As a dialect character "Oleson" is a decided success. The speech of the Swede is one that lends itself readily to comedy use and the way that the English language gets tangled up is decidedly amusing. Waiting Room Needed.
The Jefferson Traction Company should have some kind of a station or waiting room at the end of the trolley line in Reynoldsville. As it is now, passengers coming off trains and want to go out on trolley have to stand around on the street to wait for the cars. When the Adams Express office was in the Shaffer building that was considered a public place and people were permitted to wait there without much of an annoyance to any one, but now that is a private residence, and yet people continue to gather on the front porch and wait for the cars, just as if it was a public place. This is done because it was permitted for a time and because the trolley company has not provided a waiting room.
A Little Romance.
A gentleman wearing a blue suit, Grand Army button and who has been the snows of seventy winters, giving Oil City as his home address, came to town ten days ago to be united in marriage to a widow whom he had never seen. The engagement was made by correspondence, through the assistance of relatives of the widow who reside in Oil City. All arrangements were made for the wedding and the marriage was to have taken place on Monday, Sept. 24. The groom arrived in town on 22nd to be on time to claim his bride, but alack he came to soon, for by the 24th they had quarrelled and the engagement was declared off, much to the disappointment of the man from Oil City. However, his heart, apparently, was not badly lacerated, as he informed a representative of THE STAR that if he could find a wife he would get married.
Organize Board of Trade.
Two weeks ago an article was published in THE STAR suggesting that a board of trade be organized in Reynoldsville, showing the advantages to the business interests of the town in having a live board of trade, but no one has made a move yet toward the organization of such a board. This matter should be taken up this month and a live board organized. Last week the editor of this paper received a communication from an industry looking for a location, but there was no person in particular to whom the matter could be referred. As stated in the previous article, if we had a board of trade all communications from persons looking for locations could be handed to the president of the board and the matter would receive prompt and careful consideration. We should have a board of trade, and it should be organized promptly.

The Brockwayville Record says: Margaret Jane Morrison was born in Beechwoods, near Brockwayville, on the old Morrison homestead December 24th, 1847, and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison deceased. She spent the greater part of her life in the Beechwoods country and died within a few miles from the place of her birth. His partner in the rich find is L. W. Riggan. The mine is located near Troy, Arizona. The Blade, of Florence, Arizona, says they struck a four foot vein quartzites and the vein gauge is principally a rose quartz, and some of it is phenomenally rich in free gold, valued at $400.00 per ton. Some selected specimens will assay $100,000 in gold. The average of the entire four foot of vein matter is very high.

WON FIRST GAME OF SEASON.
Our High School Football Team Defeated Punxsutawney Team.
Friday's football game, when the Punxsutawney high school team lined up against our local high school boys, drew a large crowd of enthusiasts. It was ideal football weather and the game was decidedly interesting. Under the new rules the plays are in the open and easily seen from the side lines. All which, accompanied by some unusually clever playing, made Friday's game quite spectacular and well worth witnessing. Even those who had attended the practice games of our high school team were surprised at the development and skill exhibited.
When the visitors appeared, neatly uniformed, well equipped and considerably outweighing the local team, it looked pretty dubious for Reynoldsville. However, the home team played with a vigor, alertness and snap that seemed entirely foreign to the visitors. Punxsy was outclassed in the using of interference and one of the features of the game was when Harris broke away for a 30 yard run. Sykes was there with him, running interference. The spectators were highly delighted when Reynolds met a play coming around left end and tackled in such a manner as to carry the runner back for a loss of five yards. And again were the rooters given an opportunity to cheer when Nolan made a fast and hard diving tackle of a Punxsy warrior who had a good start towards Reynoldsville's goal. The manner in which Seelye outplayed and frightened his opponent caused much comment and amusement. The visitors could not gain through the opposite line, even with their burly fullback and when within striking distance of Reynoldsville's goal they were held for downs. The work of Captain Hoffman was especially good. The game ended 11 to 0 in favor of Reynoldsville. It was a well-earned victory and one requiring much merit to win.
We are assured now that our local team is up to the required standard. They have the spirit and pluck and are working hard for skill and speed. Our neighboring towns will have to sit up and take notice. A return game will be played at Punxsutawney on next Saturday. On Saturday a week DuBois will play on the local gridiron.
Merl Plyler, of the DuBois Canby company, who was slated to pitch in the base ball game this morning between the Elk team and Commercial Travelers, met with a peculiar accident. He had pitched but four balls in the game and while in the act of pitching the fifth one, he snapped the bone between the elbow and the shoulder.
There was a loud snap and the ball rolled off towards foul ground. Mr. Plyler was put in a buggy and taken over town where an examination disclosed the fact that the bone was broken. It is thought that it had been injured some time previous and the effort of throwing a curve caused it to snap off.—DuBois Express, Saturday, Sept. 29.
Mr. Plyler resided at Reynoldsville several years ago and is well known here.
"Ole Oleson" Coming.
"Ole Oleson," a play that has long been a favorite with theater-goers will be at the Reynolds opera house to-night.
