ON THE DEATH OF A CHILD.

Lines written by Mrs. Luther M. Wetzell, on the death of her infant daughter, Elizabeth, April 26, 1902.

Oh, Elizabeth, our darling, is it true that thou art gone—
That we never more shall see thee till the eternal day shall dawn?
Thou hast gone to God who gave thee, pure unspotted, as thou came;
There earth's sorrows we'er can touch thee, nor its losses, nor its pain.
Oh, thou wast so meek and gentle, patient, lovable and mild,
Such as thee the Savior spoke of when he took a little child
And in loving, tenderest accents his disciples he did teach
That of such is Heaven's Kingdom; if that Kingdom we would reach,
We must be as little children trusting ever in his word,
Knowing all is for our welfare if we only love the Lord.
We know not why thou wast taken, and our hearts do miss thee sore,
And our home is very lonely with our baby here no more.
But we bow in meek submission, gracious Lord unto thy will,
And we know naught can befall us that will harm or do us ill.
Though our grief is overwhelming, Thou our shield and buckler art,
And we know that thou art able to heal every wounded heart.
Therefore all we ask, dear Father, is to be as pure as she
When our time doth come for dying, whenever it may be;
Then we shall meet our precious treasure, never, never more to part.
Until that time comes dear Father, give us courage to take heart
And to do our part more bravely, be cheerful every day,
For Elizabeth's in heaven, and heaven is not far away.

Protection.

Every protection possible is offered depositors of Savings Banks in Pittsburg under the strict banking laws of the State of Pennsylvania. The Peoples Savings Bank of Pittsburg is subject to these laws and has served the public for forty years, during which time its affairs have been managed by the most conservative and solid business men of the city. Our booklet "Banking by Mail" explains why we can safely pay 4 per cent interest on savings, and the simplicity of our plan of receiving deposits by mail.

A Unique Legacy.

Perhaps the only legacy of its kind is that of an Italian lady, who recently bequeathed the sum of $3,000 to a paper, in testimony of the pleasure she had received from the perusal of its pages during her life. The gift will long remain the solitary object of the wonder and admiration of editors, who find cause for gratitude when their readers evince a willingness to pay their subscription.

Shabby Houses

It does not pay to let good property decrease in value for the want of a little paint. And painting need not be the costly item it so often is.

It is a question of good paint skillfully applied. Get a good painter and have him use
