Next Sunday morning Mrs. Henry C. Deible, who was a delegate from the Lutheran Sunday school to the convention at Warren last week, will make a report to the school.

ALFRED DRAUCKER KILLED.

Was in a Rear End Collision on B. R. & P. Near DuBois.

Alfred G. Draucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Draucker, of Reynoldsville, who was a flagman on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad, was killed in a rear end collision at C. & M. Junction, near DuBois, about 4:00 p. m. yesterday. A pusher engine ran into the rear end of the coal train Alfred Draucker was flagging. He was instantly killed and another man was badly injured.

The body of the young man, who was about 24 years old, will be brought to home of the parents this forenoon. No arrangements yet for funeral. Deceased was a member of the Improved Order of Red Men of Reynoldsville, and members of that Tribe will meet this evening to make arrangements to attend the funeral.

The Fitzpatrick Glass plant at Falls Creek was sold to New York parties last week for $31,000. Lawyer A. L. Cole, of DuBois, bought the plant for the New Yorkers.

The Grand, Bijou and Wonderland are the names of the three nickel-odians now open daily, except Sunday, for the entertainment of Reynoldsville people who enjoy picture shows.

Rev. William Hesse, who was pastor of the Lutheran church in Brookville five years, has tendered his resignation to take effect May 15. He has accepted a call to Leechburg Lutheran church.

Mr. O'Hare held same position with the Erie club last year. The season opens May 15. The Interstate league is composed of eight circuit clubs, Punxsutawney, DuBois, Bradford, Kane, Erie, Oil City, Franklin and Olean.

A tramp named Bear was caught on the bridge near Iowa Saturday by the westbound passenger train due here at 8:05. He dropped down and held on to end of ties until train was almost past him, but raised up in time to be caught by the steps on rear end of last car and was knocked off. He was picked up unconscious and taken to Brookville. He died at the county home Saturday night. Another warning that it is dangerous to walk over railroad bridges.

Curtin Bush, who had been employed at the Falls Creek tannery for fifteen years, was ground to pieces in a dust fan at that tannery Saturday afternoon. The fan is a heavy piece of mechanism and runs at a high velocity. It is located in the room where the bark is ground and is used to suck up the dust that comes from the grinder. Mr. Bush was oiling the fan and was alone and it is supposed he ventured into the draft and was drawn into the fan. The body was horribly crushed and mangled. Mr. Bush was about 45 years old. He is survived by a wife and five small children. Funeral took place yesterday forenoon.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

Jury Returned Verdict of Not Guilty in Case of Jim Palona.

On Sunday, November 11, 1906, Jim Palona shot and killed Salvatore Pettinato, a Black Hand, at Polona's boarding house at Big Soldier. Palona was arrested on charge of murder and was tried in the Jefferson county court Monday. The jury in the case retired at 5:30 p. m. Monday and at 8:30 the same evening brought in a verdict of acquittal, and yesterday Palona returned to Big Soldier.

Testimony in the case showed that Pettinato had called at Polona's boarding house and asked him to the door and then demanded money, which was represented as a Black Hand scheme. They went to Polona's room where he shot Pettinato.

Seventeenth Annual Report.

The seventeenth annual report of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association will be found in this issue of THE STAR. The report will be interesting to a large number of our readers.

Crushed in a Crusher.

John Law, aged 43 years, a resident of Brookville, was crushed to death in a stone crusher at Humphrey Bros.' brick plant near Brookville at noon Monday. During the dinner hour Law, who was foreman of the plant, crawled under the stone crusher to oil the journals. When time to resume work the machinery was started, not knowing that Mr. Law was under the crusher. His body was terribly mangled. He leaves a wife and four children.

"Blackhand" Case.

Giovanni Spoggalle, who was to have been tried in the county court last week on two charges of demanding money with intent to steal, plead guilty in both cases. In one case he was sentenced to pay $500.00 fine, pay costs and serve five years in the penitentiary. In the other case to pay $500.00 fine, pay costs and to serve two and a half years in the penitentiary. This is known as the "Blackhand" case from Soldier, where the plaintiffs, Fazio Leonardo and Leonard Commerata, reside.

Prohibition County Convention.

The Prohibition county convention was held in Centennial hall, Reynoldsville last Saturday at which time candidates for county offices, to be nominated at June primary, and delegates to the state convention, to be elected at June primary, were named. V. R. Pratt, of this place, is to be candidate for county surveyor. Saturday evening David B. McCalmont, of Franklin, State Chairman, gave a very interesting address in Centennial hall on "The New Gospel of Prohibition."

