For County Auditor.

J. M. Norris, one of Winslow township's highly esteemed and successful farmers, after having been requested by a number of friends, has decided to be a candidate for the nomination for county auditor, subject to action of the Democratic voters at the June primary. Mr. Norris has held township offices several times, but this is the first time he has been a candidate for a county office, and considering his standing in the community and his ability, he is certainly very modest in his request. He should be a candidate for county commissioner.

One of the interesting exercises connected with commencement week is the contest held by the members of the Junior class. This year especial interest will be manifested by reason of the fact that the class is large, consisting of it does, of thirteen members, five girls, and eight boys. These have been working faithfully under the direction of Prof. Elliott. Through his efficient training and the strength of the class along this kind of work, the contest will be among the best ever held here. Young has contract to build the addition and has begun work excavating.

Two Glassworkers Killed.

Last Saturday afternoon two glassworkers, Bert Brown, a snapper, and John Friedman, gatherer, who were employed at Mahler glass plant in DuBois, were killed near the factory by a Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh passenger train. The men were walking on the railroad and stepped off one track to get out of way of an approaching freight train and were struck by a passenger train coming in an opposite direction, which they did not see. Friedman leaves a wife and six children and Brown was the support of a widowed mother. We understand both men had worked at the glass plant in this place at one time.

Little Fire Fighters.

Monday afternoon a woman residing on Fifth street, adjoining a field of E. D. Seely's farm, was burning some waste paper when a gust of wind whirled a big piece of burning paper over into the field and the dry stubble and grass in field caught fire and soon began spreading rapidly over the field. In one direction was a powder house filled with powder and dynamite and in another path of the fire was Mr. Seely's barn. A number of lads, ranging in age from six to nine years, saw the threatened danger of Mr. Seely's barn burning and of a terrific explosion, that would have done great damage, and they took off their little coats and fought heroically the running fire and succeeded in putting it out. A good act boys.

Clear Field.

Joseph B. Means, present efficient and genial county treasurer, announces his name in THE STAR this week as a candidate for the Republican nomination for register and recorder. It was generally supposed that Mr. Means and Gil C. Reitz would be the candidates for nomination for register and recorder, but Mr. Reitz announced last week that he would not be a candidate for the above office, and it looks now very much as if Mr. Means will not have any opposition for the nomination. Mr. Means is so popular and has built his political fences so strong and high that it would be a waste of time and money for any person to enter the contest against him. He would get the nomination any how.

Getting Ready.

The members of Bethany Commandery No. 83, of which there are twenty-five members in Reynoldsville, anticipate attending the fifty-second annual convocation of the Templar Grand Commandery to be held in Williamsport May 22-24, and have secured a special train of Pullman cars to convey them to and from Williamsport. They will occupy the cars while there. The Reynoldsville members having secured a competent drill master, Charles B. Clark, are making every effort to make a creditable appearance in the ranks, and we have no doubt that No. 83, the baby Commandery, with its one hundred and fifty members, will do justice to our own and neighboring towns.

Died at Punxsutawney.

Mrs. Annie C., wife of Rev. Charles H. Fitzwilliam, pastor of First Baptist church of Punxsutawney, died at their home on Monday morning, April 24, at 12:50. She suffered intensely for about eight weeks. Everything that medical skill could do could not stay the hand of the king of terrors. Despite the tender ministrations of her devoted husband and daughters, she peacefully passed away. She was fully conscious till the close of life and died without a struggle. Her death was a complete triumph of the Christian hope. Funeral services will be held on Thursday at 2:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, of Reynoldsville.

NEW RAILROAD FOR BROOKVILLE

Engineers of the Shawmut Forces are to Begin Active Work on the Construction of the Brookville & Mahoning Railroad.

It is with no little degree of pleasure that the Republican is permitted to-day to make the authoritative announcement that the long talked-of extension of the Pittsburg, Shawmut & Northern R. R. into the coal fields south of town has passed from the stage of anticipation to that of realization. W. L. Morgan, engineer, acting under the direction of A. G. McComb, chief engineer of the Shawmut system, is in Brookville to-day making the arrangements for the housing of three hundred men who will be put to work upon the grading at once. Camps have been located at several points and much of the preliminary work already done, and it is confidently expected that the laborers will be making the dirt fly along the right of way before the first of May. The new road will connect with the P., S. & N. at Hyde Station, the present southern terminus of that road, descend Mill creek, cross the Pennsylvania tracks at an elevation a short way above the station, thence up Five Mile Run into the coal field, and its coming will mean more to the central section of Jefferson county than any industrial development since the first railroad pierced the section.—Brookville Republican April 20.

Home Wedding.

Mabe Harriger, of this place, and Miss Matilda Hetrick, of Pansy, were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. E. Schugers, on Grant street at 12:00 noon on Thursday, April 20, 1905. Rev. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the M. E. church, officiated. Miss Margaret Boyle, of Deemer's Cross Roads, was bridesmaid, and Charles Hetrick, of Horntown, was groomsmen. The bride was dressed in blue mohair and wore a bouquet of white carnations. Only a few friends were present. A wedding dinner was served immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Harriger went to Kaylor, Pa., on the 1:29 p. m. flyer on P. R. R. and spent a couple of days with the latter's sister, Mrs. L. B. Himes.

Home Candidate.

Robert F. Morrison, of Washington township, Republican candidate for the nomination for county commissioner, made his regular weekly trip to Reynoldsville Saturday. As Mr. Morrison transacts most all his business in Reynoldsville, he can be considered a home candidate and should receive a large vote in this place. Robert has managed his own business successfully and would look after the county business just as judiciously if elected to the office of county commissioner. The voters would make no mistake in electing Mr. Morrison.
