Members of the Jefferson Traction Company came from Painsutawney last Friday on a special car and went over to Sykesville to inspect the trolley line. President A. G. Yates, Vice-President Adrian Iselin, accompanied by several other officials of the B. R. & P., were in Reynoldsville Monday afternoon on a special train. There was a large thermometer hanging in front of THE STAR office which some person devilishly inclined destroyed by holding lighted matches to the bottom of the thermometer. Fifty members of P. O. S. of A. Camp No. 208, of this place, in regalia, attended the funeral of Earl Garvin at Sandy Valley Sunday afternoon. Deceased was a member of the Reynoldsville Camp. Chester Ritzie found the college pin that was lost and was advertised for in THE STAR last week. If you lose anything or want to buy or sell anything try the want and lost column in THE STAR. One cent a word. Miss L. Grace Beard, elocutionist, gave a recital in Centennial hall last Friday evening. The entertainment was very good and was worthy of a larger audience. Miss Beard's impersonations were excellent. The burning of a lace curtain at the residence of A. T. McClure last Friday evening caused a little excitement in that home for a minute or two. One of the girls accidentally pushed the lace curtain too close to a gas light. Mrs. Margaret Mitchell and Miss Lucile Mitchell are in Pittsburg this week, where they attended the wedding of a cousin, Miss Grace McLain, at the Fourth Baptist church last evening. It was a large and swell church wedding. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, will go to Washington, Pa., the latter part of this week to be absent over Sunday and Rev. D. J. Frum, of Sykesville, will fill Dr. Parsons' pulpit Sunday morning and evening. A picked up foot ball team of this place, (not the high school team,) went to DuBois Friday afternoon of last week and played the DuBois high school team and were easy "picking" for the DuBois team, in fact the Reynoldsville team was so easy that the game was not interesting. Score 50-0. County Supt. R. B. Teitrick requested the preachers of Jefferson county to preach a special sermon on public schools and education sometime during the months of October and November. Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preached a special sermon along that line Sunday morning. Mrs. F. P. Howe, of Arcadia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Farrell, of this place, had her hands and arms badly burned one day last week in fighting fire to save her home. Mrs. Howe was lighting a lamp when head of match flew off and set fire to a lace curtain which was soon all ablaze and required quick work to extinguish the flames. As announced in last week's issue the Thanksgiving program will be given by the pupils of the first seven rooms of the public schools in Assembly hall this afternoon, the exercises beginning at a quarter past two. Prof. Teitrick will be on hand to make a brief address. All who are interested in education are cordially invited to be in attendance. Rev. A. D. McKay last Wednesday morning conducted the devotional exercises at the public schools. Rev. McKay also gave a brief though helpful address before the pupils assembled on the best method of meeting difficulties which arise in connection with their school work. He urged the pupils to master them, otherwise the difficulties would master them and their lives would not be successful. Two weeks ago mention was made in this paper that hundreds of dollars worth of goods had been destroyed in Robinson shoe store and Bell's clothing store by a water spigot being left open in the Eagle rooms. The report was given to us just before going to press and when it looked as if the damage would be considerable, but after the water was wiped away and things adjusted the damage did not amount to much. It is not showing the right spirit for a man to run off on a tangent when his house is quarantined according to law on account of a contagious disease, and then endeavor to retaliate by refusing patronage and incidentally calling the officers of the law down for doing their duty. It is unwise to get on a "high horse" in such matters, as exhibitions of this kind are a personal detriment and the sympathy of the people cannot be gained by such actions.—Big Run Tribune. As stated in THE STAR last week a new schedule will go into effect on the P. R. R. next Sunday. The only change in time of arrival of passenger trains at this place will be in the Sunday afternoon train. The Sunday train now due here at 1.14 p. m. will arrive at 12.59 p. m. and the train now due at 4.30 p. m. Sunday will arrive at 4.20 p. m. The 7.58 will run through to New Bethlehem on new schedule instead of stopping at Brookville as it does now. W. B. Corsette Millirens.

