The regular prayer meeting at Washaw Thursday evening was held at the home of Joseph Reed, superintendent of the mines, and was led by Robt Hunter, of Eleanora.

People are too careless about throwing waste papers on the streets. If some one has to pay a fine for violating the state law and borough ordinance in this matter it will likely make people more careful about where they throw old papers, etc.

The Pennsylvania railroad freight department has just issued another book giving information for use in the location of industries on lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. Agent M. J. Farrell distributed a number of the books in town this morning.

The Rathmel mall now leaves Reynoldsville at 2.20 a. m. and the citizens of that place do not get the daily papers until they are a day old. It is likely the postoffice department will change the mail to afternoon, as it will give the people better service.

George Kirkwood, one of the victims of the mine disaster at Eleanora shaft, who resided at Desire, was a member of Mazomania Tribe No. 341, Improved Order of Red Men, of Reynoldsville and about eighty of the members of the order attended the funeral Sunday.

The central office of the Bell Telephone Company has been moved from the Boyle building to H. A. Stoke building at corner of Main and Fifth streets. The office is open continuously now—day and night. The company is putting in the cable system at Reynoldsville.

James Thompson, editor of Big Run Tribune, and Mrs. Emma Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Vell, of Big Run, who some years ago resided in Reynoldsville, were married at home of bride's parents at 1.30 p. m. Wednesday, April 26, by Dr. C. C. Rumberger. We extend congratulations and good wishes.

The work of excavating for foundation for Dr. John H. Murray's residence on Main street, near iron bridge, was begun Monday morning. Dr. Murray did not give a contract for erection of his new residence. He will hire men by the day to build it. Harry P. Means, of Frostburg, will superintend the work.

Thomas Cummings, of Waiaton, Democratic candidate for county commissioner, was in town a short time yesterday. Mr. Cummings worked in the coal mine until he had his right leg so badly injured that it was amputated above the knee. He has taught school five years. He is well qualified to fill the office of county commissioner.

Prof. C. M. Miller, of Coudersport, Potter county, Pa., who was a delegate to the Lutheran Conference held in this place last week, visited some of the rooms of the public school on Wednesday morning after having given a brief, but practical address at the opening exercises. Prof. Miller was much pleased with the nature of the work done in the rooms he visited.

The plot of Assembly hall for the Junior Elocutionary Contest to be held next Tuesday evening will be opened at the Boyles-Woodward drug store Thursday morning of this week, May 4. Reserved seats will be 35 cents; general admission, 25 cents.

All persons desiring tickets may secure them at the drug store till the evening of the contest and then at the school building.

A Council of Knights of Columbus, No. 990, was instituted at Emporium, Pa., last Sunday. There was a large banquet in the evening—460 plates. The following Reynoldsville gentlemen attended the institution of the new Council: C. F. Hoffman, M. J. Farrell, John A. Welsh, Ed. Gooder, J. J. Hoffman, John McD. Wald, Frank Hanson, Lawrence Gleason and Charles Montgomery.

The public schools of West Reynoldsville closed a successful eight month term yesterday. Prof. J. R. Wilson, principal, is a good instructor and he had three good assistants, Misses Anna Fleming, Netta Wilson and Maud Meek. The standard of the West Reynoldsville high school was raised the past year and consequently there was no graduating class this year, but it will be better for the graduates next year.

Rev. J. V. Bell, of DuBois, Rev. P. Brit, of Corsica, and Rev. Clark of Punxsutawney, all Presbyterian ministers, were in Reynoldsville Monday as a committee from Presbytery to locate Rev. Surney, who has been doing missionary work among foreigners in this section several months. The committee decided that Soldier would be a good place for Rev. Surney to locate and they arranged to get him a house at Soldier.

Wm. M. Long, staff correspondent on Pittsburg Dispatch, who was sent out to write up the mine disaster at Eleanora, came to Reynoldsville on the 9.50 P. R. R. train Friday night, went to Eleanora on trolley, got particulars of the great calamity and came back to Reynoldsville in a hack with some members of the Improved Order of Red Men who had driven to Eleanora to see about funeral of George Kirkwood, who was member of the Red Men. Had it not been that the Reynoldsville men had driven to Eleanora Mr. Long would have had to walk back to Reynoldsville, a distance of six or seven miles. They arrived here at 1.30 a. m. Saturday and Mr. Long telephoned his story to the Dispatch.

