Thomas A. Roberts, of Renova, superintendent of the Middle and Western Divisions of the P. & E. R. R. for twenty-five years, died in a hospital in Philadelphia on Monday of this week.

A large addition has been built onto rear of the Keystone Hardware Company store room, giving more space for their large stock of goods, and making a decided improvement in the appearance of the store room.

George McGrody, who works in a coal mine at Sherwood, came very near losing the sight of his left eye by being hit in eye with a small piece of coal. He suffered considerable pain from the injury.

J. H. Corbett has a unique notice hanging on the wall in his office, as follows: "If you expect to rate high in my estimation don't expectorate on the linoleum. Plainly speaking, don't spit on the floor."

The county fairs in this section of Pennsylvania will be held on the following dates this year: Kittanning, Aug. 13-16; Butler, Aug. 20-23; DuBois, Aug. 27-30; Brookville, Sept. 3-6; Clarion, Sept. 10-13; Rimersburg, Sept. 17-20.

Robert Z. Parrish and wife were at Corsica Friday attending the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Robert Corbett, who died at 8.00 p. m. Wednesday, February 6. Mrs. Corbett was a sister of Isaac Fleming, who formerly resided on the Stewart farm near this place, but now resides near Emerickville.

Rev. I. S. Hankins, who has been pastor of the Baptist church at DuBois four years and is well known by Baptist people in this place, has resigned his pastorate in DuBois to accept a call to the Baptist church at Quinton, N. J. He preaches his farewell sermon the first Sunday of next month, March 3rd.

The funeral service of J. P. Haskins was held at his late residence at 1.00 p. m. Friday, conducted by Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the M. E. church, assisted by Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the Baptist church. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Hughes & Fleming had charge of the funeral.

The following out of town people attended the funeral of J. P. Haskins last Friday: James Justham, of Barnesboro, Robert Ramsey, of McGraan, Mrs. Sarah Tovey and son, James Tovey, of Anita, James Haskins and wife, Mrs. David Lloyd, Mrs. H. W. James, of Philadelphia, and Miss Daisy Ramsey, of Williamsport.

The station and division headquarters of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Philipston, near East Brady, was destroyed by fire Monday morning. The records and the uniforms of a number of passenger trainmen, including uniforms of several Low Grade conductors, baggage masters and brakemen, were destroyed.

A couple were speeding up Main street Sunday night in a sleigh, the runners of which were between the trolley rails, and at corner of Main and Fifth sts., where trolley line turns down Fifth street, something happened. No one injured, sleigh was turned right side up again, the couple got in and drove up town.

A young man by the name of Mottern did some gastronomic stunts at an uptown restaurant several nights ago that gives him the record, undisputed and unenviable. At one sitting he stowed away three pounds of cheese, one pie, four plates of raw oysters and presumably as a relish, several limburger sandwiches.—Big Run Tribune.

D. H. Clark, of Punxsutawney, president of the Jefferson Traction Company, and some Indiana capitalists will make an application to Governor Stuart for a charter for a trolley line 25 miles long, to be known as the Punxsutawney, Indiana & Sagamore Street Railway Company. The application will be filed on 21st inst.

There was a large audience at Assembly hall Thursday evening last to hear the Kellogg-Haines Singing Party. The feature of the program was a series of musical selections from the opera "Dolly Varden," in which the four singers appeared in rich costumes of the eighteenth century. Throughout the evening the numbers were well received by the people and the performers were generous in their responses to encores. The members of the party are all finished artists and gave an excellent rendition of classic music.

It was stated in THE STAR last week that a P. R. R. freight conductor had been suspended indefinitely because his flagman, who had been on duty fifty-eight hours, had fallen asleep and left a switch open. The statement was not correct, although we got the information from what we supposed to be a reliable source. The men had not been on duty twenty-four hours, and they had been sleeping some during that time. According to a P. R. R. official's statement the company was justified in this case in giving the men an indefinite suspension.

Going to Bermuda.

Mr. George Mellinger and wife will go to New York City on Friday and next Monday will sail from New York on the "Trinidad" for Hamilton, Bermuda, where they will remain until the middle of April. THE STAR will keep them informed every week of what is transpiring in Reynoldsville.

Going to Wilkingsburg.

O. L. Schlumpf, who was superintendent of the Pittsburg Industrial Iron Works plant at Reynoldsville fourteen months, is moving to Wilkingsburg this week. His goods will be shipped today and himself, wife, and son, Robert, will leave here to-morrow. Mr. Schlumpf is to take charge of a large boiler works at Braddock, which is just being started new.

Too Much Surplus.

To reduce the surplus cash on hands in the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association the stockholders, who hold five or more shares, will either have to withdraw or borrow one share out of every five shares they own. This is according to the provisions of the by-laws to reduce the surplus cash when it accumulates to an amount larger than is needed to meet the demand. This is done to keep the money working.

Cash Road Tax.

