Oil Notes.

Gruber and Smith had a well come in on Tuesday of last week, on the Gruber farm, and is said to be one of the best wells in the field, being good for about twenty barrels a day.

On Thursday the South Penn Oil Company had a well come in on the Frazier tract which gives every indication of being a fair well.

The casing was put in on the well being drilled on the J. S. Carroll lot on last Thursday, and if no accident occurs will be due about Monday or Tuesday next.—Brookville Democrat.

WONDERFUL DECEPTION.

Maro, the Magician, in Chinatown, Astonishes Even the Wily Oriental.

Maro, the eminent prestidigitateur, who will play an engagement here Jan. 26th, furnished an amusing episode to a large crowd of spectators during his recent appearance in San Francisco. Like most people who visit the Golden Gate city, Maro was anxious to visit the district known as Chinatown, hence at his earliest moments' leisure he and a guide proceeded to the celestial head-paralyzed with wonder and amazement. The clever magician, however, simply said here is another, and again a pigeon flew down the street. The proprietor of the grocery let his handful of money fall to the ground, rushed into the store and locked the door. Maro tried to explain that it was only a trick, but John could not see it that way.

Expert Advice.

Jim Webster was brought before a Vermont justice of the peace. It was the same old charge. After the evidence was all in the judge, with a perplexed look, said: "But I do not comprehend, Webster, how it was possible for you to steal those chickens when they were roosting right under the owner's window, and there were two vicious dogs in the yard."

"It wouldn't do you a bit o' good, judge, for me to 'splain how I cotched 'em; you couldn't do it if yer tried 40 times, and yer might get a hide full of buckshot do berry fast time yer put yer leg ober de fence. De bes' way fer yer to do, judge, is fer to buy yer chickens in de market."—Boston Globe.

The Brookville Democrat says: "Some people will never take their home apart, but are always borrowing their neighbors."

"God sends meat and the devil sends cooks" says old John Taylor. But it's not always the fault of the cook. For instance, not even a heaven-born genius of a French cook can make oysters taste good, if they have been treated with preservatives. But—if the oysters are Sealshipt, not even an amateur cook can fail to make a delicate dish, savory, piquant, luscious. Try them. Frank's Restaurant carries them.

quarters. Passing one of the main business streets, the magician and his party stopped in front of a Chinese grocery, where lay a number of dead pigeons which had been killed at a shooting match and afterwards bought up by the enterprising merchant. Maro picked up one of the pigeons, at the same time inquiring of the proprietor of the grocery why some of the birds were dead and some alive. The Chinaman indignantly replied: "No live, alle dead, Melican man shoot alle same tis mornin'." "Oh, no, John, some are dead and some are alive," answered Maro. "Now this one that I hold in my hand is alive." "I bet no live," and John backed his assertion by holding out a handful of coin. By this time a large crowd had assembled, mostly Chinamen, and Maro, thinking he had secured a good audience, gently smoothed the feathers of the pigeon, gave it a toss into the air and it took its flight. The crowd was thunderstruck, some ran across the street while others were

The High School Bulletin

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF, MAUDE PRATT.

The basket ball game played between the Ridgway and Reynoldsville high schools at Ridgway last Saturday evening was won by Ridgway. The final score was 38 to 13, although at the end of the first half there was but little advantage on either side, the score being 13 to 9 in favor of Ridgway. In the second half Ridgway put in two or three new players with good effect. The Reynoldsville boys were greatly impressed by the new Y. M. C. A. building in which the game was played. It is valued at $45,000 and has only been open since the first of the year.

The Juniors, under Prof. Scott's direction, have organized a reading class. They will read the college requirements for general reading also other standard works.

Fire drills have been established in the school. A special ring of the gong will constitute an alarm. The school building can be emptied in a very short time by using both entrances, the front entrance for the upper rooms and the Grant street entrance for those on the lower floor.

LOST—Between the post office and her home, a pair of gym shoes. Finder will please return to their owner—a senior girl.

The mid-term examinations were completed last Wednesday, thus finishing a very successful half year. The freshman now take up physical geography the sophomores botany and the seniors taking the practical course will take political economy, so all high school pupils are well supplied with work for the rest of the year.

Both Paxsonutawney and Brookville refuse to enter into an inter-school contest with Reynoldsville this year. An attempt is being made to enter into a contest with other schools.

The girls gymnasium is in a very flourishing condition; even the school morns are becoming infatuated with basket ball.

There is a queer disease among the young men of our school called "laziness."

The freshmen are happy. Why? They have just begun physical geography.

The W. C. T. U. are going to conduct chapel services every two weeks for the lower grades. The first service will be next Thursday.

Miss Lillian Harries has been absent from school the past two weeks with a bad case of grippe.

The first game of the League series will be played Feb. 2.

How about using the heaters in the gymnasium for seats?

The Union Plumbing Co.

Our experience with gas mantles dates back to the time when the first mantles were put on the market. That means that we have had experience with mantles. Among the thousands that we have handled we never used a mantle as good as our Never-Break guaranteed mantle. Costs nothing to try one, if not as we say. Guaranteed to outlast ten other mantles and gives better light. We handle mantles from 10 cents up. All mantles are the best in their class.
