"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, my monthly periods started; I am regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day. "I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

COFFEE, HEART. Very Plain in Some People.

A great many people go on suffering from annoying allments for a long time pefore they can get their own consent to give up the indulgence from which their trouble arises.

A gentleman in Brooklyn describes his experience, as follows:

"I became satisfied some months ago that I owed the palpitation of the heart, from which I suffered almost daily, to the use of coffee (I had been a coffee drinker for 30 years), but I found it very hard to give up the beverage. "I realized that I must give up the harmful indulgence in coffee, but I felt the necessity for a hot table drink, and as tea is not to my liking. I was at a loss for awhile, what to do. "One day I ran across a very sensible and straightforward presentation of the claims of Postum Food Coffee, and was so impressed thereby that I concluded to give it a trial. My experience with it was unsatisfactory till I learned how it ought to be prepared-by thorough boiling for not less than 15 or 20 minutes. After I learned that lesson there was no trouble. Postum Food Coffee proved to be a most palatable and satisfactory hot beverage, and I have used it ever since.

"The effect on my health has been most salutary. It has completely cured the heart palpitation from which I used to suffer so much, particularly after brenkfast, and I never have a return of it except when I dine or lunch away me and am compelled to drink the old kind of coffee because Postun is not served. I find that Postum Food Coffee cheers and invigorates while it produces no harmful stimulation." Same given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Old National Road.

When the panic or 1837 swept over he country the National road was barely half way through Illinois. No work was done on it after 1841. Two years before, however, a line of stage and post routes had been started from Cumberland in Maryland to Terre Haute in Indiana, from which latter place there was a tri-weekly service for passengers and mail to Spring field, Ill. This marked the first over land travel from East to West, Pas sengers and mail bags were joited along in cumbersome coaches, each with four strong horses. On account of the high rates travel was confined mainly to merchants and lawyers. The passenger, with an allowance of 50 pounds of baggage, paid at the rate of 10 cents a mile. It is noted that Clay and Lincoln were among the frequent passengers.

Father of Rural Delivery.

We again find Tom Watson described in newspaper print as the man to whom the country owes rural free delivery. We are not aware that he ever made such as unfound-ed claim for himself. The real father of American rural free delivery died some years ago in East Hartford. His name was Henry L Goodwin, he left a shining example of faithful, meful citizenship behind him.—Harkord Investigation of the Packers.

Very general interest has been manifested in the Government investigation now in progress into the mode of conbusiness by the large packers ocated in Chicago and elsewhere, has been written upon the aleged illegal and improper modes of usiness procedure connected with the packing industry; but it seems that so ar no definite charge of any kind has been sustained and no proof of illegal or inequitable methods has been dislosed to the public. While a wave of severe criticism of this great industrial nterest is now passing over the country it might be well to remember that the packers have had as yet no opporfunity to make specific denial, the many indefinite charges of wrong-doing having never been formulated so that a categorical answer could be made.

The recent report of Commissioner Garfield, which embodied the results of an official investigation undertaken by the Department of Commerce and Labor of the United States, was a vindication of the Western packers, but this result having been unexpected attempts in many quarters to discredit it vere made. In view of the situation as it now stands, however, attention may proper-ly be called to a few facts that owing to popular clamor are now being ap-purently overlooked. Fair treatment n this country has heretofore been acorded to all citizens whose affairs asume prominence in the public eye and one of the facts that bear upon the relation of the packers to the com-merce of the country may at this time be briefly alluded to. It would be ifficult to estimate the benefits gained by the farmers of the country resultng from the energetic enterprise of the packers, for whatever is of benefit to the farmer is a gain to the entire commerce of the country. And connected with their continuous aggressive work no feature perhaps has been ore important than their efforts in ecking outlets all over the world for the surplus products of the farmer. Our total exports of agricultural products have gained but little in the past twenty years, and leaving out corn, the total of all other farm products was far less in 1903 than in 1891. But in packing house products there was coniderable gain during this period, because an organized and powerful force has been behind them seeking new and broader markets.

Besides the benefits reaped by farmers on account of the enterprise and energy exercised by the packers in attaining commercial results by foreign the great development in the manufacture of packing house by-prod-ucts has added enormously to the value of all live stock raised in the twenty years ago, then an expense to the packer, is now converted into articles of great value and, as an economic fact, this must correspondingly increase the value to the farmer of very head of cattle marketed at the numerous stock yards of the country. Let these facts be remembered while now it is so popular to regard the great packing industry as deserving of condemnation. At least it must be admitted that, so far, there is no ade-quate reason for the almost unanimous howl that may be heard every-where in the face of the Garfield report above alluded to which practically exonerates the packers from the obcure and indefinite charges that have been for some time past made the subject of popular comment.

Pain in the back, or on the right side. How often a physician hears this complaint!

Over and over we hear women say: "I have a pain in the small of my back. I have a pain in my right side, just below the ribs."

They indicate that the bowels are not acting properly—that the liver i out of order—that the pelvic organs are congested.
