Article No. 2.

Chapped and Rough Skin.

It is only the thin, dry skin that is irritated by the wind; the skin that does not contain enough oil to keep it soft and elastic. Chapped skin is caused by the cold air suddenly contracting the outer skin and causing it to crack and chape. Reynolds' Perfect Skin Food applied to a dry skin furnishes the nourishment necessary for keeping it soft and elastic, so that it will expand and contract naturally when it comes in contact with warm or cold air. Apply Perfect Skin Food before going out and on returning indoors, as instructed in general directions.

"The Confederate Spy" to-night.

Royal in Assembly hall Friday evening.

Don't miss "The Confederate Spy" in opera house to-night by home talent.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. pay car made a trip over the Low Grade last Friday.

P. R. R. train No 105, due here at 6.15 p. m., was almost five hours late Saturday.

On March 13th Rev. A. D. McKay will begin a series of meetings in the Presbyterian church.

"The Denver Express" at the opera house last Friday evening was not an up-to-date Pullman train.

The finest military drama ever founded on the civil war is "The Confederate Spy." At the opera house to-night.

A number of Daughters of Rebekah of DuBois drove to Reynoldsville Friday and took dinner at the City Hotel.

Misses Caroline and Nell Robinson entertained the Ingels Club at their home on Tuesday evening of last week.

There will be no service in the Lutheran church next Sunday. The pastor expects to be out of town on that day.

Rev. A. D. McKay, of this place, preached in the Presbyterian church at Puxnatunney on Monday evening of this week.

The Puxnatunney fair will be held August 29, 30, 31 and Sept. 1st, and the Brookville fair will be held September 5, 6, 7 and 8.

Mr. Ninian Cooper says the Reynolds barn, which was burned on the evening of the 9th inst., was built in 1852, fifty-three years ago.

Last evening Rev. C. H. Fitzwilliam, pastor of Puxnatunney Baptist church, administered the ordinance of baptism in the Baptist church of this city.

P. T. Walsh, a former groceryman of this place, is now enjoying the delightful climate of California. We received a letter from him on Monday and he was then at Stockton, California.

Evangelistic meetings at the Baptist church each evening this week. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Meek, is being assisted by Rev. J. W. Crawford, of Sykesville. A cordial welcome extended to all.

This afternoon, beginning at 1.30 o'clock, the pupils of the public schools will observe Flag Day in the auditorium by giving a program of patriotic songs, recitations and drills. To these exercises parents and friends are cordially invited.

On Friday evening of this week, February 24, Miss L. Grace Beard will give recital in Assembly hall under auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran church. Proceeds for benefit of the church. Miss Beard will give an enjoyable recital.

The following young people of the Puxnatunney high school will take part in the contest at Brookville on Friday evening, March 10. Debate, Doncaster Humm; orator, Merle Kunselman; book review, Miss Nina Van-Renssaler; recitation, Miss Laura Babcock.

We understand that Puxnatunney will take a large delegation to Brookville to the inter-high school contest to be held there March 10th. Reynoldsville should have a much larger representation because of better accommodations from this place and less expense in reaching Brookville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Womer, of Kane, both formerly of this place, Mrs. Womer's maiden name being Rosa London, daughter of Isaac London, buried two daughters recently, who died with diphtheria. Marjorie, aged nine years, died January 29, 1905, and the other daughter, aged 11 years, died February 9th.

M. J. Farrell, agent at Reynoldsville for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was in Pittsburg Saturday attending the monthly meeting of the agents on Low Grade and River Divisions of the P. R. R. After the meeting a banquet was held at Hotel Henry. At these monthly meetings excellent papers are read by agents.

Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the Reynoldsville Methodist Episcopal church, went to Nansen, McKean county, Pa., Monday to assist a week in special meetings in the M. E. church at that place. Rev. W. H. Garnett, bright young pastor of the Emmerickville charge, will fill Dr. Parsons' pulpit at this place next Sunday morning and evening.

Mrs. F. K. Alexander had her face badly burned Sunday by the explosion of gas in her cook stove. The gas was turned on in the baker of the range, but was not ignited and when Mrs. Alexander opened oven door the gas rolled up and ignited from top lids of the stove, causing an explosion with above results. It might have been more serious.

Complaint has been made at THE STAR office that several members of a church choir in Reynoldsville laugh at people who attend church and make it very unpleasant for some who attend services in that church. If this be true it is anything but a manifestation of christian spirit, and also shows lack of good judgement on the part of any person who would indulge in such conduct.