Hoffman Resigned. C. F. Hoffman, who was treasurer of the American Production Co., has resigned and W. J. Morrison has been elected treasurer. Car Barn. The Jefferson Traction Company will build a car barn on Jackson street, near corner of Jackson and Tenth streets, on lot adjoining T. J. Davis' property. The barn will be 30x100 feet. It has been staked off and will be rushed to completion as soon as possible. Birthday Surprise Party. About twenty West Reynoldsville ladies gave Mrs. Jacob Schwem a birthday surprise party last Thursday evening. Mrs. Schwem did not get an inkling of the party until the ladies walked into her house. The visitors carried edibles with them which were served before home-going time. It was a pleasant surprise party. Mrs. Mack Not Guilty. "Not guilty," was the verdict of the jury in the case of Mrs. Sophia Mack, who was charged with murdering her husband, Thomas Mack, at Brookville on the 8th of last September. The case was taken up Monday, given to the jury at six o'clock last evening and at eleven o'clock last night the jury was ready to report and Judge Reed convened court to hear the verdict, which was as above stated. Thanksgiving Services. Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist church at 10.30 a. m. to-morrow, Thursday. The sermon will be preached by Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Judging from the attendance at Thanksgiving services in the years gone by there are not many christian people in Reynoldsville who have anything to be thankful for. The congregation should be too large for the seating capacity of the Baptist church to-morrow. Neck and Back Broken. The body of Jauvich Rucavoir, a Poland, who was instantly killed at Sykesville shaft last Wednesday afternoon, was brought to the undertaking rooms of J. H. Hughes in this place Thursday morning where the body remained until Friday afternoon and was then interred in the Catholic cemetery. Jauvich was struck by a steel rail that was being hoisted onto a trestle and which fell on account of a rope breaking, and he was knocked off the trestle, falling about 30 feet. His neck and back were broken. The man was about 30 years old. Stove Polish Exploded. Friday afternoon Mrs. Elizabeth Ford, of Grant street, was blackening the stove in her sitting room with a liquid polish, which she set on top of the stove, and the heat exploded the polish, scattering fire over the room. A fire alarm was sent in, but the firemen could not locate the fire promptly, as there was no blaze or smoke outside the building. The alarm was sent in by telephone. Some quick work of neighbor women smothered the fire in the room before a great amount of damage was done. This should be a warning to housekeepers not to set stove polish on warm stoves. An O. J. Pastor Here. Dr. D. C. Plannette, of South Sharon, who was pastor of the Reynoldsville M. E. church twenty-five years ago, and who raised the money to build the church at this place, was in town Sunday and preached an excellent and able sermon for the M. E. congregation. Dr. Plannette is raising money to build an M. E. church at South Sharon and after the sermon Sunday morning he asked the people to subscribe to the church fund. He raised over $75.00 in the morning and there was some given in the evening, making in all over $80.00. Dr. Plannette and Joseph Shaffer drove to Luthersburg, one of Dr. Plannette's old appointments, Sunday afternoon and Dr. Plannette preached there Sunday evening and raised some money for the new church. Married at Olean, N. Y. Claude G. Raymond, foreman of the Reynoldsville Steam Laundry, and Miss Kit I. Shick, who clerked several years in Shick & Wagner's large store, were married at Olean, N. Y., at 5.00 p. m. Saturday, November 19, 1904, by Rev. Dr. Charles M. Hall, an M. E. minister of Olean. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond spent Sunday in Bradford and returned to Reynoldsville Monday morning. Dame rumor says that this couple eloped to get married, but that is a false report. Mrs. Shick knew her daughter was to be married, gave her consent and went to the P. R. R. train with them Saturday morning when they started for New York state. Mr. Raymond, whose parents reside at Mt. Jewett, Pa., and who is not well known by very many of our citizens, is highlyly spoken of. Mr. or Mrs. Raymond, has a host of friends in town who wish her unlimited happiness in life's journey. School shoes at Millirens. I am going to the Reynoldsville Candy Works. Why? To buy pure fresh home made candies at the lowest prices. So hool suits at Millirens. W. B. Corsette Millirens.

