Foots up a vast total. The letter writers of Reynoldsville contribute their share to the aggregate, and for their benefit and satisfaction we carry as fine a line of stationery as you can see anywhere in this state. Our three points are, the extent of our stock, the quality of our goods and the variety of our assortment. It's only a three bagger perhaps, but it strikes home to every stationery buyer. We're authority on paper because we have the paper for every statement.

The Kane and Reynoldsville high school basketball teams will play a game in Evan's skating rink on Friday evening of this week, January 25. It will be a lively game.

The Reynoldsville High School basketball team defeated the Bradford team in a game at Evan's skating rink last Friday evening. Full particulars of the game in High School Bulletin column in THE STAR.

The Democratic judges of primary election in Winslow township will meet at office of Squire E. Neff between 9.00 and 10.00 a. m. on Monday, January 22, to make out returns to send to Brookville.

John Thomas Chadwick, of Brookville, and Miss Mollie M. Greenwalt, of Reynoldsville, were married at the M. E. parsonage in this place at 8.30 p. m. Saturday, January 19. Dr. J. A. Parsons performed the wedding ceremony.

Hon. Henry I. Wilson, of Big Run, received the appointment as journal clerk in the state senate, the most important session appointment made by the senate.

The Pennsylvania State Editorial Association outing this year will be a trip to Charlottesville, S. C., and visit the Jamestown Exposition at Norfolk, Virginia.

The petition to incorporate Sykesville into a borough was presented in the county court last week, but Judge Reed postponed the matter until argument court in March.

The Punxsutawney Spirit is authority for the statement that M. M. Kellar, of Cool Spring, Jefferson county, killed a hog last Friday that weighed 762 pounds when dressed. Certainly a big hog.

Antonla Guida, of Soldier, who was tried in the county court last week on charge of furnishing liquor to minors, was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $50.00 and serve sixty days in the county jail.

In the presentment of the grand jury to the honorable court of Jefferson county last week it is claimed that the county jail is too small and inadequate and the grand jury recommended that a new jail be constructed.

It is a waste of time trying to sell a farm or a house to a man who doesn't want either. The better way is to put an ad in THE STAR'S want column and it will be pretty sure to meet the eye of some person who does want a farm or house.

W. H. Vasbinder, photographer, who has been conducting a gallery in Reynoldsville five years, has sold his gallery to Photographer Hamilton, of DuBois, who takes charge of the gallery to-morrow. Mr. Vasbinder expects to locate in Sharon.

On Monday the county commissioners started on a trip through the county to give the taxpayers of the several boroughs and townships an opportunity to make appeals from the triennial assessment for 1907, 1908 and 1909. They will be in Reynoldsville February 11.

Isaac Hollenbaugh, a Winslow township farmer, brought a hen egg to this office Saturday that measured 6 1/2 inches in circumference and weighed 4 oz. The hen that laid this egg is doing what she can to increase size of egg to something near what it should be at present price—35 cents per dozen.

A big land slide on the P. R. R. between Red Bank and Lawsonham Saturday morning blockaded the track all day so that passengers had to transfer, and consequently the noon and evening eastbound passenger trains were several hours late arriving at this place.

Robert Fergus, baggage master at P. R. R. station, received a telegram Monday morning announcing the death of a brother-in-law, Addison J. Hayner, of Wallington, N. Y., who died Sunday night. Deceased was about 42 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Fergus went to Wallington yesterday to attend the funeral.

License court was held at Brookville Monday. All the old licenses in the county were granted, some of the new ones refused and the others were held over for a few days. Tom Reynolds was granted a license for The Mansion Inn at this place. The license for this house was granted to Carl McGaughey last year.

Mahoning Valley Street Railway Company is the name of a company that will build a trolley line from Punxsutawney to Big Run. It is the intention of the company to begin the work in the early spring. D. H. Clark, president of the Jefferson Traction Co., is president of the Mahoning Valley Company.

