The Beechwoods Telephone Company which recently asked for and received from the town council the privelege of extending its lines and crecting its poles within this borough will have the line here in a short time. Already a number of subscribers have been secured and it is expected that the list will grow when once the line is put in operation to town. The Company has a central office at Beechwoods and there are 85 subscribers to the system which has been in operation but a short time. The lines are being extended to Falls Creek and a number of 'phones are to be placed there. The extention of the lines is a stroke of enterprise on the part of the management of the Telephone Company and will be a great convenience, not only to the country residents, but to the citizens of the towns as well. It will practically bring the country into the towns and will be a factor in establishing a better business relationship between the rural districts and the towns .- Brockwayville Record.