FIRST DEGREE MURDER. Earl Garvin Buried Sunday. On Friday morning of last week the grim reaper, death, entered the home of W. K. Garvin, of Sandy Valley, and took from it one of the bright gems which was the comfort and stay of the parents' advancing years. Earl Coaring Garvin was born at Sandy Valley Aug. 27, 1887, died Nov. 18, 1904. His whole life had been spent in this place where he was loved and respected by old and young. Death was caused by internal injuries sustained while at work in the mines at Iselin, Indiana county, on the 7th of last month. Four weeks of indescribable agony for the patient sufferer and alternating hope and fear for those who cared for him followed, but life was not despaired of until a few hours before death when it became clear to all that death would soon relieve the dear one of all pain. Earl was conscious of all till the last moment, bade all goodbye and said, "Give my love to papa," and with the words "Up with the angels now" his spirit passed into the great unknown land which has never been revealed to mortal eyes. Mr. Garvin was absent and did not reach home until Friday evening at 6.20. A father, mother and two brothers are left to mourn his untimely fate. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by Rev. D. J. Frum, pastor of Sykesville M. E. church. Interment was made in the Epworth cemetery at this place. The P. O. S. of A., of Reynoldsville, of which Earl was a member, were out in a body and had charge of the services at the cemetery, which were very impressive. A large concourse of people attended the funeral. Many beautiful floral tributes decorated the casket which contained all that was mortal of a loved son, brother and friend. A FRIEND. Taught a Lesson. The work of the grand jury was much harassed the first of the week by the absence of witnesses from the court house when they were needed, and on Tuesday when an important witness in the Cepti murder case was missing Sheriff Curry was armed with an attachment and sent after him. Constable Leech, of Rathmel, was deputized and he found the man at his home in Soldier, and presented him to the Court on Wednesday. The witness gave as his excuse for leaving that he had run out of money and went home to get some, but the Judge thought the excuse was too lame, and he fined him $10 for the use of the Commonwealth, required him to bear the expense of serving the attachment and gave him over to the keeping of Sheriff Curry for a period of ten days. The Court stated, in no uncertain terms, in sentencing the man, that the several witnesses were summoned here for business, and that they were expected to be on hand when needed.—Brookville Republican. Unique and Appropriate Decorations. The pulpit of the Baptist church will be decorated for the Thanksgiving service to-morrow with apples, potatoes, cabbage, parsnips and other vegetables. Last Sunday the scholars of the Baptist Sunday school took two potatoes or two apples, the limit being two, to Sunday school with them for the decorations, and a number of members of the congregation have sent in baskets of cabbage, parsnips, &c. The decorations will remain on the platform until next Sunday evening, when a harvest home service will be held in the church. The following Monday morning the fruit, vegetables, &c., will be distributed to the poor and deserving families in Reynoldsville. Any member or friend of the church who wants to send in a basket of vegetables or fruit are requested to do so before Sunday morning. Donation to Memorial Home. Friday afternoon of last week the pupils of the public schools made a donation of vegetables and fruits to the Memorial Home at Brookville as a Thanksgiving offering. Apples, potatoes, cabbage, beets, turnips, parsnips, squashes, pumpkins, some canned fruits and a few other kinds of food were brought to the school house. When the different things were collected from all of the school rooms it was found that a wagon load of produce had been brought together. The members of the Relief Corps of this place took charge of the offering and they will see to its shipment to the Memorial Home. Death of an Octogenarian. W. Harry Thompson was called to Brookville Monday to attend the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Rodgers, who died at 5.00 p. m. Saturday, November 19, 1904. Old age was cause of her death. She was 84 years old. She was born February 2, 1820. Was married to Major William Rodgers September 4, 1840, who died February 5, 1896. Mrs. Rodgers is survived by one daughter, Mrs. O. J. Thompson, ten grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. She was born and lived all her life on the same old farm. Funeral took place at 2.30 p. m. Monday. Won Diamond Ring. Miss George Corbett held the lucky number—136—that won the diamond ring that was given away by C. F. Hoffman, the jeweler, last Thursday evening. Mr. Hoffman's store room was too small to accommodate the large crowd of ladies who were present when