He had never worn a robe, and after acknowledging the gift, he said he would wait in the vestry five minutes after service to hear any objectors to the Innovation. Nobody appeared but one old lady, who, on being asked what her objections were, answered Cast she had read the epistles of St. Paul, and could not find any reference to the Apostle wearing a gown. "What epistle did you read?" asked the doctor. "From Romans to Hebrews," answered the old lady. "Well, Janet," said her minister, "I have read from Romans to Hebrews also, and I could never find any reference to the Apostle wearing the breeks. What would you think if you saw me going into the pulpit without breeks?" Needless to say, the old lady departed satisfied

A Parrot of Evil Reputation W The Kea parrot of New Zealand is a very curious bird. For many years it has been charged with killing sheep by pecking holes in their sides, and this alleged fact has been recorded in many works on ornithology and natural history. Accordingly, as the Kea is in danger of extermination, an nvestigation was recently undertaken to determine whether this bird really deserved its evil reputation. No evidence could be found to warrant the statement, and it was thought o be based entirely upon the curisity which it manifests in looking wer the carcasses of dead animals.