The name of Harvey D. Haugh, of Union township, appears in the column of announcements as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner. Mr. Haugh is seeking the second term, and all voters at the Republican primary election who desire to be fair in their favors must admit that the second term is due to Mr. Haugh because it has been a long established custom to give a County Commissioner two terms. Besides this claim, Mr. Haugh's record as a county official is good, being one of the board of three who have wisely and judiciously managed the finances of the county. Republicans should give the second term claim just consideration. That's fair because in the first place it is customary and in the second place Mr. Haugh deserves it.—Punxsutawney News

AGED LADY PASSED AWAY.

Mrs. Charlotte McGarey Died From Cancer Tuesday, April 25, 1905.

Mrs. Charlotte McGarey, relict of the late David McGarey, died at her home on Main street, Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock, April 25, 1905. She had been in poor health for a great many years, but up until last fall she was able to be up and around the house, since September, however, she had suffered from cancer which was the cause of her death. Deceased was born and raised in the Beechwoods and resided there all her life until about three years ago, when she removed to this place. Mrs. McGarey was 72 years of age on her last birthday, which was December 12, 1904. In May 1858, Charlotte McGarey was united in marriage to David McGarey and to this union were born six children all of whom have preceded their mother to the other world. Her husband died in October 1890. Deceased was a life-long member of the Baptist church and was an earnest Christian woman. One sister, Mrs. James Catthers, of Rathmel, is the only near relative surviving her.—Falls Creek Herald.

Funeral service was held at 10.00 a. m. Friday, conducted by Rev. J. E. Kanarr, of Falls Creek, and Rev. J. E. Dean, of Rathmel. Interment in the Beechwoods cemetery.

Change in Proprietorship.

John C. Dillman, who was proprietor of The Mansion Inn about two years, has sold out to Carl McGaughey. The license was transferred last Friday and Mr. McGaughey has taken charge of the hotel.

Killed at Soldier.

Yarata Bogla, an Italian nineteen years old, was killed in Big Soldier mine last Thursday afternoon. Bogla was riding on motor on No. 2 rope and jumped off while motor was running and fell under and was killed. Funeral Friday afternoon.

Hand Amputated.

Allen Guthrie, of Baxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Guthrie, of Reynoldsville, who accidentally shot himself in left hand while out hunting November 8th of last year, had his hand amputated at wrist last Thursday. Two operations had been performed on hand before, but it was finally necessary to amputate the hand.

Copper Box Should be Used.

The tin box that was put in the corner stone of the old Methodist Episcopal church in 1879 was taken out of the stone Monday afternoon, but the box had been eaten by rust and the contents of box was a mass of decayed books and papers. Traces of a hymnal, bible, discipline, Pittsburg Advocate and a Punxsutawney newspaper were found in the box. Everything else was decayed beyond recognition. Sealed copper boxes should be used for preserving contents of corner stones.

Prohibitionists Nominate Ticket.

At the Jefferson county Prohibition convention held in Brookville April 21st the following nominations were made: Judge, Stewart H. Whitehill, of Brookville; prothonotary, A. D. Deemer, of Brookville; register and recorder, J. C. Sprankle, of Grange; sheriff, John Cable, of Falls Creek; county treasurer, John B. Bair, of Punxsutawney; county commissioners, William Mangle, of Grange, and Perry Schaffner, of Falls Creek; auditor, H. T. McGarey, of Stanton.

Talked Regular Paving.

At the regular monthly meeting of West Reynoldsville town council Monday evening the question of paving Pike street, from iron bridge to Pennsylvania railroad, was favorably discussed and it is likely the street will be paved this year, as stated in THE STAR last week. Council appointed a committee to get an estimate of the probable cost of the paving. It would not only add greatly to the appearance of the street to pave it, but it would be economy in the end, as that piece of street has cost the borough about as much in the past ten years to keep it in repair as it would cost to pave, and with this expense each year the street gets in bad condition several times a year. Council is taking the proper step.

