"The Man from Borneo."

When the Rev. J. M. Hunter spoke before the recent great M. E. missionary convention in Pittsburg, giving an account of his missionary experiences in the island of Borneo, he spoke so entertainingly and with such vivid realism that the press jokingly referred to him as the "wild man from Borneo." The people of Reynoldsville will have an opportunity to hear him Sundey evening, November 4th, when he will speak in the Methodist Episcopal church. For many years Rev Hunter and his wife were almost alone among the semisavage inhabitants of Borneo and his account of life in that island is worth going to hear.

The death of Rev. Sam. Jones has been the means of embarrassing the plans of Superintendent R. B. Teitrick in the work for arranging the program for teachers' institute. Rev. Jones was one of the attractions for the evening entertainments and Supt. Tetrick is having some trouble in securing a suitable substitute. Jones was a popular favorite with the people of this county and his entertainment during institute was looked forward to by many admirers.-Brock wayville Record.

The county commissioners informed us on Monday of this week that they had lifted $10,000 more of our county bonds, making $27,000 in all that has been paid of county debt since January 1st, of this year. And they further stated that this took up all the county bonds that were outstanding, as well as $10,000 of a temporary loan made last year. The poor house bonds are all that are outstanding now. Aside from the poorhouse liability, the county is now out of debt-Brookville Democrat.

The speech of Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, was as great as any speech that has been delivered since Webster's time. It swept over the senate like a Texas norther, destroying while it purified. bringing helth while it seemed to blast. Senatorial traditions crumbled under the fierce invective of the South Carolinian. Urged by the consciousness that he represented a State, knowing that he had gone, at his people's demand, from the plow handles to the governorship, from the governor ship to the senatorship of the United States-he stood squarely by the people as against those who would exact tribute from them .- Trenton, N. J., Herald. At Assembly Hall Friday evening, Nov. 2.

The County Home.

Jefferson county has one of the best county homes in the state so far as our knowledge extends. The farm, the home proper, the inmates, and all connected with the institution are well managed and well cared for. Mr. Shields, the superintendent, is doing his work well in all directions. The indigent poor of the county are better cared for now than they were under the old system, and at much less expense Indeed it is surprising how cheaply the indigent poor of the county are maintained. The amount of produce raised on the farm this year is surprising. Here is a statement of some of the crops: Nearly a thousand bushels of potatoes, a thousand bushels of oats, 580 bushels of buckwheat, 1000 bushels of corn, from 80 to 90 tons of hay, besides a large amount of cabbage, turnips, beets beans, and other products of that character. And it was all done at a comparatively small cost, and at a very reasonable expense. In addition to all the stuff raised on the farm, it produced all the mest used in the home, beef and pork.

So far the county home has been blessing to our indigent poor, and has been well and carefully managed .-Brookyille Democrat.

The party arrived at Walston at exactly 1 minute and 31 seconds ahead of schedule time, by Sue Reynolds' watch. There the party was met by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMillen, son and two daughters, and Dr. J. M. Stiver Marching from the depot to the residence of Mr. Lowther, we were held up at the entrance to the grounds by Mr. Lowther's private constabulary, who were armed to the teeth, and demanded the "Counter sign and Password." This being delivered by Commodore William Copping, we were permitted by the "Irishman" in charge of the constabulary to pass on. Arriving at the house we were given a hearty welcome and told the place was ours. The ladies of the party took possession and soon an elegant dinner was served After ainner it was discovered there were too many tables, chairs, rugs, etc. in one of the parlors and they were quickly removed to the side porch and there the fun began. Allison, who says, 'He's always in the way," started the 'ball a rolling" with several "gude ould" Scotch songs, which was followed by his accomplished daughter and from that time until the trolley whistle said 'go home", Miss Reynolds, Miss Allison, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. H. L. McEntire and Mrs. Lowther kept the plano peel ing forth its beautiful strains while comrade Dave Reynolds and-some more of the "kids," who are nearing his age "tripped the light fantastic toe" as they used to when they were 'only sweet sixteen." Everything was "Oh, be joyful" from start to finish. At 11.15 ice cream and case were served, Mr. and Mrs. Lowther sang some of their songs. When the trolley car made the announcement that it was time for old and young to start for home, all voted, "a better time could not have been had," said good night and the conductor shouted "All aboard." At 1 a. m. we were seated around our own fire side, laughing and rehearsing the pleasant events of the evening and wishing many more such good times.

Senator Tillman Coming.

The Senator announced at the outset that he was 'on his good behavior. but that did not prevent him from acting up to his reputation as a speaker who does not "mince matters," and some of his points were as virile as they vers glittering. He is nothing if he is not original, but behind the rugged speech there is no room to question his sincerity. From first to last Mr. Tillman swayed his aud'ence, and at times he carried his auditors to a high pitch of enthusiasm.-Richmond Dispatch.

It Was a Swell Affair-Expensive and Beautiful Gowns and Great Display of Diamonds

Never in the history of defferson county has there been such a large and swell wedding among the lowish people of the county as the marriage of Miss Sadie Katzen, daughter of M.
