Six Children Burned to Death. Early yesterday morning the house of William Morgan, a coal miner who resided at Lindsey, suburb of Punsutawney, was burned down and six of his children, five girls and one boy, were burned to death, and had it not been that the fire was discovered by a neighbor, the entire family would likely have been burned to death. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan slept down stairs and their children slept upstairs. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan rushed up stairs in time to save two of the children, but were unable to rescue any of the others and only got out of the building themselves in time to escape being burned to death. It was a horrible and heart-rending tragedy. Both parents were badly burned in their effort to save their children. Mr. Morgan just recently moved from West Virginia to Punsutawney.

"Isle of Spice." The "Isle of Spice," a melodious musical comedy that has had a long and successful run in Chicago, Boston and New York, will be at the Jefferson Theatre, Punsutawney, on Saturday, Dec. 16. As is usual with all the Whitney productions, there is a wealth of scenery and beautiful costumes, a chorus of dainty maidens and some stunning show girls. The comedy throughout the piece is said to be unusually good and of the refined sort. The music, it is claimed, is of the tuneful variety and ever improving and quite likely to be heard long after the engagement here. The most prominent numbers are: "The Goo Goo Man," "Peggy Bragg," "You and I," "Star of Fate," "Uncle Sam's Marines," "Mercenary Mary Ann," "The Broomstick Witches," and the quartette, "How Can You Tell 'Till you Try?"

Applicant for Supt. Co. Homs. Noah Syphrit, a highly esteemed farmer of Winslow township, is an applicant for superintendent of the Jefferson county home, and he is certainly well qualified for the position. Mr. Syphrit has a long petition on which are the names of many of the substantial citizens of this section of the county, which, no doubt, will receive due consideration from the county commissioners.

Mr. Syphrit was poor overseer in Winslow township at the time the question of establishing a county home was submitted to the voters of Jefferson county, and Mr. Syphrit was so intensely interested in getting a favorable vote on the question, because he considered it the best thing for all concerned, that he spent almost a month traveling over the county, at his own expense, getting people interested in the proposition and presenting the advantages of the home to both taxpayers and people needing help. Mr. Syphrit was in every precinct in the county at that time. No other man in the county had more to do with getting the voters interested in the county home proposition than did Mr. Syphrit. This fact gives him a strong point over any other applicants the commissioners may have for the position.

MAD DOG VICTIMS. Six Children Taken to Pitsburg Pathological Institute for Treatment. In last week's issue we mentioned the fact that a dog, supposed to be mad, ran our streets Tuesday morning and bit six school children. The dog's head was sent to Pitsburg for examination by experts to know whether the dog was mad or crazy. Thursday forenoon word was received here that it was a genuine case of hydrophobia, and Thursday four of the children were taken to Pitsburg for the Pasteur treatment in the Magee Pathological Institute at the Mercy Hospital. Friday the others were taken to Pitsburg for the same treatment. The age of the children range from 9 to 13 years. Their names are: Marlin McCroight, son of James A. McCroight, Walter Murray, son of W. C. Murray, Joseph Fetterhoff, son of W. M. Fetterhoff, John Shingledoecker, son of Mrs. Shingledoecker, Lucy Danore, daughter of J. Danore, and Meta Herpel, daughter of Henry Herpel.

The treatment requires twenty days, and it is quite a severe treatment. The six children are being treated for $125 apiece, or $750.00 for the six cases. When a person is bitten by a mad dog who is too poor to pay the expense of the Pasteur treatment, and will make affidavit to that effect, the commissioners will pay the expense out of county funds. The State does not pay any of the expense in such cases. This is a law that was passed at the last session of the Legislature.

