

OLD SWISS LAWS.

Queer Statutes That Governed Weddings and Wearing Apparel. Switzerland had a law that no wedding party should have more than twenty guests—ten men friends of the bride and ten women friends of the groom.

DECIDED AT POKER.

La Moure's Five Card Draw Won the Name of the County. When the extreme western border of Dakota was colonized there was a lively squabble about what the new county should be called.

RULES FOR CYCLISTS.

Qualit Regulations That Are Enforced in Foreign Lands. In some foreign countries and cities there are rules and regulations for women cyclists which are decidedly quaint, according to the American way of thinking.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Feeding of Injured Horses. Feeding plays a more prominent part in the healing of wounds in farm animals than is commonly supposed, says American Cultivator.

TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE.

Amid the admiring applauses of nearly 20,000, the seventeenth season of the Pittsburgh Exposition was launched on Wednesday evening upon an eight weeks cruise which augurs a more of a voyage of pleasure and instruction than ever before.

Bismarck's Last Waits.

Mme. Carrete, once the companion of the Empress Eugenie, tells in her memoirs this story of Prince Bismarck: "It was at a great ball in the Tuileries in 1877 during the international exhibition.

VICE PRESIDENT KING.

He Took the Oath of Office Abroad, but Did Not Live to Serve. William Rufus King, born April 6, 1788, died April 18, 1853, was a vice president of the United States who never served in that capacity and one who took the oath of office on foreign soil.

A QUAIN OLD CITY.

Bruges, the Chief Industry of Which is Lace Making. Bruges lace has been made in the convents of Bruges by old women whose hands have grown stiff clicking the bobbins back and forth.

A Whale's Jawbones.

The jawbones of a whale are sometimes twenty feet in length, and the month when wide open, is 12 by 18 feet. The throat, however, is so small as scarcely to admit a hen's egg.

Early Rising Royalty.

According to the following entry in Peppy's diary of March 7, 1868, royalty rose somewhat earlier in the day than is the custom now for the purposes of witnessing sport.

Free Translation.

Mrs. Reeder—I wonder what this paper means by this: "Mr. Kadley's method of entertaining his guests was quite original and unconventional?"

Those who have no good qualities can neither appreciate nor comprehend them in others.—Rochefoucauld.

NAMING A VESSEL.

Why President Arthur Would Not Call It the Concord. While General Arthur was president and during one of the summers of his administration he was on board the Dispatch at Newport, and Secretary of the Navy Chandler was pestering him to consent to naming the new dispatch boat, afterward the Dolphin, the Concord, after the first battle of the Revolution.

PARCHMENT.

It Was Invented by the Greeks When Papyrus Was Scarce. There is no evidence that papyrus was grown for commercial purposes outside of Egypt during the whole Roman period, and the industry of its growth and manufacture must have been a large and profitable one.

Love of Work.

The love of work, which was one of the characteristics of the historian Frode, is well illustrated in a story told of his last illness. The cancerous affection of which he afterward died was slowly destroying his health and vigor.

Animals and Colors.

The theory has been advanced that the conspicuous colors developed in various species of snakes, insects and animals are nature's method of advertising the fact that such are poisonous, either in the bite or sting which they inflict, or that the flesh is unpalatable if used for food.

A Sharp Seat.

Tommy's Pop (explaining the mysteries of country life)—Yes, a hen will sit on an egg and hatch it. Tommy:—Gracious! I should think it would hurt to sit on a hatchet.—Philadelphia Record.

Improving Times.

"Darling, it seems to me that you are more beautiful every time I see you." "You must come and see me often, Jack."—Brooklyn Life.

Are You Hungry?

"Are you hungry?" "Yes, Siam." "Well, come along, I'll fix it."—National Geographic Magazine.

AN OLD WELSH HOME.

Description of an Interior, With Its Sanded Slate Floors. Robert Fowler in his book, "Beautiful Wales," makes this pretty description of an old Welsh home: "The floor was of sanded slate flags and on them a long, many legged table, an oak settle, a table piano and some Chippendale chairs.

