AMAY LAST WEDNESDAY.

Had been an Active Minister in Baptist Church Many Years and was Well Known in this Part of State.

Rev. Jacob E. Dean, well known and Rev. Jacob E. Dean, well known and highly esteemed farmer and minister, ited at his home in Winslow township at 5.30 p. m. Wednesday, March 13, 1907, after a few weeks' illness with neart trouble. His demise was not unexpected, as he had been lying at the point of death two weeks before his heart ceased to beat. Rev. Dean was born Aug. 27, 1833, near Hardinghurg, Lawr. Aug. 27, 1833, near Harlinsburg, Lawr-ence Co., Pa. He was the son of Noah and Elizabeth Dean, both deceased. He was a student in the normal schools of Lawrence County. At the age of eighteen he began teaching, which he ministry. Later he attended Reed Institute in order to further fit himself for this calling. He began preaching at Brownsville, Pa., where he remained two years, and in 1863 took up his residence at Clarion, Pa., where he remained a year. During that time he preached at Strattonville and Corsica, and thence removed to Leatherwood, Pa., where he continued four years, having charge of Leatherwood and New Bethlehem churches. In 1868 he went to Macksville, Pa., and preached for the Union Church and a charge at for the Union Church and a charge at Freeport until 1875. In 1875 he served as financial secretary for Reeds Insti-tute, and the following year came to his farm of 121 acres in Winslow town-ship, known as the old Feely home-stead, which he has since kept under a high state of cultivation, and in addi-tion has carried on much church work. From 1876 to 1879 was pastor of the Els county, where he continued for four years. Later he had charge of the Baptist churches at Sykesville and West Liberty, and for a year and a half was pastor of the churches at Coalport, Mountdale and Medix Run. He organized the church at Brock wayville in 1891, was its pastor for a time and in March, 1897, resumed his labors there. His last pastorate was at West Liberty, which he resigned two years ago. He was pastor at West Liberty three different times. The above shows his various fields of labor as a minister of the gospet.

Rev. Dean was an able speaker, most earnest and thoughtful, and his labors have been productive of good that is immeasurable. He was a man of strong intellectual powers, and much force of character, and he has left the impress of his individuality upon the community. His influence has been a power for good, and he may well be numbered among Jefferson county's best citizens. Rev. Dean was a member of the Patrous of Husbandry Grange and also a member of the Patroute Order Sons of America, of Reynoldsville.

The Waiter Talks

Yes, sir. Thank you, sir. I knew when you sat down at my table that you was a gentleman that would 'preciate good thing, and that's the reason I made bold to recommend Sealshipt oysters.

I've got a good many gentle men who come to my table reg'lar and most of 'em says to me, "All right, Jim," and I know that means Sealshipt oysters, every time.

If you've got the time, sir, the boss would be proud to take you out in the kitchen and show you the white porcelain case these Sealshipt oysters come in. Yes, sir, the ice is packed outside, sir, and don't never touch the oysters. All my customers say they sure are the most delicious oysters they ever ate. No, sir, we don't never serve no oysters but Sealshipt.