On and after Feb. 22nd Prof. H. E. C. Kaufman will give instructions in the piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar and banjo at the homes of the students. All new students will please leave their address at Bell Bros' clothing store or address Prof. H. E. C. Kaufman, Reynoldsville, Pa. Piano tuning and organ cleaning and repairing promptly attended to.

Everybody should attend the recital to be given by Miss L. Grace Beard in Assembly hall next Friday evening. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Lutheran church. You will get more than the worth of your money, and at the same time be helping a struggling church. Reserved seats will be on sale at Stoke's drug store on Thursday after 10:00 o'clock a. m. and on Friday until 5:00 o'clock p. m.

Do not forget the New England supper at the Presbyterian chapel Thursday evening of this week. Hot baked beans, brown bread, pumpkin pie, warm ginger bread and other good things will make up the menu, all for 25 cts. George and Martha Washington, in costume of ye olden time, will receive during the evening. A good old fashioned time is expected. Supper from five to eight o'clock.

Albert Addison Hemer, young business man of East Brady, and Miss Florence Carol Stone, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stone, of Turtle Creek, formerly of Reynoldsville, were married at home of bride's parents on Wednesday, February 15, 1905. They will be at home at East Brady, Pa., after March 1st. Mrs. Hemer's numerous friends in this place extend congratulations and best wishes.

COLLISION AT DUBOIS.

Passenger Train and Freight Engine Collided but no One Seriously Injured.

The westbound passenger train on the P. R. R. due here at 1.29 p. m., collided with a freight train in the east end of the railroad yards at DuBois last Thursday. The freight train had pulled in on siding to give the passenger train clear track and engineer and conductor were at the telegraph office getting orders, but to do a little shifting the fireman and brakemen run the freight engine and a couple of cars out on main track without sending flag out against the passenger train. Mr. Montgomery, of this place, engineer on the passenger train, saw the freight, but the smoke and steam were blowing down over engine and he thought engine was on the siding until he was too close to stop his train, but quick action on the part of Mr. Montgomery in applying air brakes and the fact that the freight engine had started back on siding, prevented a bad wreck. The passengers were given a shaking up, but no one seriously hurt. One gentleman and lady were standing up in aisle of car getting ready to get off train at DuBois and when engines collided they were thrown down in the car and slightly injured.

The passenger engine was so badly crippled that another engine had to haul the train to end of run. The passenger train was delayed a couple of hours on account of collision.

Josiah Peter Deemer, Deceased.

Josiah Peter Deemer died at the home of his brother, Jonathan Deemer, in Sykesville on Feb. 15, 1905, after a very short illness. His death was due to paralysis. He was born near Greensburg, Westmoreland Co., Pa., October 6, 1829, and came to this county with his father, John Deemer, who settled on what is now Deemer homestead in Paradise, when he was two years old. In March, 1856, he was married to Sarah Nicholson, who died on February 14, 1864. In 1878 he was married to Mary London, who died in 1884. Four sons, Hiram, Isaiah, George and Tilton, survive him, also three brothers, Zachariah, a twin brother, now living at Deemer's Cross Roads, in Winslow township, Jonathan, now living in Sykesville, and John Deemer, now living on the old homestead in Paradise, and one sister, Mrs. Augustus Schugars, of Winslow township. He was a member of the M. E. church at Emmerickville for many years. He was buried in the Sykesville cemetery Feb. 17. Rev. D. J. Frum, of the M. E. church, assisted by Rev. J. W. Crawford, of the Baptist church, conducted funeral services. Undertaker J. H. Hughes, of Reynoldsville, had charge of the interment.

Peoples National Bank.

The Peoples National Bank of Reynoldsville, capitalized at $100,000, having had its charter granted by the Comptroller of the Currency has formed the following organization: Board of directors, W. B. Alexander, F. D. Smith, L. P. Seeley, H. Alex. Stoke, August Baldwin, J. C. Murray, Amos S. Strouse, Dr. J. C. Sayers and Dr. H. B. McGowan. Officers, W. B. Alexander president, F. D. Smith vice-president, Frederick K. Alexander cashier, F. P. Alexander assistant cashier. It is the intention to have the new institution open for business as soon as possible.

Farmers' Institute.

It is claimed that the farmers' institute held at Allens Mills last week, under the management of R. F. Morrison, was one of the most interesting institutes ever held at that place. An excellent program was provided and carried out. There were five sessions held, two on Tuesday and three Wednesday, and notwithstanding the fact that there were big snow drifts in all directions and it was difficult for the people to get there, the attendance was large at every session. Those who attended the institute to receive instruction were certainly not disappointed.

"The Confederate Spy."

