ORGANIZE BOARD OF TRADE.

Every Live Town Should Have Some Such Organization.

There has been talk for some time of organizing a board of trade in Reynoldsville, but so far it has only ended in talk. It is a well known fact that the towns that prosper have a board of trade or some kind of an organization that can be referred to when some person representing a large industry comes around looking for a location, and we ought not to be lagging behind. We have good sites, cheap fuel, plenty of water, railroad facilities, &c. No other town has anything better to offer, but we must make our town and its advantages known outside of our own community, and one of the ways to do that is to get a live board of trade that will come in touch with the industrial world. When a town lacks sufficient push and enterprise to have a board of trade, although it may have many natural advantages, live business men who are looking for locations are not as favorably impressed as they would be if representatives of a board of trade would meet them and show them around. Everybody's business is nobody's business. When a stranger comes to town looking for some person to show him around there is no person in particular to whom he can be sent, but of course after looking around some person can be found that will take enough interest in the matter to show him our sites, and tell what natural advantages we have.

How much more business like it would be when a stranger comes to town representing an industry that is contemplating a removal to a new site to refer him to the president of the board of trade. Most any person could then direct him to the person for whom he is looking. Without a board of trade to whom could you direct such a man?

Why not organize a board of trade, and why not organize it in September, 1906? Some person say where the meeting shall be held and we will announce it in THE STAR next week.

Mr. Mitchell has been in business in Kane for several years and is well and favorably known there. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and daughter have made many friends here who sincerely and deeply regret their leaving Clearfield and it is but due to say that Mr. Mitchell is very highly esteemed in both business and socially for his genial manhood and sterling business integrity.—Clearfield Public Spirit.

Mr. Yeager is a native of West Va., and has had many years experience in the timber business, and is thoroughly posted in the timber tracts of that section, knowing where all the best ones are. I have spent most all my life in the lumber business, and we feel we are competent to pass judgment on a piece of timber when we see it, and we aim to make a personal investigation of every piece we list for sale. Those wanting timber or coal lands will do well to communicate with our main office, Yeager & Parrish, Marlinton, West Va., or with me at my home address, Reynoldsville, Pa.

Double Track to Indiana.

It has been given out officially that the B., R. & P. railroad will build a double track from Punxsutawney to Indiana, estimates for the work having been completed last week. Sufficient right-of-way property was purchased at first and bridges and trestles all constructed with this double track in view. The tremendous coal out-put demands it now and if two more mines are to be opened at Isella and one at Homer City the double track will be an imperative necessity. Work will be begun at once as the estimated out-put for January first will be 50,000 tons. The daily production now is more than 31,000 tons.—Punxsutawney Republican.

Do Not Burn Off Old Paint

You will have to do so if you use hard, inelastic paint; but there is a better way.

Use old-fashioned white lead and linseed oil paint. It wears down uniformly, without that scaling off which disfigures so many modern houses, and is ready for re-painting with out burning or scraping.

Sterling Pure White Lead

(Made by the Old Dutch Process)

is just such an old-fashioned paint.

Our booklet will tell you about it, and give you other paint information valuable to the house-owner.
