

Answer This?
I noticed an article in THE STAR of April 23 concerning people who patronize mail order houses, with a kindly invitation or, perhaps, rather a challenge, for any one to answer. Now thank you Mr. Citizen, I don't care if I do make a few public remarks.

In the first place the objection urged against sending to mail order houses is that people send their money away from home instead of spending it at home. Now this objection is surely an easy one to answer. Don't the merchant send the money that he gets out of the sale of his goods, or most of it, "away from home" too? Unless he gets the lion's share of the price he gets for his goods from people who do not know the value of the goods they buy, he certainly does. Of course he cannot handle goods without a profit; we all know that. But now, see here: Suppose I am a carpenter or a miner or laborer of any sort; I work hard and it is all I can do to take decent care of my family and make both ends meet. My neighbor is a merchant. I need a new stove or sewing machine or any common article. I can send and get what I want at a moderate cost, but my neighbor, the merchant, would like to do my "sending off" and "spending the money away from home" for me, so he asks me to deal with him and then, of course, he is obliged to add a nice percentage to the cost of the article for his own pocket and expects me to pay it all. Now the only difference I can see between the merchant sending away for my goods and me sending for them myself is this: The merchant sends away to the city cost of the goods and has a percentage for his own pocket, while if I send for the goods myself I have that percentage for my own pocket. Now in which case is "the money sent away from home" and in which case is it "left at home?" I can see little difference between the two cases, only in the first case he holds the part of the retail price not sent away and in the other case I hold it, and I can put it in circulation at home—just as good as he can.

Every thriving community has its exports as well as its imports and when the exports and imports about balance each other in value there is no danger of a scarcity of money. Talk about trading farm produce for the things the farmer must buy. If the merchant can send away and get his potatoes, meat, and butter a cent cheaper than they can possibly be produced at home, the ones who love their fellow man so well that they will not do it are rare. Merchants are not merchants for the purpose of paying taxes or giving to charity, but they are merchants for their own profit. Why not everybody be their own merchant when ever possible and have the profits in their own pockets? Then we will have communities of people able to pay all the necessary taxes and build their own churches and buy firecrackers for the 4th of July, etc.

I have not here pretended to discuss this question as it might be discussed, as I would not ask for space to do it, but suffice it to say here yet that in this world everything is struggling for its own existence. Every man, either directly or indirectly, is looking after his own welfare. When men deal with men they try to deal for a profit to themselves. Woe unto the man, financially, if he tries to reverse this. So I must do. If I can get my goods I have to buy, from a mail order house cheaper than from a local merchant I am using poor judgment if I deal through the merchant whose profit is my loss.

C. F. DICKINSON, Westinghouse Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

We own and offer (in amounts to suit purchasers) the best industrial security ever offered to the investors of this community.

The controlling interest in Reynoldsville's new "STEEL PLANT" has recently been purchased by Pittsburg people who are old in the successful management of large iron and steel properties.

Necessary additions are being made to the equipment, and new and heavy machinery is being added. Upon completion of these improvements a full line of Alligator Shears, Cold Saws, Rolling-Mill and Contractors' Machinery will be extensively manufactured at the Company's works, and sold from their Pittsburg offices.

The assets of the Company as re-equipped will stand at $120,000.00 in round figures, against which the $30,000.00 of First Mortgage bonds are the first and prior lien.

The Company has issued $30,000.00 six per cent First Mortgage Gold Bonds in denomination of $100.00, $200.00, $500.00 and $1,000.00 each and we, the undersigned, have purchased a very large proportion of the entire issue.

The semi-annual interest, at the rate of six per centum, is payable on June 1st and December 1st of each year, at The Peoples National Bank, Reynoldsville, Pa.

These bonds are a first and prior lien on all of the real estate, buildings, machinery, equipments, franchises, property and revenues of the American Production Company, and a special condition in the mortgage provides that bonds to the amount of $2,500.00 shall be retired every year, after the first two years.

LEGALITY

These bonds have been issued under the supervision and advice of the following attorneys, viz: Messrs. Charles Corbett, of Brookville, Pa., Weil & Thorp, of Pittsburg, Pa., and G. M. McDonald, of Reynoldsville, Pa.; any of whom can vouch for the binding validity of these securities.

The undersigned being personally acquainted with the "STEEL PLANT" property, consider these bonds as the best of the kind ever offered in this community, and recommend them as a safe investment.

Prompt subscriptions for bonds in amounts from $100.00 up will be received by the undersigned at the price of par and accrued interest. Allotments will be made as subscriptions are received, the right being reserved to cease the allotment at any time.