Removing Stones.

Many fields have large stones in them, which are in the way of farm implements, says a correspondent of American Agriculturist. A good way to remove them is to put a charge of dynamite under them, break the stone into small pieces and haul out with wagons.

Feeding the Cow in Summer.

The milk flow cannot be kept up unless the cow has a sufficient ration, says L. W. Lighty in National Stockman. The man who has a good lot of straw kept over for August is on easy street, likewise the man who has a succession of rolling crops coming on to piece out the failing pasture.

Barley Hay.

When ready to cut barley can be mown and soon after should be put in cocks, where it can remain for several days to cure. This will also make it much better to handle when putting in the barn.

Selecting Seed Potatoes.

Varieties of potatoes may be prevented from running out and even improved by selection. To select potatoes dig by hand picking, which will separate and select the seed from the best hills.

Roots For Stock.

I believe in plenty of roots, such as beets and carrots, to feed to stock in connection with the hay, writes a Maine farmer in American Cultivator.

Summer Pruning.

Summer pinching is of little practical use in the large commercial orchard. It is, however, much used with the brambles—raspberries and blackberries—to prevent the canes becoming too long to be self supporting and to cause a growth of lateral branches.

Straw Is Valuable.

Our fathers dumped the straw almost anywhere. If they even thought of the conservation of forces, certainly straw did not figure as a factor there.

Proper Care of Poultry.

To succeed with poultry absolute necessities are dry floors in the poultry house, a dry interior to the buildings, reasonably good accommodations and cleanliness of the entire poultry building, including nests, roosts, dropping board and floors.

Feeding the Injured Horses.

Feeding plays a more prominent part in the healing of wounds in farm animals than is commonly supposed, says American Cultivator.

The Crab Biting Horse.

Wind sucking, often accompanied by crab biting, is quite a serious vice, and there is no absolute cure except prevention. There have been many devices tried to break up the habit and with very varying success.

Children Quick and Slow.

"Children of splendid intellectual endowments are sometimes thought to be stupid," says an observing teacher. "The sharpest child who learns a lesson in the shortest possible time, who is first with his answers in the mental arithmetic class, who can produce dates and geographical names on demand, is the one the teacher loves, and most commonly he is the one who in after life goes on the safe road to competence.

He Knew His Man.

During the battle of Waterloo there was a faithful man in Brussels. It was reported that the allies were bent on, and people were dying in all directions. The Duke of Wellington's cook went on quietly with his duties.

Cause and Effect.

Mr. Crabtree—Old Monday Curmudgeon died yesterday and his wife passed away two hours later. It makes no mention of her ailment. Mrs. Crabtree (who knew him)—She was probably "tickled to death."—Town and Country.

Met.

Harmless mirth is the best cordial against the consumption of the spirit. Wherefore jesting is not unlawful, if it be unassess in quantity, quality or season.—Fuller.

The Evil of Inheritance.

It is not so bad when a rich man cuts off his heirs for spite. Inheritance has worked enormous mischief ever since there were fortunes to leave. In most cases it is a misfortune to be an heir.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A FOOLISH PLAN

"It is a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour. Because I eat indigestion with August Flower!"

Why Suffer?

"Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself."

Why Suffer?

"I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course."

Why Suffer?

"What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills."

Why Suffer?

"August Flower gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools." "Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists. For sale by Boyle-Woodward Drug Co.

Why Suffer?

"I had it bad. I took, as I thought, every known remedy, paid out enough money, and I was entirely helpless for nearly 15 months; about that time I saw your ad in The National Tribune, sent for a bottle, then sent for another, then another, and now an out of the medicine business entirely. I give Credit's Rheumatic Remedy the credit of curing me. I can heartily recommend it."

Why Suffer?

Very truly, I. F. TOWER. For sale by Boyle & Peitch Drug Co.
