THE STATE GRANGE.

J. T. Allman, Press Correspondent.

The political race for 1904 is now nearing the last heat. The conventions have been held, platforms written and candidates nominated. How many prizes have been secured by farmers it were vain to inquire. It is within reason to say that purely agricultural communities should be represented in the law making bodies by practical farmers, and they would be did farmers more fully understand their interests and more clearly realize that they must themselves look after those interests. We should remember the old adage "If you want a thing done, go; if not, send." But now that the candidates are named and the election of half of them assured, they should be kept in mind of what we want of them when the legislature convenes. In many counties of this state the candidates have been made to understand that the farmers in the grange want at least three things—relief from unjust taxation, trolley lines to be given the right to carry freight and Direct Legislation. While pushing these we will guard with no less jealous care the legislation already secured. Fellow farmer, outside of the grange, what do you want and what will you do toward securing it?

The farmer just now is having his attention called to the tax question in no uncertain way. Wherever he goes the collector's notice is posted up telling him when and where to call. Every good citizen cheerfully pays his share of the public burdens. No good citizen does more than his equitable share without protest. Nor is he satisfied with protest merely. He does all he can to secure equally distributed burdens and equally distributed powers. This is simply justice. Anything less than this must work to the injury of his class. An injury submitted to and long continued means a step downward in the scale of civilization. So true sentiments of patriotism prompts the wide awake farmer to demand equality. It is needless to add that effective work can be done only through organization. The Grange is the farmer's right arm in Pennsylvania.

By the time another letter is issued the National Grange will have assembled in its thirty-eighth annual session in far off Oregon. The delegates will listen to the most encouraging reports from most states that have been made in many years. What further evidence is needed to convince the most skeptical that the farmers can organize and can maintain an organization. Does any one yet doubt that they should do so? We call upon all who are convinced on these two points to join in and help.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Groves and infant son, Raymond, of Grove Summit, spent the week with relatives at this place.

Wanted—A husband. Am young and tolerably good looking. No body not having plenty of money need apply. Call in person at No. —, Pardus, Pa.

What asylum burned down? The reason we ask is that three wild men were seen here and at Pardus last Sabbath evening. We won't say for certain they were men, but they were dressed as such at any rate.

Quite a number of our people attended the party at Stewart's, in Pardus, last Saturday night, given Miss Bertha Stewart in honor of her birthday. The company danced till eleven o'clock, after which a lunch was served. The crowd then took their leave after wishing her many happy returns of the day and leaving as a reminder of their presence many beautiful gifts.

Out Late Hours.

It is a query to us many times what the parents of young girls and boys are engaged in or what so engrosses their attention that their offspring have no part in their concern and lack of anxiety. If it be true that parental solicitude does possess some of the parents, very little practical result of it is manifested. On many evenings and even at late hours of numerous nights, young girls and boys, who should by all means be in their homes surrounded by the best of influences, are not only on the public streets but seek shadows and coverts. The boys and girls are the coming men and women, and our national glory will be maintained and perpetuated largely by the Christian morality and fortitude of the coming generations.—Exchange.

A Love Letter.

Why You Should Visit the World's Fair.

The principal reason why a visit should be made to this greatest of Expositions is on account of its educational value. A visit to the World's Fair is in itself a trip around the world, for fifty cents, the price of admission. The president of one of our greatest universities has said "To the bright student the Exposition is worth a thousand college lectures." The opportunity of a life-time is afforded in which to acquire, by a few days' sojourn at the Fair, an education which could not otherwise be received. The World's Fair Grounds cover over 1,200 acres, being more than twice as large as those of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

Only a few weeks remain in which to take advantage of this great opportunity. Every day from now until the close of the Fair is a "special" day. The Wabash is selling daily excursions tickets to the Fair at greatly reduced rates: $12.00 St. Louis and return, on sale daily, except Fridays and Saturdays. Tickets good in Palace Reclining Chair Cars; $15.00, St. Louis and return. Tickets on sale daily, and good in either Palace Reclining Chair Cars or Pullman Sleepers. The Wabash operates through trains from Pittsburg to the World's Fair Main Entrance, all trains leaving the magnificent new passenger station, Corner of Liberty Avenue and Ferry Street, at 2.00 p. m. and 8.30 p. m. daily, City Time.

Detailed information regarding rates and train service, to St. Louis, as well as to many Home-seekers' points in the West, Northwest and Southwest, cheerfully furnished at Wabash City Ticket Office, 329 Fifth Avenue, Depot Ticket Office, Wabash Station, Pittsburg.—12-14-04.

Safe Crackers Drawn by Mule.

The DuBois Courier stated yesterday morning that Deputy Sheriff J. A. May, of Elk Co., was in DuBois Monday and in speaking of the numerous robberies that have taken place throughout this section of the state during the past fortnight, Deputy Sheriff May said there is a growing suspicion that the safe cracking at Marienville and the job at Cronshaw Saturday night were the work of the same men, and that the robbers are traveling across the country in a buckboard drawn by a mule. He stated that the outfit was seen in Forest county the day of the robbery at Marienville and Saturday the two men and the mule were known to have driven through Ridgway in the direction of Brookwayville. The men are experts at opening safes with nitroglycerin and are making good hauls.

Last Week.

The sixteenth annual Pittsburg Exposition closes its gates on one of its most successful seasons Saturday night of this week. Thousands who never were inside the gates before have this season been enraptured with the beauties and wonders of the great annual show which helps so much to make Pittsburg famous. The musical features have been especially charming and there has not been a dull program since the big doors swung open on the last night in August.

Confessions of a Priest.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It's guaranteed by H. Alex Stoke. Only 50c.

Must Pull Together.

No town will become a good business center as long as its business men rely on a few merchants to make the effort to bring the trade to town. Too often the men in a few lines of trade are about the only ones that reach out after customers. Other merchants wait until these men induce the people to come to town and content themselves with trade that naturally drifts to their place. A public spirited man should ask himself if he is doing his best to attract people to come to town to trade in helping the entire business community, and no town is a success unless all lines are working to extend the trade as far as possible and trying to bring a larger territory in the circle in which the town is the business center.—St. Marys Gazette.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by H. Alex Stoke.