the lucky number was drawn out of a box by Helen Mitchell, who was blind folded. Miss Ella E. Seely will have a fine display of paintings and fancy work at Millirens Dec. 17. Will have about 30 pen drawings and lots new things. See the new fancy vests at Millirens. Appears here soon! Patronize the mammoth exhibition presented by the great moving picture expert, Edwin J. Hadley, formerly with the Lyman H. Howe Co. The Hadley exhibition has no connection with any other organization. Everything new and up-to-date. Buy your tickets early and secure the best seats. McKernan, of Frostburg, Md., who was visiting at home of her father-in-law, Joseph McKernan, in West Reynoldsville returned home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Brumbaugh and two sons were at Parkers Landing, Degano and other points in Armstrong county the past two weeks visiting relatives. Ira D. Bowser, student in the Western Pennsylvania Medical College of Pittsburg, was called by his home in this place last Friday by the serious illness of his wife. Edward H. States, of Painsutawney, who has charge of the street car advertising on the Jefferson Traction Company line, was a caller at THE STAR office last Thursday. L. P. Brenholtz, of Allens Mills, went to Patton, Pa., this week to visit a daughter and afterwards he will go to New Bethlehem to spend the winter with a son. Hon. S. B. Elliott, a member of the Pennsylvania Forestry Commission, returned last evening from a trip in Clearfield and Tioga counties where he had been looking over some lands that the commission is thinking of buying for the state. Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bowser, of Ford City, Pa., have been visiting relatives in this place the past week. Mr. Bowser is a brother of Dr. A. H. Bowser, Mrs. D. R. Cochran and Mrs. A. S. Harmon, and Mrs. Bowser is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Booth and a sister of Mrs. Dr. A. H. Bowser. Game Wardens Busy. The game wardens of Clearfield and Elk counties are actively on the lookout for hunters who are fracturing the game laws these days and it is expected that some arrests will result. It is alleged that there are a number of hunters from Pittsburg and Philadelphia in camp in the vicinity of Medix Run and they are chasing deer with hounds, which is against the law. From one camp in that section it is said 11 deer have been shipped to Pittsburg. Hunters from this immediate region, the most of whom are true sportsmen, have begun to shoot the dogs of the city men, which is adding further to the trouble. The aim of some of the hunters who come from the cities seems to be to get the game in any manner possible.—DuBois Journal. Concerning Rural Delivery. People along rural free delivery mail routes will take notice that the post-office department serves notices upon the owners of vicious dogs that unless the animals are removed delivery of mail to those houses by the carriers will be discontinued. It should also be remembered that the roads be kept in good repair and the snow must be shoveled away from the boxes or mail need not be delivered. The rural carrier must keep account of the condition of the roads over which he travels and send in his report an accurate account of the impassible places, and how much attention the patrons of his route give to keeping the roads in passable condition.—Brookwayville Record. The Editor's Duty and Privilege. Austin Cailion in an address before the Southern Texas Press Association said: "I believe in editors telling the truth. This, of course, does not apply in writing up weddings, funerals and births. I do not think it is wrong to paint a rose on the cheek of an ugly bride or to say that some old hypocrite has gone to join the angel band when you know he is shoveling brimstone for that gentleman with the forked tail. Our mission is to make people feel good and to pour balm into the wounded hearts, and I don't think we will be held responsible for any little mistake we may make while trying to do that." Suits and Overcoats. Largest line in town to select from, including the "Clothcraft" suits and overcoats, acknowledged to be the best goods made for the price. Bing-Stoke Company. The Edwin J. Hadley Company entertained a large assembly Wednesday evening with what can be declared to have been the best moving picture exhibition ever given in this city. The views shown were all new, sharp and distinct and devoid of the annoying flicker heretofore seen. A return date will be eagerly looked forward to. Hadley's moving picture show is the best—it leads all others.