A Little of Everything.

We had groundhog weather yesterday.

Thursday of next week is St. Valentine Day.

Farmers' institute will be held at Hornstown the last week of February.

About ten inches of snow fell Monday night and yesterday. Good sleighing now.

Kellogg-Haines Singing Party at Assembly Hall to-morrow evening. Hear them sing.

Forty Hours Devotion service was held in the Catholic church this week, ending at noon yesterday.

Saturday was ground hog day and there was sunshine about noon. Now for six weeks of weather.

A call meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society will be held at the Presbyterian parsonage at 2.30 p. m. Friday.

Ethel, daughter of W. S. Weaver, of the Brookville Republican, died last Wednesday and was buried Friday afternoon.

The drill was started in the gas well near the gas plant Saturday. It is to be hoped that a good flow of gas will be struck in this well.

Wallace Mitchell, who is now an evangelistic singer, and who was home on a visit, sang at the Park Theatre last Friday evening.

There was a skating contest at Evans' rink last night for ladies and the prize for most skillful skater was a $5.00 pair of skates. Miss Long won the prize.

Prof. J. R. Wilson, principal of the West Reynoldsville schools, will be principal of the Corsica Academy for the eight weeks term to begin Tuesday, May 7.

Charles Thompson, of Mechanicsville, Indiana Co., and Sherman Thompson, of DuBois, old time acquaintances of ye editor, made us a pleasant call on Friday.

A report has been circulated that the Star Glass Company would shut down its plant in a few weeks. This was only street talk. It likely that the present fire will run until June.

The Punxsutawney high school basketball team played the Reynoldsville high school team at Evans' rink Monday evening. Score 13 to 72 in favor of the Reynoldsville team.

G. B. McKee, drayman, has been given the contract to carry the U. S. mail from Reynoldsville postoffice to P. R. R. trains. Nine trains each day, except Sunday, to carry mails to and from.

"The Volunteer Organist" is as good as "The Old Homestead." "Our New Minister," "York State Folks" or any of the rural dramas you have ever witnessed. At Park Theatre Monday night, February 11.

G. W. Thompson died at home of his son, Charles Thompson, at Mechanicsville, Pa., at 8.00 p. m. January 28, and was buried at Brush Valley, Indiana Co. He was 84 years, 7 months and 18 days old.

C. F. Hoffman, jeweler, who has been ill several weeks, with stomach trouble, was taken to the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh Saturday for treatment. Casper's many friends wish him speedy recovery.

Miss Anna Elizabeth Hughes, vocal teacher, graduate of Western Conservatory of Chicago, will be at Haskin's music store on Saturday of this week to organize a class. Call and see her and get full particulars.

Deputy Grant Rhoads has been working on the organization of a new tribe of Red Men at Penfield and the first meeting of the proposed branch will be held Saturday evening of this week, Feb. 9, when officers will be elected.

Harry C. Herpel, who is employed in the car shops at Butler, spent Sunday at home of his parents in this place. Mr. Herpel has resigned his position at Butler, to take effect next Saturday, to accept a position with the Westinghouse people in Pittsburgh.

Rev. J. W. Crawford, pastor of the Bethel Baptist church of Sykesville, has resigned his pastorate of that church and has preached his farewell sermon. Mr. Crawford has not decided yet just where he will go. We understand that he has two offers.

Joseph Lichtner, the Reynoldsville young man who shot and killed John E. Pyne, a nine-year-old boy, at Helvetia December 9, 1906, will be tried for murder at Clearfield next week. Attorney Clement W. Flynn, one of our bright young attorneys, is counsel for Lichtner.

Miss Podde's rendition of "Love's Sorrow" must be mentioned as one of the star numbers of the evening. The lady possesses a large voice of fine quality and excellent training.—St. Louis Star. With the Kellogg-Haines Singing Party at Assembly hall Thursday evening.

The increased price of admission at Park Theatre for the last attraction and the coming one. "What Happened to Jones," was not made by order of Manager J. A. Blaydon, but because the companies themselves demanded that higher prices be charged. Both are first class attractions.

