CELERY KING

NATURE'S CURE

Constipation.

I believe nine out of every ten women suffer from constipation, and that not two out of nine know it. They know they have headache and backache, that they are nervous, irritable, and that their complexions are turning sallow—but they do not guess the cause. I always recommend Celery King to such women, for I have found it to be the most reliable medicine.—Nurse Eliza S. Bennett Rochester, N. Y.

"IF"

By "Uncle William."

While pondering one evening in a retrospective vein,
As to why the world was always in a tiff;
We figured out conclusively that most of trouble came
From disregard of the subjunctive "If."

If wily politicians wouldn't tamper with the vote,
If men would always vote as they saw fit,
If railroad corporations hadn't congress by the throat,
Reform would make a most decided "hit."

If soulless corporations weren't scattered through our land,
If capital had with labor no dislikes,
If employer's didn't crush mankind beneath an iron hand,
There no'r would be necessity for strikes.

If wives would stop "henpecking" and husbands stay at home,
If children would stay off the streets at nights,
If real good-hearted fellows wouldn't fill their skins with rum,
There would be no disgraceful family fights.

If gossips wouldn't congregate to air their neighbor's faults,
If everybody stopped the use of slang,
If on foreign emigration our laws would call a halt,
There might be fewer criminals to hang.

If ladies, when they go to church would doff their monster hats,
If children wouldn't sidget on the seat,
If everybody listened to the truths the pastor spake,
Then church would be a goodly place to meet.

If bad men didn't gamble and horses weren't raced,
If youth would shun the gilded dens of vice,
If every evil, wicked thought from mind could be effaced,
This world would be an Eden in a trice.

If every one who went to church had heavenly thoughts in mind,
If churches aimed to keep religion pure,
If conscience weren't smothered and blind didn't lead the blind,
The millennium wouldn't long be coming, sure.

If we only weren't jealous when our neighbor has success,
If we only wouldn't covet what he owns,
If we wouldn't take advantage of a comrade in distress,
There wouldn't be so many sighs and groans.

If people would but follow up the matchless "Golden Rule,"
If backbiters would but sheathe their fangs of spite,
If rumormongers didn't handle stuff that makes a man a fool,
This world and all that's in it would be bright.

If everyone attended strictly to their own affairs,
If each one loved his neighbor as himself,
If half grown lads and lassies didn't aim to put on airs,
All bickerings would be laid upon the shelf.

If each one tried to keep his soul clean, spotless pure and white,
If hypocrite's would doff their robes,
If all mankind were honest and would try to do what's right,
God's recording angel would be sans a job.

If, in short, we each one tried to live the very best we knew,
If we kept the ten commandments pure and free,
If to God, our country and to self we ever would be true,
"What a gathering of the faithful there would be."

GOOD COUNTRY HOME.

Paper Read by Mrs. A. J. Sprague at Farmers' Institute in Paradise.

If I were as wealthy as the Goulds or Vanderbilts I would never be contented anywhere but in the country. When people, who have lived in the country all their lives, talk about retiring and move into town so they will not have so much work to do, they make a great mistake. While it may be a change from one kind of work to another, give me the work in the country home. With the present system of rural free delivery of mail, the farmers' telephone and later parcel post, who would exchange the quiet and seclusion of a good country home for the most palatial mansion in the biggest city in the world? I am sure I would not, and if each one here lived up to their honest convictions they would agree with me. My idea of a good country home is to have the buildings just as comfortable and convenient as the means will permit. There are but very few farms where the water could not be brought into the house and also into or near to the barn with trifling expense. There are many conveniences that are possible in the country home equal, or better, than those in the city home, while they cost much less. As to the furnishings they may be just as elaborate as we can afford, while the outside surroundings should be made as attractive as possible, and in this we have the advantage of those who have their homes in a city or large town, as there is more room for a nice yard or lawn, which adds so much to the appearance of the home.

And to enjoy a good country home I think the first essential would be to be the owner of it. The most common place objects became interesting as soon as we possess them, and in no other thing is this more true than in the enjoyment of the home, for that is where all of our interests center. Men will fight longer and harder for their homes than for anything else in the world.

Next we should look to the state of our conscience and health. If we have a guilty conscience we could not enjoy our surroundings, be they ever so magnificent, while if our conscience is clear we could enjoy the humblest home if it was the best we had. Almost the same might be said about health. We might have the best of health with a guilty conscience or a clear conscience and poor health. But given good health, a clear conscience and a good country home and anybody who could not enjoy them would hardly enjoy heaven itself.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF, CARL KIRK.

During the past week the grades on the upper floor have been learning a new song. Come up and hear it.

The Shakespearean Literary Society gave a program last Friday afternoon which was the best that has been given this year. Every one served promptly and well. It was certainly appreciated by all present. Keep it up.