Silk Mill to Resume.

There are good reasons to suppose that the silk mill at this place, which has been idle since last fall, will resume operations within the next two weeks, although it has not been authoritatively announced that the mill will be in operation that soon. A combine has been formed by a number of silk mills, including the mill at Reynoldsville. The resumption of operation at the silk mill will be gladly welcomed by the citizens of Reynoldsville in general, and a large number of young people in particular.

Prof. Clarence Hines Married.

At 7:00 a. m. yesterday, April 16, Prof. Clarence Hines, of Reynoldsville, and Miss Mary Burgoon, of South Sharon, were married in the South Sharon Catholic church. Prof. Hines and wife are both well known and well liked in Reynoldsville. He is a glass worker and dancing master and Mrs. Hines clerked in Shick & Wagner's store several years and made many warm friends in this community. Mr. and Mrs. Hines will come to Reynoldsville to-day. Their friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Athletics Win Championship.

The second and decisive game in the basketball championship series between the Athletics and High School five was played in Evans' rink Wednesday evening last. The Athletics held a commanding lead from the start and won 24 to 9. The line up: Athletics, Oberlin, Bohren, Deible, McEntire and J. W. Thornton; High School, J. H. Thornton, Hoffman, Murray, B. Sykes and Harris. There was a fair sized crowd out, but the game was not close enough to arouse much enthusiasm. By winning this game the Athletics established their title to local championship honors.

MONUMENT FOR OLD SOLDIERS.

Members of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and W. R. C. Have Taken the Matter in Hand.

A large monument is to be erected in the Reynoldsville cemetery in honor of the dead soldiers of this community. The cemetery company has promised to give a suitable lot in the cemetery for the monument. A joint meeting of members of the G. A. R., Post, Sons of Veteran Camp and Womens Relief Corps was held Monday evening and it was decided to raise money by subscription to erect the monument, which will be something pretty nice, and why not? Other towns rear monuments in honor of their soldier dead, and were not the soldier boys that went out from our community just as brave and loyal as any of the boys that ever shouldered a gun? We say they were and that an imposing monument should be erected to their memory. If every person gives a little, enough money can be raised to erect a large monument and no one will miss the amount they contribute. The monument should not cost less than $1,000.

Subscription papers will be in circulation in a few days and those who ask for subscriptions for this fund, whether it be a member of either of the three organizations mentioned above, will wear a G. A. R., S. of V. or W. R. C. pin, and any persons soliciting subscriptions without one of these pins on can be considered an impostor and should be promptly refused a subscription.

End of the Lecture Course.

The last number of the public school lecture course was given in Assembly hall Thursday evening by Prof. Edward P. Elliott, of Boston, in a recital of the famous drama, "The Lion and the Mouse." One of the largest crowds of the season was present and judging from the close attention throughout were highly interested as well as pleased with the reader's portrayal of modern financial and political conditions. "The Lion" was John D. Rockefeller under a fictitious name and if Mr. Elliott's vivid representation of him was correct he is a decidedly unamiable old gentleman. There were seven different characters to be represented of widely varied types and the reader has never been surpassed in Reynoldsville in the ease with which he carried the imagination of the audience from one person or point to another. Altogether the people had no reason to regret the failure of Mr. Gillilan, the announced fifth entertainer, to fill his date on the 1st inst.

Died in DuBois.

Sunday morning Mrs. A. T. Bing received a telephone message announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. J. L. Barlow, who died at her residence on South Brady street, DuBois, at 12:45 a. m. Sunday, April 15, 1907. The immediate cause of her death was heart trouble. Mrs. Barlow was in her 84th year at time of her death. She was the widow of the late A. R. Barlow, who died about ten years ago. One son and five daughters survive Mrs. Barlow. They are: O. H. Barlow, Mrs. F. A. Height, Mrs. Dora Steele, of DuBois, Mrs. A. T. Bing, of Reynoldsville, Mrs. George S. Mulford and Mrs. Edith M. Field, of Buffalo, N. Y. Funeral service was held at her late residence at 2:00 p. m. yesterday, conducted by Dr. J. Bell Neff, pastor of the M. E. church. Interment was private at 3:00 p. m. in Rumberger cemetery.

Officers Installed.