Senator John S. Fisher, of Indiana, senator from the Jefferson and Indiana county district, has been chosen chairman of the committee that has been appointed to investigate the graft charges in connection with the construction and furnishing of the state capitol.

Miss Edith Herpel, of this place, won the third prize in the word contest conducted by Pickering Bros. of Pittsburgh. The prizes were offered to person making the most words out of Pickering Bros.' Planos. The restrictions on contest was close, but Miss Herpel got 1086 words, and was given a $70.00 prize.

The Kellogg-Haines Singing Party to appear at Assembly hall to-morrow, Thursday, evening, consists of five people and will give varied concert program, introducing costumed scenes from the various English and comic operas. Il Trovatore, Faust, Dainty Dolly Varden, Pinafore and The Mikado will be used.

Mrs. S. C. Showers, who was a member of the chorus choir at Park Theatre during the union gospel meetings, accidentally stepped into an offset in front of the stage Friday evening and got a hard fall, cutting an inch gash on side of her head. A doctor dressed the wound and on Sunday Mrs. Showers was at her place in the choir.

G. J. Corwin, president of the Meadow Creek Mining Co., who has been at the company's gold mine in Idaho some months, now spending a few days shaking hands with old time friends in Reynoldsville, called at THE STAR office yesterday and gave ye editor a generous slice of jerked venison. He killed the deer in the wilds near the gold mine and jerked the meat.

"Do you know," says the Ridgway Advocate, "that boys are much more particular who they go with than girls are? You may think this is a strange statement, but it is so. A girl will go on the streets with a boy that gets drunk, but if the boy finds out that the girl gets drunk he won't go with her. We wish our girls would be as particular about whom they go with as the boys are."

The Butler Independents and Reynoldsville Athletic Association basketball teams will play a game in the Park Theatre Friday evening, February 8. The Independent is one of the strongest teams in the state and a fast game can be expected. Fred McEntire, John Thornton, E. A. Oberlin, Roscoe Delbie, Frank Bohren and Leonard Harris, will compose the Reynoldsville team. Mr. Harris is substitute.

Fred S. Maize, who was cashier of the First National Bank of Sykesville from time it was organized January 4, 1905, resigned his position, which took effect February 1st, to accept position as cashier of a new bank at Josephine, Indiana county. O. L. Howard, of Albany, Ohio, is now cashier of the Sykesville bank. The new cashier is a brother of J. S. Howard, cashier of The Citizens National bank of Reynoldsville.

Bank Reports. The financial reports of the First National and Citizens National bank at the close of business January 26, 1907, will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

Fell off Stepladder. Ex Postmaster A. M. Woodward, of the Stoke & Feicht Drug Co store, fell off a high stepladder in front of the store last Friday and was so badly injured that he has not been able to be at the store since. He fell on head and shoulders and was unconscious for a few seconds.

Revival Meetings. The Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist pastors decided to follow up the union gospel meetings with special revival services in their respective churches every night this week, except Saturday night. Rev. J. S. Scherer, of Endeavor, Pa., is assisting Rev. McKay in the Presbyterian church, Rev. L. B. Underwood, of Brookville, is assisting Rev. Meek in the Baptist church, and Rev. Parsons is conducting the meetings alone in the Methodist church. All the meetings are well attended.

Paradise Telephone Line. The Paradise Telephone Company line has been completed and is connected with the Summerville Telephone Company line at this place. The following Paradise farmers now have the 'phone in their residences and others will soon have the 'phone in: Wm. Reynolds, Ed. Cochran, Madison McCraith, Scott Syphrit, James Coxson, Charles Keller, Walter Sprague, Noah Syphrit, J. M. Norris, P. M. Wells, John Rauldolph, John Daugherty, J. W. Syphrit. Any person in Reynoldsville having a Summerville 'phone can talk to any of the Paradise line people without charge.