This evening, February 22, "The Confederate Spy," a drama founded on the civil war, will be presented at the Reynoldsville opera house by home talent under the auspices of Gen. Phil Kearney Camp No. 36, Sons of Veterans. Beautiful tableaux and pretty stage settings. Following persons represent the leading characters in the play: Will C. Smith, Frank Reynolds, H. Eugene Phillips, Ralph Kirk, R. B. Fink, J. F. Siple, William Fissette, Jr., Vell Shaw, Misses Elizabeth Shugrow, Edith Harris and Nellie Foley. Prices of admission, 15, 25 and 35 cts.

Directors Elected.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association Monday evening four directors and one auditor were elected as follows: Directors, John M. Hays, M. S. Sterley, M. M. Fisher and F. P. Adelsperger; auditor, M. C. Coleman. Mr. Hays has been a director ever since the B. & L. was organized, fifteen years ago. Over six thousand dollars was sold.

MRS. J. VAN REED PASSES TO THE GREAT BEYOND.

Death Terminated a Long Illness Thursday Morning.—Interment in Reynoldsville Cemetery.

Mrs. J. Van Reed, a highly esteemed and well known lady of Reynoldsville, many years a resident of town, departed this life at 3.50 a. m. Thursday, February 16, 1905. Mrs. Reed had been in poor health for five years, but was able to get out of the house occasionally until three years ago last September. She was a great sufferer during the past three years, but she was very patient, uncomplaining and unselfish amidst it all. In talking with her daughter, Miss Eleanor, about her suffering she said, "God is preparing me for heaven, and when it is enough He will take me home." Mrs. Reed's favorite verse of scripture was this: "Fear not, I have redeemed you, I have called you by name and thou art mine." Isa. 43-1. Mrs. Reed was perfectly submissive to the will of God, and anxiously and patiently awaited the summons to the heavenly land. She requested her loved ones not to mourn for her when she departed because she wanted to go where pain and suffering would forever be over.

About twelve o'clock on Tuesday night of last Mrs. Reed was so weak that she became unconscious and did not rally from that condition but once or twice for a few seconds. She peacefully slipped out of this life "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms."

Mrs. J. Van Reed was born near Leatherwood, Clarion county, Pa. Her maiden name was Nancy Boyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boyles, who long since passed to their reward. J. Van Reed and Nancy Boyles were married in January, 1865. They moved to Reynoldsville 33 years ago. Mrs. Reed joined the Presbyterian church 50 years ago and was a faithful and consistent member of that church. She was a member of the Work Society and Missionary Society of her church.

Deceased is survived by her husband, two sons, Henry A. Reed, of Chicago, M. Fred Reed, now in Paris, one daughter, Miss Eleanor, at home, one brother, Dr. R. M. Boyles, of DuBois, and one sister, Mrs. H. J. McKinney, of Sligo.

Short funeral service was held at the family residence on Main street at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, conducted by Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the M. E. church. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery.

Beautiful floral tributes: Pillow (Mother) Mrs. Jeannette Lusk Wick, of Butler; pillow, (at rest) Boyles of DuBois; pillow, (all's well) Mr. and Mrs. Dr. J. B. Neale; lyre, Women's Work Society of the Presbyterian church; olive branch heart, John L. Sliffer, Wheelersville, Pa.; bouquets carnations, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Lewis; Miss Jidia Kirk and pupils; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Johnston; Mrs. John H. Corbett; Mrs. A. M. Woodward, Mrs. G. W. Warnick and others; bouquet of hyacinths, Mrs. Samuel McDonald, Aspinwall, Pa.; bouquet roses, Miss Lilla Taylor, Syracuse, N. Y.; bouquets of roses, Miss Jennie Smith, Emily Bennett, Miss Inez Brown's Sunday school class, lady clerks of Shick & Wagner's store.

The following out of town relatives and friends attended the funeral: A. L. Beck and wife, of Sharon, Robert W. Beck, of Meadown, James McKinney, of Sligo, Wm. Thomas and wife, of Driftwood, Dr. R. M. Boyles, Mrs. Ed. Crist, Miss Merita Boyles, C. J. Boyles and wife, Mrs. Mary Faloon, Mrs. Austin Blakesley, Albert Blakesley, of DuBois, Mrs. Jeannette Wick of Butler, Captain Boyles, of Falls Creek, John L. Sliffer, of Wheelersville, Mrs. J. M. Marsh, of Brookville.

Evangelistic Meetings at Wishaw.