Last Saturday evening District Deputy Grand Master D. C. Smith, of Falls Creek, installed the following officers in the I. O. O. F. lodge at this place: N. G., L. M. Alderton; V. G., Perry B. Love; secretary, M. E. Weed; Treasurer, T. E. Evans; Warden, John Ross; Conductor, A. C. Murray; I. G., E. C. Melzer; O. G., F. P. Skloner; R. S. N. G., John W. Gibson; L. S. N. G., Wm. Blaney; R. S. V. G., A. F. Yost; L. S. V. G., E. M. Ohl; R. S. S., John R. Murray; L. S. S., J. H. Lewis; Chaplain, Philip Koehler.

To Sewer Borough.

Monday evening a special meeting of the West Reynoldsville town council was held to take some action on putting in a sewer system in that borough. Council voted in favor of putting in the sewer and steps will be taken immediately to get the work started. A survey will be made as soon as possible.

Warning.

August Walters wishes to notify the public that he is sole agent in Reynoldsville for the Punxsutawney Steam Laundry and does his own gathering each week. Any other person representing himself as agent is a prevaricator.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

Was the Verdict of the Jury in Case of Domenico Remanno—Second Degree for Geronimo Mezzanotte.

In the criminal court in Jefferson county last week Domenico Remanno and Geronimo Mezzanotte were tried on the charge of murdering Julian Cisovitch at Sykesville in the fall of 1905. The case was given to the jury at 11:00 a. m. Saturday and at 9:00 a. m. Sunday the jury returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree for Remanno and murder in the second degree for Mezzanotte.

These defendants were tried a year ago for aggravated assault and battery with intent to kill, and Cisovitch was a witness against them. They were sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years. A couple of days after they were sentenced Cisovitch died from the effects of their assault. The men were brought back from the penitentiary in January to be tried on charge of murder, and the verdict against them was as above stated.

Judge Joseph H. Bouton, of McKean county, heard this murder trial and will have to return to Brookville to sentence Remanno and Mezzanotte, which will not likely be for several weeks.

Antony Loretto, who was one of the men that assaulted Cisovitch, escaped arrest at that time, but the latter part of last year he was arrested at Dunkirk, N. Y., and at the January term of the Jefferson county court was found guilty of murder in the first degree. A motion was made for a new trial and at the argument court in March Judge Reed heard the case, but has not given his decision yet whether a new trial will be granted or not.

Killed by Live Telephone Wire.

Mrs. Mary C. Shannon, formerly of this place, now employed at Erie, was in town last week, having been called to Sportsburg, near Punxsutawney, to attend the funeral of her father, Ogg Neal, who was killed April 6 by stepping on a live wire. Funeral took place on 8th inst. Mr. Neal thought the Methodist church near his residence was on fire and in going to the church about 1:00 a. m. to investigate his feet became entangled in a wire, and Mr. Neal stooped down and took hold of the wire and was instantly killed. It was a Summerville telephone wire which had come in contact with a trolley or electric light wire in west end of Punxsutawney. Deceased was 71 years old. The Punxsutawney Spirit says:

"Mr. Neal was one of the best known citizens of the community in which he lived, having been engaged extensively in farming and lumbering until recent years. He was a veteran of the civil war. He enlisted in company F, 105th regiment, P. V., February 19th, 1862, and served until after the war, receiving an honorable discharge July 11, 1865. His record was such that he rose rapidly in the service. August 28, 1863, he was made a corporal, July 1, 1864, he received an appointment as sergeant, and six months later was advanced to first sergeant. June 8, 1865, he became the second lieutenant of the company, an office which he held when the company was mustered out. He served in nearly every battle in which the famous regiment was engaged and was wounded at three different times, first in the neck, second the left hand, and the third time he received a serious wound in his right thigh. He was a member of the Captain E. H. Little Post, G. A. R., of this place, and was receiving a substantial pension at the time of his death."

Accidentally Shot a Man.

William McMullen, son of Thomas McMullen, superintendent of Kuntz & Rinn's mines at Walston, accidentally shot and instantly killed Salvatore Mancuso, a miner, about ten o'clock Monday forenoon. McMullen is about twenty years old and Mancuso was about nineteen years old. McMullen is a clerk at the coal office and Mancuso had walked up to the office window for orders and he and McMullen began joking with one another and McMullen picked up an old rifle, that had been standing in the office unloaded for several years, and pointed it at Mancuso and pulled the trigger. He was horrified when the gun went off and Mancuso dropped dead.

Upon investigation it was learned that on Saturday night the watchman had become alarmed at some noise he heard and had loaded the old rifle and forgot to unload it.