The Good Bye. Chester F. Harris, the leader of the great chorus choir in the union evangelistic meetings which closed Sunday, will shortly be wedded to a lady in Iowa. This fact became known to the choir last week and when Mr. Harris left town Saturday morning he was surprised to find a large number of young people at the station, and still more surprised when, as he boarded the train, he was deluged with a shower of rice. The bride-to-be is Miss Mattie Humphries, pastor of a Friends' church in an Iowa town, and it is said the "friendship" between the couple dates from the time when both were students in the Friends' Bible Training school in Cleveland, Ohio. After their marriage in the spring the couple will join Dr. Smith again and she will take charge of all women's meetings in connection with their evangelistic work.

Died Suddenly. The editor of THE STAR was at Craigville, Armstrong county Saturday attending the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Margaret Fullerton, who died suddenly Thursday, Jan. 31, 1907, at 6.00 a. m., from heart failure. She was ill fifteen minutes. 'Aunt Mag' would have been 78 years old next May. Her maiden name was Margaret Stephenson. Her husband died Oct. 25, 1906. She is survived by four sons and five daughters, all of whom are married. Funeral service was held in the M. E. church at Craigville at 2.00 p. m. Saturday conducted by Rev. Cable. The church was filled with neighbors and friends who respected and loved Mrs. Fullerton, whom they were well acquainted with, she having resided in Craigville over forty years. Interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery at Worthington, Pa. Deceased was a kind hearted, noble Christian woman. The trials and burdens of life, of which she had many, did not ruffle her patience nor effect her sweet disposition.

Bad Gang. Thursday of last week Constable Wm. Waugaman, of Winslow township, and Constable Perry B. Love, of Reynoldsville, arrested Angelo Bonhelieri and Gitona Rizzo, of Soldier, on charge of robbery and demanding money by menace. They were taken to Brookville and on Monday of this week were given a hearing before Squire Al. Baur in Brookville. They were bound over to court and being unable to give bail were put in jail. Monday afternoon Constable Love arrested Phillip Djuno in DuBois and took him to Brookville yesterday. Two weeks ago Giovanni Spitziste was arrested at Force, Elk county, by Constables Waugaman and Love and he is now in the Brookville jail. The constables have a warrant for another Italian. These five fellows, it is claimed, are members of a bad gang, called "black hand," and are all charged with demanding money from some of their countrymen at Soldier, and making dire threats if the money was not paid at a certain time. They got money in each case.

"The Drummer Boy of Shiloh" will be presented at the Park Theatre by home talent sometime this month.

Try a sack of Geo. H. Lum's Best Flour and see if it does not prove to be the best flour you ever used. Strictly guaranteed. For sale by N. A. Headley.

If you want gas mantles and gas lights that gives you money value. Buy them of the Union Plumbing Co.

SILK MILL COMBINE. Five Large Plants to be Operated Under Name of American Silk Co.

We have been reliably informed that the American Silk Co. plant of Reynoldsville and four other large silk mills, including one at York, Pa., and one at Carlisle, Pa., will be combined and will be operated under the name of the American Silk Company. It is likely that the preferred stock of the silk mill at this place will be bought by the company. It is expected that the combine will be made soon and that the Reynoldsville silk mill will be in operation again within thirty days.

"The Volunteer Organist." One of the most carefully selected organizations on tour the present season is "The Volunteer Organist" company which appears at the Park Theatre Monday evening, February 11. The piece was staged by that post-master in the art of stage craft, Lawrence Marston. That Mr. Marston possesses remarkable gifts along this line is proven by the fact that it was he who staged the big Drury Lane melodrama, "The Price of Peace," for its run at the Broadway Theatre, New York. He also staged Viola Allen's "In the Palace of the King" and "Unleavened Bread" each of which were admitted to be flawless in regard to stage management and incidental action. To "The Volunteer Organist" Mr. Marston points with pride as a result of his painstaking labor. Tickets will be on sale at Stoke & Feicht Drug Co. store.

Independent Gas for Brookville. Brookville is to get the benefit of gas competition. A company, whose business appears to be in the hands of local parties, has secured the right of way for piping the streets and alleys to bring natural gas in from about Hells Mills, which is very near to town, where a substantial supply is available.

