The work is beautifully illustrated and contains much information that cannot be found in any other book.—Puxsutawney Spirit. D. C. Gillespie, of this place, is agent for the book. Give him your order. Kline School to be Opened. At a meeting of the Winslow township school board on Saturday it was decided to open the Kline school on Monday of next week, November 6th. The reason this school was not opened when the other schools in the township were opened was on account of only a few pupils attending that school and the directors thought it would be cheaper to send the pupils to the public schools in this place. Some people complained last year because the school was kept open for a few pupils, and others complained this year because the school was not opened, and the directors concluded it was impossible to please all the people and the school will be opened on above date. Octogenarian Lecturer. Hon. D. C. Gillespie, who is at present staying with his son, James W. Gillespie, in Reynoldsville, will deliver a lecture at Hazen on the 10th inst. Subject, "The Old and the New; The True and the False." Mr. Gillespie was 83 years old last August and is the only octogenarian in this section that can get on the platform and deliver a lecture with the vim and zeal of a man in the prime of life. Mr. Gillespie is well preserved for a man of four score and three years. He is an able and interesting talker and the people can expect to hear something good on the night of the 10th inst. Mr. Gillespie's address to the old veterans at the recent reunion of the 105th regiment at Puxsutawney, published in the Puxsutawney Spirit last week, was as fine an address as the old veterans have listened to for some time. Death of Mrs. John Ramsey. Mrs. Mary Jane, wife of John Ramsey, died at their home in Soldier, Pa., on Saturday, October 28, 1905, after an illness of about three months. She was born May 14, 1848, in Felton, England. She came to the United States about thirty-six years ago. She was the mother of nine children, two of whom preceded her into the spiritland. Four sons, viz.: Robert, of DuBois, Lawson, John and Ralph, of Soldier, and three daughters, Mrs. Clarence Early and Mrs. David Hunter, of Soldier, and Mrs. Charles Mowry, of Emporium, and her husband survive her. She was a true wife and a kind mother and will be missed in the home and community. Short funeral services were held at their home on Monday, at 1.45 p. m. by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, after which a large procession was formed and the remains were followed to the Sykesville burial ground where interment was made. New fall hats and caps—Millirens. Death of H. W. Frederick. J. H. Hughes and Solomon Berkhouse, of this place, were at Muzette, Forest Co., Pa., last week attending the funeral of Henry W. Frederick, who died at that place October 25th, 1905, of typhoid fever. Mr. Frederick was born near Cool Spring, Jefferson Co., Pa., May 26, 1861, and was 44 years, 4 months and 29 days old at time of his death. On March 26, 1885, he was married to Ella S. Klepfer, of Emerickville. She was a daughter of Israel and Mary Klepfer, and a sister to Mrs. J. H. Hughes, of this place. He leaves a wife and six children, also one brother, Samuel Frederick, of Halton, two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Harris, of Naples, N. Y., and Mrs. W. A. Young, of Pansy, Pa. Mr. Frederick was a very industrious, hard working man and always followed woods work and was considered a very good hand. He was well known in and around Emerickville, as he spent almost one-half of his life in that section. In later years he has been in Elk and Forest counties. He had many reverses in life and never accumulated much more than a living for himself and family. About eleven years ago he took up a life insurance of $1,000, payable to his wife at his death, and by special efforts kept it in force, which leaves his wife and family something to depend upon. He was laid to rest at Centerville cemetery on Friday, October 27. His last words were: "I am ready to die." Two Weddings at Baptist Parsonage. Wednesday forenoon, October 25, 1905, Alexander Robertson and Miss Jennie B. Wyse, both of Rathmel, were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage in Reynoldsville by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek. The bride and groom were attended by L. E. Mulholland and Miss Nettie Robertson, sister of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson went to Buffalo and Niagara Falls on a wedding trip. Their many friends wish them a pleasant journey through life. A reception will be held at home of the bride's mother in Rathmel this evening. Last Wednesday evening, October 25, 1905, William P. Cochran, of Baxter, Pa., and Miss Ada O. Sharp, of Reynoldsville, were married at the Baptist parsonage in this place by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. George Sharp. Their friends wish them a prosperous and pleasant