The voters of Winslow township will have the privilege again to vote for or against the paying of all road tax in the township in cash, instead of working out part, as is now the custom. This question was voted on at the February election last year and was defeated. Those interested in the cash road tax system are of the opinion that the voters of the township are more favorable to this system this year than they were last year.

Smith-Malone Wedding.

James W. Smith and Miss Agnes Malone, of Camp Run, formerly of Lindsey were married in the Catholic church at Brookville at 9.00 a. m. yesterday, February 12. The wedding party returned to Camp Run on the 11.40 a. m. train and a wedding dinner was served at home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. A. Maloe. A large number of friends who did not witness the wedding ceremony were at Camp Run for the wedding dinner.

Charged With Larceny.

Harry Sharp and Harry Kougher were arrested last Thursday on charge of larceny. They were given a hearing before Squire Neff and his honor bound them over to court. Constable Perry B. Love took the young men to the county jail in Brookville Friday morning. The charge is that Sharp and Kougher stole hides from the Elk tanning company and sold the hides to a junk dealer. At least a dozen hides were stolen by some person or persons.

Appeal Continued.

County Commissioners J. N. Kelley and E. T. McGaw were at Imperial Hotel Monday to hear the appeals of the Reynoldsville property owners from the triennial assessment for years 1907, 1908 and 1909, and they were not lonely or idle any time during the day. Never in the history of Reynoldsville, has there been such a general howl raised about the assessments as there is this year. There was such an avalanche of appeals that the county commissioners decided to return to Reynoldsville this, Wednesday, evening to hear the property owners. They will be at Frank's Tavern this evening. A long petition will be presented to the board of commissioners to-night asking that the assessments of three years ago be accepted by them for the next three years, instead of the assessments made this year.

Applications Filed for Macadamized Roads.

In addition to the application for macadamizing road from Reynoldsville borough line, at Cold Spring Hollow, to the junction at Prescottville, Winslow township has made application, which is now on file at Harrisburg, for the state to macadamize the following five roads: From the junction above Prescottville to the Clearfield county line via Rathmel; from borough line at J. J. Sutter's residence to McCalmont township line; from West Reynoldsville borough line, near tannery, to Falls Creek, or Washington township line, via Sandy Valley; from West Reynoldsville borough line, on Pike street, to Levi Schuckers, or Pinecreek township line; from G. W. Fuller farm to Sykesville via Big Soldier. The only road improvement the township expects to get this year is the macadamizing of road from borough line to junction above Prescottville. The applications have to be made some time before the work is done. There is a certain amount of road improvement fund apportioned to each county every year and only that amount can be expended each year.

Sudden Death of Rev. Britt.

Rev. F. P. Britt, who had been pastor of the Pisgah Presbyterian church at Corsica twenty-eight years, and was known to a large number of Reynoldsville people, having preached in the Presbyterian church at this place a number of times, dropped dead at his home in Corsica at 4.00 p. m. Wednesday afternoon of last week. He had been out visiting a parishoner and had just returned home. He had not complained of being ill and was in apparently good health, hence his sudden death, without illness, was a severe shock to the people of Corsica and surrounding community.

Rev. Britt was universally beloved, not only by his congregation, but by a wide community in which his high personal character was known. He was well known throughout this section and was one of the most prominent overgymen in the Clarion presbytery. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter. The children were all absent from home at the time of his death, being pupils at the Grove City college.

Take Your Choice.

"The Volunteer Organist" appeared at Park theatre Monday evening and played to a fair audience. It was on the melo-dramatic order and the pathos and humor appealed very strongly to a portion of the audience. It dealt with certain phases of the liquor question, and the relation of the church to victims of intemperance, and incidentally there was a lot of moralizing about hypocrisy in religious and social life that may have been more palatable to sinners than saints—if there were any of the latter present. There were some who said it was better than a sermon. There were others who would have preferred hearing moralizing of that kind from the pulpit rather than 'the stage. There was humor in the play, and it was not bad. For the average theatre-goer would rather laugh with a lover than weep over the woes of inebrity.

Evangelistic Meetings.

The special meetings in the Presbyterian church closed last Friday evening and Rev. J. S. Scherer, of Endeavor, who was assisting Rev. McKay, returned home Saturday.

The evangelistic meetings in the Baptist church will continue all this week. Rev. A. D. McKay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preached a good sermon in Baptist church Monday evening. Rev. C. A. Wilson, of Ridgway, preached in the Baptist church last night and will preach every night this week.

Evangelistic meetings are still in progress in the Methodist Episcopal church and will continue each evening this week, except Saturday evening.

To Whom It May Concern.

I have received a statement for 1906 tax, $5.05, unless paid or arranged for in 30 days will be collected according to law. Now I cannot pay this tax, for I have nothing to pay with. I own no property of any kind. I have only made my home here three months in five years. These taxes are unjust. I don't see how poor people with property can exist and pay tax, if they are assessed accordingly as I am. I do not claim residence here in Reynoldsville, I have not lived here, nor do I expect to.