Contracts for the use of the gas have been secured from about one-half the consumers of gas in the town. F. C. Deemer is said to be the party who secured the contracts, which make a price of sixteen cents a thousand for the gas for ten years. It is expected that the Oil City Fuel Supply company will meet the price, or cut under, as it cannot long continue the old price and get any business in Brookville if the new project is carried through as reported.—DuBois Journal.

West Reynoldsville Democrats. Wednesday night of last week the Democrats of West Reynoldsville nominated the following ticket for February election: Council—Sebastian B. Snyder, Joseph McKernan. School Directors—Wm. P. Woodring, P. A. Hardman, Howard Sipes. Assessor—C. J. Arnold. Auditors—John B. McAtee, John Crowley. Judge of election—Michael O'Brien. Inspector—D. M. Shearer.

Kellogg-Haines Singing Party. The Kellogg-Haines Singing Party, directed by Mrs. Kellogg-Haines, is a meritorious combination of artists who ornament the profession of music and who deserve high praise for their sincere efforts for its advancement.—Chester H. Krum, Ex-Judge Circuit Court, St. Louis. At Assembly hall Thursday evening of this week, February 7.

Stockholders' Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association will be held in their office on Monday, Feb. 18, 1907, at 7.30 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing four directors and one auditor, and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

JOHN M. HAYS, President. L. J. McENTIRE, Secretary.

Not a Candidate. I appreciate the honor given me by the Democrats by nominating me at their caucus for councilman, but as it would be impossible for me to serve, if elected, I therefore respectfully withdraw my name from the ticket at this time. H. L. HOKE. Feb. 4, 1907.

ANOTHER CITIZEN GONE. J. P. Haskins Died Yesterday Morning—Funeral Friday Afternoon.

J. P. Haskins, dealer in musical instruments, died at his home on Main street at 8.30 a. m. Tuesday, February 5, 1907. He had been in poor health for six months from a complication of diseases, and during January was very ill several weeks, but he got a little better and his family and friends were encouraged about his condition. Sunday he took a backset and gradually grew weaker and died at time stated. John P. Haskins was born near Kingswood, England, March 10, 1853, and would have been 54 years old the 10th of next month. He came to America 36 years ago. Was united in marriage to Jane Ann Ramsey at Williamstown, Pa., January 5, 1876. They moved to Reynoldsville 17 years ago. He was a quiet and unassuming gentleman, a kind husband, indulgent father and good neighbor. Mr. Haskins was well known in this place and the surrounding community and was highly esteemed by all persons acquainted with him. Early in life he united with the M. E. church at Williamstown, and while not an active church worker since coming to Reynoldsville, he lived a christian life and was an upright and honored citizen.

Unto Mr. and Mrs. Haskins five children were born, three of whom preceded their father into the Eternal Land. He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter, Arthur P. Haskins, musician and song writer, and Miss Jennie E. Haskins, an assistant in the postoffice. He is also survived by four sisters and one half brother, Mrs. Sarah Tovey, of Anita, Mrs. Elizabeth Chandler, of Williamstown, Pa., Mrs. H. W. James, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Ellen Bond and Albert Price, of Williamstown. Funeral service at the family residence at 2.00 p. m. Friday, conducted by Rev. J. A. Parsons. Interment will be made in the Reynoldsville cemetery.

At Point of Death. As we go to press this morning Mrs. S. S. Robinson is hovering between life and death and by this time may have passed away. The doctors have given up all hope of recovery. She has pneumonia.

Rain Coats. Boys' rain coats 8 to 16 $6.50. Bing-Stoke Co.

Dr. Arthur J. Smith and Prof. Harris begin a series of union gospel meetings next Monday night in a New Hampshire town. In March they will hold union meetings in Clarion. Slander is a blighting sirocco—the base, foul, cloven footed slanderer like the loathsome worm, leaves a path covered with slime. How truthful it has been said: "Living, he is a traveling pest and worse, dying impenitent, his soul too deeply stained for Hell."

Samuel Bollinger, who was working in the woods near Hicks Run, returned to his home near this place last week to remain until some snow disappears in the woods. Mr. Bollinger says the snow is two feet deep in the camp he was working in.

