Rheumatism Crazes the Mind

URIC-O, An Internal Treatment for the Blood—It is Widely Recommended as a Cure.

Every sufferer from Rheumatism is familiar with the sleepless nights, and nerve binding, muscle twisting pains which they have to endure. Vapor baths have been used, Mt. Clemens has been visited, and hundreds of dollars spent in search of relief. There is but little use of other experiments, as relief and a permanent cure for all forms of Rheumatism can only be found in Smith's Specific Uric-O. It matters little how long one has suffered from the trouble, or how intense the suffering, Uric-O will cure you. It cures by its direct action upon the blood; muscles, and kidneys, neutralizing poisonous uric and rheumatic acids. Druggists and Physicians everywhere are recommending Uric-O, because they know that at last there has been a remedy prepared which actually cures the disease. Uric-O is manufactured by the Smith Drug Company, Syracuse, N. Y. Is supplied to users in large size bottles, which sell for $1.00. Your Druggist can supply you with the remedy, or you can order direct. Samples and circulars will be forwarded free to all who apply. Use Uric-O for Rheumatism only. It may possibly save your life.

Uric-O is sold in Reynoldsville by the Stoke & Felcht Drug Co.

Al. Prescott For Senator.

There is a big contest on in the state of Michigan for the office of United States Senator. There are a number of active candidates, including three or four members of the House from that State, but none of them seem to have anything like a firm grip on it.

In conversation with a gentleman yesterday who is well versed in Michigan politics he said that he would not be much surprised if Allen Prescott, of Bay City, present Secretary of State of Michigan, should come in as a dark horse and win out.

"The State Administration has not yet showed its hand," he said, "but it is generally believed that Prescott is the man the administration prefers. Besides, Prescott is popular with everybody, and the active candidates for the office would prefer him to any of their opponents, because Prescott is not a candidate, and has done nothing antagonistic to the interests of any of them."

The same authority said that while Mr. Prescott was not a talker, and would not do any oratorical stunts in the Senate, he had other qualities that were more valuable than the ability to pump hot air, and that he would make an excellent working Senator, the kind that the practical people from the Badger State most admired.

Allen Prescott is an old Reynoldsville boy, having been born and reared in that classic town, and it would be specially gratifying to the old inhabitants, and it would in a measure raise the credit of every one of its residents, if one of its products should reach the exalted position of United States Senator.

The older citizens of Reynoldsville will remember "Al." Prescott as a robust flaxen-haired boy, so full of animal spirits that he could scarcely contain himself, and popular with everybody on account of his generous impulses. He is a son of Rev. C. H. Prescott, who began his career as a lumberman at Prescotville, and subsequently went to Michigan, and latter to Cleveland, Ohio, where he has prospered so well that he is numbered among the numerous millionaires of that city.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Turkey Supper.

The members of the Presbyterian Brotherhood served a turkey supper in the Presbyterian chapel last Thursday evening, which was well patronized. In fact the patronage surpassed the expectations of the men and the culinary departed was exhausted before all the people were served. One hundred and sixty people were served with supper. It was a new experience for the men and they were too generous with turkey in serving the first tables and that was what caused the frustration among the cooks and waiters later in the evening. The ladies did not help in any way in getting up the supper or waiting on the tables, it was strictly in the hands of the men and it was an excellent supper. There were cut flowers on the tables and everything was as nicely arranged as the most fastidious could ask for. We understand the supper was given more for a social event than a money making affair, and it was a success socially. The Park Theatre orchestra furnished music during the supper hour.

Arrangements had been made for a number of toasts after the people had all been served with turkey, &c., but the shortage in provisions, which the men had not calculated on, delayed matters some in getting a new supply and the toasts were not given.

FARM GARDEN

THE CATALPA.

Cutting Back in Order to Secure Straight Growth.

The picture shows an Ohio man who is interested in farm forestry standing by a catalpa that had made three months' growth after being cut back last spring. This cutting back of the catalpa is very necessary with many of the trees in order that a straight body may be secured, but there is danger of the new shoot breaking on account of rapid growth. When a tree has grown rapidly the first year it may be better to cut back the second spring, and it is a good plan to let the straighter trees stand uncut to serve as a wind-break for the new growth of those cut back. Ordinarily, however, the cutting back is done after two years' growth, and the new sprout will make a post as soon as the old one would have done if left standing. Six by ten feet is a better distance for the trees than 8 by 8 on account of cultivation, and posts can be cut in eight years from planting, says a writer in National Stockman and Farmer.

THE FALL PIPPIN.

A Reliable Bearer Good For Cooking and Table Use.

This variety is in its season the standard for quality as a cooking apple in some parts of New England and the middle states. Its fine, large, handsome fruit always finds a market at top prices wherever it is known. It is a great favorite for cooking, while its brisk, juicy quality makes it a fairly good table variety. The Fall Pippin seems to have originated in America from seed of the Holland Pippin, but its history is uncertain. Trees over 100 years old are found in Connecticut and New York. The tree is vigorous, but only fairly productive. More or less fruit is, however, produced every year, neither overbearing nor falling entirely. The worst defect of the variety is the liability to scabby fruit in some localities. The apples, like the one shown in the photograph herewith, are often three and one-half inches in diameter, with few small specimens. Color, yellow, with red cheek; form, irregular; flesh, white, mellow, aromatic. In sections where it is known and appreciated it is a paying kind of plant for home market.—American Cultivator.

Milking Machines.

Now that milking machines have shown us that they can milk cows without drying them up a new claim is being made for them. The milk is drawn in a vacuum and deposited in a covered pail through tubes without coming in contact with the atmosphere. It is well known that milk is spoiled by bad odors from the stable and from dust and dirt falling into it during the process of milking. In the best dairies a great deal of expense and care are continually expended to procure milk as clean as possible. If the milking machine proves as satisfactory as it promises to be it will revolutionize dairying, not only solving the labor problem as applied to milking, but by furnishing a better quality of milk at less expense. It is said that milk drawn from the udder by the milking machine and carried at once to thoroughly cold sterilized bottles will keep in good condition for a week.

A Timely Point.

The corn root louse, which is cared for by ants, when turned up by the plow late in the fall is unable to re-enter the ground, and the ants are too sluggish to carry them below, making it probable that both species will perish. Generally speaking, the later plowing is done the more effective it will prove as an economic measure against injurious insects.—H. A. Gosard.
