OH, SUCH A FEELING!

As though you had been hammered, pounded all over and didn't have life left to move!

You've got "it"—grippe, influenza, when you feel that way. Reynolds' COLD CURE CAPSULES certainly cures colds and grippe quickly.

A Little of Everything.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stoke, Jr., a son, Nov. 18, 1905. The Knights of Columbus will hold a social on Friday evening, December 1st. The B. P. O. Elks Social that was to have been held Nov. 29th has been postponed until December 6th. The McDonald-Reynolds-Deblie hunting party shot two deer and shipped them to this place Saturday. The B. P. O. Elks annual memorial service will be held on the afternoon of the first Sunday in December. The Presbyterian bazaar has been postponed until the first week in December. Further particulars later.

The financial report of The First National Bank of Reynoldsville will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

There was a freight train wreck on Low Grade Division of the P. R. R. at Dents Run last Friday morning. The cars were wrecked.

A chicken supper will be served in the Grange hall at Paradise on Thanksgiving evening. Proceeds for benefit of the new M. E. church in Paradise.

Walter R. Reed, Henry M. Iseman and Henry C. Deblie went to the Double-McDonald-Reynolds camp in Elk county last Friday to spend a few days hunting deer.

The P. R. R. excursion to Pittsburgh Sunday was run in two sections with thirteen cars on each section. At Reynoldsville 155 tickets were sold for the excursion.

The members of the Enterprise Athletic Association are grateful to Clarence H. Reynolds for a full supply of paper, envelopes, pens, etc., donated to the Association.

Dr. J. T. Bennett, the old veteran physician who practiced in this section of the country fifty-three years, died at his home in Brookville on Wednesday of last week, Nov. 15.

We received some news items from Hornsby this week, but the writer failed to sign his name. We must know the name of the person who sends items in for publication.

Dr. E. L. Eaton's lecture in Centennial hall Monday evening on "Ghosts, Goblins and Witches," was a humorous, entertaining and instructive lecture. Dr. Eaton is a good talker.

Arrangements are being made to put larger freight engines on the Low Grade than are being used now. A new turntable has been put in at Driftwood to turn the large engines on.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Enterprise Athletic Association will hold a picnic and cake social in the Association rooms to-morrow evening, November 29. Music by the Association orchestra.

The first quarterly conference of the M. E. church for this conference year will be held at the parsonage to-morrow, Thursday, evening. All members of the conference are requested to be present.

The financial reports of The First National and The Peoples National banks, of Reynoldsville, found in this issue of THE STAR, show that the deposits in these two banks amounts to $552,319.62.

Miss Jessie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Moore, of Desire, died at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Funeral services will be held at home of parents at 2:00 Wednesday afternoon. She was 19 years, 10 months and 9 days old.

The first annual reception and ball of the Enterprise Athletic Association will be held in the Association rooms Thanksgiving evening, November 30. Music will be furnished by the Association orchestra. Invitations have been issued.

The meeting of the Ministerial Association was held in the Presbyterian chapel Monday afternoon. Rev. J. W. Crawford, pastor of the Sykesville Baptist church, read a paper on "Justification and Adoption." The next meeting will be held in the Baptist church at Sykesville December 4.

In the game of association football played at DuBois Saturday between the Coal Glen and Eleanor teams the result was a victory for the Coal Glen team. The score was 6 to 1. These teams had played four games this season and each won two games, making this the decisive game for the championship and $100.00 a side.

Joseph Pentz and his sister, Mrs. Jane Sprague, of Reynoldsville, were called to Johnsonburg last week by the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. Margaret Harker, who died Friday morning, Nov. 17, 1905. Mrs. Harker had been ill two weeks. She was fifty-seven years old. The interment was made in the Salem cemetery, Clearfield county, Monday afternoon.

The Cory Construction Company, of Binghamton, N. Y., are the contractors for the construction of the big tunnel in Piny township, this county, for the Franklin and Clearfield Railroad Company, and are pushing the work on the tunnel as rapidly as possible. It is said that it will require about a year and a half to complete the tunnel referred to.—New Bethlehem Leader.

Last Friday night the trustees of the M. E. church let the contract for heating the new church. Lucas & Deblie, plumbers of this place, were given the contract. The following contracts were let at a previous meeting: Plumbing, Union Plumbing Co., of Reynoldsville; Wiring for electricity, Wyman Electric Co., of DuBois; Artistic windows, Haskins & Co., of Rochester, N. Y.

