

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Color
Editor of the Woman's Relief Corps,
Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Col., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope. I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief, but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at once remove such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

Changes in British Views.

"Too many influences spoil the British" might be adopted as a proverb. Within the last quarter of a century the American woman has considerably altered the character of her British sister; the American business man has greatly changed that of his equivalent in England; the French have accustomed us to an attitude of mind which would have horrified our parents and the Germans have introduced their military spirit into a country which has always been opposed to a large standing army.—London Graphic.

Pacific Coast Cities.

Portland and Seattle rank next to San Francisco in importance among the ports of the Pacific coast of the United States. In 1900, when San Francisco had 343,000 inhabitants, Portland had 90,000 and Seattle had 80,000. Each of these towns was growing much faster than the California metropolises.

To Prevent Seasickness.

Anybody who has had a good case of seasickness must have felt that he would welcome the electric chair as a relief. Now an electric chair for seasickness has been tested in an English Channel steamer and an ocean liner. You sit in a snug armchair. A motor under the seat is connected with the ship's electric current. You sit and take vibratory treatment. Up and down and crosswise you are shaken. Most sitters need but one treatment. Their tendency to seasickness is vibrated out of them. Some need a second sitting. A few are seasick as soon as their treatment ends. It is a preventive, mark you, not a cure. The theory is that seasickness is essentially a nervous malady and that vibration reduces the nervousness. Certainly imagination and expectation have much to do with the disorder. Blessings on the new armchair if it can block quick-coming seasickness. But many believe and many doubt.—Everybody's Magazine.

The Keeley Motor.

About 1872, John W. Keeley, of Philadelphia, began his experiments in that city to attempt to develop to practical results a machine worked by power without cost, i. e. running itself. Nothing definite, however, was ever given out concerning this motor except the name, "Pneumatic-Pulsating-Vacuo-Engine," until the motor was denounced by a Boston lawyer as a huge fraud, run by a water motor in a sub-basement. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were lost by stockholders. The machine at last accounts was stored in Jamaica Plain. Keeley died in the fall of 1898.

Hot-Cross Buns.

Only 5,000,000 "hot-cross buns" were consumed in London on Good Friday, indicating the dying out of the custom. The cross-bun is the modern equivalent of the cakes eaten in honor of the Saxon goddess Eostre, from whose name the word Easter comes. Her worshippers became Christians, but unwilling to give up the buns, compromised by making them with a cross.

DISFIGURING SKIN HUMOR

Impossible to Get Employment, as Face and Body Were Covered With Sores.—Cured by Cuticura.

"Since the year 1894 I have been troubled with a very bad case of eczema which I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to cure, and I went to the hospital, but they failed to cure me, and it was getting worse all the time. Five weeks ago my wife bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap, and I am pleased to say that I am now completely cured and well. It was impossible for me to get employment, as my face, head and body were covered with it. The eczema first appeared on the top of my head, and it had worked all the way around down the back of my neck and around to my throat, down my body and around the hips. It itched so I would be obliged to scratch it, and the flesh was raw. I am now all well, and I will be pleased to recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all persons who wish a speedy and permanent cure of skin diseases. Thomas M. Rossiter, 290 Prospect Street, East Orange, N. J. Mar. 30, 1905."

CURED WOMAN'S FANCY

Surgeons Drug Her, Make Surface Wound and Show Her Lizard.

An extraordinary cure by auto-suggestion has just been performed in the Cochon hospital at Paris.

Recently a peasant woman from a village in Normandy applied for treatment at the hospital, saying she had a terrible monster in her stomach and wanted it taken out. She described the creature as having a head like a snake, and a long thin body and tail, with four short legs furnished with claws.

The surgeons had the woman put to bed and quite seriously nursed for a few days, preparatory to being operated on. Later she was placed under an anesthetic and a surface wound made upon her body which was duly bandaged with great care. When she regained consciousness she was shown a common gray lizard in a jug, which she was told had been taken out of her stomach. Ever since that time she has improved, now eats well and experiences no pain at all.

She will be given the lizard, which was bought by the surgeons in a bird store, to take back to her village and show her friends.

Origin of "The Levant."

Nowadays "The Levant" means solely that Eastern Mediterranean region upon which Lord Charles Beraford has been keeping his eye during the trouble with the sultan. But it really signifies the East in a general sense—the region of the rising sun, in fact—being derived from the French "lever," to rise. By "the High Levant" Bacon meant the Far East. In the eighteenth century Chambers' Encyclopedia explained that "Levant" applied to any country to the eastward of one, and in this sense Evelyn wrote of "more Levantine parts than Italy." "Levant," indeed, was interchangeable with "Orient," just as "Ponent" was with "Occident." So we find Milton writing of "Levant" and "Ponent" minds.—London Chronicle.

