In one of the display windows in Millrens department store was a Memorial Day design which attracted considerable attention Saturday, Sunday and Monday. A white monument under a black arch with a large flag for background. On top of the monument was a green wreath. The inscription on monument was "Lest We Forget," with the words Soldier and Sailor at base of monument. At one side stood a man dressed in blue and at other side of monument a woman dressed in deep mourning. Irven Klock, who is becoming an artistic window trimmer, arranged the Memorial Day window.
Six years ago Frank A. McConnell proprietor of Frank's Tavern, leased the Reynolds orchard, near the Tavern, and opened a park, known as Frank's Park. A large pavilion was built in one part of park and a speakers stand in another part of park. Three Burglars Identified.
A. L. Blackburn, the young operator who was bound and gagged by three robbers in the P. R. R. station at Mosgrove on the night of May 10th, and then blew open the safe, was in Reynoldsville Saturday. Blackburn had been at Clearfield Friday with Detective T. J. Dempsey, of this place, to identify three of seven suspicious characters, who had been arrested at DuBois ten days ago and sent to jail, as the chaps who blew open the safe at Mosgrove. The identification was rather vague. All Blackburn could tell was that three of them were about the same size as the three robbers, who wore masks, the night of the robbery.
Narrow Escape.
Charles Grubbs, who drives the National Hotel bus, had a narrow escape from death this morning. Grubbs was backing the bus up to the P. R. R. station platform for the 6.30 a. m. train when he turned too short and the bus upset, catching Grubbs between the bus and horse's heels and he was dragged down over the small embankment below the station before the team was stopped. It took a half dozen men to lift the bus off Grubbs, whose head was near the horse's heels and one of the horses kicked at least a half dozen times and each kick only missed Grubbs' head by a few inches. Those who witnessed the mishap expected to see Grubbs killed.
Saw Four Bear.
Henry and Jacob Deibel, of Reynoldsville, who were out trout fishing near Medix Run last week, saw four black bear one morning and did not have a gun or even a revolver with them, but the fishermen on this occasion were glad enough to let the bear alone. One of them was an immense big bear and he stopped and looked at the men for a second or two and then all four bear started on a run to get away from the two men. Had brain started towards the men it would have been their turn to run. If the four bear wander across the pathway of Henry and Jacob Deibel this fall when they are out on their annual deer hunt and have their rifles there will be some bear meat shipped to Reynoldsville.
An Excellent Sermon.
The members of John C. Conser G. A. R. Post, Sons of Veterans and Women's Relief Corps, attended public service at the Presbyterian church at 11.00 a. m. last Sunday—Memorial Sunday—and listened to an able and excellent sermon preached by Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Some of the old veterans say it was one of the best sermons ever preached to the Grand Army in this place. Rev. McKay selected his text from 2 Tim. 4:7. "I have fought a good fight." His theme was, "American Soldier." He divided his sermon under three sub-heads, "The dead soldier;" "The living veterans;" "The need of veterans in the future." There was a large congregation present, notwithstanding the fact that there was services in all the other churches at the same hour. The pulpit was draped with a large silk flag and there were a number of beautiful flowers conspicuous.

Excitement at Falls Creek.
Postmaster Leahy Shot by Robbers—Presbyterian Preacher Shot a Robber.
There was great excitement at Falls Creek this morning on account of Captain W. J. Leahy, postmaster at Falls Creek, being shot and seriously injured by robbers who entered his house about 11.20 last night. Captain Leahy was shot through left hand and left arm near the shoulder. The bone of the arm was badly shattered and the arm may have to be amputated.
About 2.30 this morning robbers, supposed to be the same fellows that shot Capt. Leahy, entered the Presbyterian parsonage at Falls Creek and Rev. Clisholm shot one of them. His companions got him away, leaving a trail of blood. The robber was found behind a board pile near Falls Creek this morning in a critical condition. The fellow is not expected to live. He was shot in the right side. Two fellows answering the description of the robbers were seen near the Reynoldsville tannery about 8.00 a. m. and a DuBois officer was not far behind them.
Fell Off a Passenger Train.
A man named Thompson, a brick layer of Clarion, who was visibly intoxicated, got on the front end of the baggage car of train No. 105, due here at 6.15 p. m., at Brookville last Wednesday to steal a ride. He must have fallen asleep and fell off the train a mile west of Fuller when the train was running fast. The train men did not know he was on the train and did not see him fall off, but several boys found him lying near the track in an unconscious condition shortly after the train had passed and they thought he was dead, and so reported to the telegraph operator at Fuller and he reported to Reynoldsville office that a passenger had fallen off 105 and was killed. A freight crew passing Fuller at the time received orders to bring the man to Reynoldsville and they found the man was not dead, but that he was intoxicated and badly bruised. He was brought to Reynoldsville in a box car and was put in the West Reynoldsville look-up until Thursday morning. The right side of Thompson's face and the entire right side of his body was badly bruised and skinned. His escape from being killed is miraculous.
A Good Show.
The Harris Nickel Plate Circus gave one of its entertaining exhibitions in this city Friday on the grounds north side of East High Street. The exhibition of animals was interesting and the program that was rendered was one attraction following another. The riding, acrobatic feats, etc., were some of the best ever shown in this city.
