The High School Bulletin

Editor-in-Chief, Bertha Bowser; Associate Editors, Garfield Harris, Joanne Millren, Alice Mitchell and Leo Nolan.

The High School football team opened the season last Saturday, September 30th, with Brookville. The Brookville eleven proved too much for our boys and scored twice against us. The final score was 11-0. The features of the game were Nolan's work at quarter and Fuller's long run. The boys take this method to thank the citizens for their liberal patronage and promise more games in the near future. The return game with Brookville will be played on October 27.

A very large crowd attended the reception last Friday evening at Assembly hall in honor of the teachers. Refreshments were served in the lobby and at 9:30 an excellent program was rendered after which the people wended their way homeward, commenting not only on the success, but of the good looks of the teachers.

"Beware of the Library."

Teacher—"What is between a girl and a woman?"
 Junior—"An old maid."

Dr. Foust gave a very interesting and instructive talk last Friday morning in chapel.

TO THE CLASS OF 1909.

The leaves of the woods and the grasses of the fields, with which you have long been associated, are putting aside their greenness and assuming a sombre brown. Go thou and do likewise. Tip your hat to every Sophomore. Bow respectfully to a Junior. Bend the knee reverently in the presence of a Senior.

The Virtue of Frugality.

Many people have the mistaken notion that, if they want to be respected, they must dress as well and fly as high generally as anybody else, whether their income justifies it or not. A most egregious error. He who lives within his income, assumes no obligations that he cannot meet, and has the firmness and force of character to say "no" to his fancies when they tempt him to overreach himself financially, is held in a thousand times greater esteem than the foolish people who live beyond their means. Frugality is a positive virtue, admired by all sensible people, while extravagance is a vice which not only brings misery and ruin, but contempt and ridicule also. Everybody who has the ability to discriminate thinks more highly of the young man who is accumulating a little bank account than of the one who spends all of his earnings on clothes and frivolous pleasures. There is no more uncomfortable feeling than to be in debt. It is a kind of slavery. Every time you think of it a sense of degradation sweeps over you, and you cannot help regarding the person you owe, especially if the debt is for something you could have gotten along without, as a sort of enemy. That is how it happens that a loan so frequently "loses both itself and friend."

Don't go in debt.
 Don't try to ape those with larger incomes.

Learn to say "No" with a big N, whenever you are tempted to get too gay.

When you borrow money or go in debt for the gratifications of the present you are simply mortgaging the future. You are denying yourself pleasures and depriving yourself of opportunities that would come to you as your natural right had you acted prudently. To live above your present circumstances now means that you must live beneath them later on.

Dr. Johnson puts the whole thing in a nutshell: "Live on what you have; live if you can on less; do not borrow either for vanity or pleasure—the vanity will end in shame, the pleasure in regret."—Punxsutawney Spirit.

W. C. T. U. County Convention.

The twentieth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Jefferson county was held September 19-20 at Brookville in the Methodist church.

The session was taken up largely in reading reports from the various unions of the county and from the superintendents of the department work. These all showed that a great deal of work is being done quietly but no less effectively through the county. Mrs. Campbell one of the oldest and most enthusiastic members gave an excellent address entitled "Twenty years of Temperance work in Jefferson county" in which she showed that in spite of much opposition the cause had steadily progressed, and many victories had been won "for God and Home and Native Land." The following superintendents were appointed for the coming year: Loyal Temperance Legion, Mrs. Cowen, of Big Run; Mothers work, Mrs. Benscoter, of Brookville; Franchise, Mrs. Campbell, of Baxter; R. E. Work, Mrs. McDowell, of Brookville; Evangelistic, Mrs. McGiffin, of Brookville; Medal Contest, Mrs. Fitch, of Brookville; Prison and Jail work, Mrs. Brick, of Brookville; Sabbath Observance, Mrs. A. E. Millen, Parlor work, Miss Amelia Clark, of Brookville; Flower Mission, Mrs. Chitester, of Brookville; F. D. No. 3 Scientific Instruction, Mrs. Corbet, of Brookville; Y. Work, Mrs. Downs, of Brookville; Literature, Mrs. Bonar, of Panoost. The officers are: President, Mrs. Nell Iddings, Crenshaw; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Fitch, of Brookville, and Mrs. Cowan, of Big Run; Cor. secretary, Mrs. S. W. Thompson, Brookwayville; Rec. Secretary, Mrs. S. E. Downs, Brookville; Treasurer, Mrs. Jannette Britt, Corsica.

The speaker of the convention was Mrs. Cora Seberry, National Lecturer and Organizer, who gave very earnest and helpful lectures and talks. She organized a Y of twenty members in Brookville during her stay.

MRS. S. E. DOWNS, Secretary.

Friday Night's Attraction.

In the character of "St Stebbins" Dan Darleigh has given to the stage a creation foreign to any that has ever been presented. He also gives it a balanced and consistent interpretation faithful to the type of the down east farmer, as conceived by play-wright and reminding one at times of the famous "Solon Shingles" of John E. Owens. Outside of this character the play too is of extraordinary calibre. It touches the heart strings and makes one enjoy it over and over again. Unlike all other rural plays there is no blood-thirsty villain searching for gore, no stolen or lost will or mortgage, no wayward or runaway son or daughter. There is a relief from all these time worn features. Instead it abounds with humorous sallies and familiar sayings that appeal to the heart and enrich the small talk by the fireside. There are really two shows in one. The vaudeville specialties comprising a complete performance in themselves. At Reynolds opera house Friday evening, October 6. Tickets on sale at Stoke & Felcht drug store.

The Kind Wanted.

Never in the history of this country has there been such a demand for sturdy young men as now. The kind that is wanted is not the variety of youth that struts and swells and seeks to shine among the girls at parties and social functions, but young men of character and energy, who can be trusted to take charge of business enterprises, who know how to do what is required of them. Honesty, capacity for work, a genial disposition and a realizing sense of individual insignificance, are the greatest requirements. Swelled head is the most fatal malady that afflicts mankind. It is not what a man thinks he is, or what family he belongs to, that makes him important. It is what he is doing and how he is doing it.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Reduced Rates to the Pittsburg Exhibition.

These tickets will be good going on regular trains on day of issue, and will be valid for return passage within four days, including date of sale.

Don't Overlook This.

Among the most enjoyable of all autumn excursions are those of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Ry to the great Kinzua viaduct. Special excursion train will leave Sykes Sunday, Oct. 15th, at 9:00 a. m. Round trip tickets only $1.00.

Coal Glen Won.

The Coal Glen and Big Soldier Association foot ball teams played a game on Saturday and after a hard struggle the former team won by a score of four to nothing. The game was played at Coal Glen and was attended by a large crowd, the visitors being represented by several hack loads of rooters. The Coal Glen players entertained the Big Soldier boys at a banquet after the game.—DuBois Courier.
