A message from Tangler, Morocco, says: An American citizen named Perdicaris and his stepson, Cromwell Varley, a British subject, were carried off by the bandit Fraissoull and his followers and will doubtless be held for a heavy ransom. The captives were staying at Perdicaris' summer residence, three miles from Tangier, when the bandits captured them.

Postlicaris is of Greek origin, but is naturalized citizen of the United He is very wealthy and has lived in Tangier for years. He mar-ried an English woman, whose son is his companion in capitivity.

Perdicaris was scated at a table with his family when the house was suddenly surrounded by armed Arabs, followed by Fraissoull, who gave or to seize Perdicaris and Varley At the same time the leader handed to a domestic a letter for Mohammed el Torres, the sultan's representative at Tangler, notifying that functionary his terms. It is understood that the Moroccan authorities will accede to all the demands of the brigands in order to secure the release of the prisoners. Finissouli requires the removal of the sultan's troops from his district,

ANARCHISTS SHUT OUT

Chief Justice Sustains Immigration Authorities.

TURNER MUST STAY AWAY.

Governments Cannot Be Denled the Power of Self-Preservation, the Court Says.

In an opinion by Chief Justice Fuller, the United States Supreme court sustained the action of the immigration authorities at the port of New York in ordering the deportation of the Englishman, Turner, alleged to be an anarchist. The chief justice said in his opinion that Turner did not himself deny that he is an anarchist. The opinion upheld the law for the exclu-sion of anarchists and affirmed the decision of the Circuit court for Southern district of New York, which refused a writ of habeas corpus to Tur-

Justice Fuller in his opinion first reviewed the facts in the case, including the claim of Turner that he is a turer on sociological questions and that his counsel contended that he was an anarchist in theory merely.

In concluding the chief justice said: "We are not to be understood as depreciating the vital importance of freedom of speech and of the press, or suggesting futile limitations on the spirit of liberty, in itself unconquerable, but this case does not involve those considerations. The flaming brand which guards the realm where no human government is needed still bars the entrance, and as long as human government endure they cannot be denied the power of self preservation, as that question is presented The case in which the decision was endered was an example of the imrudence of the apostles of murder. Furner, the anarchist who sought an American domicile, was ordered deported several months ago. He apited for a writ of habeas corpus and was released on bail. Two weeks ago he sailed for Europe, asserting his intertion to return and obey whatever finding the Supreme court might reach. While he was at liberty in New York he continued delivering anarchistic speeches and declared that the question of assassinating the head of any government was to be deter-mined by the conscience of the individual who might feel the murderous impulse.

CONDITIONS REPORTED SOUND.

Crop Situation Greatly Benefited by Warmer Weather-Winter Wheat Showing Up Well.

Special dispatches to the Interns tional Mercantile Agency describe a general trade revival at prominent western and southwestern centers The stimulus is noteworthy in con trast with conditions existing during the previous month, and has its basis in more seasonable weather and in creased orders for spring stocks.

Jobbing centers report a material ad-dition to the volume of "re-stocking business," with a tendency among many mrchants to duplicate order previously given for spring goods. Drygoods have been particularly ac-tive, with a healthy demand for both spring and fall stocks. Clothing lines are also reflecting improvement. which is especially evidenced through out the southwest. Boots and shoes more active, with strong inquiry for the better qualities.

Heavyweight goods have been consumed in such quantities as to exhaust supplies of "carried-over stock" volume in years. This has placed dealers in a specially strong position to handle seasonable which they are doing profitably and expeditiously, owing to the general milder weather.

While improvement has been note worthy, however, it is doubtful whether the present inrush of orders will be sufficient to make good the March and April deficiencies. People generally seem to be well supplied with money, and, while cautious about engaging in new enterprises, are not backward about securing goods they really need. Everywhere underlying conditions are reported sound.

The crop situation has been greatly benefited by the warmer weather, which has advanced wheat in sections where backward spring did great damage. Although wheat suffered serious injury by the setback encountered dur ing the recent cold snap, a fair sized crop can be counted on if normal con ditions prevail. Most grains will be harvested two or three weeks later than usual, although it is quite possible that the next government report will describe a generally better condi tion than was shown by the last figures. Winter wheat is showing up particularly well in some sections. Seed-ing in the Red river valley district has been retarded by unfavorable weather, so that the crop outlook in that sec-tion is problematical. Elsewhere throughout the northwest encouraging conditions prevail.

PLOT TO KILL THE CZAR.

The mu nicipality erects a grandstand, tickets to which are sold publicly, the names addresses of the buyers being noted.

As persons in the front rows could easily throw an object to the place where the emperor stands, the author ities naturally reserve the right of canceling the sales of tickets if the buyers are not known to be absolutely trustworthy, and they subject the oc cupants of the grandstand to the clos est scrutiny.
