Mr. Buck was here during the reunion of the 105th.

A large number of old people attended the "Old Folks' Day" service in the M. E. church Sunday morning. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the church, preached an appropriate sermon from this text: "For which cause we faint not, but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day."

C. Harris of Japan, and other bishops and prominent men in the Methodist Episcopal church.

The Peterson Business College foot ball team of Punxsutawney played a game with the Reynoldsville high school team at this place last Thursday afternoon and was badly defeated. The score was 45-0 in favor of the Reynoldsville team. On account of two of the regular high school players being unable to get in the game the home team was not strictly a high school team. John Foust, of the "Indian" team, played, and as John is a husky fellow he gave good account of himself in the game. The regular high school team would have easily defeated the visitors. The boys can play a nice game.

Frank Davidson has this year surrounded himself with the strongest company obtainable, and carries all the scenery, mountings and mechanical effects for the perfect production of his plays. Board of Trade.

A meeting for the organization of a board of trade was held in Centennial hall last Friday evening. The attendance was not as large as it should have been. The business places and professional men represented was one dry goods store, one confectionery, one bank, one jewelry store, one machine shop, two hotels, two newspapers, three lawyers, one doctor, a few property owners. Everybody should be interested, as the object of a board of trade is to benefit the town in general, not a few individuals.

The committee appointed at a previous meeting to draft a constitution and by-laws, made their report, which was accepted. A committee of six, Lawyer G. M. McDonald, Lawyer S. M. McCreight, Lawyer Clement W. Flynn, C. A. Stephenson, A. T. McClure, and A. T. Bing, was appointed to make application for a charter.

As soon as the charter is obtained permanent officers will be elected, committees appointed and the board of trade will be ready to do business.

The old favorite, Frank Davidson will be with us Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Don't fail to see him.

LECTURE COURSE.

Magnificent Treat Arranged for Reynoldsville People This Winter.

The school lecture course for the coming year has been arranged. The talent secured is the very best that two of our largest lyceum bureaus can offer. The merits of the different numbers exceed those of last year. The price paid is greater. And a greater patronage is solicited. Last year's school entertainment, excepting the Junior contest, netted $112. The contest brought in $103. Every dollar made in this way goes to lesson school taxes.

The first number will be Hon. Benjamin R. Tillman, South Carolina's renowned senator. There is no greater man in our national Senate or few greater characters among our national statesmen. His speeches are heralded throughout the land. That he is coming to Reynoldsville and will speak in our Assembly hall should be hailed with delight by all and none should miss the opportunity to hear one of America's greatest men. His subject will be "A Plea for the People."

The course also includes the widely known humorist, Mr. Gillallon, who is the president of the National Association of Humorists of America. Mr. Gillallon is one of the largest contributors to Judge. He is also writer for the Chicago News and Baltimore American. Many courses in our cities feature Gillallon as the star number. He has great power with his audience, producing uproarious laughter, which soon changes to tears.

Dr. Green, famous on the lecture platform for his lecture, "The Twentieth Century," will also be present. That he comes recommended highly by Admiral Dewey, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, by Secretary of Treasury Shaw, by Dr. Gonsaulus of Chicago and others as prominent is sufficient guarantee of his superior ability.

The musical numbers will be filled by the Lyric Glee Club of Chicago, who carry also a leader of high merit, and the Lela Tyler Gates Company. Both of these companies were selected from a large number, all of which are considered the very best attractions doing lyceum work.

We have aimed to make this course the best Reynoldsville has ever had and we believe we have succeeded. There is not one mediocre number on the course. That such an effort and risk has been made to bring the best talent possible to secure, merits large patronage.

The general admission tickets are now on sale at Stoke and Feicht Drug store for one dollar.

KILLED BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Mrs. Julia Flora, of Anita, Shot Joe Flora—Woman Now in Jail.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Julia Flora, wife of Ralph Flora, shot and killed her brother-in-law, Joe Flora, at her home in Anita. Two bullets hit the man, either one of which would have killed him. One bullet crashed through his brain and the other one struck him over right breast and pierced the lung. After shooting the man the woman did not wait to see whether he was dead or not, but immediately went to the home of an uncle about a mile away from her home, where she was arrested later by one of the state police.

Mrs. Flora is about 22 years old, a nice looking Italian woman. Is the mother of two children, one four years and the other one year old. According to her statement her brother-in-law had been annoying her frequently when her husband was at work for about two years. He wanted her to poison his brother and marry him. He made base propositions to her which she would not grant and because she would not yield to his base passions and desires, he threatened to kill her. On Friday, soon after his brother had gone to work, Joe went to the home and made threats against Mrs. Flora if she would not grant his request. He pulled a revolver out of his pocket and laid it on a table to take off his coat, and while taking off his coat Mrs. Flora grabbed the revolver and fired two shots with deadly effect.

Mrs. Flora was charged with murder and Monday afternoon was taken through Reynoldsville to Brookville jail to await trial at the next term of court for murder. Mrs. Flora took her one-year-old daughter to Brookville with her.

ALLEN CATHERS DIED FRIDAY.

Was Stricken While Husking Corn in Barn—Found Unconscious.

Allen Cathers, an esteemed farmer of Winslow township, died suddenly on Friday, October 19, 1906. He was husking corn in the barn Friday forenoon and about eleven o'clock he was called for dinner. He did not come promptly, as was his custom, and some member of the family went into the barn to see what delayed him and he was found on the barn floor in an unconscious condition. He was carried to the house and a doctor hastily summoned, but Mr. Cathers did not regain consciousness and expired about 2:00 p. m. The announcement of his death was a shock to his many friends and neighbors, as he was considered a strong, robust man. He had been doctoring several months for heart trouble, but his case was not considered dangerous.