Rev. James B. McClure, evangelist of American Sunday School Union, has been assisting Rev. T. G. Godwin, the A. S. S. U. missionary for Jefferson county, in meetings in Shankle's hall, Wishaw. Despite the unfavorable weather the meetings have been largely attended and an intense interest is manifested. Eighteen persons have accepted Christ thus far and among this number are to be found some of the leading citizens of the town. Rev. J. A. Parsons, of M. E. church of Reynoldsville, preached in these meetings Sunday afternoon. The meetings continue indefinitely.

GLEE CLUB MISSED CONNECTIONS.

Audience Waited Two Hours and a Half Impromptu Program.

The Chicago Glee Club, fourth number on high school lecture course, gave an entertainment in Assembly hall last Wednesday evening. A large audience assembled at the usual time for entertainment and were informed that the Glee Club had missed connections at Red Bank, would not arrive here until the 9.50 p. m. train and that train was thirty minutes late, making it impossible to begin the entertainment before 10.30. Prof. Smith gave the audience the privilege of deciding by rising vote whether they would wait for Glee Club or book another entertainment at a later date. The audience voted to wait. It was 10.40 when the Glee Club began entertainment and was 12.10 when they sang the "good night" song.

An impromptu and good entertainment was given the audience while waiting for Glee Club, consisting of several funny songs by a trio, Percy Parsons, Frank King and Leonard Harris, two recitations by Florence Elliott, chorus singing by pupils of the public schools, two piano solos by Miss Elvie Coleman and three selections by Miss L. Grace Board, elocutionary teacher in Reynoldsville Business College. Miss Board is an excellent reader. The audience was kept in good spirits until the Glee Club arrived.

Big Snow Drifts.

Mr. Ninian Cooper, who is good authority, says that in the winters of 1838 and 1843 as much snow fell in this section of the country as there has been this winter, but the "oldest inhabitant" never knew of any winter that the country roads, in all directions, were drifted as full of snow as they are this winter. The roads in many sections are impassable. Nine years ago there was a big snow drift on the pike near top of hill above West Reynoldsville, from nineteen to twenty feet deep, but on Sunday the drift was even larger than it was nine years ago. A number of people walked up the long hill Sunday to see the big snow drift. Teams have to drive around the big drift. There were no teams in from out toward Emmerickville from Friday evening until Monday afternoon. Walter B. Reynolds, carrier on rural free delivery route No. 1, has not been able to get over the entire route for a week on account of snow drifts.

In some places teams are traveling over public roads where the snow is from four to six feet deep, making the roads higher than the fences in many places. When the snow begins to melt there will be some floundering with teams on the public roads.

The township supervisors are kept busy trying to keep the public roads open. There are large banks of snow in front of business places on Main street, shoveled off sidewalks, that should be hauled away.

Harold Alman.

Harold C., little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Aiman, of Worth street, died on Saturday morning, Feb. 18th, at 7.20 after an illness of but a few hours from malignant scarlet fever. Harold was at school on Tuesday and came home at 10.00 a. m., no one thinking that he would never again return to see his teacher and school-mates. Harold was much interested in the exercises for Washington's Birthday. He was expecting to take the part of George Washington and had his cap and coat ready for the occasion. When he was delirious from the effect of the fever he kept asking his mother to write him an excuse and "give me my flag, we are going to have our drill now." This was his first year in school and he was deeply interested and was very bright.

Harold was born March 4, 1898, and was the oldest son of the family. He is survived by his parents and four sisters and two brothers. Short funeral services were held on Monday at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. Dr. A. D. Meek after which he was laid to rest in the Reynoldsville Cemetery. The family have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

Encored Repeatedly.

The entertainment given in Assembly hall last Wednesday evening by the Chicago Glee Club, fourth number in high school lecture course, was pronounced by many to be the best male quartet that ever appeared before a Reynoldsville audience. Notwithstanding the lateness of the hour when concert began, 10.40 p. m., the singers captivated the large audience with the opening number and were vigorously and repeatedly encored after every appearance. The quartet is composed of artists who give an excellent entertainment. The reader was good, but not equal to some other readers that have been heard in Assembly hall. The singers and reader had to make their appearance during the entire program dressed in their traveling suits, as they were rushed from train to hall without given time to change their clothing.

"Mormonism of the Day."

Rev. G. S. Womer, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., an erstwhile Reynoldsville boy, well known to many of our citizens, will deliver a lecture in the Reynoldsville M. E. church in the near future on "Mormonism of the Day." Rev. Womer, who is now an able and scholarly preacher, spent a year or two in Utah and his lecture is constructed from facts as he saw them in Salt Lake City. It will be a very interesting lecture and will be well worth the small price of admission, 25 cents. Rev. Womer will lecture under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, and members of the school are now out selling tickets. When some one calls on you buy a ticket and go and hear a good lecture.