career. Special Engagement. The Dayton, (O.) Daily Journal speaks in the following way of Rowland & Clifford's production of "Dora Thorne" which will be seen here Friday, November 3, at the Reynolds opera house: "The patrons of the National filled the house yesterday afternoon and evening to witness the initial performance of "Dora Thorne" in this city. The dramatization of this popular novel is new, and surely was a happy inspiration by a good company yesterday won the hearty approval of the audience. "Dora Thorne" as a novel is a beautiful story and has been so widely read and re-read by lovers of a sweet story that comments on the reproduction of "Dora Thorne's" story on the stage are superfluous. The play abounds in pathos and mirth, and the actors who assume the roles in this pretty play are well fitted to their parts and certainly do justice to their respective roles." Seats on sale at the Stoke drug store. High Class Entertainment. A Geneva, Ohio, paper in speaking of the Cleveland Ladies' Orchestra that will give an entertainment at Assembly hall this evening says: "They give a high-class entertainment. They are each and every one excellent artists and received many encores. In point of modulation and harmony, grace and ease of execution, and variety of selections and instruments, the ladies and their leader, Alfred Metzdorf, gave one of the best concerts ever presented in Geneva." Roller Skates. Hubbard & Dougherty have opened a roller skating rink in Frank's pavilion which will be open every afternoon and evening except Sunday. Admission: Afternoon free, skates 15 cents; evening, 5 cents, skates 20 cents. Roller skating is exhilarating exercise and some years ago was very popular. Quality and Excellence. Open Letter of Judge Reed to the Voters of the County. TO THE PUBLIC:— There have been a great many falsehoods told in this campaign. The advisability of noticing them is doubtful, but lest there may be some who think that the mere statement of a bald and bold falsehood, without proof of any kind to support it, demands a reply, I want to say that the charges and insinuations that illegal votes were cast at the recent Republican primary election and that voters were bribed, coerced, debauched by intoxicating liquors, or otherwise corrupted, so far as I am concerned or have any knowledge of the facts, are false and untrue in every particular, and I shall have to revise my estimate of the good people of the county if they do not answer for themselves these attacks made upon their manhood and political integrity by burying this campaign of vilification, cant and hypocrisy under an avalanche of votes on the 7th day of November next. All charges and insinuations made against my judicial integrity, or ascribing improper and venal motives to judicial action by me on any subject, matter or thing that has ever come before me for consideration and determination, I denounce as absolutely unfounded in fact and characterize all such charges and insinuations as being wickedly and maliciously false in every sense of the word. When Mr. Whitehill announced his candidacy in a circular letter dated July 12, 1905, he said: "I shall make a clean fight—I shall conduct a clean campaign. There shall be neither intoxicating liquor nor money used to influence voters." This was a manly promise, but now at the close of the campaign the inquiry, how has it been kept, is both pertinent and proper. I leave it for the people to judge whether a dirtier or more cowardly campaign was ever waged in the county than that conducted by Mr. Whitehill and his hired help from Clearfield county and the State of Michigan. Wicked, malicious and slanderous falsehoods have been scattered over the county as thick as autumn leaves, and every prejudice and bias of human nature has been appealed to by Ex-Rev. George Muller, Colporteur E. H. Walker, and a pretended temperance lecturer from a foreign state, who openly and flauntingly boast that they can stampede the voters of any county for the candidate whose cause they espouse. In my humble opinion, however, the people of this county will not be swept from their feet by false statements masquerading in religious garb, or by eloquence that has for its sole object the assassination of either private or official character for lucre or gain, and I have no doubt that the electors of the county will render a fair and impartial decision at the ballot box and settle in their usual intelligent way the political questions which personally and locally concern them regardless of the gratuitous instructions received from Clearfield county and the State of Michigan. Realizing that there is always a large percentage of the voters who neglect to go to the polls on election day, I desire to urge the vital importance of doing so and will esteem it a personal favor if every voter in the county will come out and cast his ballot for the candidate of his choice. I have an abiding faith in the integrity of the voters of the county, and