The body of Mrs. Carrie Haines, who died at Altoona on Thursday last week, was brought from Punxsutawney to Reynoldsville on trolley line Friday and shipped from here to Brookville on the P. R. R. Mrs. Haines was the daughter of Dr. C. M. Matson, of Brookville. She had been ill for some time and was at Altoona for treatment.

The New Bethlehem Athletic and Reynolds Athletic basketball ball teams played an interesting game in the Athletic Association rooms in this place last Friday evening. The New Bethlehem boys defeated the Reynoldsville boys. The score was 19-14. The New Bethlehem team has played several games this season and this is the lowest score the team has made this season.

Labadie's production of "Faust" at the Reynolds opera house Monday night was excellent and was attended by a good sized audience. There was much special scenery used and the electrical effects, especially during the duelling scene and Walpurgis night witches' carnival, were startling and most weird. Hubert Labadie, as Mephisto, was the star of the play and was well supported by the entire company. There are few plays which combine the classic and popular so well as this one.

Hon. S. Taylor North, of Punxsutawney, Jefferson county's representative in the Pennsylvania Legislature, was in Brookville Monday and made the Republican a pleasant call. During the last session of the Legislature Mr. North made a hard fight for a new legislative apportionment that would give this county two members, the just representation of which she has been defrauded for fifteen years, and it is gratifying to him to have the Governor call his colleagues back to enact the legislation for which he made such a vigorous contest at the regular session.—Brookville Republican.

The Ithaca Concert Co. of the Conservatory of Music of Ithaca, N. Y., gave a very pleasing entertainment at the Baptist church in Reynoldsville on Saturday evening last. While the attendance was not large yet the concert was in no way disappointing. Each member gave entire satisfaction and the entertainment was highly enjoyed and certainly ranked among the best.

The Baptist people had the pleasure of the Concert Co. at both morning and evening services Sunday. They gave several selections in the morning. At the evening services the auditorium was over taxed and the lecture room was opened to accommodate the people.

Union Thanksgiving Service.

Union Thanksgiving Services will be held in the Presbyterian church at 10:30 a. m. on Thursday of next week, Nov. 30th. Rev. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor M. E. church, will preach the sermon.

Game Next Monday Evening.

A game of basketball will be played in the Enterprise Athletic Association rooms Monday evening of next week, Nov. 27, between the Reynoldsville and Falls Creek Athletic Clubs. Game will be called at 8:30. Admission 25 cents.

Thanksgiving Service.

Special Thanksgiving service will be held in Centennial hall at 11:00 a. m. next Sunday by the M. E. congregation. Rev. Dr. A. R. Rich, presiding elder of Clarion District, will preach. A special thank offering will be taken for the parsonage fund. Moving and enlarging the parsonage cost $1,250.00 and the trustees decided to ask the members to give a thank offering to meet this debt, and the Sunday before Thanksgiving Day was selected for the time for such an offering.

Bar Association Meeting.

At the meeting of the Jefferson County Bar Association held in the court house at Brookville on Tuesday evening, November 14th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. C. White; Vice President, M. M. Davis; Secretary, W. N. Conrad; Treasurer, H. H. Brosius; Board of Directors, E. A. Carmalt, Jeff G. Winger, Charles Corbett, Hon. S. A. Craiz, S. M. McCreight; Censors, G. M. McDonald, A. J. Truitt, C. C. Benscoter, John M. White and J. B. Stewart.

County Institute.

The Jefferson County Teachers' Institute to be held in Brookville December 18-22 promises to be a very instructive and entertaining institute. Prof. R. B. Terriek, our progressive and energetic county superintendent, has engaged excellent talent for the day instructors and evening entertainers, the names of whom we published in THE STAR two weeks ago. The institutes of this county have been raised to such a high standard that the attendance is not confined to teachers alone, but a large number of people not engaged in school work attend the institute.

Additional Mail Service.

Beginning Thursday of this week, November 23rd, there will be a change in the mail service on the Low Grade Division of the P. R. R. by attaching mail cars to train No. 108, due here at 6:30 a. m., and train No. 113, due here at 11:42 a. m. The additional service will not benefit Reynoldsville people very much, as we have an early west-bound train that carries mail and there is only about one hour difference in the time of the eastbound noon trains. A mail car east on the 6:39 a. m. train would be better for the people of Reynoldsville.

An Episcopal Church Service.