The second league game of basket ball was played in Reynoldsville last Friday night between Reynoldsville and Beechwoods teams. It was very exciting from start to finish. The passing and shooting of the home team far exceeded that of their opponents in every part of the game. The game ended with a score of 34 to 12 in our favor. The contest for the league pennant stands thus:

Team	WON	LOST
Reynoldsville	2	0
Brookville	1	1
Beechwoods	0	2

The next game will be played here with Brookville next Friday evening. If this game is won by the home team they will win the pennant offered for the championship of Jefferson county. Reynoldsville will then have won 3 out of 4 games, the number each team expects to play. Come out and cheer for them Friday evening.

Bert Hoffman visited in Johnsonburg one day last week.

The girls basket ball team of the Reynoldsville High School played a match game with the Beechwoods girls last Friday evening. There seemed to be a close competition among the members of our team to see who could move the slowest. No prize could be awarded because five girls tied for first place and the judges were in despair. After the spectators had waited about thirty minutes for the game to begin the score was announced to be 38 to 2 in favor of the Beechwoods girls. But as the captain said, "we held them down to 38 anyhow." The next game will be played with a slightly heavier team from Kline's school house.

Some of the High School boys will take various parts in a minstrel show to be given on the 16th and 17th of this month, known as the Jeffersonian Gold Medal Minstrels. Don't forget the date. It will be the theatrical event of the season.

Official—West Reynoldsville.

(NO. 26)

AN ORDINANCE granting to the Red Bank Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, the right to erect, maintain and operate a telephone line on and along certain streets and alleys of the borough of West Reynoldsville as hereinafter designated. Be it ordained and enacted by the town council of the borough of West Reynoldsville, Jefferson County, Pennsylvania, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same.

Section 1. That the right of way be and the same is hereby granted to the Red Bank Telephone Company, its successors and assigns to erect and maintain lines of poles, mains, wires, along, in, under, over, through and across public streets, avenues, alleys, bridges, viaducts and ways in the borough, said public streets and alleys to be hereinafter designated for the purpose of operating a Telephone Exchange and telephone lines, provided said lines of poles shall be placed under the direction of the town council so as to interfere least with the public use of said streets, avenues and alleys as hereinafter stated. The Company to be responsible to the borough for all damages caused in erecting, maintaining and operating said lines.

Section 2. The poles shall be of sound timber and kept properly painted and not less in size than 16 inches in diameter, 6 feet from butt, wires not to be less than 30 feet elevation from ground, and when placed on street or streets, avenues or alleys as hereinafter designated are to be placed within or without the line of the curb and at such place as the council may direct, so as not to interfere with any sewerage, gas pipes or water lines now built or hereafter to be built.

Section 3. Hereafter the wires of all electric light, telegraph or telephone companies to be erected or standing at an angle across the wires of said Telephone Company shall not in this case or in any other be allowed to approach the wires of said company nearer than two (2) feet nor said Telephone Company be allowed to place its wires nearer than two (2) feet to the wires of said other company. The provisions of this section are to apply with equal force to motor wires for street railway purposes except so far as they may interfere with the proper placing of the motor wires hereafter to be placed in which case it shall be the duty of the said Telephone Company to yield the right of way of said motor wires and change the placing of their lines accordingly.

In case of the violation of this section it shall be the duty of the Street Commissioner to notify the offending company to remove its wires, poles and fixtures so erected in violation herein within three days of such notification and in failure to comply with such notification, it shall be the duty of the Street Commissioner to remove the same at the expense of the offending party or company.

Section 4. That it is agreed by the said Company that in the consideration of the grant of the right of way as hereinafter provided that said Telephone Company will put up and provide a phone in the municipal building or elsewhere in the borough as the council may direct for the use of the borough officers, free of charge.

The use of the poles of the company by the borough for carrying electric fire alarm wires shall be permitted free of expense and charge to the said borough.

Section 5. Said company, its successors and assigns, are to remove within ten days after notice has been served by the council or street commissioner, in writing, all dead pole or poles not having living wires on them.

Section 6. The public streets, avenues, alleys, bridges, viaducts and ways for poles and lines shall be located in said borough as follows: Pike street, Brown street, Broad street and First Avenue. All of said poles are to be subject to a pole tax of . . . per pole, said tax to be paid to the borough treasurer annually on or before the first Monday of March of each and every year. Said poles and wires are not to be used in conjunction with the Red Bank Telephone Company by any other persons or company at the same time without the consent of the council of the borough of West Reynoldsville, by ordinance duly passed.

Section 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and acceptance by the Red Bank Telephone Company in behalf of itself, its successors and assigns, and its publication as provided by law, the costs and expenses of said publication to be paid by the said Red Bank Telephone Company, provided said company shall file with the clerk of council its written acceptance within ten days after the publication of said ordinance and paying for said publication at the time of such written acceptance, and provided further that its poles are erected on or before January 1 1907, otherwise this ordinance becomes null and void and of no effect.

Section 8. That the rights and privileges hereby granted shall be held and used subject to the terms and provisions of the laws and ordinances of the borough of West Reynoldsville, now in force or hereafter to be passed, regulating and relating to the same.

Section 9. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance be, and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

Enacted and ordained by the town council of the borough of West Reynoldsville, Pennsylvania, at a regular meeting held at the council chamber on February 5th, 1906, at 9 o'clock p. m.

HENRY HERPEL,
