 The Harrison Green house that has just been torn down is the oldest dwelling in Reynoldsville by long odds. There are newspapers pasted on the walls printed in Philadelphia in 1848 and the house may have been built many years before that. Charley Ritzke, a son-in-law, owned the home and it is his intention to put an up-to-date dwelling where the old one was. If this house could talk what sorrows and joys it could relate in all these years. When it was built the town was but a wilderness and wild cats roamed the streets as the dogs do now.—Reynoldsville correspondent DuBois Searchlight.

It is a sure thing that Reynoldsville will be the most attractive place in this section on July 4th. This town always gives the people what is advertised and that is the reason large crowds come here to spend the Fourth and have a good time.

Customary to Give Two Terms.
 Harvey D. Haugh, one of our present county commissioners, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for a second term, was in town Saturday. It has been customary to give a commissioner a second term, and as Mr. Haugh is the only Republican candidate after second term for commissioner, he is almost certain to be one of the nominees at the primary election June 17th. It is not economy nor wisdom to elect an entire new board of commissioners to take charge of the county affairs. At least one old member of the board should be retained. Mr. Haugh has proven himself a trustworthy and capable man for the office of county commissioner and should be given another term.

Jenkins, of Punxsutawney, and Miss Mary Barclay, a sister of the bride. The bride was beautifully and tastefully dressed in white. They were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and useful presents. After the congratulations of their guests present an elegant supper was served to which all did ample justice. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are both very highly respected and have the well wishes of their many friends in their voyage over the sea of life.

BLOW OUT SHOT.
Coroner's Jury Reports on the Eleanor Shaft Mine Explosion.
 Following is the verdict of the coroner's jury called to investigate the cause of the mine explosion which occurred at the Eleanor shaft mine Thursday night, April 27, when 13 men were killed and one seriously wounded: Inquisition taken at Punxsutawney, in Jefferson county, State of Pennsylvania, May 2 and 16, 1905, before Dr. E. V. Kyle, Coroner of the county aforesaid, upon the solemn oath and affirmation of J. A. Brennan, J. K. North, D. C. Gillespie, S. S. Lucas, W. R. Neal and J. A. Weber, six good and true men of the county aforesaid, charged to inquire upon the part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, when, where, and in what manner George Kirkwood and twelve others came to their death in the Eleanor shaft of the R. & P. Coal & Iron Company, and having heard the evidence produced before them, they do find and say that the said George Kirkwood and twelve others came to their death by reason of an explosion of gas or coal dust which was ignited by a blow out shot, and that the jury had no evidence which would justify them in fixing the blame for the explosion on any person or company.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

MET SUDDEN DEATH.
REED E. KLINE ATTEMPTED TO GET ON MOVING TRAIN.
 Body is now at Home of his Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kline, and Funeral will be held Thursday.
 Reed Ellsworth Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kline, who reside on a farm near Reynoldsville, was instantly killed at Verona Friday afternoon by having his neck broken in attempting to jump on a moving passenger train. Mr. Kline, who was a lumber contractor and was working on a contract at Braeburn, had gone to Verona on Friday to sell some railroad ties. He was standing several hundred feet above the train talking to a friend when the train started and it was getting under good speed when he attempted to jump on it, but he missed his calculations and was thrown on his head and shoulders, breaking his neck and causing instant death. The announcement of his sudden death was a great shock to his parents, brothers, sisters and friends. The body was brought to the home of the stricken parents at noon Saturday. On account of waiting on a brother, Harry, who was at Portland, Oregon, at time of Reed's death, the funeral will not be held until 2.00 p. m. to-morrow at the family residence, conducted by Rev. A. J. Meek, Ph. D., pastor of the Reynoldsville Baptist church, assisted by Rev. J. E. Dean, who has been a neighbor and friend of the family for many years. Interment will be made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Brothers of the deceased will act as pallbearers.
 Reed Kline was born near Reynoldsville December 16, 1871, and was 33 years, 5 months and 3 days old when his earthly career was so suddenly ended. He was the seventh of a family of ten brothers and three sisters and his death was the first to occur in the family in 33 years. When Reed was about six months old a brother, Edwin, died.
 Reed had not been at home much during the past fifteen years. He took delight in traveling and had been in every state in the union. He learned tunneling and rock work in the copper mines of Montana. During the past few years he had been a contractor and at time of his death he and his brother, Fred, were putting up a mill at Braeburn to saw a half million feet of hardwood lumber.
 Reed was quite a musician. He played several instruments and was exceedingly fond of music. Early in life he would stand and listen to a band as long as it would play. One of his favorite pieces, which he heard played at a friend's funeral several years ago, is "Star of the Sea," and it will be played at his funeral to-morrow.
 Reed Kline is survived by his parents, who have resided near Reynoldsville forty years or more, eight brothers and three sisters, who are: Lawyer B. R. Kline, of New Kensington, who practices in Allegheny and Westmoreland counties, Lawyer Will G. Kline, of Galeton, who practices in Clearfield and Potter counties, George Kline, of Reynoldsville, Harry Kline, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, conductor on the Colorado & Cripple Creek Short Line, Bruce, of Braeburn, passenger brakeman on River Division of P. R. R., Fred Kline, who was a partner with deceased in lumber business, Ralph and James Kline, who are also railroaders, Mrs. L. C. Price, of DuBois, Misses Lora and Ellen Kline at home.
 Harry Kline will arrive here to-day and all the family will be at the funeral.

Anti-Cigarette Law.
 By the number of boys whom we see smoking cigarettes we are forced to the conclusion that people are not familiar with the anti-cigarette law signed by Gov. Pennypacker the 16th of last March, or they are willfully violating the law, which is as follows: "That if any person or persons shall furnish cigarettes or cigarette papers, by gift, sale or otherwise, to any person or persons under the age of twenty-one years, he or she, so offending, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than three hundred dollars, and not less than one hundred dollars."