The show has certainly earned its reputation and a return date at any time will assure them a good attendance.—The Democrat, Hamilton, O. At Reynoldsville Saturday, June 4.
Commandery at DuBois.
At the annual session of the Grand Lodge of Knights Templar held at York, Pa., last week a charter was granted for a Commandery at DuBois. The new Commandery will be No. 83. Ridgway is the nearest Commandery in this section and a number of Reynoldsville Masons were members of that Commandery, but we understand they will withdraw from Ridgway Commandery and put their membership in the DuBois Commandery.
Decoration Day in Beechwoods.
The rain Decoration Day did not keep the Beechwoods people from carrying out the program arranged by the Memorial Association, but the rain did keep a number of people away who would have been there had it been a pleasant day. The people who carried their dinner with them ate at the school house or in covered rigs. The afternoon meeting was held in the Beechwoods Presbyterian church. Dr. James Conway, of Brookville, was the speaker in the afternoon.
The Jefferson County Sunday School Association convention is being held at Stanton to-day and to-morrow. Mrs. G. G. Williams and Thomas Gulliford are delegates from the Baptist Sunday school, and Misses Jennie McGaw and Margaret Applegate are delegates from Presbyterian Sunday school. Misses Edith Herpel and Vera Applegate are attending the convention.
Miss Margaret Myers, of Greensburg, has been engaged by the Reynoldsville Business College to take charge of its music department this summer. Miss Myers is a conservatory graduate and fine musician. Parents wishing their children to take piano lessons should apply at once to Prof. Hughes.
Crowning of the Blessed Virgin, children's service, was held in the Catholic church Sunday evening. There were one hundred and fifteen children in the service. The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers.

DECORATION DAY OBSERVED.
The Old Veterans and Sons of Veterans Paid Tribute to the Soldier Dead.
Notwithstanding the wet weather and mud the Decoration Day program was carried out at this place and there seemed to be an unusual amount of interest manifested, but the procession from town to Beulah cemetery was not a third as large as if it would have been had the day been pleasant. About 9.30 a. m., in a shower of rain, the Keystone band, Sons of Veterans, old soldiers and drum corps formed in line and marched to Beulah cemetery where the usual Memorial Day exercises were performed. Dr. B. E. Hoover was chief marshal. The other cemeteries were visited by Sons of Veterans and the soldiers' graves were decorated with beautiful flowers.
On account of rain the afternoon exercises were held in Centennial hall instead of Reynolds Park, as arranged for. A large audience assembled in the hall. Dr. John H. Murray presided. The program was as follows: Music by Keystone band; prayer, Rev. A. J. Meek, Ph. D.; address of welcome, Dr. J. H. Murray; selection by male quartette, Dr. H. B. King, Will Herpel, John Heddecliff, A. B. Slagle; address, Rev. Charles H. Fitzwilliam, pastor of Punxsutawney Baptist church. It was a fine address. Music by Keystone band; selection by male quartette; music, Keystone band; prayer, Rev. A. D. McKay.
After the meeting closed in Centennial hall the Keystone band, old soldiers, Sons of Veterans and Women's Relief Corps formed in line and marched to the iron bridge across the Sandy Lick creek where the Relief Corps held memorial service for the sailor soldier dead. A large crowd assembled to witness this ceremony, the first time it was observed in Reynoldsville. Beautiful flowers were strewn on the bosom of the stream. A number of girls dressed in white took part in the exercises on the bridge.
Harris Nickel Plate Show.
The W. H. Harris Nickel Plate show arrived in this city this morning from York, where it appeared to two big audiences on Thursday, and is showing at McGrannus park this afternoon and evening. A street parade was given at 10.30 o'clock, and it was a very suitable turnout for a popular-priced circus. A chariot drawn by six Siberian camels, an elephant and baggage players were features of the parade. Over fifty horses appeared in the demonstration.
The circus is one of the old fashioned kind, the performance being given in one ring, and is pronounced everywhere the best of the smaller shows on the road. The attractions are all first-class and the performance is pleasing and clean throughout. The tent has a seating capacity of 3,000, and everything about the show has the appearance of a big circus.—Lancaster, Pa., Daily Examiner. At Reynoldsville June 4.
New Schedule.
A new schedule went into effect on the Low Grade Division of P. R. R. last Sunday. There are not many changes in the time of passenger trains at Reynoldsville. The train due here at 8.18 a. m. on old schedule now arrives ten minutes earlier, 8.08. The train due here at 11.32 a. m. on old schedule is ten minutes later or now 11.42. The 6.15 p. m. train now runs through to Driftwood instead of stopping at DuBois, and the 9.50 p. m. train stops at DuBois instead of running through to Driftwood.
Four new daily freight trains have been put on between Driftwood and Red Bank. Nos. 164, 165, 167, 168. No. 164 leaves Driftwood at 7.20 a. m. and No. 168 at 8.20 p. m. No. 165 leaves Red Bank at 6.00 a. m. and No. 167 at 7.55 p. m.