am perfectly willing that my candidacy shall be submitted to your free and untrammelled suffrage, and with your decision I shall be satisfied. With high appreciation of your respect and confidence in the past, and assurance of an honest purpose to retain both in the future, I am Sincerely yours, JOHN W. REED. "Dora Thorne." A clever dramatization of Bertha M. Clay's novel, "Dora Thorne," was an offering to the patrons of the Grand opera house last night, which was received with many evidences of genuine appreciation. It tells a very interesting story fraught with heart interest. The situations are strong, the climaxes effective. The play is splendidly staged, but in scenery as well as plot there is very little of the melodramatic. It is a comedy drama and a play that will appeal particularly to the ladies.—Wheeling, (W. Va.) Sidelights on Some of Our Political Friends Who are Appealing for the Popular Vote Next Tuesday. GRANT SCHEAFNOCKER. Grant Scheafnocker, Republican candidate for sheriff, should not only receive the full vote of his party, but the votes of members of any other party who want to give a worthy young man a little boost when the opportunity occurs. Mr. Scheafnocker has had to make his own way in the world and has been buffeted about rather rudely at times, but has always come out smiling. He has kept his integrity under all circumstances and has never accumulated any bad habits. He is energetic, genial and kind, and nobody doubts that he will make an excellent sheriff doing his duty under all circumstances but doing it in the least offensive way. He is a staunch Republican, but not the kind of a man that would place partisanship above conscience or permit his zeal to blind him as to his duty. There is of course no question of Mr. Scheafnocker's election by a large majority. We merely call attention to his good qualities so that the voters may understand what manner of man he is and show their appreciation by keeping his vote up to high water mark.—Puxsutawney Spirit. IRA J. CAMPBELL. Ira J. Campbell, of Puxsutawney, is presented to the voters of Jefferson county, by the Republican party, as its candidate for the office of county treasurer, the honor and distinction of being the party nominee for this desirable position having been accorded to him at the recent primary election by a good sized majority. Mr. Campbell is a justly popular gentleman, of good Republican standing, and was quite generally regarded as the probable nominee of the Republican party for this office ever since his name was mentioned in that connection. He is honest, upright and just in all of his business and social relations with his fellow men, just such a man as the good people of the county should take pleasure in promoting to a position of honor and responsibility, for they can rest assured that no trust reposed in him will be violated. Mr. Campbell will make a competent and trustworthy custodian of the county's cash.—Brookville Republican. FRANK P. ADELSPERGER. Frank P. Adelsperger, Reynoldsville's popular chief-of-police, has started on a tour of the county and opened an active campaign for votes for his election as sheriff of Jefferson county. Mr. Adelsperger has the unique record of never having been defeated hitherto when he ran for local offices and hopes to duplicate the feat in the county in November. He has a long and praiseworthy record as a public official and no one for an instant doubts his ability, his energy or his integrity.—Reynoldsville Cor. DuBois Express. CYRUS H. BLOOD. Cyrus H. Blood, who is recognized throughout Western Pennsylvania as a model Prothonotary, his efficiency in that office being a subject of general comment, has no opposition for reelection with the exception of A. D. Deemer, who was named by the Prohibitionists. Dr. J. A. Haven, of Summerville, who was named by the Democratic County Convention for that office, having promptly declined the nomination. Mr. Deemer's sense of duty to the Prohibition cause seems to dictate the necessity of his permitting his name to remain on the ticket, but further than that he is not a candidate, and Republicans and Democrats will unite in the re-election of Mr. Blood. And this is as it should be under existing conditions.—Brookville Republican. E. T. MCGAW. E. T. McGaw, of Reynoldsville, Democratic candidate for county commissioner, was in town this week looking after his political interests. The Democrats will elect a commissioner at the coming election and there is a contest on between Mr. McGaw and Frank Woods. To a man up a tree it looks as though Mr. McGaw is going to be the successful man and the Democrats will make no mistake by having him as their choice.—Brockwayville Record. Go to the new clothing and dry goods store in the opera house building for your woollen and cotton blankets, outing, flannels, yarns, underwear and hosiery. Everything reduced until November 11. You can save from 40 to 50 per cent on the dollar. New fall shoes—Millirens.
