The Laboring Man Talks

Going my way? Yes, I'm a little late. Stopped to buy some Sealshipt oysters for supper.

"What are they?" Why, nothing but just the finest oysters you ever tasted in your life.

"Too dear for a workingman?" That's where you are dead wrong. They are the only oysters a poor man can afford to buy. When you buy Sealshipt oysters you get solid meats, and you are not paying for dirty ice water. My wife says that a pint of Sealshipt will go as far as a quart of any other oysters.

And as for the flavor—you come down some Sunday night and my wife will give you an oyster stew that will make you think you never tasted an oyster before.

NEW MANAGER FOR PARK THEATRE

J. A. Blaydon Takes Charge of that Popular Amusement Resort and will Continue the Progressive Policy of his Predecessor in Securing Good Attractions.

The selection of J. A. Blaydon as manager of the Park Theatre by President Dawson and the board of directors is a guarantee that the Reynoldsville Amusement Company proposes to carry out their promises of giving the Reynoldsville people a playhouse conducted on progressive lines and the best attractions that can be secured. Blaydon has been trained for such a position by years of practical experience in theatrical life. He was at one time a member of one of the finest minstrel troupes on the road and in his tours played in many of the leading playhouses of the country. He is moreover an expert electrician and in the modern play where the scenic effects add so much to the success of the features, his knowledge and experience are invaluable. Lastly he is a musician and in close touch with local musicians in band and orchestra, the latter of which he organized and conducted successfully. He will give to the local theatre goes attractions "worth while" and if by any accident a bad one does get in by misrepresentation he will "ring the curtain down double quick and refund the patrons money."

Thousands of people—and many of them live in Reynoldsville—have read and enjoyed the book, Quincy Adams Sawyer, and many more thousands have witnessed its production on the stage with equal pleasure. It is a tale of New England life humorous in character but with such a blending of pathetic and quaint incident in simple unaffected village life that it touches a tender chord in the heart and plays around in memory like a touching reminiscence in real life. As a play it has had remarkable success, with few peers on the stage. The company that will present it at the Park Theatre Jan. 24 is one of the best, giving a guaranteed performance and carrying with them every bit of scenery used in its presentation. If merit is appreciated, the house should be filled that night.

A Guarantee of Square Dealing.
Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 11, 1907.
W. W. WILEY, Esq.
Dear Sir: In view of the contemplated subscription to the capital stock of our corporation by the citizens of Reynoldsville, we desire to make it as clear as possible our bona fides in this matter; and in that connection, should the $40,000 which our proposition calls for be subscribed, we will agree to begin building our factory as soon as the list is completed, to finish it entirely and to equip it with the necessary machinery, and place it in operation and also to start the plant going before asking your land company for any deed whatever to the property, thus affording you absolute security that we faithfully carry out our promises.

We think this should be entirely satisfactory to every person contemplating an investment in our enterprise, as should we fail to redeem our pledges, we should have no title to the land, the buildings thereon, or the expensive machinery which we shall install therein.

Very sincerely yours,
Standard Tie & Equipment Co.

HIGHEST TRUMP CARDS.
The Pittsburg Sunday Dispatch Clears the Board With Extra Fine Features.
The Pittsburg Sunday Dispatch is always doing something surprising, but its latest coup really takes every trick and leaves the table clear. Its tabloid magazine section of 32 pages, printed on superfine paper and artistically illustrated, outshines every opposition in that line, and now there have been added four new comic pages, making the greatest comic department published by any newspaper. All the old comic favorites—Peck's Bad Boy, Little Growling Bird, Mage the Magician's Daughter and the rest—have been retained, and another complete set, including Val the Ventriloquist, Barney Blue, Little Allright, Sawdust Sim and still more have been added, making a series of comics containing easily a thousand laughs.

"It Might Have Been."

The following letter from L. E. Saffo, manager of the gas engine plant which recently made a proposition to locate in Reynoldsville, is self-explanatory and will be of interest to the many Reynoldsville people who subscribed so liberally to the fund intended as an inducement for the company to locate here:

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 11, 1907.

Mr. W. W. Wiley,
Reynoldsville, Pa.
Dear Sir:

It is with regret that the writer has to explain to you that this company has decided to erect a new plant at Belmont, on the property adjoining our present one, and to operate the gas engine business as a department, in place of having a new company as we had contemplated.

We wish to thank you and the other gentlemen, personally, for the interest you have taken in this matter and regret that we were unable to locate in your borough. We shall not forget the Reynoldsville people and hope that we may be instrumental in securing for you some other company.

Thanking you for your kindness and wishing you the compliments of the season, we are,

Very truly yours,