GOSPEL CAMPAIGN. PARK THEATRE MEETINGS END SUNDAY.

Effort Results in Large Accessions to the Methodist Episcopal, Baptist and Presbyterian Churches.

The union gospel meetings, under the direction of Dr. Arthur J. Smith, evangelist of New York City, and Prof. Chester F. Harris, singer, of Cleveland, Ohio, closed on Sunday night with an audience that packed the Park Theatre to its fullest capacity, and a number of people were compelled to return home because there was not room for them. They were the most successful union meetings ever held in Reynoldsville, not only in winning people from the paths of sin to righteousness, but in raising a large number of church members onto a higher plane of Christian living, and creating a warmer fellowship between the churches engaged in the special work. Denominational lines were, apparently, obliterated during the progress of the meetings and all the workers seemed to have but one object in view—getting people to become christians regardless of what their church affiliation might be. There was no friction or jealousy manifested at any time.

Dr. Smith is a scholarly man, an admirable speaker and very careful and conservative, and yet he preached the gospel regardless of how hard he might hit people who were not living up to their profession. Few men are better adapted to evangelistic work than Dr. Smith. He commended himself to the people from the beginning, and carried away with him at his departure, the respect, confidence and love of all with whom he came in contact. His modest, unassuming bearing, his earnest devotion to his work, his gentle winning words and manner, made a very favorable impression upon his auditors and fellow workers.

The pianist, Miss Sara Corbett, the chorus choir and a number of workers from various churches, deserve credit for their faithfulness and helpfulness during the meetings. L. M. Simmons, the chief usher, had more of a responsible and difficult position than many people imagined, but he performed his duties well.

There were six meetings on Sunday, beginning with a meeting at 7.00 a. m. in the Baptist church, which was well attended. A large audience attended the meeting in Park Theatre at 10.45 a. m. There was a men's meeting in the theatre at 3.00 people. A girls' choir of 125 voices, led by Miss Elvie Coleman, sang at this meeting. The Lotus male quartet, Dr. Harry B. King, John Thornton, F. P. Alexander and John F. Strauss, sang a couple of selections, eight little girls, Marie Jennings, Catherine Gillespie, Aldine and Pauline Corbett, Grace Ewing, Katie Hughes and Helen Smith, sang a piece and little Helen Baum sang a solo. At the same hour of the men's meeting there was a meeting for women in the M. E. church, led by Miss Elsie Ross.

At 6.30 p. m. there was a prayer meeting for men at Park Theatre and at 7.30 the last service of the series. Dr. Smith preached four times during the day, besides singing and inviting people to become christians, and at the close of the last meeting seemed as fresh as when he began the first service in the morning.

It is not known yet what accessions there will be to the churches as a result of these meetings. Over 400 persons signed decision cards during the meetings. Their church preference was as follows: Methodist Episcopal 174, Baptist 121, Presbyterian 106.

A free will offering was taken up for Dr. Smith Sunday which amounted to $530.00. There was enough raised by subscription and collections before Sunday to pay Prof. Harris, pay railroad fare and boarding for Dr. Smith and Mr. Harris, and all other expenses. An itemized account of money received and expended will be published in THE STAR next week.

Important Announcement. I desire to call the attention of my patrons and the general public to the usually strong attraction which I have booked for Thursday, Feb. 7, "What Happened to Jones," with Richard Milton in the star role. The only way I could procure the play was by offering a large guarantee, and I felt justified in doing so, knowing the public would appreciate a play of such strong merit. "What Happened to Jones" is in a class by itself. There never has been a farce comedy written that causes such abundance of laughter. There is not a dull moment throughout the 3 acts, and the comedy is thoroughly refined. I have seen the newspaper criticisms this company has received in the larger cities, and they are very flattering and could not be improved upon. The company that will present this play here is the same cast intact that played 10 consecutive weeks at the Murry Hill Theatre, New York. My personal guarantee goes with above statements. All who attend will be treated to a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. Should anyone not be satisfied with the performance, their money will be cheerfully refunded by applying at the box office after conclusion of first act. Respectfully, J. A. BLAYDON, Manager. Park Theatre.