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 26, at 2:30, there will be held in the Lutheran church of Reynoldsville an Episcopal service. This service will be conducted by Rev. John L. Taylor, who has been sent by the Bishop of Pittsburgh to take charge of the Brookville church and to look after Episcopallians in Reynoldsville and vicinity. Rev. Mr. Taylor comes as a long-felt need in Reynoldsville owing to the many Episcopallians here who seldom get the opportunity to attend their own services. The Lutheran congregation has very kindly offered their church for this service, which will consist of evening prayer and sermon. A special choir will render the music. All people of Reynoldsville are most heartily invited to attend and take part in this service.

Criminal Court News.

The criminal court list was so large this term that it was not disposed of last week and several cases were held over for this week, including two murder cases. Among the cases disposed of last week of importance were the following:

Joseph Gallo, larceny; guilty on two counts; sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary on each count, making three year term in the "pen."
Sardo Dagostina, carrying concealed weapons; guilty; sentenced to pay $100 fine, pay costs and undergo an imprisonment in the Allegheny Workhouse for a period of six months.
A. G. Plyler, forgery; plead guilty; sentenced to pay $50.00 fine, pay costs and undergo an imprisonment in the Allegheny Workhouse for a period of six months.

Patrick Connors, furnishing liquors to men of known intemperate habits; plead guilty; sentenced to pay a fine of $50.00, pay costs and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for a period of sixty days.
John D. Lanoupe, larceny; plead guilty; sentenced to pay a fine of $50.00, pay costs and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for a period of sixty days.

The trial of Mike Gudlick, an Italian, who killed a fellow countryman at Adrian on the 30th of last June during a celebration which was being indulged in by a crowd of foreigners, will commence to-day.

Bright Little Girl Gone.

Elizabeth Alexander, who was nine years old the 23rd of last June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Alexander, departed this life in the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh at 12:20 a. m. Tuesday, November 21st, 1905, where she had been taken Saturday afternoon for an operation for appendicitis. When the little patient arrived in the hospital the physicians found her case a very serious one, as she was suffering with peritonitis and appendicitis both and an immediate operation was not advisable, as it would result in death either in the operation or soon after.

Elizabeth attended school last Wednesday and about ten o'clock that night took suddenly ill. Friday the physicians pronounced it a case of appendicitis and Saturday Elizabeth was taken to the hospital, but her case was beyond the physician's skill.

Elizabeth was very bright, had a sweet and affectionate disposition, winning ways and was a beautiful child, consequently she had many friends. Five children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, three sons and two daughters, and both the daughters have crossed the border line between earthy and heavenly scenes. The blow is a hard one on the parents.

At time of going to press this morning the time of funeral had not been definitely settled, but it will likely be to-morrow afternoon.

Pioneer Settler.

Mention was made in THE STAR last week of the death of David Pifer, the pioneer settler of Henderson township, who departed this life November 11th, but we found some history of his life in the Sykesville Post-Dispatch, which we publish below:

"Mr. Pifer was a hardy German and applied himself with zeal and determination in all his undertakings, and executed all his dealings with honor, justice and truth. By economy, sobriety and industry he acquired a fair share of this world's goods, but his piety was never sacrificed for gain. He was a consistent member of the Lutheran church, active in religious work and deep student of the bible and loved to engage in religious conversation. He strove with those who were in error by pointing to the better way, and his was a life of usefulness and a satisfactory career well spent.

His home was always open to friends and neighbors who were all alike treated with hospitable care and loyalty, and all those who crossed his threshold were the better and wiser for having met him and they were always welcome to return.

He is survived by five sons and five daughters: John, David and William, farmers; Isaac, a lumber merchant in South Carolina, and Jonas, of DuBois, Charlotte, wife of Josiah Zuffel, a farmer of Henderson township; Sarah, wife of C. H. Scheller, proprietor of a meat market at DuBois and Sykesville; Lydia, wife of Amos Strouse, a farmer of Winslow township; Lizzie, at home and Mina, wife of Thomas Muth, a farmer near Eleanor.

New Board of Directors.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the American Production Co. held yesterday the following board of directors were elected: J. S. Beckwith, C. F. Dickinson, O. L. Schlumpf, C. V. Harding, of Pittsburgh, Jacob Kuntz, of Anita, and M. C. Coleman, of Reynoldsville. The directors elected Mr. Dickinson president of the company and Mr. Beckwith secretary and treasurer. Mr. Schlumpf is to be superintendent of the plant. He will move his family from Pittsburgh to Reynoldsville. It is the intention to get the plant in full operation as soon as possible.