—Warren, Pa., Mirror, Nov. 19th, 1903. At Reynolds opera house Nov. 13, under the auspices of the Epworth League. Peggy of Paris bags at Millirens. See the assortment of H. S. M. suits and overcoats at Millirens. Don't miss the grand opening of holiday goods at Breakey's Racket store on Saturday of this week. FIRST DEGREE MURDER. Earl Garvin Buried Sunday. On Friday morning of last week the grim reaper, death, entered the home of W. K. Garvin, of Sandy Valley, and took from it one of the bright gems which was the comfort and stay of the parents' advancing years. Earl Coaring Garvin was born at Sandy Valley Aug. 27, 1887, died Nov. 18, 1904. His whole life had been spent in this place where he was loved and respected by old and young. Death was caused by internal injuries sustained while at work in the mines at Iselin, Indiana county, on the 7th of last month. Four weeks of indescribable agony for the patient sufferer and alternating hope and fear for those who cared for him followed, but life was not despaired of until a few hours before death when it became clear to all that death would soon relieve the dear one of all pain. Earl was conscious of all till the last moment, bade all goodbye and said, "Give my love to papa," and with the words "Up with the angels now" his spirit passed into the great unknown land which has never been revealed to mortal eyes. Mr. Garvin was absent and did not reach home until Friday evening at 6.20. A father, mother and two brothers are left to mourn his untimely fate. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by Rev. D. J. Frum, pastor of Sykesville M. E. church. Interment was made in the Epworth cemetery at this place. The P. O. S. of A., of Reynoldsville, of which Earl was a member, were out in a body and had charge of the services at the cemetery, which were very impressive. A large concourse of people attended the funeral. Many beautiful floral tributes decorated the casket which contained all that was mortal of a loved son, brother and friend. A FRIEND. Taught a Lesson. The work of the grand jury was much harassed the first of the week by the absence of witnesses from the court house when they were needed, and on Tuesday when an important witness in the Cepti murder case was missing Sheriff Curry was armed with an attachment and sent after him. Constable Leech, of Rathmel, was deputized and he found the man at his home in Soldier, and presented him to the Court on Wednesday. The witness gave as his excuse for leaving that he had run out of money and went home to get some, but the Judge thought the excuse was too lame, and he fined him $10 for the use of the Commonwealth, required him to bear the expense of serving the attachment and gave him over to the keeping of Sheriff Curry for a period of ten days. The Court stated, in no uncertain terms, in sentencing the man, that the several witnesses were summoned here for business, and that they were expected to be on hand when needed.—Brookville Republican. Unique and Appropriate Decorations. The pulpit of the Baptist church will be decorated for the Thanksgiving service to-morrow with apples, potatoes, cabbage, parsnips and other vegetables. Last Sunday the scholars of the Baptist Sunday school took two potatoes or two apples, the limit being two, to Sunday school with them for the decorations, and a number of members of the congregation have sent in baskets of cabbage, parsnips, &c. The decorations will remain on the platform until next Sunday evening, when a harvest home service will be held in the church. The following Monday morning the fruit, vegetables, &c., will be distributed to the poor and deserving families in Reynoldsville. Any member or friend of the church who wants to send in a basket of vegetables or fruit are requested to do so before Sunday morning. Donation to Memorial Home. Friday afternoon of last week the pupils of the public schools made a donation of vegetables and fruits to the Memorial Home at Brookville as a Thanksgiving offering. Apples, potatoes, cabbage, beets, turnips, parsnips, squashes, pumpkins, some canned fruits and a few other kinds of food were brought to the school house. When the different things were collected from all of the school rooms it was found that a wagon load of produce had been brought together. The members of the Relief Corps of this place took charge of the offering and they will see to its shipment to the Memorial Home. Death of an Octogenarian. W. Harry Thompson was called to Brookville Monday to attend the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Rodgers, who died at 5.00 p. m. Saturday, November 19, 1904. Old age was cause of her death. She was 84 years old. She was born February 2, 1820. Was married to Major William Rodgers September 4, 1840, who died February 5, 1896. Mrs. Rodgers is survived by one daughter, Mrs. O. J. Thompson, ten grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. She was born and lived all her life on the same old farm. Funeral took place at 2.30 p. m. Monday. Won Diamond Ring. Miss George Corbett held the lucky number—136—that won the diamond ring that was given away by C. F. Hoffman, the jeweler, last Thursday evening. Mr. Hoffman's store room was too small to accommodate the large crowd of ladies who were present when the lucky number was drawn out of a box by Helen Mitchell, who was blind folded. Miss Ella E.