McMullen gave himself up to an officer and Monday evening Coroner Kyle empaneled a jury and held an inquest, but the young man was exonerated and released immediately.

K. OF C. OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Fine Luncheon at Home of M. J. Farrell After Installation.

Last Friday evening District Deputy J. W. Sweeney, of St. Marys, installed the officers in Council No. 935 Knights of Columbus, at Reynoldsville. After the installation in the Council rooms the District Deputy, new officers and visitors, numbering in all nineteen, went to home of M. J. Farrell, where a fine and unique luncheon was served. Four rooms were nicely decorated with palms, spruce, pines, laurels, cut flowers, national colors and colored lights. Two long tables, T shape, were set in parlor and dining room, which are connected with folding doors. The tables were nicely and tastefully decorated with cut flowers and candles. Three miniature vessels, representing Columbus' three vessels, were on the tables. At each plate was a little cacao, on which was a Knight of Columbus cigar. The officers were seated at the tables just as they sit in the Council room. The luncheon consisted of sandwiches, coffee, salads, fruits, nuts, ice cream and cakes. On account of it being Friday there were no meats served.

When all were seated at the tables Miss Mary McDonald presided at the organ and the opening ode of the Council was sung, grace was said and then the luncheon was partaken of. District Deputy Sweeney was toastmaster and the speakers were Mr. Martin Phalen, of Reynoldsville, Mr. Hufnagel, of Clarion, and Frank Malloy, of Williamsport.

It was a very enjoyable and pleasant luncheon, and the elaborateness of the decorations and the entire arrangement of the affair was a very agreeable surprise to the members of the Council and visitors. It was undoubtedly the finest luncheon ever served in Reynoldsville.

The following is the list of officers installed: G. K., M. J. Farrell; D. G. K., Wm. P. Nolan; Chancellor, S. J. Burgoon; Financial Secretary, John A. Welsh; Recording Secretary, John Crowley; Treasurer, Ed. Gooder; Trustees, Daniel Nolan, Martin Phalen, Thomas McEntee; Advocate, W. S. Kerr; Inner Guard, John S. Schultze; Outside Guard, John King; Chaplain, Rev. Father Lynch.

Death of Mrs. F. W. Merrick.

At her home in Chicago on Friday, April 12, Grace Gorsline Merrick passed away. Her demise was not unexpected. She had been slowly but surely sinking for several years from that insidious and fatal disease, consumption. All that loving hearts and tenderest care could do had been done for her. She had spent two years in the balmy air of California and had apparently improved, but the dread disease was not vanquished. Deceased was a granddaughter of Mrs. George G. Sprague and a niece of Mrs. Dr. B. E. Hoover, of this place, her mother having been a daughter of Mrs. Sprague. Mrs. Merrick had been a visitor in Reynoldsville many times and one winter attended school in the old school house on the hill. She was born in Randolph, N. Y., and there her father, W. W. Gorsline, still lives. She had made her home in Chicago most of her married life. Is survived by her husband, Frank W. Merrick, and one son, Ward. Mrs. Merrick was a general favorite with all who knew her. She had a bright mind and was active and brilliant, full of energy in business or what ever she undertook. Her many friends will truly sympathize with her husband, son and father.

Installation in I. O. R. M.

By an oversight we neglected to state last week that District Grand Sachem Grant Rhoads had installed new officers in Mazomania Tribe No. 341, Improved Order of Red Men of Reynoldsville. Following is list of the chiefs raised to their captivity:

Prophet, Gust Guthrie; Sachem, W. D. Fuller, Sr. Sagamore, A. F. O'Donnell; Jr. Sagamore, M. V. Fuller; G. of W., R. L. Vashinder; C. of W., D. H. Breakey; K. of W., George Hartman; 1st Sanip, Samuel Waite; 2nd Sanip, Fred Pomroy; G. of W., Elmer Earley; G. of F., George Sheets; 1st Warrior, LeRoy Yohe; 2nd Warrior, Frank Reynolds; Trustee, Frank Mowery; Representative to G. C. J. C. Collins; alternate, Samuel Waite.

Committees Appointed.

J. N. Small, president of West Reynoldsville town council, has appointed the following council committees for that borough:

Ordinance—John Benson, Henry Herpel, E. D. Davis.

Finance—Henry Herpel, W. S. Ross, E. D. Davis.

Street—John Benson, A. O'Donnell, R. W. Miller.