The hard wind Sunday damaged the flag pole at the public school grounds so that the flag cannot be run up on it again, and we have been informed that there is danger of a large section of the pole falling down most any time, which endangers the lives of the school children and pedestrians. This should receive prompt attention.

Mrs. Nancy Beer, relict of R. D. Beer, well known and highly esteemed lady who resided in West Reynoldsville over twenty years, but who has resided in Pittsburgh several years, where Mr. Beer died December 31, 1906, has moved back to her former home in West Reynoldsville, where she and her daughter, Mrs. Hettie Neff, will reside together. The large circle of warm friends of these two ladies are glad to have them come back to this place again.

Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, preached in what was formerly the First Congregational church at Ridgeway last Sunday. This church has dissolved and applied to the Clarion Presbytery for an organization as a Presbyterian church. The Presbytery will meet at Ridgeway to-morrow to organize the church and take some steps towards securing a pastor for the church. The Congregational church was dissolved on account of the large number of members who were inclined towards the Presbyterian creed.

Caucus Friday Evening.
 The Democrats of Reynoldsville were to have held a caucus last Thursday evening, but it was postponed until Friday evening of this week, January 25.

Soon Begin Drilling.
 The Industrial Oil and Gas Co. of Reynoldsville has had a derrick erected near the Reynoldsville Clay Mfg plant. The tools are now here and the drill for gas will soon be started. The fire winds Sunday morning moved the derrick from its foundation, but it will be replaced.

Fire Co. Called Out.
 The burning of soot out of a chimney at the City Hotel about twelve o'clock Sunday night caused some one to think the building was afire and the fire alarm was sounded and the fire company responded very promptly, but their service was not needed. A strong wind was blowing at time the alarm was given and a shower of sparks and smoke rolled down around the corner, appearing very much as if the hotel was on fire. It would have been a terrible night for a fire.

Died in Hospital.
 Miss Celia Hatten, aged 19 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hatten, of DuBois, and sister of Mrs. Harry L. McEntire, of Reynoldsville, died in the DuBois Hospital at 5.20 p. m. Saturday, January 19. Typhoid fever was cause of her death. Funeral service was held yesterday afternoon and interment was made in the Rumbarger cemetery. Miss Hatten was a highly esteemed young lady. She was known by a number of young people of this place, having visited her sister here several times.

It Cometh Not.
 A committee of two business men, C. R. Hall and James W. Gillespie, were appointed at a meeting of the citizens last week to investigate the standing of the Standard Tie & Equipment Company that had submitted a proposition to our township to locate the plant here. These two gentlemen performed the duty assigned them and made a report at a meeting held Monday evening. The report was unfavorable for the Standard Tie & Equipment Co. and the plant will not be located at Reynoldsville.

Members of "Black Hand."
 Monday Constables Perry B. Love and Wm. Bradenbaugh, accompanied by a half dozen Italians, went over to Force, Elk county, after two Italians who are members of the "Black Hand," who had worked at Big Soldier for a short time and who were wanted for compelling a couple of Italians at Soldier to give them money, and then threatened to kill them if they did not give them more money at a certain date. The last demand for money was made through the mail. The constables found one of the men, Giovanni Spiziste, at Force. He was brought here Monday evening and given a hearing before Squire Neff at 10.00 a. m. yesterday on charge of blackmailing. Squire bound Spiziste over to court and he was taken to the county jail at Brookville yesterday afternoon.

Patrick Coyne Acquitted.
 Patrick Coyne, of Falls Creek, who was tried in the Allegheny county court at Pittsburg last week on charge of murdering his own three-year-old son, Maurice Edward Coyne, by throwing him into the Monongahela river from the Twenty-second street bridge at Pittsburg the first day of last October, was acquitted last Thursday morning without the jury leaving the box. Coyne's evidence, corroborated by two children who were on the bridge at the time, was that the boy had crawled up on the railing of the bridge to look at boats and while Coyne was lighting a cigar the little fellow fell over the railing into the river. Coyne immediately jumped into the river to rescue his son.

