Miss Robinson substituted in the absence of Miss Lawrence for a few days.

Thursdays and Friday's vacation only increased the desire for the vacation soon to follow. So work hard and the time shall "Skidoo."

In chapel last Wednesday morning we were delighted to hear a good song from twelve of our little maidens and a short recitation by master Russell McCraith.

Falling snowflakes induce falling class grades.

Society on Thursday afternoon instead of Friday.

It's not all gold that glitters.

Some of the High School Seniors forget the Golden Rule and they return instead "Evil for Good."

Miss Aldie Means spent Thanksgiving at her home near Frostburg.

Misses Naomi Mitchell and Malissa Sensor spent Friday and Saturday in DuBois.

The pupils of the upper floor were greatly benefited by Professor Scott's talk in chapel Monday morning. He gave a bright contrast between two lives, one led midst fashion and jollity the other, poor but humble, using for examples the great feast of Herod. In a great castle with frescoed walls and rich furniture where tables are spread with every luxury and draped with a mass of vines and daintily tinted flowers where only gaiety and good cheer abound.

Then the picture is drawn of another feast where again a large multitude assemble where the castle is perhaps more beautiful and the surroundings as gay. This is the feast of the thousands who ate the two loaves and five fish and were filled. The walls were the hills adorned with lakes and rivers, the roof was the sky clear and unblemished. Mr. Scott brought the comparison out clearly by a very beautiful interpretation of recondite facts in nature and life. Mr. Scott's contempt for wrong, and his confidence in the sufficiency in each individual, led him to point out the foundations of life that will last and those that easily fall to ruin.

Miss Lawrence teacher of room 13 spent Thanksgiving at her home.

To a brilliant Junior—Take your shower baths in Summer. You will profit thereby.

The R. H. S. plays the Indiana five to-night. A good, fast game is expected. The Indiana five have been practicing against the Olympic's and are confident of winning. This is the first game the High School plays at home and as there is a big expense we would like to see everybody there that has not a good excuse.

As Eugene Murray was meandering around the gym at Ridgway he went into the bath room and saw on a shower bath these words, "hot and cold," so he turned on the hot water expecting to have some water come from a faucet below, but instead a perfect deluge of water came down his back and neck. Eugene had only one shirt so he had to go to bed while it dried.

Graydon—Say Marsh what are those Roman candles hanging around the rooms for.

Marsh—Why they are the Acme Fire extinguishing tubes.

The R. H. S. Champ's took the Ridgway five into camp by the score of 22-21. It was a close, exciting game. Marsh carried off the honors for the R. H. S. by his spectacular one handed goal shooting. It was Greek meet Greek and the best team won. At the end of the first half the score stood 7-7 and the game anybody's. The R. H. S. were handicapped on account of the small floor which made it impossible for them to get in any team work. It was a hard fought battle and the game was not won until the whistle blew for time. A look of satisfactions spread over the face of the Champ's, when they found that they had put another scalp into their belt. This makes the second game they have played and won. Line up.

For All Weathers WALK-OVER SHOE FOR MEN

Are the very best procurable. The men who work on Walk-Over shoes know that only perfect work will be accepted. The leather is thoroughly stretched over the last and permitted to remain until thoroughly shaped. As a result, no amount of hard wear in any kind of weather can affect the shape of the shoe. It will have the same shapely appearance when it goes to the ash barrel, at the end of months of faithful service, that it had when it was first placed upon the foot. It will take but one pair of shoes to demonstrate to you their sterling worth.
