

The auditors' report shows that the actual indebtedness of this borough is only $4,166.14. That is not a big debt for a municipality the size of Reynoldsville.

If the golden rule was observed and people would do unto others as they would have others do to them there would be less contention in the world and there would be more happiness and contentment in the human family.

Hon. S. Taylor North, of Jefferson county, introduced a bill in the state legislature last Thursday to increase the pay of jurors from $2.00 to $3.00 a day and witnesses from $1.00 to $2.00 a day. This should become a law without opposition. The present compensation for jurors and witnesses is too low, considering the fact that the men who serve either as jurors or witnesses have to pay their board at the county seat and are taken away from their daily avocation, and that in most cases they are men who make more than $2.00 a day at their daily work. The proposed increase in pay is a just proposition and should become a law.

Several days ago we talked to a young man not yet eighteen years old who has smoked so much that it has effected his health, wrecking his nerves, and he has been advised by a physician to quit smoking, but he claims that the habit has such a hold on him that he cannot quit it, yet he is trying to be weaned from the pipe by smoking cigarettes. We can see how it is possible for a man who has smoked from fifteen to fifty years to become so attached to pipe or cigar that it would be almost impossible for him to give up the habit, but it hardly seems possible that a young man yet in his teens has become such a slave to the smoke habit that he cannot give it up when he knows that it is making him a nervous wreck.

A blind man or cripple deserves pity and the small pittance usually asked from each individual, provided they are sober when asking alms, but when a man visibly intoxicated, be he blind, armless or legless, asks alms we do not believe any person is justified in giving money under such conditions. Several days ago a young man that has been unfortunate and has lost both arms close to shoulders, got off the 8.08 a. m. train on P. R. R. who was so much intoxicated that he staggered when he walked. He bought a dozen pencils in one of our stores for a penny apiece, sold them readily for five cents apiece and then invested his profits in more liquor. We believe that the people who purchased the pencils from that fellow did him more harm than good. It may seem heartless to refuse to buy a penny pencil from an armless man for a nickle, and yet when the man has the odor of liquor on him, or is visibly intoxicated, it is not heartless or uncharitable to refuse to buy his pencils. In that case you simply give him your money to buy more liquor for himself and professional "dead beats" who hang around barrooms to be treated.

Mrs. Mary Moore Dead.

By an oversight we neglected to publish a notice last week of the death of Mrs. Mary Moore, mother of Mrs. Richard L. Taafe, of Reynoldsville, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John J. McDonald, at Falls Creek at 3.00 p. m. Thursday, March 14th, 1907, from the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Moore was born in Ireland almost 86 years ago. Her maiden name was Mary Henderson. She came to America when quite young. She was married to Edward Moore, who died 18 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Moore resided in Reynoldsville about 30 years ago, moving from here to Rathmel. Deceased only broke up housekeeping at Rathmel about two months ago and went to Falls Creek to live with her daughter. Funeral service was held in the Catholic church at Falls Creek on 16th inst., conducted by Father McGlyney, and the body was brought to Reynoldsville and interred in the Catholic cemetery beside her husband.

Deceased is survived by three sons and three daughters: Mrs. R. L. Taafe, of Reynoldsville, Mrs. Joan McKernan, of Ellicottville, N. Y., Mrs. J. J. McDonald, of Falls Creek, Edward L. Moore, of Punxsutawney, James Moore, of Scalp Level, Pa., and Andrew Moore, of Rathmel.