Royal Sport.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a basketball game in Reynoldsville saw the Butler Independents defeat the Reynoldsville team Friday evening in Park theatre. The score was 53 to 19 and Butler had the lead from the start. Reynoldsville's five did not have their usual speed, due to lack of recent practice, but credit for the victory is due solely to the magnificent team work and superb shooting of the visitors. They had a systematic little trick of throwing the ball the whole length of the floor and shooting it into the basket a second later, and worked it with a regularity astonishing to behold. Butler's skill gained liberal applause. It was not until near the close of the game that the Reynoldsville players rose to the situation and in a final rally were able to effectively check Butler's tactics, preventing a still larger score. The game was very exciting and greatly appreciated by the big crowd. Bert A. Hoffman, of the R. H. S. team, refereed and the game was clean and free from kicking.

A five from Indiana played at the Park Theatre last night and a very pretty contest developed. The Reynoldsville boys showed more speed and skill than in the game with Butler and secured a big lead in the first half. They needed all by the time the second half ended for Indiana took a spurt and it required fast playing to prevent them from winning out. Final score: Reynoldsville 29, Indiana 23.

Town Council Meeting.

THE GATES OF DEATH

OPEN FOR THE PASSING OF A WELL KNOWN LADY.

Mrs. S. S. Robinson Succumbed to Pneumonia at 10.20 a. m. Wednesday of Last Week—Funeral was Held at the Residence Friday Afternoon.

One by one our friends and neighbors are singled out by the grim reaper and taken from our midst into the great beyond. The angel of death is throughout the land at all hours and at all seasons; listen when and where you will you can almost hear the beating of its wings. At 10.20 a. m. Wednesday, February 6, 1907, the messenger of death visited the home of our esteemed townsman, S. S. Robinson, and claimed the estimable woman that had been his life's companion for well nigh thirty-eight years.

Mrs. Robinson, whose maiden name was Emma E. Mundorff, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mundorff, deceased. Her father died in 1864. She was born in Punxsutawney July 24, 1848, and would have been 59 years old next July. September 15, 1869, she was united in marriage to S. S. Robinson at Punxsutawney, Rev. David Latshaw performing the wedding ceremony. In 1895 Mr. Robinson and family moved from Hazelton, Kan., to Reynoldsville and have become one of the prominent and foremost families of town in church and social circles.

Mrs. Robinson possessed all the qualities of a noble christian woman. She was an ideal wife and mother. She seldom allowed anything to interfere with her duties to her home and family. Her uniform courtesy and kind disposition won for her many friends. She united with the M. E. church at Mercer, Pa., in 1872, during the pastorate of Rev. E. J. L. Baker. At time of her demise she was president of the M. E. Foreign Missionary Society and treasurer of the M. E. Helping Hand Society. She lived a quiet and consistent christian life, and left unmistakable testimony of her faith in God. Her's was a real triumphant death. While enjoying the blessing of health and strength Mrs. Robinson was timid about talking about death, and never cared to discuss that subject, but when she came near the gates of death and was informed that her lamp of life would soon go out, she talked freely to her husband and children of her departure and of how good and kind the Heavenly Father had been to her, how graciously He was sustaining her, and as she was entering the "valley of the shadow of death" she could say, "Thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." She was ready for the transition and had no fear of it. She was reluctant to sever the earthly ties with her loved ones, yet she was submissive to the Lord's will. She was conscious to the last and never, for a moment, did she doubt the Lord's presence with her, robbing death of its sting.

Mrs. Robinson is survived by her husband, three daughters, one son and one brother, Misses Erma A., Caroline M., Nelle L. and Graydon M., at home, and George H. Mundorff, of DuBois.

Funeral services were held at the family residence on Grant street at 3.00 p. m. Friday, conducted by Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the M. E. church, assisted by Dr. A. J. Meek, of the Baptist, and Rev. A. D. McKay, of the Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Hughes & Fleming had charge of the funeral.

The floral tribute was elaborate and beautiful, consisting of set pieces and bouquets from Utopia Society, of which Mrs. Robinson was a member, M. E. Missionary Society, M. E. Helping Hand Society, trustees of M. E. church, Ingelov Club, M. E. choir, junior class of high school, and a number of neighbors and friends.

The following out of town relatives and friends attended the funeral: G. W. Robinson and daughter, Miss Arletta Robinson, of Tionesta, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone-Robinson, of Beaver, Pa., Mrs. O. N. Wilson and Al. Wilson, of Kittanning, Harry Wilson and J. S. Bowers, of Franklin, Mrs. Laura Brewer, Roy Brewer, Mrs. E. W. Robinson, Henry Mundorff, Mrs. H. L. Young, Mrs. Sidney Smith, of Punxsutawney, John E. Cook, of Pittsburgh.
