Confession of Hipple Found in Which He Says Segal Got All the Money.

Charged with having defrauded the depositors of the Real Estate Trust Company, of Philadelphia, out of many millions of dollars, Adolph Segal, a promoter of many enterprises; William F. North, the treasurer of the trust company, and Marshall S. Collingwood, the assistant treasurer, were arrested at the instance of Dis-trict Attorney John C. Bell.

Segai was held in $25,000 bail and the two officers in $10,000 each. This turn in the affairs of the company is only one of the many sensa-Sons expected to develop in connection with the failure, which it is estimated will exceed $10,000,000 before Receiver Earle finishes his in-

BLAMES CASHIER

Stensland Says Hering Got Most of Stolen Money.

Paul O. Stensland made a confession to Assistant District Attorney Olsen, at Tangier, Morocco. It clears up much of the mystery surrounding the events leading up to the crash which involved the ruin of the Milwaukee Avenue Bank. He took much of the blame upon himself, but declared Cashler Hering was the forger and that Hering got most of the money. He exonorated his son Theodore and the directors. He declared it a lie that he had spent any money on Leone Langdon Key or any other woman. He declared that he never spent more than $5,000 a year himself and that all the money he took he put into real estate or investments in the hope of "making good."

THE IRON TRADE

Contracts Made for Large Tonnage of Non-Bessemer Grades. The "Iron Trade Review" says:

'Makers of pig iron, impressed by the firmness of iron ore sellers in de-clining to quote prices for next year and by the soundness of the reasons given for refusing, are less insistent, but content themselves by making reservations to meet their requirements for the year ending May, Hence, although no actual sales have been made, practically all of the Bessemer ore to be mined next year has been spoken for, as well as large tonnage of non-Bessemer grades

The pig iron market is still active and in some districts prices are higher, but the disposition noted last week to place orders with more deliberation is still clearly in evidence. Con-ditions may on the whole be best de-Conscribed by the somewhat over-worked expression 'sane and safe.

'In most buying centers the shortage of pig iron for prompt shipment is not much relieved and the shortage of cars is making delivery from Southern points very slow, but willingness of some buyers to pay high prices for spot has acted like magic in bringing tonnages from unexpected

Reports from Country Districts Say That Two-Thirds of the People Are Insurgents.

Col. Sima's detachment of rural guards encountered a band of 50 insurgents near Canasi, in Havana pro-vince. The rural guards charged the insurgents and killed two of them including the leader, Antonio Gon-zales, with machetes, and captured The insurgents then scattersix.

Sixty insurgents at Santiago de las Vegas, 10 miles from Havana, broke into stores, seized provisions, arms and ammunition, supplied themselves with horses, cut the telephone wires and rode out of town with shouts for the liberal party and the constitution. The most conservative testimony from the country districts of the provinces of Pinar Del Rio, Havana Santa Clara is that two-thirds of the people in the country and small towns of these three provinces are insurgents.

The managers of the insurrection have permitted the publication of a document purporting to have been found in an abandoned rebel camp, but which, it is stated, was first is-sued in Havana and the original of which is in a deposit vault United States, signed by leading conspirators, which gives the full program of the revolutionists' policy.

GREAT REVIEW OF WARSHIPS

One Vessel for Every State in Gallant Fleet Off Oyster Bay.

NOTHING TO MAR THE PROGRAM

Hundreds of Excursion Craft Toss on the Choppy Seas of Long Island Sound.

On the waters of Long Island sound, within view of Sagamore Hill, the President of the United States reviewed the greatest fleet of American warships ever assembled.

There was a ship of war for every State, 45 in all, ranging in size from the magnificent 16,000-ton Louisiana, just completed, to the fleet little torpedo boat and the submarine and including one troop ship and colliers. In three columns there stretched along the sound twelve battleships, four armored cruisers, four protected cruisers, four monitors, six destroy ers, six torpedo boats, three submar ines, a troop ship and five auxiliaries In peace paint of spotless white, wreathed in rainbows of flags, ship rails manned "close aboard," the splendid fleet underwent the mony of inspection by the President of the United States.

As the Mayflower dropped her an-chor at the head of the fleet on the completion of the review the President descended from the bridge, his face wreathed in smiles and, enthusiastically throwing his arms around the shoulders of a group of Senators and Representatives, exclaimed: "Any man who fails to be patriotically inspired by such a sight as this is a mighty poor American and every American who has seen it ought to be a better American for it." The sentiment was echoed enthusithe astically by the group around

When the Mayflower reached the head of the column to begin the re-view shortly after 11 o'clock the fleet was completely surrounded by fully 500 boats large enough to weather the blow and loaded with sightseers to their full capacity.

The reception and luncheon, which

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, assisted by Secretary Bonaparte and Mrs. Bonaparte tendered to the three Rear Admirals and the commanding officers of all the ships after review was a picturesque feature of the occasion.

The reception and luncheon occupled an hour and then the President left the Mayflower with Secretary Bonaparte and Secretary Loeb, to pay visits to the three Admirals and to the troopship Yankee, just in with detachment of marines from Santo Domingo. The President made brief address to the Marines in which he complimented them highly. VERMONT ELECTION

Secretary Wilson Says Labels Must Be On Canned Goods.

Secretary Wilson told the representatives of the meat packing interests he had no authority to extend be-yond October 1 the placing of labels on canned or other meat products. He told the packers flatly that they must be prepared on that date to properly label their canned goods or they would not be permitted to send them through the channels of interstate commerce.

The question was raised as to the status of the goods now on shelves of the wholesale and retail merchants of the country. The secretary said it was manifestly for the government to inspect them. The owners or holders the goods, he suggested, would have to take their chances on selling them. One thing was certain: They could not be shipped from one state to another. The law does not prohibit their sale where they happen now to be. The disposal of such goods will be dependent upon the desire of the