Wesley Enterline, who was tried in the Jefferson county court this week on the charge of murdering J. B. Gelst, whom he shot to death at Cool Spring on August 25, 1905, was convicted of murdering in the second degree. The case was given to the jury before six o'clock last evening and at 8:30 the jury brought in the verdict as stated above.

List of unclaimed letters remaining in post office at Reynoldsville, Pa., for the week ending Nov. 18, 1905:

Mrs. Barney Bubast, J. W. Erwin, Mrs. Marguerite Jones, Elmer Lewis, C. V. Miller, H. K. Schuyler, Harry Stevens, John R. Stransbaugh, J. D. White.

Say advertised and give date of list when calling for above.

LET THE CURFEW RING TO-NIGHT

A Poem with a Purpose.—Written for The Star by "Uncle William."

Parents, do you ever consider
The youth who roam the streets
That for a night is a bidder
That he with temptation meets?
Do you not ponder in your mind
How he'll escape the damning blight
And be lost? Unless you thunder
Let the curfew ring to-night!

When the darkness spreads her mantle,
Keep the boys from off the street,
Satan laughs in fiendish glee,
Knowing that his emissaries
Are as busy as the bee.
Circulating among the children
With temptations that delight,
Whirling them to certain ruin.
Pass the word in a brief measure,
Let the curfew ring to-night!

Teach your boy the art of scorn
Sin, where'er they chance to meet,
Pause and heed this timely warning:
Keep the boys from off the street.
Make your family circle pleasant,
Lead the boys in paths of light.
They will joy to ever present
The curfew ring to-night!

Back of scenes in glittering splendor
Are the gilded dens of vice,
Flashing lights, entrancing music,
Gay apparelled men and women,
Hidden from the passing sight,
Pass the word in a brief measure,
Let the curfew ring to-night!

After night-fall stalks the devil,
Seeking innocence to blight,
Satan laughs in fiendish glee,
Knowing that his emissaries
Are as busy as the bee.
Love the darkness more than light,
Can you hope to keep these loved ones?
Can you lead them to the right?
If you do not guard them closely?
Let the curfew ring to-night!

What effect has godly teaching
Or an agonizing prayer,
If you give but slight attention
To the children in your care.
Vice is ever up and doing,
Armed and ready for the fight,
Dragging wayward souls to ruin,
Let the curfew ring to-night!

Christian parents, heed the mandate
Written in God's holy word,
Which instructs you: "Teach the children
Admiration of the Lord.
Make your home a place attractive
That they hail it with delight,
And prefer it to vain pleasure.
Let the curfew ring to-night!"

Oh! ye souls of our council,
Do not laugh at a stern word,
For the welfare of the children
Frame a potent curfew law.
It will save full many a heartache,
Make an hundred homes more bright,
For these future men and women,
Let the curfew ring to-night!

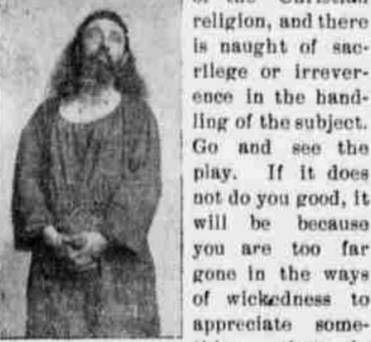

Sound the curfew bell at even,
Get the children off the street;
Vice appears in garb deceiving,
Watching for unwary feet.
Many hearts now blighted with sorrow,
Have departed from the right,
Bitter they dread the curfew,
Let the curfew ring to-night!

Would you hear the welcome plaudit
When from cares of earth you're free?
As ye did into these children
Ye have bid it unto me.
Far across the crystal river,
Out of darkness into light,
You may rest in peace forever,
Let the curfew ring to-night!

The Holy City.

There is something so uplifting and inspiring in this play that The Chronicle advises its readers, as many as can, to see it at the City Opera house to-night.

The lines and the acting are gems in a beautiful setting surrounded with a halo of sacred associations, and the impressions made are like those of a great sermon. It is a picture of events in the early history of the Christian religion, and there is naught of sacrilege or irreverence in the handling of the subject. Go and see the play. If it does not do you good, it will be because you are too far gone in the ways of wickedness to appreciate something that in theme and treatment approaches sublimity.

