go to the Adrian Hospital to day and remain there two weeks.

Expensive Piece of Road,

The public road from foot of Fifth street to the silk mill was left in a very bad condition after the flood last week. Two small bridges were carried away by the high waters. That small piece of road will be quite an expense to Winslow township every year until the entire road across the low land is raised at least three feet. It will be an expense to fill it in but when that is done the road will not cost the township so much every year afterwards.

Free Garden Seeds,

A couple of weeks ago Congressman W. O. Smith sent us a number of packages of garden seeds from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which we gave out to subscribers of THE STAR and the supply was soon exhausted. Lest Wednesday afternoon we received another lot of the seeds and any of our subscribers who have not already repackage by calling at THE STAR office.

Returned to Rochester.

C. W. Kelley, a carder and spinner, who had been in the employ of the Reynoldsville Woolen Co. one year and a half, moved back to his former home at Rochester, N. Y., this week. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left here on the 11.32 a. m. P. R. R. train yesterday. The other employes of the carding and spinning department at the woolen mill presented Mr. Kelley with a handsome shaving set on Monday.