Emerson Elocutionary Contest.

The literary contest given in Assembly hall by the Emerson Literary Society of Room 13, Reynoldsville public schools, Monday afternoon was an entertaining and interesting contest. All who took part on the program acquitted themselves very creditably. The prizes were awarded as follows: First prize in 10th grade, Florence H. Harris; second prize in same grade, John Thornton; first prize in 9th grade, Edgar Shields; second prize in the 9th grade, Hamlin Postlewait. The contestants were Coral Sutter, John Thornton, Florence Harris, Vivian Tompkins, Edgar Shields, Hamlin Postlewait, Mary Parsons, Inez Woodford; piano solo, Alice Mitchell, vocal solos, Lillian Northey, Evelyn Jones, Florence Harris; boys' quintette, John Thornton, Edgar Shields, Eugene Murray, Charles Robertson, Alex Gillespie.

Contractor Thomas E. Evans has contract to build a house on Fourth street for Frank W. Campbell.

DIED SUNDAY NIGHT.

Ella Gertrude Whitmore Passes Over the Silent River.

Ella Gertrude, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Whitmore, died at their home on Mabel street Sunday night at 11.30 o'clock, April 30, after a long illness from pulmonary trouble. Miss Gertrude was taken with hemorrhage at the Sunday evening service at the Baptist church the last Sunday evening of last August, and from that time till her death she had been in declining health.

She was born May 15, 1887, and was well and favorably known by a large circle of friends. She was retiring in manner, gentle in disposition, and the joy of the home. She made a profession of religion and was baptized Feb. 3, 1901, and united with the Baptist church of our town. She loved her bible and was a constant reader of it, and frequently would fall asleep with her bible in her bed with her. She bore her suffering patiently, and while she was hopeful for life, yet she was fully resigned to the will of the Master. Gertrude is the fifth child of Mr. Whitmore and wife to pass into the eternal world. The parents and three sons and remaining daughter have the sympathy of their many friends in their sorrow. Funeral services were held on Tuesday, May 2, at 2.30 p. m. at the Baptist church conducted by her pastor, Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek. Interment was made in Baptist cemetery.

The three brothers and one sister that survive Gertrude are: Charles, of East Liverpool, Ohio, Foster, of Wilkinsburg, Samuel, of Reynoldsville, and Mrs. Jacob Hoffman, of Wilkinsburg. They were all here for funeral.

The following out of town friends and relatives attended funeral: Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, of Sykesville, Jacob Hoffman, of Wilkinsburg, E. A. Dunlap, wife and daughter, Nellie, of Warren, George Whitmore and wife, of DuBois.

Committee Appointed.

In response to a request a number of business men met in Smith & McClure's hall last night and made arrangements to give the members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Pittsburg, who are making a tour of Western Pennsylvania in a special Pullman train, a welcome when they arrive in Reynoldsville at 11.00 a. m. tomorrow, May 4. They will remain here one hour. The program arranged is as follows: A committee of five, H. Alex Stoke, A. M. Woodward, G. W. Lenker, J. W. Dawson and M. J. Farrell, will meet the visitors at P. R. R. station and accompany them on the special train down around macaroni factory, silk mill, glass plant, brick plants, steel plant, etc., and back to crossing near silk mill where the party will leave train and walk up Fifth street to Main street, where citizens will congregate to meet the visitors. A very brief address will be made by Lawyer Clement Flynn and he will present them with a large key and will explain what it is for.

A large crowd should turn out and give the visitors a hearty welcome during their short stay in our town.

Main street should be given a good sweeping in the morning and everything possible done to give the visitors a good impression of Reynoldsville.

Fourth of July Noise Curtailed.

The following is the full text of the law prohibiting the sale of certain kinds of fireworks recently signed by Governor Pennypacker:

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc. That the sale or use of the following articles be and the same is hereby prohibited, to-wit: All fireworks and firecrackers containing picric acid, or veritricates; all explosive cases using blank cartridges; all blank cartridge pistols; all pellets or tablets composed of chlorate of potash or other high explosive compounds.

Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than $50 nor more than $500, or be imprisoned not more than 30 days nor more than six months, or both, or either at the discretion of the court.

Small Blaze.

Fire on roof of Samuel K. Wrays residence on First street about 2.30 yesterday afternoon raised some excitement for a few minutes and got Hope Fire Company out, but the fire was extinguished before it did more than burn part of the roof off house. It is supposed the fire started from a defective flue.

AN OLD VETERAN GONE.

W. W. Wells Died Saturday Morning—Funeral Monday Afternoon.

William W. Wells, an esteemed citizen of West Reynoldsville, departed this life at 5.00 a. m. Saturday, April 29, 1905. Mr. Wells was born in Indiana county, Pa., August 26, 1827, and was 77 years, 8 months and 3 days old. March 23, 1848, over 56 years ago, Mr. Wells was united in marriage to Mary Ralrig, who survives him. They celebrated their golden wedding in March, 1898. Into this couple ten children were born, four of whom preceded the father into the Eternal Land.

August 26, 1862, Mr. Wells responded to the country's call for brave men, and enlisted in Company K, 155th regiment, and was honorably discharged May 20, 1865. He was wounded in the left thigh at the battle of Laurel Hill, Va., May 8, 1864. The fires of patriotism never died out on the altar of his heart.

Mr. Wells moved from Clarion county to Reynoldsville fourteen years ago. He conducted a grocery store at corner of Pike and Broad streets, West Reynoldsville, several years. He moved back into Clarion five or six years ago and remained about three years and moved to this place again. During his residence here he made many warm friends who were sorry to learn of his death.

Mr. Wells had not been in good health since last fall, but was seriously ill only two weeks before dissolution took place. He was a faithful and consistent member of the Baptist church more than a half a century, having united with that church fifty-six years ago, and when he moved to Reynoldsville he brought his church letter with him.

Funeral service was held at the family residence at 2.00 p. m. Monday, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek. Interment in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Undertaker J. H. Hughes had charge of the funeral. Six Sons of Veterans, dressed in uniform, were pall bearers.

Deceased is survived by his widow, three sons and three daughters, P. C. and W. M. Wells, of Piolet, Pa., J. C. Wells, of Vandergift, Mrs. E. C. Davis, of Frampton, Mrs. T. J. Fagley and Mrs. F. W. Yetka, of Reynoldsville. Mr. Wells was a man of integrity and was highly respected.

PROF. R. B. TEITRICK.

Re-Elected Supt. Jefferson Co. Schools Yesterday on First Ballot.

At the convention of school directors held in the court house at Brookville yesterday, May 2nd, Prof. R. B. Teitrick was re-elected superintendent.

of the schools of Jefferson county for the fourth time. There were three candidates, Prof. Teitrick, of Brookville, Prof. W. M. Brown, of Brookwayville, and Prof. J. F. Conrad, of Clayville borough. Teitrick received 111 votes, Brown 67 and Conrad 7.

Scheafnocker a Candidate.

In this issue of the Record under the heading of announcements appears the announcement of Grant Scheafnocker, of Reynoldsville, who is a candidate for Republican nomination for sheriff. Mr. Scheafnocker is a resident of Winslow township, and he is one of the best known of the staunch Republicans of the county. He is a working man, is honest and upright and would make a good sheriff. Mr. Scheafnocker's occupation has prevented him from getting over the county as thoroughly as he would like but it is his intention to take off his overalls and make a complete canvass during the next few weeks. Scheafnocker is a hustler and he is meeting with considerable encouragement.—Brookwayville Record.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

Exercises on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Evenings.

In a general way announcements of the different features of commencement week, from May 7 to 11, have been given in those columns, but in the following we desire to give more definite statements with reference to these public exercises.

SUNDAY EVENING.

