Baby Found in Coke Car.

A pretty and well formed boy baby, rematurely born, was found at Soldier Thursday morning, May 12th, by foreigners in an empty "rack" car for carrying coke. The baby was wrapped in the colored section of a Pittsburg Sunday Disputch dated May 8th. The car had been brought down from the yards at Falls Creek Wednesday and the supposition is that the baby had een placed in the car at Falls Creek. The little body was placed in a powder can filled with bi-chloride solution to preserve it and the coroner was notified.

Misstatement.

The statement in THE STAR last week that seventeen property owners along Main street, between Iron bridge and Seventh street, would not sign the petition for paying the street, was a mistake. At that time seventeen had not signed the petition, but some of the seventeen property owners live out of town and had not been heard from and several who live in town were away at time petition was circulated and corpmittee had not seen them yet. There were only two who positively refused to sign the petition. It is to be hoped that all obstacles will be removed immediately and that Main street will be paved this summer.

King, C. R. Hall, W. F. Copp, Joseph Williams and Reynolds Gibson

Adopting Regular System.

Reynoldsville has an excellent water ystem for fighting fire and has as good rolunteer fire company as there is in this section of the country, but the boys are handicapped every time they fight a fire by outsiders interfering by crowding around, yelling and giving orders. But that will soon be stopped. Hope Fire Co. will ask council to appoint twelve citizens to act as special policemen at time of fire, and a rope will be stretched around a certain distance from where firemen are working and the crowd will be kept back. It may be necessary some time to arrest two or three persons before the people become accustomed to the new system here. The firemen will have signals for turn ing on and off water at plugs.

The fire company was out Friday night for practice.

D. W. Atwater Honored

The convention of the Grand Circle of the Protected Home Circle held at Johnstown last week, which was attended by District Deputy D. W. Atwater and A. F. HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Orations and Essays Excellent-Alumni Officers—Alumni Banquet at Hotel Imperial.

Wednesday evening of last week, May I, 1904, the eighth annual commenc ment exercises of the Reynoldsville high school were held in Assembly hatl, attended by a large and well pleased audience. There were six bright young people in the graduating class, three young men and three young ladies. The rostrum was beautifully decorated with potted plants and the class color-pink and white. In large letters over the rostrum was the class motto: "Deeds Not Dreams." The graduating class, school directors and teachers occupied seats on the rostrum. The graduates were ushered to seats on the rostrum by six small boys and girls, Kenneth Sutter, Horton Bell, Arthur Smith, Joan and Pauline Nichols and Helen King. These little tots also marched in and gave the graduates their diplomas after the presentation speech had been made by Dr. Foust. The orations and essays were scholarly and intellectually brilliant, and were presented with as much case, grace and elocutionary ability as the orations and essays of any other graduating class that has graduated from our high school. The graduates were caps and gowns. The program was as follows: Overture Orchestra

ALUMNI BANQUET.

The eighth annual banquet and re union of the Reynoldsville High School Alumni Association was held at the Imperial Hotel Thursday evening of last week. Between the hours of nine and ten o'clock the guests assembled in the parlor of the hotel. Misses Margaret Butler, Edith Clark and Prof. Smith were on the receiving committee Miss Anna L. May, who trained the uniors and Seniors for their respective exercises, very delightfully entertained the guests by giving the readings, "The Circus That Came to Grandma," and True to Brother Spears." These selections were well executed evincing the fact that Miss May is a master in her chosen art. After this the guest repaired to the large and beautiful dining hall where was spread in the most excellent style a sumptuous feast, Everything in the line of the menu was served in the best possible manner and the proprietors had spared nothing in providing things which would appeal to the appetite of the banqueters.

After the inner man had been satisfied Prof. Smith prefaced the introduction of the persons who were to respond to toasts by emphasizing some of the purposes of the reunion and banquet The responses to the toasts were witty and humorous and this fact added much to the enjoyment of the evening. TOASTS.

Dr. J. H. Murray, Mr. M. C. Cole man and Miss May responded in im promptu speeches when called upon by the toastmaster. Owing to the lateness of the hour it was deemed wise to bring the intellectual feast to a close. The guests then left the banquet hall and soon took their departure for their respective homes, being well pleased with the manner in which the evening was spent. This was the last event connect-