Allen Cathers was born in Jefferson county in 1839, and would have been 67 years old in December. About 27 years ago he was united in marriage to Mary Ludwick, whom, with three sons and three daughters, survives deceased. The children are: James Cathers, of Colorado Springs, Col., Thomas S. Cathers, of Gallon, Ohio, John Cathers, of Hoboken, near Pittsburgh, Misses Ruth, Margaret and Ethel at home.

Politically, Mr. Cathers was a Democrat. He was elected two or three terms as school director in Winslow township.

Funeral service was held in the Syphrit M. E. church at 2:00 p. m. yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Selner, of Luthersburg. Interment was made in the Syphrit cemetery. Priester Bros. had charge of the funeral.

Gen. Sickles Couldn't Come.

An invitation was sent to General D. E. Sickles, one of the leading figures in the great battle at Gettysburg, to attend the reunion of the 105th Regiment Pa. Vol., held in this place last week, but he was unable to be present. John M. Hays, of Reynoldsville, who was secretary of the association last year, received the following letter from Gen. Sickles:

23 Fifth Ave., N. Y.
Oct. 16, 1906.

My Dear Comrade:—

I wish I could attend the 10th reunion of the 105th Pennsylvania Veteran Volunteers on the 18th inst. Unfortunately, I shall be prevented from doing so by engagements already made for that day.

Kindly convey my best wishes to the survivors of your noble regiment who may attend the reunion, and assure them of the high regard I have always felt for the 105th. Their record is a heritage to the descendants of every officer and man in the regiment. With best wishes for all, believe me,

Sincerely yours,
D. E. SICKLES.

Tried to Save Old Flag.

S. D. Ham, who was terribly burned on face and hands in trying to save an old flag when his house was destroyed by fire at Frogtown, Clarion Co., about five months ago, was one of the old veterans who attended the reunion of the 105th Regiment at Reynoldsville last week. Mr. Ham was color-bearer in the 78th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, and he had an old bullet-riddled flag in his possession which he had carried three years and a half in the army, and he prized the flag very highly. When he discovered that his house was on fire he ran into the parlor to save the old flag and was dragged out of the building by his son in an unconscious condition. His hands were so badly burned that he has had no use of them since and may never have. He has to be fed and waited on like a child. Mr. Ham now resides at Falls Creek. He and his wife visited at the home of E. L. Johnston, Peter Burkett and other places in town last week and took in the reunion.

OLD VETERANS HAD AN ENJOYABLE REUNION.

Survivors of the 105th Pa. Volunteers Marched Behind their Battle-Scarred Flag Once More.

The nineteenth annual reunion of the 105th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, held in Reynoldsville last week was a pleasant and delightful occasion for the old veterans. A request had been made that the townspeople decorate their places of business and residences in honor of the survivors of the noble regiment, and as a consequence "old glory" was conspicuous along Main street and on some of the side streets.

The veterans began coming into town on Wednesday and when the roll was called Thursday 116 members of the 105th regiment were present, ten less than answered to the roll call two years ago when the reunion was held here. Some of those who attended the reunion here in 1904 have since responded to the last bugle call. There were a number of other old soldiers here besides members of the 105th, also a number of Sons of Veterans and members of W. R. C.

The 105th headquarters was at the opera house. The forenoon was spent in greeting one another and talking of army life. At noon the Woman's Relief Corps served a free dinner in the I. O. O. F. banquet hall to all old soldiers and wives, Sons of Veterans and wives and members of the W. R. C. Over 400 people were given dinner. The Relief Corps served supper in the same place but charged each person 25 cents. About 300 suppers were served.

At 1:30 the parade took place with the Keystone band, old veterans, Sons of Veterans and pupils from West Reynoldsville public schools in line. They marched up Main street to Eighth and up Eighth to the public school building, stopping on Grant street side of the building. The pupils marched out of the building, each one carrying a flag, and formed in solid mass in front of the soldiers and sang two or three patriotic songs, waving the flags as they sang. It was an inspiring and very pretty sight. Col. L. Bird Duff and Rev. Charles H. Prescott made very brief addresses, the veterans giving three cheers for the school children and then formed in line and marched down Grant, down Seventh and down Main street to headquarters.

At the business meeting after the parade the invitation to hold the reunion in DuBois in 1907 was accepted. L. G. Syphrit, of DuBois, was elected vice-president, and Comrade Milliren, of DuBois, secretary. Col. L. Bird Duff has been elected president of the reunion association for life.

The camp-fire was held in the Reynolds opera house Wednesday evening. Mayor L. L. Gourley made the address of welcome, which was responded to by Col. Duff in a very humorous and interesting address. During the evening addresses of reminiscence and amusing incidents of army life were made by Col. O. C. Redie, of Butler, Capt. J. M. Shoaf, of West Elizabeth, Col. D. W. Goheen, of New Bethlehem, Capt. S. A. Craig, of Brookville, H. Clay Campbell, Esq., of Punxsutawney, and J. K. Wilson, who has a medal from the U. S. Congress for being the youngest soldier to bear arms in the war of the rebellion. Interspersed with the speeches was music by the Keystone band. All things considered the nineteenth annual reunion of the "Wildcat" regiment was a complete success.

Married in DuBois.

Merrill E. Plyler, formerly of Reynoldsville, who has been in the employ of the DuBois Candy Company four years, and Miss Lulu Murdock, also of DuBois, were married at 9:00 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 17, 1906, at the home of the bride's parents in DuBois. The DuBois Courier says:

"Mr. and Mrs. Plyler are among the most highly esteemed young people in town. Mr. Plyler is the manager of the DuBois Candy Company's store, with which he has been connected for the past four years, and his bride was for several years cashier at Munch Bros. grocery. They have a host of friends who wish them a world of happiness."