Fell off Trolley Car.
 Michael Kaluscak, a Slav who lives near Big Soldier, fell off a trolley car on Fifth street Saturday afternoon and was dragged 150 feet face down, and while not seriously injured, his face was badly lacerated. The car was crowded and Michael was standing on the rear end of car and when it struck the switch on Fifth street he fell off. A brother, who was also on platform, caught Michael by the feet and dragged him to corner of Fifth and Jackson sts., where car was stopped. Had Michael's brother let go of his feet he would not have been dragged and would not have been injured. When the man was carried into Dr. Neale's office he was a sorry looking chap, his face was covered with mud and blood and his clothing covered with mud. He looked more dead than alive.

PRIMARY ELECTION.
 The Political Parties Will Hold Primary Same Day, Saturday Jan. 29

It was announced last week that the Republican primary election in this borough would be held Saturday, Jan. 19, but County Chairman J. B. Henderson advised the committeemen to hold the primary on Saturday, January 26, as that is the date fixed by the new primary law, and the primary election was postponed until the afternoon of next Saturday, January 26, at which time the Republicans of Reynoldsville and West Reynoldsville, Republicans and Democrats of Winslow township will hold their primary election in the regular voting place in each precinct.

The Democrats of the borough will nominate a ticket in caucus and will not hold a primary election.

According to the new law the saloons and wholesale liquor stores will have to close during time of primary election.

Box Was Nailed too Tight.
 Raymond, "the handcuff king" and magician who was at the Park Theatre three nights the first of this month, who mystified a number of Reynoldsville people by his skill in releasing himself from handcuffs, ropes and a tightly nailed box, was taken out of a box at Rochester, Pa., last Saturday evening in an unconscious condition. Had he been left in the box a few minutes longer he would have smothered to death. As he did at Reynoldsville and other places, Raymond had a box made, was manacled and tied with heavy ropes and put into box, but failed to get out of it this time. The box was constructed from two inch plank and heavy spikes were used in nailing it together. The box was nailed too tight for Raymond and stage attendants had to break it open almost an hour after Raymond had been placed in it.

Veni, Vidi, but not Vici.
 The basket ball team of the Young Men's Catholic Association of Johnsonburg has been making quite a record for itself in and around its own bailiwick, and came to Reynoldsville last Thursday to add a few more laurels to their wreath. They came, they saw, but were beaten outrageously. Somehow neither side was able to get up much steam, and the Reynoldsville boys had no need of it. At the end of the game the score stood 43 to 7 in favor of Reynoldsville. In the first half both sides had a chance of victory but from the commencement of the second the boys from the paper city seemed dispirited and it was a walkover for the home team. The lineup was as follows:

Reynoldsville	Johnsonburg
McEntire forward	Shea
Thornton, Harris forward	Foley
Oberlin center	Eckert
Bohren guard	Kinney
Dalbile guard	Crowe

GUILTY OF MURDER.
 Verdict in Tony Loretta Case in First Degree Murder—Motion for New Trial.

Tony Loretta has been found guilty of murder in the first degree by a Jefferson county jury. In January, 1905, Tony Loretta and two other fellows assaulted John Siegewicz at Sykesville and injured him so badly that he died as a result. Loretta made his escape at the time, but his companions in the crime, Gemarro Mezzanatte and Dominic Rammuna, were arrested and tried for assault with intent to kill, as Siegewicz was still living at time of trial, but died the day these two men were taken to penitentiary, where they had been sentenced by Judge Reed to serve a term of seven years. Several months ago Loretta was arrested at Dunkirk, N. Y., and brought to the Jefferson county jail on charge of murder, and yesterday the jury brought in a verdict as above stated. A motion was made for a new trial and date for hearing same has been set for next Monday.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer."
 One of the best, if not the best, rural plays ever presented in Reynoldsville will be "Quincy Adams Sawyer," at the Park Theatre Thursday evening of this week, January 24. It is a story of New England life, humorous in character, blended with pathetic and quaint incidents in simple, unaffected village life. As a play it has had remarkable success. UNION EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS
 Centennial Hall was Too small and Meetings are Being Held in Park Theatre.

