Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dran Mns. PINKHAM : -- For years I mjoyed the best of health and thought parties and receptions thinly clad, and would be suddenly chilled, but I did not think of the results. I caught a bad cold eighteen months ago while menstruating, and this cauged inflam-mation of the womb and congested inflam-mation of the womb and congested and kept cetting worse. My attention was called to your Vegetable Com-performed, and I made up my mind to try it for two months and see what it would do for me. Within one month I better and at the close of the account I was entirely well.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the results as I was."-MISS ROSE NORA HENNESSY, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky. - $5000 forfeit if original of above lab

To Save Sponge Fisher's Lives. Experiments are being made at La Goulette, Tunis, with a new submarina younel, invented by Abbe Raoul

the vicar general of Carthage, to be used in sponge fishing. The vessel is made of steel and resembles in shape a huge porpoise. The entrance to the central chamber is hermetically closed by a heavy lid fastened with screws and the occupants survey their surroundings through portholes. A long spear terminating in a grappling hook, worked from the interior of the submarine, seizes the sponge and de-posits it in a net at the side of the vessel. The craft is propelled by electricity furnished by accumulators through a cable attached to a vessel on the surface, with which it is in constant communication by means of a telephone. The vessel is lighted by electricity and a lamp hanging in the bow lights up the surroundings while the sponge fisher is beneath the water. Three men may easily descend in the vessel at the same time. The object of the vessel is to reduce the great mortality among sponge Inhers.

It is practically impossible to cause an electric spark of high electromotive force to leap from one surface of a liquid to another. For this reason it is rare that lightning strikes the surface of water.