At eight o'clock on Sunday evening, May 7th, will be delivered the sermon to the graduating class. As announced in last week's issue, Dr. Wm. H. Crawford, president of Allegheny College, was to deliver this sermon, but since those arrangements were made, Dr. Crawford finds that on account of pressing duties at the college he cannot leave at that time. Dr. Frank C. Lockwood, of the faculty of Allegheny College, will come in his stead. Dr. Lockwood is an eloquent speaker, a deep thinker, and his services are in great demand.

MONDAY EVENING.

The class day exercises will be given by the members of the graduating class. These are Amy Bollinger, Jennie McGaw, Cora McCreight, Geneva Milliren, Adda Myers, Besse Sensor, Fred McEntire, Percy Parsons. The program to be given will be in keeping with the usual class day exercises. As this is a new feature of commencement week, every effort will be made to make it very pleasant and interesting.

PROGRAM.

- Address of Welcome - President
'Yesterday' - Geneva Milliren
'To-Day' - Jennie McGaw
'To-Morrow' - Cora McCreight
Vocal Solo - Percy Parsons
Class Poem - Amy Bollinger
Last Will and Testament - Besse Sensor
(Transference of cap and gown.) - Fred McEntire
Presentations - Adda Myers
Class Song - Percy Parsons
Parting of the Ways - Percy Parsons

TUESDAY EVENING.

Next to the graduating exercises, the junior contest is of greatest concern and importance. This year's contest will have added interest by reason of the fact that the class is larger than usual and because the training is under the direction of such a master of his art as is Mr. Elliott. The juniors are determined to make their contest a signal success, and hence, no lack of enthusiasm allows them to grow indifferent. Mr. Elliott has had a wide experience on the platform as an impersonator and coacher and he is eminently fitted for this work with the juniors. Prof. W. D. Howe, who successfully trained the classes for two years, was a pupil of Mr. Elliott. All these facts add much to the interest of this year's contest. As it is customary, an admission will be charged to this exercise. Reserved seat tickets may be secured at the Boyle-Woodward drug store at 35 cents; general admission 25 cents.

The names of the contestants and the subjects of their selections follow: Ethel Kunes - 'Aunt Hitty's Visit'
Cora Robertson - 'The Swine'
Ida Williams - 'Rebecca of the Sunnybrook Farm'
Maude Pratt - 'How Audrey Acted Arpaia'
Hertie Rows - 'My Lady Jocelyn'
Gardiel Harries - 'The Trial of Rebecca'
Frank King - 'The Orthod-Ox Team'
Frank Strouse - 'Winners by Their Own Length'
Craig King - 'The Wrestler of Philadelphia'
Edward Brewer - 'Dun Niche the Highest'
Harvey Noyes - 'Nathan Hale the Martyr'
Carl Kirk - 'The Obstructive Hat in the Pit'
Leonard Harris - 'The Grimston Shroud of Olaf Guldmar'

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The exercises incident to the actual commencement will be held on Wednesday evening. The members of the senior class will read their graduating essays or deliver their graduating orations. The diplomas will be presented by Supt. R. B. Teitrick, of Brookville. Special music is being prepared for each evening of the week. In addition to that furnished by the orchestra and the choir for Sunday evening, the boys' quartette from the high school and the singing by eight girls will be pleasant features of the programs. At all these exercises the parents, patrons and friends of the schools are cordially invited to be present. Children, however, under ten years of age, unless accompanied by a parent or some responsible person, will not be admitted. This restriction is made so that children may not be able to crowd out of the hall some more appreciative hearers. All these exercises will be held in Assembly hall.

THURSDAY EVENING.

The last attraction of the week will be under the auspices of the alumni of the high school. This will be held on Thursday evening, when a reunion and banquet will be observed.

Dogs Took Off Muzzle.

J. H. Corbett has a small dog called "Dandy," which knows more than it tells. "Dandy," like many another dog, does not become easily reconciled to the muzzle the board of health's edict has made necessary for dogs to wear, and "Dandy" only wears it because he can't help it. One day last week another dog with muzzle on visited "Dandy" and the dogs stood with their heads together a few minutes, discussing, no doubt, the imposition they had to submit to and they evidently decided to disdainfully ignore the edict and remove the muzzles. "Dandy" took hold of the other dog's muzzle with his