Mrs. Mary Martin Dead. Mrs. Mary Martin, widow of Michael Martin, Sr., who died about eight years ago, died at her home in Pitsburg at 8:00 p. m. Thursday, December 7, 1905, after a ten day illness with heart trouble. Mrs. Martin was well known in Reynoldsville and had many friends here, having resided in this place about twenty-six years. Seven years ago she moved from Reynoldsville to Pitsburg. Mrs. Martin was born in Ireland, August 15, 1840, and was 65 years old last August. She was married to Michael Martin in Ireland and they came to America in 1865. Twelve children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin, five sons and seven daughters. Five children preceded the mother into the Eternal Land. The surviving children are as follows: Mrs. L. J. Arnold, of Driftwood, Mrs. Frank McGoldrick, of California, Pa., Misses Nell and Emma and James at home, Sister Aloysius Ursuline convent in Pitsburg, and Michael, Martin, Jr., in Reynoldsville. The body of Mrs. Martin was brought to Reynoldsville on the noon train Sunday and taken direct to the Catholic church, where funeral service was conducted by Father Brady. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery beside her husband and five children.

Who is Schoolmaster Peyton. In the Pitsburg Dispatch of last Saturday was an erroneous and somewhat ludicrous account, to those acquainted with the circumstances, of the mad dog incident that occurred at Reynoldsville on Tuesday of last week. After giving names of the children bitten, the Dispatch said: "With a dozen schoolmates these children were returning from their country school house Wednesday. A massive dog, whose jaws dripped foam, rushed among them, snapping at their legs. Hearing the cries of the children and the fierce yelps of the brute schoolmaster Horace Peyton grasped a revolver from a drawer of his desk and was able to shoot the dog before harm to the faces or bodies of his pupils had been done." The children were not returning from a country school. In each case the children that were bitten were alone on the street and were all in different parts of the town when the dog snapped them. Who Schoolmaster Horace Peyton is and where he teaches, we are unable to inform our readers. We merely mention this to show that country newspapers are not the only papers that get things mixed sometimes.

Sixth Annual Banquet. The sixth annual banquet of Reynoldsville Lodge No. 519, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, held in the Elk rooms last Wednesday evening, was a very pleasant and elegant social function. There were one hundred and twenty-five persons present. Shortly after eight o'clock the evening's program was taken up as follows: Selection by J. P. Dunleavy, of Pitsburg; recitation, Miss Catherine Dewey; piano solo, Miss Marie Altman; orchestra; recitation, Mrs. J. H. Murray; reading, Miss Dewey. The banquet at ten o'clock was a great feast. After the banquet there was dancing. The Jamison Orchestra of Bradford furnished music.

Vaudeville Company. Vurpillat Vaudeville Company opened their weeks engagement at the Reynoldsville opera house Monday to a crowded house. The entertainment given by this company is certainly above the average standard. The acrobatic and trapeze performances by Wm. Maek is of the best. The singing and dancing of the Krammeyers is well worth going to see. Prof. Tommy Dee, as a trick piano player, is without an equal, in fact from start to finish there is not a dull feature on the programme. The Vurpillat Vaudeville Co. will be here the rest of this week. An entire change of programme nightly performance commences at 8 o'clock promptly.

WILL CONTEST ELECTION. It is Claimed That There Were Fraudulent Votes Polled in North Young Township. E. T. McGaw, of Reynoldsville, Democratic candidate for county commissioner, defeated Frank Woods, of Brookville, also a Democratic candidate for county commissioner, by six votes in the November election, electing Mr. McGaw to the office of county commissioner. Now Mr. Woods and his friends claim that Mr. McGaw got some fraudulent votes in North Young township, and they have decided to contest the election. Papers were filed last week and Judge John W. Reed being in New York City at the time, the papers were taken to Clarion and were signed by Judge Wilson. Tuesday, December 26, 1905, is the date fixed for hearing the case. Just where this matter will end it would be difficult to predict at this time. It is very likely that there were fraudulent votes polled in other precincts and it is a sure thing that Mr. McGaw and his attorneys will now make a thorough investigation of the election in the county. Mr. McGaw will take the oath of office the first of next year and hold the office until the court shall give a decision in the case, and most likely will hold the office during the entire term. We have been informed that the election board in North Young township has acknowledged that they allowed men to vote who were not entitled by law to vote, but it was a custom that had been established in that precinct and they simply ignored the election law and followed the custom. If this is correct the election board of that precinct have made themselves liable for imprisonment and will most likely get the punishment the law provides for in such cases. It must be understood that Mr. McGaw is not accused of having anything to do with securing the fraudulent votes, but it is claimed that the men who cast the fraudulent votes, selected Mr. McGaw as one of the candidates for whom they voted for county commissioner.
