

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and cientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name-" Syrup of Figs"-or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased every-where, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co .- printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

Shell Fired 42 Years Ago. W. Huddleston, operating a sawmill on the James River and Kanawha turnpike, about three miles east of Dry Creek, struck a piece of a shell, weighing about three or four pounds, which was in a large oak log and so smoothly grown over that it was not noticed.

Taverind, a carpenter on the United States revenue cutter Bear. These fossilized remains were dug out of the sand in the bed of one of the riv-ers on Ketchabue sound, Alaska. They were found by native Esqui maux last July and were taken to the Bear to be traded. Taverind, recognizing the value they would have in this country, at once purchased them. The skull is nearly three feet through and weighs nearly 150 pounds. Both tusks have been broken or have disintegrated, but even now one of them is seven feet and three inches long, while the other is four feet two inches. GROWING DEMAND FOR SHEEP. It is interesting to note how greatly the number of sheep in the United States has decreased. Thirty-five years ago the number of sheep was jus about equal to our population. The census returns of 1900 show that there were only half as many sheep as ou population. In some other countries of Europe and Asia the increase has been thirty to forty per cent. during the same time, though in recent years the number was greatly reduced by drouths and other causes. Just now there is a strong tendency to increase the holdings of sheep in this country. about nine feet in length .- San Fran This has been greatly stimulated by higher prices of both sheep and wool,

ABOUT THE HARROW.

The harrow has been brought to such a high state of perfection, there should be no excuse for the farmer not thoroughly fining the soil for all crops This operation pays every time and no one should think of leaving a field rough and lumpy, full of ridges and hollows, but pains should be taken to work the soil down fine and smooth: indeed, follow the practices of the market gardener as far as possible. The gardener would not think of sowing his eeds on a half prepared seed bed and neither should the farmer. The fact is, as a general thing we have not paid enough attention to fertilizing and pulverizing the soil. In purchasing a harrow the farmer should not think of finding one single harrow that will meet all of his requirements. He needs more than one in order to be well equipped. The spike-tooth, spring-tooth, coulter-tooth and disk, all have their proper place; and if possible, the farmer should have them all. I will say this, however: If I could purchase but one harrow, that would most certainly be a cutaway disk, getting the others later on. This is a harrow or machine that cuts and stirs the soil in an admirable manner: and besides. it is of easy draft, so the team will appreciate it. Another important feature is, the driver can ride. Why, for killing quack grass there is nothing that will compare with it, and for intensive culture no one can afford not to own one. A smoothing harrow should be owned on every farm. It is of great value in secting to grass and in the cultivation of corn and potatoes in their early growth. So much so, in fact, that the farmer cannot afford to get along without one.-F. H. Dow, in The Epitomist.
