

"Maniacal furor," "exaggerated egotism" and "brainstorm" are some of the terms used for a rich man supposed to be insane. A man in the ordinary walks of life would be called crazy.

A bill has been introduced in the state legislature which, if it becomes a law, will compel each band of gypsies to take out an annual license from the county treasurer, at a cost of $50.00, good only in the county where granted. If arrested for not complying with the law, offenders may be released by paying costs and taking out a license at once, otherwise a fine of from $50.00 to $100 shall be levied.

After July 1, 1907, it will not be necessary to go to the postoffice to buy a special delivery stamp to have a letter delivered promptly on receipt of it at the office to which it has been directed, but five extra two-cent stamps and the letter marked "special delivery" will then be all that is necessary to guarantee quick delivery of the letter. It will be much more convenient than the special delivery stamp system now used. This is a new law passed by congress.

Of all the contemptible people that inhabit this mundane sphere, we think the slanderer should stand at the head of the class. When a man or woman becomes suspicious of another and on the grounds of suspicion alone throw out insinuations until others take it up and the suspicions are whispered around as facts, then, we say, the originator of the slander is even meaner than the highwayman or the burglar, who only steal money or valuables, which can be regained, while the slanderer taints your good name and steals your richest possession. A close observer will notice that the person who is quick to be suspicious of others, no matter what society they may circulate in, are not to be trusted themselves. The licentious man, the harlot, liar or thief generally judges every other person by themselves and think that others are not virtuous, honest and truthful, while the virtuous, honest and truthful person is not always looking for blemishes in the character of others. The bible says: "Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled is nothing pure."

A large number of church members in Reynoldsville, and this town is no exception, are only faithful in their attendance at the church services during the time of special evangelistic services, and when the special effort closes they are too busy to take one night in the week to attend prayer meetings, yet while the special meetings are going on they attend every night in the week. Many of these special-meeting-church members seldom get out to preaching service more than once a month, and in some cases not that often, during the regular church services through the year. That kind of church membership is a snare and delusion. A christian should be as faithful in his church attendance when there is no special effort on as he is during a revival meeting. In most cases the excuse of not having time to attend the mid-week service is only an excuse. The real reason is because they don't want to attend. Then it is remarkable how many people are sick on Sunday who are able to perform their work every day in the week. Sunday illness is chronic with some people. The good book don't say "be thou faithful during a special series of meetings," but it does say, "be thou faithful unto death" and then the reward is promised.

The next primary election, which must be generally observed over the entire state, will be held the first Saturday in June, and is known as the spring primary. At this election all candidates for offices to be filled at the general election in November, with the exception of those nominated by national or state convention, will be nominated, as well as the officers of the various political parties. At these primaries the commissioners are required under the act to provide ballot boxes, official ballots for all political parties, and all other supplies. The election will be conducted by the regular election officers, and the polls will be open from 2.00 in the afternoon to 8.00 in the evening and from 1.00 to 9.00 p. m. all licensed places will be closed. The election officers will receive half pay for the services which is paid by the county treasurer, who in turn receives the money from the state treasurer. Persons desiring to be candidates for state offices must file petitions with the secretary of the commonwealth at least our weeks prior to June 1, and in all other cases at least three weeks before June 1, with county commissioners. The petitions must be signed by voters representing the party proposed politically, viz: For members of Congress, judges of courts and state senators, 100 qualified electors, and for representatives and officers to be voted for by the entire county, fifty qualified voters.

Mr. Edward P. Elliott, instructor of the junior class, will give "The Lion and the Mouse" Thursday evening. This will be the last number of the lecture course. Mr. Elliott is conceded by critics to be one of the best in his line. "The Lion and the Mouse" is a story of the life of to-day. It is a heart story with a vein of humor in it and you will certainly spend an enjoyable evening if you hear "The Lion and the Mouse."

The second basket ball game of the series to-night (Wednesday.) It was a long time in coming and that will make it the better. You all know the result of the last game and we hope to change it. This game, we hope, the players on both teams will do their best to make it one of the cleanest games of the season. We want to see all the lovers of the sport at Evans' skating rink at 8.15 sharp Wednesday evening. This, perhaps, will be the last game of the season, so you all want to be there.

The senior class has left the selection of the play entirely in Mr. Elliott's hands. We hope to know very shortly all about it.

The Annual is meeting with very good success so far and if you have not subscribed for it you want to do so at once. The cost of it per copy will only be 50 cents, which will barely cover the cost of the book, which will be made of the best of paper and bound with a very heavy back.