KNOWS NOW

Doctor Was Fooled by His Own Case For a Time.

It's easy to understand how ordinary people get fooled by coffee when doctors themselves sometimes forget the facts.

A physician speaks of his own experience:

"I had used coffee for years and really did not exactly believe it was injuring me, although I had palpitation of the heart every day.

"Finally one day a severe and almost fatal attack of heart trouble frightened me and I gave up both tea and coffee, using Postum instead, and since that time I have had absolutely no heart palpitation except on one or two occasions when I tried a small quantity of coffee which caused severe irritation and proved to me I must let it alone.

"When we began using Postum it seemed weak—that was because we did not make it according to directions—but now we put a little bit of butter in the pot when boiling and allow the Postum to boil full 15 minutes, which gives it the proper rich flavor and the deep brown color.

"I have advised a great many of my friends and patients to leave off coffee and drink Postum, in fact, I daily give this advice." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Many thousands of physicians use Postum in place of tea and coffee in their own homes and prescribe it to patients. "There's a reason."

Very curious is the method of fishing followed by the Chinese in the Straits of Malacca. The fisherman lets down from the side of a boat a screen of white canvas stretched on wood. The shoal of fish mistake this for some floating obstruction and try to leap over it, with the result that the fish jump into the boat and are thus captured. This method is employed by Malays in their waters.

Eastern City in Arizona.

Of all the cities of Arizona, Prescott is the most "Eastern" in its character; it never had an era of the "bad man," never a time when it was customary to serve "a man for breakfast," or when it was a safe and popular pastime to "shoot up the town." It has been from the start the centre of a prosperous, law-abiding community, bent upon personal and general improvement. Since the great fire which, four years ago, wiped out most of its business houses in a single night, it has grown with a rapidity and a substantial character and beauty seldom equaled. Before the smoke had cleared away men who had seen great stocks of merchandise go up in flame were doing business in tents set up along the plaza, and before the ruins were cool the debris were being cleared away and material for new buildings unloaded on the ground. There was a spirit of rivalry as to who should put up the handsomest buildings, and the city rose out of her ashes with new and larger beauty and went on her way as the business and mining centre of the north. But beyond her mines and business resources the homes and schools and churches of Prescott have always been her pride. A home town from the very beginning, it is still a city of homes. Mining men operating near have their homes in the city, and though in no sense seeking prominence as a resort for invalids, the climate has drawn many to permanent residence in the city and pine forest surrounding it. Prescott has now a population of about 7000 and is the largest city in northern Arizona.—Atchison Globe.

160,763 Babies in Kansas.

The total population of Kansas is 1,544,968, but this does not begin to tell the whole story of the decennial census. The population has increased 100,000 in the past five years and about 200,000 in the last ten years.

Babies in Kansas under five years old, 160,762.

Persons over eighty years old, 7063. Men subject to call in case of war, 316,732.

Of this number 251,956 are farmers. Of the total population 53.57 per cent. are over twenty-one years of age.

School children between five and twenty years, 532,636.

Negroes in the State, 51,067. Germans in the State, 43,124.

Of the total population of Kansas one-half was born in Kansas.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

Quarrying Ice—A New Industry.

The great glacier on Mount Blanc is being used for other purposes than furnishing an occupation to guides and an attraction for tourists. An ice trust has gone into the business on an extensive scale of quarrying the clear, hard ice, at an altitude of 4,000 feet. The ice is blown out in great blocks by means of dynamite, after which it is sawed into regular sizes and sent down the mountain on a narrow-gauge railway. Down in the valley it is loaded into freight cars and distributed through southern France.

Her Idea of Protection.

A woman canvasser in a recent British election campaign asked a laborer whether he was in favor of protection, and he replied by inquiring what it was. The question embarrassed the woman somewhat. She replied: "I cannot go into precise details at the moment, but it is a subject of vital importance to all who care for wild birds."

Longest of Steel Ropes.

In a short time Calumet may justly claim to have the largest steel wire rope in the world. The new rope will be used in the No. 4 shaft of the Calumet branch of the mine. The rope will have a length of 9,500 feet, which is not quite two miles in length. The diameter of this cable is 1 1/2 inches, which is somewhat heavier than the ordinary rope which is used in the mine work. At the present time the Calumet and Hecla had some cables which equal the one to be secured in length, but they are not as heavy as the new steel rope. It can be safely said that the new rope will be the longest of this character and thickness in the world.—Detroit Free Press.