The union evangelistic meetings being conducted under direction of Dr. Arthur J. Smith, evangelist from New York City, and Prof. Chester F. Harris, of Cleveland, Ohio, are attended by large audience each night and a great deal of interest is being manifested. Dr. Smith is an able, earnest and pleasant speaker. He presents the gospel message in a plain and forcible manner. If great good does not result from this series of meetings it will not be because Dr. Smith does not zealously present the gospel truths to the people. Prof. Harris and his splendid chorus choir of 100 to 125 voices are an enjoyable and attractive feature of these meetings. The singing by choir and congregation is soul inspiring.

The meetings were held in Centennial hall every night last week, but that building was too small to accommodate the people and a large number were turned away every night. The executive committee decided to rent the Park Theatre, which will seat 1,200 people, and hold the meetings there. The first meeting was held in Park Theatre at 11.00 a. m. Sunday and a large audience was present. A meeting for men only was held Sunday afternoon, which was attended by 600 men. Dr. Smith's subject was, "Broken Hedges and Serpent Bites." A speaker could not ask for a more attentive audience than this one was. The men were very much interested in the sermon. Prof. Harris sang "The Holy City" and "Mother's Prayer."

While the meeting for men was held in Park Theatre Sunday afternoon a meeting for women was held in the M. E. church. Mrs. A. D. McKay had charge of the women's meeting. She is an able and gifted speaker and she gave the women an excellent talk, Miss Annie Hughes, of Brookville, who is a sweet singer, sang a solo.

Yesterday was observed as a day of prayer by the churches engaged in the evangelistic meetings. The day was observed as follows:

7.00 a. m., prayer in the home; 9.00 a. m., cottage prayer meetings; 10.00 a. m. prayer meeting in each church, led by pastors; 12.00 noon prayer meeting for men at the Baptist church; 2.30 p. m., women's prayer meeting in Baptist church; 3.00 p. m., Dr. Smith preached in the Baptist church; regular evangelistic services was held at Park Theatre in the evening. Meeting will be held in Park Theatre to-night. There will be no evangelistic meeting in the Park Theatre Thursday evening.

There will be a meeting for men in Centennial hall to-morrow, Thursday, evening, Jan. 24, at which time Dr. Smith will deliver his great address, "Why men Sin." The great chorus choir will sing Prof. Harris will sing, "Fear not ye, O Israel," Misses Ruth Mitchell and Mary King will sing a duet. Service begins at 7.30.

Women's prayer meeting at 2.30 and preaching by Dr. Smith at 3.00 in the Baptist church every afternoon this week except Saturday.

The union evangelistic meeting will be held in Park Theatre Friday night, Sunday and every evening next week except Saturday night.

Presentment of Grand Jury.

The grand inquest of the county of Jefferson and the State of Pennsylvania, at the January session of criminal court, 1907, respectfully report as follows:

We have acted upon all matters laid before us by the Court and District Attorney, and have discharged the several duties laid before us to the best of our ability.

We have inspected the court house and several offices, and find all in good condition, except the toilet rooms in the basement, and would respectfully recommend that the County Commissioners put same in good condition at once.

We went through the county jail and find it in as good condition as possible under the present conditions, but we find the structure too small, and inadequate, and respectfully recommend that a new jail be constructed.

We inspected the County Home and grounds, and as far as we are able to judge the inmates were properly cared for in every respect, and that too much praise cannot be given the superintendent, Mr. S. M. Shields, and his estimable daughter, Miss Myrtle Shields, the matron, for the manner in which they have managed the home.

We, the Grand Jury, return our thanks to the Court, the District Attorney and all the county officials for courteous treatment extended to us, and also to the constable, Mr. Henry Bargerstock, for his faithfulness in ministering to our wants.

W. S. SIBLEY, Foreman.
