"Habit of Good Workmanship"

Reynoldsville, Pa., March 13, 1907.

Mr. Man and Mrs. Woman:-

You who have a zinc or copper bath tub installed in your residence, or a boxed in sink. If you could see the dirt and germ breeding filth which accumulates in these places, it wouldn't take you long to have them torn out. Your doctor will tell you that they are disease breeders, also any sanitarian will say the same.

Zink and copper bath tubs, you know and everybody knows, are ten years out of date. They have no attractions for you. Have to kind of compel yourself to take a bath. Compare your dirt collecting, greasy, boxed in copper or zink tub with a snowy white enameled bath tub, which will never wear out and stay clean with little or no attention. Then let us install one. You would be surprised at the solid enjoyment that you can get from a bath.

Yours truly,

The Union Plumbing Company.

P. S. Order now. Remember that procrastination is the thief of time. Order NOW.

JANE SMITH, FRESHMEN REPORTER

The classes of '07 and '08 have elected officers for their Annual, which will be the first of its kind ever published by the high school. Next week we will give you a more full account of what will be found in it. Officers of the Annual: Editor-in-chief, Mildred Sutter; manager, Bert A. Hoffman; characteristic editor, Jessie Campbell; athletics, John Thornton; roster, Law Sykes; school history, Lena Herpel; lecture course, Nell Foley. Their assistants were elected from the Junior class: Assistant editor-in-chief, Mary Parsons; assistant manager, Alex Gillespie; assistant characteristic editor, Elva Best; assistant ath. ed., Eugene Murray; assistant roster, Graydon Robinson; assistant lecture course, Robert Koehler; assistant history of school, Malissa Sensor.

Mr. Edward Elliott has been engaged by the school directors as trainer for the junior class. He will also drill the seniors for their play, which will be "The Princess," written by Tennyson. Mr. Elliott is considered by critics as one of the great reciters of the country. He is known nearly from coast to coast by his presentation of "The Lion and the Mouse," which he will give in the high school auditorium shortly after his arrival on April 8th.

The R. H. S. defeated the Brookville five in a fast game of basket ball Friday evening. Some spots in the game were rough and the members of the home team were very sorry they occurred. Of course we cannot eliminate all objectionable features of the game, and while some plays were bad we trust the good over came the bad. Hissing by the spectators is something that should never occur, no matter how great the provocation, and then you are never justified. It never helps your home team and always gives your own town a black eye in sports. Line up:

Dr. Foust gave an interesting talk in chapel Monday morning. He gave us a few reminiscences of his life and how the boys and girls of a former generation spent their time in school and of their simple enjoyments.

Miss Hughes, of Chicago, assisted by Miss Elva Coleman and Mr. Kiple, will give an entertainment in Assembly hall Friday evening. If you appreciate good music you will not be disappointed by coming.

The Butcher Talks

I assure you, madam, that you will find a pint of these Sealshipt oysters plenty for your family of five. Remember that in buying these oysters you are buying solid meats, without one drop of water. We calculate that a pint of Sealshipt oysters will go as far as a quart of watered oysters. You will see at once how much more economical these are.

After you have served them once you will know how much better they are in flavor and freshness.
