We were informed by a Reynoldsville groceryman yesterday that a Cleveland. Ohio, firm had agents in town who secured orders for $1,800 worth of gro ceries last week. Think of it? It is likely that some of the goods were sold a trifle cheaper than our merchants Would ask, but we venture the assertion that if the people who ordered their groceries from the Cleveland house would go to the local grocerymen and compare prices they will find that they could have bought the same bill of goods from a home merchant at the same price they paid the out of town firm. Another thing the Clevelad firm will not deliver goods without the cash. Do the people always pay the home merchant cash? Suppose you were the merchant, how would you like to accommodate the town people when they wanted trust and then have them send out of town for goods and pay cash for same ?

We did not ask the groceryman and den't know the name of one person who gave the Cleveland house an order for groceries, but it don't make any difference who does it, we don't believe it is using our own merchants right.

Another thing to be considered, when people buy from home merchants they generally buy in small quantities and of course they have to pay a little more accordingly, but on the first of each month you make out a list of groceries for the month and give it to one of our grocerymen and we feel sure you will not pay any more for the month's supply than you would pay the Cleveland house. Try it.

When a new industry is to be located here who are expected to take stock? The merchants. Who helps support the churches and schools? The merchants. If people meet with misfortune and need assistance who are the first to be solicited for aid? The merchants. What would the town be without merchants?

Secretary of State John Hay, who was Presidet Roosevelt's official representative at the World's Press Parliament at the World's Fair in St. Louis last week, said in his address : "Let us remember that we are met to celebrate of this week. the transfer of a vast empire from one nation to another without the firing of a shot, without the shedding of one drop of blood. If the press of the world would adopt and persist in the high resolve that war should be no more, the clangor of arms would cease from the rising of the sun to its going down, and we could fancy that at last our ears, no longer stunned by the din of armies, might hear the morning stars singing together, and all the sons of God shouting for joy.'

Did you ever think that rents, or rental value was as important an item of value in a building as the materials entering into the construction thereof, and that rents can be insured? We can write you a policy on the rents of your building in the same company and at a lower rate than the building. It would pay you to investigate Rent Insurance.

A Special Sale on Jacket Suits

The progress of the season thus far has left us somewhat broken in sizes on suits. We therefore put on sale, for the purpose of cleaning up the entire line,

On Thursday, May 26, all Goods in stock.

WE HAVE DECIDED ON THIS PLAN: TO REDUCE THE PRICE $1.00 A DAY FOR EACH SUCCEEDING DAY UN-TIL SUITS ARE ALL GONE.

To illustrate, a suit costing $12.50 on Thursday will be reduced $1.00, which will make it cost $11.50, and on Friday $10.50, and on Saturday $9.50, and so on—the sixth day it will be reduced $6.00, which will make it cost $6.50.

Since the sizes are somewhat broken, there are not a great many suits left, but we have nearly all sizes in the different styles and colors. The line consists of Black, Blue, Brown, and Fancies in Cheviots, Broadcloth, Voiles, Brilliantines and Scotch Tweeds. They range in price from $10 to $30 - and all go in the sale.

Remember, there will be no duplicates and if you fail to get one of these suits we will not be able to secure it for you later.

The Suits are on Display in the Show Window. Do not fail to examine them.

Corner Main and Fifth Street, Reynoldsville, Pa.