Mr. Clarence Bennett, the author, doubles the parts of St. John the Baptist and Judas; this fact will measurably increase the interest of the audience and the value of the production.—Richsville, O., Chronicle. At Reynolds opera house to-night. Prices 75c and $1.00.

Plain Talk To Constables

At the opening of court on Monday Judge Reed gave the constables of the county a plain talk upon their duty in the matter of violations of the liquor laws, and upon reporting slot machines of a gambling character which may be in use in the county. The particular violations of the liquor law upon which the Court laid stress were the selling of liquors and their subsequent delivery through an agent, and also the establishment of storage places in the different localities from which delivery of liquors is made, other than those for which the manufacturers or bottlers may have been granted license. Judge Reed gave the constables explicit instructions to return all violators of the law to court, and in the matter of slot machines to see that they were immediately done away with.—Brookville Republican.

AN ESTEEMED CITIZEN DEAD.

Orton F. Smith, Aged Seventy-One Years, Passed Away Saturday Morning.

Orton F. Smith, an old citizen of Reynoldsville, departed this life at 6:25 a. m. Saturday, November 18, 1905. His death was caused by what is known as "Walking typhoid fever." He had been ill five or six weeks, but did not give up and go to bed until the Sunday previous to his death. Mr. Smith was born at Panama, N. Y., May 21, 1834, and was 71 years old last May. He was united in married to Esther Seeley forty-one years ago. During the rebellion he enlisted with a cavalry company in Warren Co., Pa. and served two years. He moved to Reynoldsville about thirty-five years ago.

Mr. Smith was a member of the Masonic Lodge, having been admitted to a lodge at Columbus, Pa., before he moved to Reynoldsville. His membership was transferred to John M. Reed Lodge No. 535, F. & A. M., of Reynoldsville in February, 1901. Mr. Smith was a quiet, unassuming man, but he had many friends.

Deceased is survived by his widow, two daughters and three sons, one son having died a number of years ago. The children are: Clyde Smith, Mrs. W. H. Bell, Mrs. George W. Stoke, Jr., of Reynoldsville, Will Smith, now in West Va., and Frank S. Smith, of this place.

Funeral service was held at late residence of deceased on Main street at 2:00 p. m. Monday, conducted by Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Presbyterian church. About thirty members of John M. Reed Lodge attended the funeral in a body and had charge of the services in the cemetery. Interment was made in Prospect cemetery. Priester Bros. had charge of the funeral.

The following out of town relatives attended the funeral: L. P. Seeley, of Pittsburgh, brother of Mrs. Smith, Dr. J. S. Bardwell and daughter, Mrs. Ernest Bogert, Ridgway, Samuel E. Bell, of Smethport, Pa.

Sykesville.

Mrs. Walter Selmer, of Luthersburg, visited last week with her sister, Mrs. Michael Kriner.

Miss Hattie Stroecher, of Bradford, is visiting with David Estes and wife, her aunt and uncle, of this place.

Mrs. Foster and son, Willie, of Ernest, who visited with friends and relatives here last week, returned home last Tuesday.
E. N. Gelst and family returned home last week from Templeton, where they visited with Mr. Gelst's brother-in-law, Rev. F. O. Eakin.

Mrs. Wesley Smith, of Rostler, and Mrs. John Stauffer, of Burnside, were guests of Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Aden Null last week.
William Reber and wife, J. F. Weber and wife, Mrs. Jacob Ribbell and daughter, Freda, and Mrs. John Allen attended the funeral of Milton Buchtel at Troutville last Thursday.

Birthday Surprise Party.

Monday, November 20th, being the 40th birthday of Mrs. Geo. Roberts, about 40 of her friends and neighbors gathered at her home and gave her a birthday surprise party. A splendid dinner was served, after which the friends presented her with a beautiful rocking chair. After spending a few hours in social chat the friends departed for their homes wishing Mrs. Roberts many happy returns of her birthday anniversary.

A GUEST.

Major McMurray, the editor of this paper, met with an accident Tuesday morning of this week, by which his left arm was broken a couple of inches below the shoulder joint. He was going to the coal house between six and seven o'clock, carrying a coal basket in one hand and a hatchet in the other, when he slipped on the pavement and fell, sustaining the force of the fall on his left arm. The bone is broken square off, and the arm will be disabled for several weeks.—Brookville Democrat.

Ten Dollars Reward.
